ASTRONAUTS TO DRIVE LUNAR ROVER

Apollo 15 Commander David R. Scott (right) and Lunar Module Pilot James B. Irwin are scheduled to take a drive on the moon that might look something like the artist's conception above. The Apollo 15 moon mission blasts off Monday, and the climax will come when Scott and Irwin descend in their lunar rover along the edge of the half-mile wide, 600-feet deep Hadley Rille. Counter-Coup In Sudan Reported

Libya Kidnapping; Crash In Arabia

BEIRUT (UPI) —Forces loyal to ousted Sudanese President Maj. Gen. Jaafar Numeiry occupied Omdurman Radio station today in an apparent counter-coup against the pro-Communist group who deposed him on Monday.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency in Cairo quoted the radio station which is the Sudan national radio, as saying Numeiry "is well and will still lead the nation."

The radio announcement came a few hours after neighboring Libya forced down a British airliner in Benghazi and kidnaped the president of the new Sudanese Revolutionary Council and another council member who were aboard it.

Sudanese troops earlier were reported to have surrounded the Libyan, Egyptian and Syrian embassies in the Sudanese capital of Khartoum in retaliation.

Then the Middle East News Agency reported the broadcast from the radio station in Omdurman, the twin city of Khartoum, as saying:

"Sudanese forces led by Lt. Mohammed Ali Krbasi have occupied the radio station.

"Maj. Gen. Numeiry will broadcast to the nation soon."

The agency quoted a spokesman identified as Col. Salah Abdel Aal as saying on the radio:

"The catastrophe through which the nation has passed in the last few days is now over."

(Qualified British sources said in London that fresh fighting had broken out in Khartoum, beginning at about 4 p.m. local time.

(The London Sources said tanks had surrounded the presidential palace and that shooting was reported around Army headquarters.

(The sources said the fighting appeared to be the beginning of an attempt by Numeiry or his supporters to regain the control they lost on Monday.)

Numeiry was toppled by a group of army officers—several of whom had helped him in power in a coup a year ago. Their leader, Lt. Col Babakr El Nur Osman, told UPI in London Wednesday he hoped to steer Sudan on "the path to scientific socialism."

He was one of the two members of the new revolutionary council aboard the British plane forced down today in Libya. Libyan jets buzzed the plane to force it to land. Libya's government supported Numeiry's anti-Communist policies.

The Middle East News Agency quoted another announcement over Omdurman radio by Maj. Abou Khassem Mohammed Ibrahim as declaring a state of emergency throughout the Sudan with a curfew starting at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT).

Ibrahim was a member of the Revolutionary Command Council loyal to Numeiry which the pro-Communist group replaced.

The radio station asked its employees to report immediately for duty.

"Your revolution is steadfast and the armed forces will continue the march at your wish," Ibrahim was quoted as saying, and he ended by quoting Numeiry.

In London, the British government announced it had protested to Libya in "the strongest possible terms" about the "outrageous" forcing down of the airliner and had demanded the release of the two Libyan politicians.

Libyan jet fighters forced a British Overseas Airways VC10 with 107 passengers aboard to land at the Libyan city of Benghazi at dawn today and disembark Lt. Col. Babakr al Nour Osman, the pro-Communist president of the new Council, and another council member.

The second council member was tentatively identified as Maj. Farouk Hamadallah. The airliner, enroute to Khartoum, turned around and returned to London.

Nour, 37, had been enroute to Khartoum to assume power as president of the new Revolutionary Command Council. Both he and Hamadallah were in London when the previous Sudanese military regime was overthrown Monday in the fourth coup in 15 years.

The previous regime had been negotiating for membership in a new federation of Arab states with Egypt, Libya and Syria. The new government is hostile to the federation project.

Before leaving London Wednesday, Nour told UPI: "We are going ahead on the path of scientific socialism."

Nour and his new vice president, Maj. Mohammed el Atta, 36, (Atta actually led the 45-minute coup on Monday), were fired from the previous government nine months ago for their pro-Communist sympathies.

The premier of Libya, Col. Moammar Khadafy, is outspokenly anti-Communist. That, and the new regime's hostility to Arab federation, plus their arrest and detention of the old regime's president, Maj. Gen. Jaafar Numeiry, were seen as the reasons the airliner carrying Nour was forced down.

In Baghdad, Iraq, the official Iraqi News Agency said that a special Iraqi aircraft carrying high-ranking Iraqi officials to Khartoum crashed in the Saudi Arabian desert today, killing three high-ranking Iraqi officials who were enroute to the Sudan to confer with leaders of the new military government there.

The Iraqi agency gave no cause for the crash. Egypt's Voice of the Arabs radio said the plane exploded in the air.

The plane went down three miles north of Jeddah, Saudi Arabia's commercal capital on the Red Sea, when it was on its landing run for a refueling in Jeddah.

The Iraqi News Agency said there were several dead and injured. It said the dead included Mohammed Suleiman, a member of the ruling Baath (Renaissance) Party's "Pan-Arab Command" which handles political contacts with friendly Arab regimes elsewhere; Salah Saleh, a member of the command's military bureau, and Hammoudi el Izzawi, a foreign ministry official.

Quentin Guard Is Slain While Protecting Inmate

A correctional officer at San Quentin was killed yesterday in the prison hospital as he attempted to protect a previously wounded inmate from attackers.

Leo G. Davis, 38, was stabbed to death in the hospital wing, where he had been assigned to guard Herman Earl Johnson, 25, who had been knifed Monday in the prison yard.

Johnson had testified earlier this year in the case of seven Soledad prisoners, and the attack Monday by other inmates was believed to be in retaliation for that testimony.

This was the first killing of a guard at the Marin County prison in 19 years, officials said.

According to prison officers, Davis was outside Johnson's locked hospital cell when four inmates tried to seize his keys. He was unarmed, as are all guards in the immediate charge of prisoners to prevent seizure of their weapons by inmates.

Prison officials said Davis was stabbed nine times but that the murderers, apparently frightened away, did not get to Johnson.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said a collection of weapons was found and that five inmates were being questioned. The warden's office would not release their names.

Embittered correctional officers told the Independent-Journal last night they regarded Davis was doomed to death the moment he was assigned to Johnson, because any killer would have to get Davis first in order to reach Johnson.

LEO G. DAVIS
Killed on duty

Johnson's cell, the guards said, was easily accessible to all inmates in the hospital as well as to any assassin who might fake an illness to get at the prisoner.

According to the guards, who asked that they not be identified, Davis, after being stabbed, retreated from the area of Johnson's cell, drawing the killers with him. Guards said the killers probably used prison made shanks as weapons.

The correctional officers said they were angry that Johnson was not "tucked away somewhere" because of Monday's attempt on his life.

The local chapter of California Correctional Officers Association (CCOA) has prepared a suit against the state and the administration of San Quentin for its "negligence in providing adequate protection for correctional officer L. G. Davis," the I-J was told by Arnold Thompson, state vice president of CCOA and an officer at the prison. He said the failure of the administration to provide proper officer protection "killed officer Davis."

The Marin County Coroner's Office listed the cause of death as "shock incurred from a pierced lung." Three of Davis's nine wounds were in the chest, the coroner said.

Guards told the I-J that a prisoner named Justice and two other inmates have been arrested for the killing, but San Quentin officials declined to confirm the report or give any arrest information.

Johnson, the intended quarry, was serving a 10-year sentence for auto theft and assault with a deadly weapon. He was a witness for the prosecution in the murder trial of the Soledad seven accused of killing officer William G. Shull last July 23.

Davis was the fifth person to be killed at San Quentin this year. The four others were inmates. All were stabbed.

Davis was the father of four children. He, his wife Caryol and their family lived in Richmond.

Ross Valley Building Ban Imposed

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — A ban on all new construction in most of the Ross Valley, with limited exceptions, was imposed today by the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Only Corte Madera and Larkspur were exempted from the ban ordered against the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Thee two communities pump their sewage to the district's treatment plant, and were not blamed for floating matter discharged by the plant into Corte Madera Creek.

The board ordered the district to end pollution from the plant "forthwith."

The ban, however, was aimed primarily at the district's bypassing the plant in wet weather to dump raw sewage into the creek.

The district told the regional board's hearing panel Tuesday it needed five years to stop bypassing. Today's order, however gave the district only until April 1, 1974.

The district could be fined $6,000 a day if it failed to meet the deadline.

The ban applied to Greenbrae, Kentfield, Kent Woodlands, Ross, San Anselmo, Fairfax and Sleepy Hollow.

The ban, similar to one imposed last month in Southern Marin, would allow new construction only to the extent that improvements offset flows from additional sewer connections.

The ban did not apply to buildings under construction or permits issued before today.

The ban was ordered by the full board upon the recommendation of the three-member hearing panel.

Angela Attorney Says Prejudicial Publicity Hurts Any Fair Trial

By JEFF GREER

Angela Y. Davis cannot get a fair trial anywhere in the United States because of prejudicial publicity, one of her defense attorneys declared today.

Attorney Sheldon Otis argued that the court has no choice but to dismiss outright the indictment against Miss Davis. Otherwise, he said, the court should at least grant a full-scale hearing to receive evidence of the public bias which would make it impossible to find impartial jurors.

Miss Davis was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury on charges of murder, kidnap and conspiracy in the Aug. 7, 1970, shoot-out in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three other persons were killed.

Otis claimed today there had been so much nationwide publicity about the crime itself, Miss Davis's communist party and militant connections and — particularly affecting Marin County and California taxpayers — the expense of the trial that any court would be "playing a game" to try to empanel an impartial jury. He read scores of newspaper clippings from all over the U.S. to back his argument.

"America is steeped with this sickness, bias, racism, insanity with respect to communism" since even before Miss Davis was indicted, Otis said. "Every reference to her associations produces a vigorous reaction of bias against Miss Davis," the defense attorney claimed.

Prosecution argument against the dismissal request was to be heard this afternoon.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris, chief prosecutor in the Davis case, partly switched stands yesterday on Miss Davis's request to be cocounsel in her own defense. He declared he had no objections if Miss Davis participated as cocounsel, but only during pretrial hearings in her case.

This came after Miss Davis eloquently argued for more than two hours that her cocounsel status was "a key element of defense strategy . . . inseparably linked to fairness and justice . . ." to help offset "the enormous resources of the prosecutor."

Following the daylong arguments by the black militant former professor and Harris, Judge Richard E. Arnason said he would issue his ruling later.

Originally, Harris vehemently objected to allowing Miss Davis to speak at all, on grounds that she would deliver a political speech. After Miss Davis spoke, Harris termed her presentation "very lawyer-like . . . in vivid contrast . . . to her

Nixon To Attend Dam Dedication

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon will make appearances July 31 at a dam dedication in Iowa and professional football's Hall of Fame in Ohio, the White House announced today.

The President will speak first that day at dedication of the $26 million Rathbun Dam and flood control project on the Chariton River near Centerville, Iowa.

He will then fly to Canton, Ohio, to attend induction ceremonies for seven new members of the hall of fame and a special ceremony honoring the late Green Bay and Washington coach, Vince Lombardi.

A Critical Look At The Economy

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. economy is hurting. The pain may not be as severe as it was a year ago but it still is there.

With the year more than half over, 1971 is far short of the "good year" President Nixon promised. Next year probably will be better but if would take a near miracle to restore robust prosperity in time to help Nixon in his expected bid for a second term.

Democrats, temporarily silenced about foreign policy in light of Nixon's China initiative, are concentrating on the economy as their most potent issue for the 1972 elections.

The administration's reply to doubt and criticism is repeated assurances that the economy is sound and getting sounder.

"You can't come to any conclusion but what we are engaged in is an expansion and an expansion of considerable proportions," said Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, Nixon's newly designated chief economic spokesman. "It's broad in its sweep and deep in its track."

Unvarnished statistics show the economy indeed is expanding. But expansion is the natural state of the U.S. economy. The key question is whether the economy is expanding enough to make up for the stagnation last year. So far it is not.

Nixon has been counting on a combination of a deficit federal budget and easy money to perk up the economy. He recently ruled out a tax cut or a sharp increase in spending to spur business.

The independent Federal Reserve Board last week handed Nixon a setback by tightening its money policy. The board boosted its discount rate —the interest it charges on loans to

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Firm Warned

NEW YORK (UPI)—A federal health official said Wednesday if Bon Vivant, Inc., does not speed the recall of more than one million cans of food products, it will face an "imminent" nationwide seizure of them.

Weems L. Clevenger, head of the FDA regional office here, said Bon Vivant had not fulfilled a voluntary pledge to name a central location for the recall of all its products.

Clevenger said the seizure, which may come within a week, would be one of the largest in history and there was a chance all the confiscated cans would be destroyed.

Bon Vivant made the promise after the FDA determined a can of Bon Vivant vichyssoise contaminated with deadly botulin toxin killed a New York banker and paralyzed his wife.

Rose Kennedy Celebrates 81st

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Kennedy celebrated her 81st birthday today.

Friends said the mother of a President and two senators planned to spend it quietly with Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, wife of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and her daughter, Mrs. Sargent Shriver.

Mrs. Kennedy

She is the daughter of John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald, a powerful Boston mayor and Congressman, and married Joseph P. Kennedy, an Irish immigrant's son who became a multimillionaire and founded a political dynasty.

Mrs. Kennedy is very active at 81. She attends Mass every morning and every chance she gets, she swims in the family pool or plays golf. She scores in the 80s. She still supervises much of the family affairs, personally signing paychecks for employees at Merchandise Mart in Chicago, a building owned by the family.

Newton Trial

OAKLAND Calif. (UPI) — Black Panther leader Huey Newton had traces of marijuana in his clothes the day he is alleged to have shot and killed an Oakland policeman, a lab technician testified Wednesday.

Mrs. Jan Bashinski was called as a prosecution witness at Newton's manslaughter trial to show a possible motive for the slaying of officer John Frey on Oct. 28, 1967.

She said the marijuana traces were found in Newton's pants pockets and two penny match boxes containing marijuana were found under the driver's seat of the car Newton was driving

Prosecutor Donald Whyte said the testimony showed a possible motive for the shootout in which Frey was killed and another policeman wounded. He said Newton was on probation at the time and anxious not to be stopped by police.

Youths Riot

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — About 100 youths threw firebombs, rocks and bottles at passing motorists and stores early today, forcing police to close off several areas of the city.

Two policemen said shots were fired at them but missed.

Police said the disturbance lasted for several hours. Four persons were arrested and no serious injuries were reported.

Police said the disturbance started when they began ticketing cars in the area.

Disease Push

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Health officials say they are trying to build a solid barrier of vaccinated horses to enclose and seal off a spreading sleeping sickness killing horses by the hundreds in south Texas.

But so far nothing has slowed the mosquito-carried disease, and Agriculture Department officials in Houston report a spiraling death toll.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials said Wednesday 1,136 horses in Texas have been killed by the outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) with another 1,469 horses sick with it.

In addition, 76humans have been stricken by symptoms of the disease, and health officials said 17 of them were laboratory-confirmed cases of VEE. It is seldom fatal to man.

Wider Buses

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Despite cries that bigger trucks will be on roads soon, the House has approved a bill to increase the width of buses on interstate highways.

Voice vote passage came Wednesday after Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, tried unsuccessfully on a 178-213 roll call vote to kill the measure by sending it back to committee.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would free 22,000 buses of the 102-inch variety now operating in cities to travel interstate highways with 12-foot-wide lanes, if the Transportation Secretary concludes they are not a hazard.

The measure increases the maximum width allowable six inches from the current 96-inch standard.

Private Probe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Anthony Colombo said Wednesday the Italian-American Civil Rights League has started its own investigation of the shooting of his father, Joseph Colombo Sr., the founder of the league.

"The Italian-American Civil Rights League will continue its work on behalf of Italian Americans everywhere in spite of my father's absence," the younger Colombo said. "We have obtained 5,000 new members since the shooting."

The younger Colombo told a news conference the league would turn over any evidence it found to the authorities.

His father, a reputed Brooklyn underworld leader, was shot three times by Jerome Johnson at an Italian-American rally June 28. Johnson was killed immediately by an unknown assailant.

Agnew Golfing

SOTOGRANDE, Spain (UPI) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today continued his golfing vacation on Spain's Costa Del Sol and began preparations for an abbreviated visit to Rabat, Morocco.

Under a revised schedule, apparently dictated by security precautions, Agnew will arrive in Rabat around mid-day Saturday and leave about midday Sunday.

Priest Restored To Post; Gives Up Corn Wafers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Rev. Victor Salandini was restored to duty as a Roman Catholic priest Wednesday after he agreed to stop using corn tortillas as communion wafers in the Mass.

Bishop Leo T. Maher of San Diego Diocese, who lifted his suspension of the priest, said Salandino also agreed not to wear a serape with the Farm Workers' Union insignia on it as a part of the Mass vestments.

The priest, active in Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, was suspended last week but continued to say Mass for farm workers involved in a strike at the Egger-Ghio farm.

U.S. War Deaths Last Week Lowest In Nearly Six Years

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today 11 Americans were killed in the Vietnam war last week. It was the lowest battle death toll in nearly six years. Another 81 GIs were wounded.

Military spokesmen said 16 more GIs died from nonhostile causes such as accidents and illness.

The allied commands said that in a week in which fighting was at its lowest ebb in six years South Vietnamese dead dropped to the lowest point in 10 months and Viet Cong and North Vietnamese deaths were the fewest in nearly six months.

U.S. spokesmen said that of the 11 GIs listed as killed last week, four soldiers previously were shown as missing in action and a fifth died of wounds inflicted in earlier fighting.

The death toll was the lowest since Aug. 28, 1965, they said. when six Americans were killed, and was 18 below the number killed in the week ended July 10.

The 11 deaths and 81 wounded was the lowest combined casualty toll since Oct. 23, 1965, when a total of 84 men 343 casualties of the war.

Last week's wounded figure was also the lowest since that time when 70 Americans were injured in battle, spokesmen said.

21 Viet Rangers Killed In Copter

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command today reported the crash of an American troop-carrying helicopter in an accident that killed 21 South Vietnamese Rangers, and injured 31 Saigon government troops and five U.S. crewmen.

The Saigon command at the same time said new rules for coverage of the war would be set out shortly because of what they said was premature disclose of a new operation in neighboring Cambodia.

Military spokesmen reported 11 Americans killed in the war last week for the lowest weekly battlefield toll in six years. Another 81 GIs were wounded.

The U.S. command said a U.S. CH47 Chinook helicopter crashed en route to Fire Base Maryann in Quang Tin province while carrying elements of a South Vietnamese Ranger battalion. The crash killed 21 Rangers and injured 21 others along with the five American crew of the big copter.

The helicopter lost power while making an approach to the landing pad at Maryann and fell 100 yards south of the fire base perimeter. It was the worst helicopter crash in terms of the death toll since another Chinook was shot down Aug. 27, 1970 near Chu Lai, 35 miles to the west and 31 GIs died.

As to the South Vietnamese campaign in Cambodia, military spokesmen were reluctant to give details but they did admit the existence of the drive and said it consisted of several battalions of infantry, armor, Rangers and artillery.

They said the South Vietnamese had encountered no significant contact with the Communists as the drive moved into its third day.

Marine Corps Honor To Wayne

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The Marine Corps League has named John Wayne the next recipient of the "Iron Mike" award—given annually to the man "who best exemplifies the word 'American.'"

The award, named after a nine-foot statue of a fighting Marine on Parris Island, S.C., will be presented Aug. 13.

Wayne was chosen "since in his screen portrayals and in his everyday life he has played those traits of character that make him an outstanding American," the league said Wednesday.

School Budgets Up For Adoption

School district budgets aggregating just over six million dollars more than those of last year will be up for adoption in Marin County the first week of August.

Publication budgets of the county's 21 school districts, as submitted yesterday to the county superintendent's office, total $64,986,410. Last year they totaled $58,930,401.

Barring further legislation, the bulk of the increase will come from property taxes, since the state has so far this year provided no additional funding for the public schools.

This will not mean an increase in tax rates in all cases, however. The county's assessed valuation this year is up overall by 13.6 per cent. Valuation increases in the various school districts range from 7.1 per cent in the Marin portion of Shoreline Unified District, which straddles the Sonoma County line, to 23.3 per cent in Lagunitas Elementary District.

All but three of the districts will hold public hearings at sessions the first week in August for adoption of the budgets. Hearings are not required in Laguna, Lincoln and Union elementary school districts.

Here are the budget figures, with the budget adopted last year shown in parentheses in each case, and the date, time and place of hearing for each:

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICTS:

Bolinas-Stinson — $286,489 ($266,763). Hearing Aug. 2 at 8 p.m., Bolinas School.

Dixie — $4,958,317 ($4,288,500). Hearing Aug. 4 at 8 p.m., board room, Don Timoteo School.

Fairfax — $1,145,402 ($1,081,588). Hearing Aug. 3 at 7:45 p.m., district office.

Kentfield — $1,566,075 ($1,525,630). Hearing Aug.2 at 8 p.mm, Wolfe Grade School.

Laguna — $40,188 ($38,383). No hearing.

Lagunitas — $483,086 ($425,354). Hearing Aug. 2 at 7:30 p.m., San Geronimo Valley School.

Larkspur — $1,914,106 ($1,833,073). Hearing Aug. 5 at 7:30 p.m., Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Lincoln — $27,234 ($26,099). No hearing.

Mill Valley — $3,982,168 ($3,262,843). Hearing Aug. 2 at 8 p.m., Park School.

Hughes Standby Pilot To Post With Tool Firm

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Lockheed California Co. vice president who reportedly was on standby for more than a year to fly Howard Hughes from Las Vegas to the Bahamas will join Hughes Tool Co. Aug. 2.

The tool company announced Wednesday that Jack Garrett Real will join the firm as an aviation executive, retiring early, at the age of 55, after 32 years with Lockheed.

According to a story in Look magazine in May, Real was on standby for a year to fly the mystery billionaire to the Bahamas.

Trials Set In Forgery, Burglary

Clara Ann Moran, 20, of Corte Madera, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of forgery and burglary.

Trial on the burglary charge was set for the week of Oct. 4 and on the check charges for the week of Sept. 20.

Mrs. Moran was arrested June 19, along with Donald Lawrence Hall, 38, of San Francisco, when Corte Madera police said they saw the pair carrying stereo equipment from the residence of Allen Smith of 30 Golden Hind Passage.

Hall, who was bound over to Superior Court with Mrs. Moran on the burglary charge, was not charged in Superior Court. The district attorney's office said evidence developed during a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court indicated there was not sufficient evidence to convict Hall of the burglary.

Five counts of forgery against Mrs. Moran stem from a series of bad checks she allegedly passed at various Purity Markets earlier this year.

Innocent Plea To Sex Perversion

Lawrence K. Visher, 42, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of sex perversion.

Trial was set for the week of Aug. 23.

Visher was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury July 13 in connection with a June 25 incident in which Visher allegedly offered 17-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl a ride home, but instead pulled his car off of Shoreline Highway and forced her at gunpoint to commit an unnatural act.

Harbor Plan Is Sent Back For Revision

After grappling for more than three hours last night with details of a complex master plan for development of the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Planning Commissioners sent the proposal back to the drawing board.

By unanimous vote the Sausalito planners asked architect Roland May to prepare a revised plan — incorporating many suggested changes — for presentation at the commission's August 4 meeting.

Commissioner Thomas E. Brown seemed to reflect the feelings of his colleagues when he asked the architect to come up with a development plan which was "more interesting, more colorful, with a greater variety of physical form."

The current proposal (Phase I of the master plan) would increase the harbor berthing capacity from 425 to 950 and includes a variety of harbor support facilities, among them boat sales storage and repair facilities, commercial and office buildings, storage areas and a fuel dock. Also included are a series of boardwalks, plazas and parks to increase public access to the bay.

The 37-acre harbor development would encompass more than 50 per cent of the city's central waterfront area and, if adopted, would cost $3 million and take three to five years to complete.

Mays, who represents harbor owner Herbert Madden Sr., seemed amenable to most of the changes recommended by the commission, the city planning director and the Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory Board.

But he said the developers ability to make the desired alterations will depend on the "economic flexibility" granted him by the city which hinges on two main issues: use of city-owned underwater streets and transfer of development credits. (When a developer agrees to leave some of his property in open space or to build fewer dinance allows in the interest of open space or good planning, he in turn can receive certain credits. These credits can be transfered to another area of the land to allow him, for example, to build a structure larger than the ordinance allows).

The architect said Madden hopes to use the underwater streets for development and to obtain enough transfer credits to make the project economically feasible.

City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr has suggested the city allow the developer to lease the streets for berthing of boats and boat turn around on a 50-year basis. St. Cyr believes the annual lease payment should be equal to 10 per cent of the market value of the land comprising the streets.

The final decision on the leasing and transfer of credits will rest with the city council and Mays said he could not make many changes in his plan, particularly costly ones, until the council sets policies in these matters. But the planners argued they did not want to recommend a policy to the council until they had seen the revised plan.

City Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt presented to the commission a list of 24 proposed changes in the harbor plan. He recommended the city limit the number of berths to 900, eliminate 71 of the 312 proposed parking spaces for harbor users and eliminate certain berthing areas to provide more open water.

Borgwardt also suggested that specific designs for all buildings, bulkheads, landscaping and boardwalks in the project be submitted to the city for approval.

Mays gave tentative approval to most of the changes, but balked at suggestions that planned restrooms and showers be opened to the public and that all berthing piers be perpendicular to the shoreline.

He also noted Madden intends to spend approximately $500,000 for public amenities, piers, parks and the like. "Our only request is that the developer be able to recapture some of this money in uses beneficial to his harbor, Mays told the commission.

"We are asking you to come back with a plan you feel is feasible for you," Commissioner Brown replied.

Critical Look At Nation's Economy

commercial banks and the keystone of all interest rates — from 4-3-4 to 5 per cent.

The seven-member board said it acted because of its continuing concern about inflation.

In contrast with the administration's bright predictions of improvement, many Democrats are issuing dark warnings. It appears that they, too, are overstating the case.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, a darkhorse contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, recently accused Nixon of misleading the public with "phony White House press releases on the nation's economy."

He told the International Longshoremen's Association that the current rate of unemployment was "at least 8 per cent, not around 6, as the administration claims."

The key to that charge is the definition of unemployment. By the conventional definition — people actively seeking but unable to find employment — the rate has been close to 6 per cent most of this year. You could boost the rate to 8 per cent by counting persons who have given up looking for work because they have no hope of finding it. You might be able to push it even higher by adding aerospace engineers who are employed as taxi drivers. But no administration, Democratic or Republican, has ever used such a yardstick.

Unemployment is bad enough, without trying to add a couple of points by juggling the figures. The jobless rate for the first half of the year is the highest for any six-month period in 10 years.

The jobless rate did decline from 6.2 per cent in May to 5.6 per cent in June. But the nonpartisan Bureau of Labor Statistics conceded that much of the dip was caused by a statistical quirk.

After administration officials had claimed for two weeks that the decline represented genuine progress, Connally conceded much of the drop was caused by a "statistical aberration."

The unemployment rate is probably the most politically sensitive of all economic figures. Nixon once hoped to reduce it to the "full employment" rate of 4 per cent by mid-1972. The election year goal was revised in January to 4.5 per cent.

At his recent news conference, Connally said 4.5 per cent remains the goal for mid-1972 but he conceded the chances of achieving it have become slim.

White House political strategists believe the level of unemployment is not so important as the trend. They think if unemployment is declining steadily next year, regardless of the rate, the economic issue will do little damage to Nixon's reelection bid.

Democrats, on the other hand, think if the jobless rate remains high much longer it will severely damage Nixon's chances and enhance their own.

The figures for the Gross National Product (GNP) in the second quarter of this year — issued last week —delivered another jolt to Nixon's hopes, although administration spokesmen insisted the report was good news.

The figures indicated the total output of goods and services, expressed in terms of the buying power of the dollar in 1958 to eliminate the effect of inflation, increased by 3.6 per cent in the April-through-June quarter. Except for the first quarter of this year when the figure was swollen by the rebound from the General Motors strike, that was the best rate of economic growth since the third quarter of 1968.

However, many economists believe a growth rate of 4 per cent is needed just to keep unemployment from rising.

Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, agreed there was "no question" that growth of more than 4 per cent was needed to reduce joblessness. He argued that the growth rate would climb in the months ahead.

There are some strong points in the economy, notably retail sales which have been climbing steadily, and housing production which is at the fastest pace in 20 years. The building spurt, however, is threatened by recent increases in mortgage interest rates.

Inflation continues to plague the nation despite last year's recession. The rate of increase in the cost of living has slowed in recent months but prices continue to go up. The rate of increase is still high by all but the standards of the last two or three years.

The GNP price index, the most broadly based of all the government's gauges of inflation, rose in the second quarter at an annual rate of 4.2 per cent, well below the 5.3 per cent rate in the first quarter.

The inflation rate was the lowest recorded so far during the Nixon Administration and was the slowest since the second quarter of 1968; but it was higher than all but it was higher than all but three of the 32 quarters of the eight year Kennedy-Johnson administration.

Hea th's Outside Interest: Sailing

By DENNIS EISENBERG
Toronto Telegran News Service

LONDON — Although he has been their prime minister now for over a year, the British public remains as baffled as ever by the man at No. 10 Downing Street who controls their destiny.

There has never been a premier like him, for Edward Heath is without a wife, he adores classical music, and to add even further to the suspicions and doubts of his fellow-countrymen, he appears uninterested in the popular national pastimes of football and cricket.

Instead, he seems to spend every spare moment sailing his Morning Cloud yacht and has won a place as captain in the three-boat British team which is to try and wrest back the Admiral's Cup from the United States.

Heath has poured $75,000 of his own money into his passionate aim of winning this trophy in competition against teams from 17 countries. The sneers of opponents that they are governed by a "part-time premier" grow louder each day.

Criticism of the time and energy Heath spends aboard Morning Cloud grew even louder recently when he asked the Queen's permission to skip attending the official celebration of her birthday at the Trooping the Color ceremony.

Now that is something Harold Wilson never would have missed. The British public, which likes to think their Prime Minister spends every waking hour at his desk solving national problems, find the sight of Heath going off every weekend to sail Morning Cloud an unnerving one.

The prime minister, as a member of the British team, will be at sea for a about a week racing against the sailing cream of the world.

Heath's friends defend his obsession for racing yachts by saying that he returns all the fresher to his desk on Monday morning. And after all, the race for the Admiral's Cup does take place during the summer recess.

The austere facade of Lloyd's, in the City of London, hardly looks a promising setting for great drama. But once inside, the quiet scratching of a traditional quill pen writing down the names of ships which have vanished without a trace is a chilling reminder of the power of the world's oceans to protect their most jealous secrets.

For despite modern ship construction and improved navigation and communications systems, people still disappear most mysteriously at sea. In the past decade, 71 ships, some quite large, have just vanished, and with them over 1,000 men, women, and children. These ships left no radioed SOS, no survivors, no wreckage, and no clue as to their fate.

Ships have been lost at sea for all sorts of reasons: they have foundered on rocks or torn open their bottoms on reefs. They have been the victims of storms, fires, collisions and acts of piracy.

But the 71 ships now carefully entered into the Lloyd's casualty book just have no story to tell at all. Nobody knows whatever happened to them.

For these ghosts of the sea Lloyd's does not even ring the famous Lutine Bell whose sound is heard when bad news is received to toll an epitaph for men and vessels lost at sea.

The fascination which modern man has for investigating his his ancestors' centuries-old search for spiritual truth has never been greater than it is today.

Next month, scholars from the U.S. AND Canada and a score of other countries will gather in Manchester for a special congress to study the history and influence of the ancient god Mirthra.

Recent discoveries reveal the widespread importance of Mithra worship, which can be traced back 3,000 years in India and Persia. So important is the coming gathering that the Iranian authorities, who are this autumn celebrating the founding of Persia 2,500 years ago by Cyrus the Great, have decided to give the congress official recognition.

Mithra, who was venerated by many Eastern people, was also acclaimed as a god by Roman legions. According to a number of experts, important Christian beliefs and practices have their origins in early Mithraic worship.

With his eyes on the future rather than on the past, a 34-year-old Londoner, John Stembridge, has ecided to make his fortune in North America by beating the natives there at their own game.

ANGELA

lawyers. She did not call me a mad dog, as did her counsel."

Miss Davis flared back that she objected to such remarks as "racist."

Miss Davis opened her arguments by striding to the bench and to the prosecutor's table to deliver copies of legal references. While the courtroom audience watched intently, Judge Arnason accepted the document. Harris hesitated, then slowly reached for the copy she proffered him. His face was stonily expressionless.

Her arguments for cocounsel status were wide-ranging.

"I have been charged with three capital offenses," she said. I stand to lose my life — a life not of a lone individual but a life that has been given over to the black struggle.

"It is this life which I have to defend — a life which cannot be separated from Ruchell Magee or other black defendants now in courts or prisons across the nation."

She said Harris's warnings against her political speeches "give my arguments to act as cocounsel all the more validity and force.

"I'm a black woman; I'm a member of the Communist Party; I used to be active in . . . the struggle to overthrow capitalist oppression. These are facts which cannot be ignored."

She said the prosecution had injected politics into her case by linking her with the Soledad Brothers and bringing a Los Angeles police officer to testify before the Marin County Grand Jury on her militant activities in Southern California.

She said she sought cocounsel status to permit her to cross-examine witnesses and "correct errors" in debate on her politics.

"I can guarantee the court that I have absolutely no intention of disrupting" proceedings, she pledged. "I am very anxious to be out on the street again in the struggle for my people. Because spectators react in a certain way, defendants or citizens do notforfeit any rights."

When courtroom "decorum is placed above justice, then inevitably disaster will prevail," she said.

In rebuttal, prosecutor Harris declared, "The truth has to be determined in a place where the participants are free from intimidation — with a minimum of invective, a minimum of shouting."

As for Miss Davis's "wishes to explain the circumstances" of her case "she can do this on that witness stand, under oath," Harris argued.

Harris claimed that any politics in the case was "because we put on a proof of what appeared to be a motive. . . the whole purpose of 'the insurrection of Aug.7' as it has been called, was to free the Soledad Brothers," Harris said. "This is not a politicial trial, but a criminal trial," he declared.

Harris argued that Miss Davis could accomplish nothing as cocounsel "that she can't do if treated as thousands of other defendants in California."

Harris also denied "implying that I seek the life of Miss Davis. The grand jury indicted her."

Howard Moore Jr., Miss Davis's chief counsel, then interjected a demand that Judge Arnason tell "the prosecutor not to play cat and mouse with the defendant's life and freedom. If the prosecution's not going to take Angela's life, let him say so."

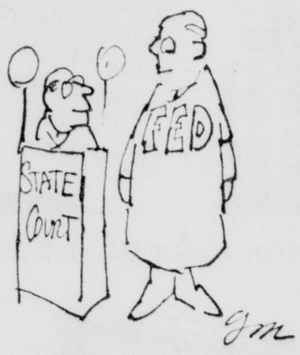
Judge Arnason cut off Moore's objection, and turned to discussion of hearings scheduled for today.

Outside the courtroom, Moore confirmed yesterday that a change of venue will be sought before the actual trial. He said no county had been selected, only that 18 counties had been rejected as being too small to handle the trial.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

State Level Prosecutions



It is costly and hard for a person to defend himself when faced with a criminal charge. Especially a close case with a law that may be of doubtful validity. Long appeals may extend the agony for years.

To get a faster verdict on the validity of the law, some defendants went to the federal courts for an early decision. It was a way to hold up state prosecutions until some of the legal issues were cleared up.

Recently the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that use of the federal court to halt prosecutions was improper. Unless the state prosecution causes "irreparable harm," the federal courts should not interfere.

In one case John Davis was charged with advocating force to bring about economic change. Violation of the California law is a felony and Davis faced one to fourteen years in jail were he convicted.

Davis claimed the law violated his right to free speech and to advocate change. He argued that the law was vague and that he was only passing out literature from well known social commentators. He went to a federal court to have the California law declared invalid. The lower federal court ruled in Davis's favor, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision. Their opinion stated that federal courts should not interfere with state criminal proceedings. A state court could examine any constitutional issue first. Appeals could be reviewed in a federal court.

In another case, state agents seized some books claiming they violated the local obscenity laws. The owner sought their return, saying they had been illegally seized. Again the Supreme Court said that federal courts should not interfere with state prosecutions.

California allows quick tests of many laws in the state courts. If criminal prosecutions are instigated by private parties acting in bad faith, they may be sued for malicious prosecution. But elected district attorneys and prosecutors have wide discretion in enforcement of laws. Ordinarily courts will not stop their actions taken within their powers. Note: (California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

No Complaint Filed Against Youth In Forgery

No complaint was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Henry Iver Seiler, 19, of Nicasio, who was arrested Friday on suspicion of forgery.

The district attorney's office said a complaint would not be filed until Seiler's parents sign a complaint against their son.

He was arrested by Corte Madera police after he attempted to cash a $31 check at a Corte Madera bank. The check was made out in Seiler's mother's name, police said.

Seiler was to appear in Marin Superior Court today in connection with a felony forgery charge stemming from a stolen check he allegedly cashed at a San Rafael bank June 15.

Innocent Plea To Murder Count

Edwin Evan Shipe II, 49, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of murder.

His case was continued until Monday for a probation department report on his eligibility for bail. The district attorney's office has requested he be held without bail.

Shipe was arrested Monday in a Petaluma tavern in connection with the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Barbara P. Shipe, 47, at her Fairfax residence July 14.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
SOLDAVINI, DINA M. — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who entered into eternal life six years ago today.
Gone, dear mother, gone forecer.
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember.
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

Basque Culture In Nevada To Be Study Subject

RENO (UPI)—The Desert Research Institute of the University of Nevada will study the validity of theories of how Basques in Nevada have maintained their distinct ethnic identity.

DRI President John Ward said the National Institute of Mental Health has awarded $24,158 to Dr. William Douglass of the DRI's Western Studies Center.

Ward said some social scientists theorize an ethnic setting—a community in which one ethnic grouping predominates—is necessary for maintaining cultural identity. In addition, he said, it is thought that identity is also contingent upon factors like discrimination against ethnic members and a conflict of values with the value system of the wider society.

"However, Basques appear to belie these notions," Douglass said. "Since entering the West in the late 19th century, Basques have encountered little discrimination and are not distinguishable from America's dominant white society on racial grounds, nor do their professed values differ much from the characteristic American value system."

Guilty Plea To Check Fraud

Valerie Dray, 18, of San Rafael, has pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court to a charge of check fraud.

She is to be sentenced Aug. 30.

Miss Dray, who is also known as Valerie Sheele, was arrested Feb. 3 when she attempted to cash a $50 money order at a San Rafael tavern. Police said the check had been stolen from Payless Drug Store in San Rafael the day before.

'UNCLE SAM' DENIED PENSION

Walter Botts, 71, a retired musician living in San Juan Capistrano, has been turned down for an Army pension because he didn't have enough World War I military service — by 10 days. Botts's main claim to fame is that he posed in 1938 for the second "Uncle Sam" recruiting poster. He said James Montgomery Flagg, who used himself in the original poster in 1918, decided to use a model. He said he was paid $25 for his efforts. The same poster is still in use after 30 years. Rabin Is Wary Of Canal Talks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli ambassador to Washington Yitzhak Rabin said today he did not have "high hopes" the forthcoming visit to Israel of Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco would lead to reopening the Suez Canal.

"If there are any new proposals they would be brought by Sisco," Rabin told newsmen at Lod International Airport on his arrival from the United States. "His visit is part of a sustained and intimate dialogue between Israel and the United States."

In the Arab world, the Beirut newspaper Al Moharrer said Iraqi authorities have arrested 45 army officers, including air force commander Air Marshal Hussan Hayari, in an internal power struggle.

The pro-Egyptian, anti-Iraq newspaper quoted Iraqi sources as saying the arrests were ordered by strongman Sidam Hussein Takriti, deputy chairman of the Revolutionary Command Council, "under the pretext of discovering a plot against the regime."

It said the real purpose of the arrests was to eliminate opponents of the ruling Baathist party. Iraq recently expelled three British Embassy staff members on charges of plotting to overthrow the government.

In Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram said former War Minister Lt. Gen. Mahmoud Fawzi will be tried by a special three-man military court on charges he participated in a plot to overthrow Egyptian President Anwar Sadat last May.

Fawzi was one of five government ministers who resigned following Sadat's sacking of former Vice President Ali Sabry. Sadat issued a decree Wednesday forming a three-man revolutionary court to try persons allegedly involved in the coup attempt, but Al Ahram said Fawzi will be tried by a military tribunal.

Another Story Of Massacre Revealed

TEL AVIV (UPI)—An Israeli citizen says it was the Russians and not the Nazis —as the Russians claim —who massacred 12,000 Polish army officers during World War II in the Katyn Forest near the Soviet city of Smolensk.

German soldiers uncovered a mass grave in 1943 containing the bodies and said Soviet troops killed the Poles by shooting each one in the back of the head.

The Russians accused the Nazis of this war crime.

The U.S. Congress investigated the incident and in 1952 issued a report which said Russian troops had killed the officers, probably as part of a move to eliminate leaders of a potential anti-Communist leadership in postwar Poland.

Wednesday, Israeli citizen Avraham Wydra, 64, said the Russians were responsible for the massacre. A Polish Jew by birth, he said he spent several years in Soviet labor camps during the war.

Wydra told the Israeli newspaper Maiariv that three Soviet Jewish officers who either participated in or witnessed the killings told him of the massacre. He said he was sworn to secrecy at the time but wanted to tell the story now before he died.

Wydra said at the start of the war he was interned in the Starobyelsky labor camp near where the killings occurred and was told of the incident by a Major Sorokin who saw the Poles slain.

Wydra said, "The major got me alone and poured out his heart. He said 'The world will never believe what my eyes beheld. The Poles have all been shot.'"

"It seemed as if he was going through a fit of convulsions as he talked," Wydra said. "He could not retain his words."

At a second labor camp two years later two other officers said they had taken part in the killings, Wydra said.

He said the officers were sent to the camp because the authorities said they were made but "it turned out the two suffered from frayed nerves. One used to cry a lot," Wydra said.

Buckley Admits Secret Vietnam Report A Hoax

NEW YORK (UPI)—William F. Buckley Jr. said Wednesday documents on the Vietnam War in the National Review were a hoax printed to show the public would accept as classified information anything that seemed reasonable.

Buckley, editor of the weekly magazine, said the articles were written last week in the National Review offices and were composed "ex nihilo" — out of nothing.

The articleswere published in the magazine's current edition as "highly classified government documents" which were said leaked by an informant who wanted to show the other side of the Pentagon papers published in the press.

The New York Times, which first published the Pentagon papers, said in today's edition that the National Review articles were not totally composed out of nothing.

The Times said there were quoted phrases and paraphrases of the Pentagon report scattered through the National Review articles and two of the memoranda in the magazine were excerpted from the report.

Buckley, meeting with newsmen on his return from Seattle, Wash., said the articles were printed in the National Review to prove "that forged documents would be widely accepted as genuine provided their content was inherently plausible."

He said although the documents were fake their nature was such they could easily have been written from 1962 to 1967 and most likely similar documents were written by government officials at that time.

He said the hoax also was meant to show that "the Pentagon and the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) are not composed of incompetents." This incompetency was "the unwarranted conclusion to which many Americans and non-Americans were led by the fragmentary revelations of The New York Times and the Washington Post."

The National Review articles presented a general picture of a U.S. government trying not to get involved in a long-term war in Vietnam. The Pentagon papers showed a deeper and deeper involvement of the United States in Indochina over three decades.

Buckley said it took the news media 48 hours to seriously question the authenticity of the magazine's documents and this "contributes a general understanding of the limited reflexes of the press.

"Indeed, it is possible that there will be those who believe that this statement is a hoax."

The National Review articles were reported by two television networks, news services and a number of newspapers across the country, but not to the extent the Pentagon papers were reported.

One of the 13 fake documents cited by the National Review was a 1965 coded obscure military message which the magazine said "indicates that the proposal to make one or another use of nuclear weapons remained alive within the military as well as at least one section of the intelligence communities."

Buckley was asked if the possible use of nuclear weapons fit the basis of the hoax that such ideas were probably being discussed in the mid-1960s.

No Inductions Into The Armed Forces

In Marin County, as in the rest of the nation, no one was inducted into the armed forces this month and no quota has been set for next month because Congress failed to renew the draft.

The local office will stay open and employees will remain on the payroll until other orders are received, according to Joy M. Kinzer, executive secretary.

Explosion Caused By Vaporous Gas

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The explosion which ripped through a shopping center near the Las Vegas "Strip" earlier this month was caused by vaporous gas, according to the fire department.

The department said Wednesday investigating teams found no evidence that an explosive device was used to touch off the blast and fire which destroyed or damaged eight stores and claimed one life.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Bill Rejected As 'Fascist Seed'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Warned by its chairman that the bill would sow the "seeds of a fascist state," the Assembly Ways and Means Committee has refused to hear a measure to allow private colleges to establish their own official police forces.

The measure by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, was returned Wednesday by the committee to the Criminal Justice Committee for consideration of proposed "policy" amendments.

Even before the bill was up for discussion, committee chairman Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, told Murphy that "there is no bill in the legislature that I oppose more than this one."

Brown asserted it would constitute "the seeds of a fascist state" and would wreck the concept that in a democracy police departments and the military fall under the jurisdiction of an elected public official.

Currently security officers at private colleges and universities do not have the legal powers of peace officers such as highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies or local policemen.

The Murphy bill would grant them such powers but limit their authority.

MERCURY BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Health and Welfare Committee has approved revised legislation requiring mercury users to register with the state.

The committee substantially amended the bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, before sending it to the Senate Finance Committee.

Nejedly, moving to keep the legislation alive, amended it to provide merely for registration of mercury users with the state Resources Control Board.

Originally, the measure would have barred release of mercury into the environment without permission of the state Water Resources Control Board and Public Health Department. It also would have prohibited use of mercury in fungicide preparations.

PAY HIKE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill to give state employes a 5 per cent pay hike which Gov. Ronald Reagan cut from the state's new budget has been approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

The $76.9 million measure by Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, was sent to the full Senate Wednesday on a 7-3 roll call vote.

Reagan vetoed a similar sum in the new state budget that was earmarked for state employe pay raises. He said a salary boost would mean an increase in taxes, which he would not approve.

LONGER TERMS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California assemblymen have voted to double their terms to four years and extend the terms of state senators from four to six years.

If the Senate agrees, the final decision would be up to the voters next year. Similar legislation has failed at past sessions.

The Assembly with virtually no debate Wednesday approved 54-17 a proposed constitutional amendment by Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, to stretch the terms of office for state legislators.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, voted for the amendment.

In presenting the proposal, Johnson told the Assembly, "I'm not going into the details. Everyone knows the pros and cons of this. We could do a far better job of taking care of our people with longer terms."

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, the only lawmaker to argue against it, said he didn't "believe that the people I represent would want to be deprived of going to the polls every two years to express their sentiment."

CAL EXPO BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Ways and Means Committee has killed legislation by a Democratic legislator to prohibit sale of the $30 million California Exposition and Fair without legislative approval.

The measure by Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, was killed Wednesday by the committee, which agreed to appoint a subcommittee to make a between-sessions investigation of Cal Expo.

Cory's measure would have created a committee to investigate and recommend the best disposition of the property and to find a buyer for it on a nopublic-bidding basis.

WELFARE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Welfare Committee has approved legislation asking the Reagan administration to abolish "marginal" reports on welfare such as those dealing with hippies.

The resolution by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, was passed Wednesday.

It calls on the state director of welfare to review the massive number of reports required to be submitted by county welfare departments and do away with "nonessential" ones.

Duffy filed with the committee a tabulation of reports required by the Department of Yolo County. During 1970, the county compiled 1,635 reports ranging from caseloads to surveying hippie communes and counting the number of workers with master's degrees in social work to "assess the degree of professionalism" among social workers.

ANTISMOG BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An antismog bill empowering the state Air Resources Board to set standards for the regulation of additives in gasoline has been rejected by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

The proposal by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, was rejected Wednesday on a split voice vote after opponents called it a back door approach to removing lead from gas.

Sieroty's $250,000 bill would establish standards for any additives sold in California.

But Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, noting previous legislative attempts to regulate additives had failed, said the bill in effect "abdicates our responsibilities to some appointive board. This is a roundabout way of doing it."

TENURE CHANGE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed legislation which he says will "weed out" incompetent teachers by revising the procedure for firing a teacher with a tenured position.

In signing the measure Wednesday, Reagan said the bill would make it possible "to weed out incompetents (teachers) from our educational system and, at the same time, protect and encourage dedicated educators. Those with the most to gain are our schoolchildren."

Currently, a tenured teacher who challenges his firing on grounds of incompetency or unprofessional conduct does so in a Superior Court hearing.

The bill by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, provides that such a hearing would be held before a three-member panel—one member chosen by the teacher, another selected by the school board and the third from the state Office of Administrative Procedure.

Stanford Appoints New Police Head

STANFORD (UPI) —Stanford University appointed a new director for its police services Wednesday —Marvin L. Herrington, 35, who has been coordinator for security in the California State College system.

Herrington on Aug. 1 will succeed Thomas, Bell, who resigned June 1 saying he couldn't get clear cut directions on what was wanted of the university department.

JUST NORTH OF CODDINGTOWN CENTER

McCloskey, Gubser In A Feud

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — It was 7 o'clock in the evening, and the somber chamber of the House of Representatives was almost deserted. Only a few tourists remained in the galleries, which earlier in the day had been packed as the House debated the contempt citation against the president of CBS.

Down on the floor, two California congressmen wrapped up their long, inconclusive debate on whether the United States, as one had charged, had engaged in a conscious policy of bombing hundreds of villages in northern Laos. Only two other congressmen, also Californians, were on the floor.

As the Speaker's gavel echoed through the chamber to bring the long day to a close, Charles Gubser, a 55-year-old Republican from Gilroy and a 19-year veteran of the house, snatched up his notes and walked quickly off the floor without a glance at his opponent.

Twenty feet away, the challenger, Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey, 43, a Republican from Portola Valley who has been in the House four years, stared at his notes and shuffled them around until Gubser had left, and then he, too, walked out.

That brief closing tableau was an unusually sour note, for Congressional custom dictated that the two men should have walked over to each other, shaken hands and assured each other that it had been a good and fair debate, no hard feelings.

"I was a little bit tired of the exercise," Gubser explained later that evening. "I will admit that 'Pete's insistence upon sticking to his unproven charges and his 'have-you-stopped-beating-your-wife' type of argumentation have reached the point where I temporarily have lost my respect for him.

"I hope I get it back. I want to. I don't want to feud with the guy, but every time he pops off with something this irresponsible, I'm going to nail him. It's time that phony was tripped up."

McCloskey, also still working in his office as the balmy July darkness fell over the Capitol, was asked about the obviously unfriendly ending to the debate.

"It was a rare thing," he said of Gubser's abrupt exit from the House chamber. "But you noticed that I didn't exactly rush over to him, either."

"All he did was try to personally attack me and the basis for my conclusions. Not once during the debate did he get down to discussing the evidence. I kept asking him today time after time after time, well, what's your response to these villagers' testimony? Were they bombed or weren't they? No answer. On to some other subject. 'You concluded too much from too little fact.' 'You're damaging the country's image.' I mean, all of this is an attack on me."

Gubser counters: "He acted irresponsibly and made a damaging accusation without sufficient proof. This is my only contention."

Yet Gubser conceded that his attempt to rebut McCloskey's charges was equally inconclusive, that the dispassionate reader of the debate transcript would be unable to discover the truth. "It's just too complicated to firmly resolve this."

Why, then, did Gubser toss down the gauntlet to McCloskey in a tough speech June 26 in McCloskey's home district? It was this speech, attacking McCloskey for his bitterly critical and widely reported statements on U.S. bombing in Laos, that led to McCloskey's challenge for a debate on the House floor. There are two probable reasons which, if taken together, could explain Gubser's unusual personal attack on a member of his own party from a neighboring congressional district.

One reason is Gubser's view of America and his role as a Congressman, which he expressed at the end of the first day of debate:

"Instead of seeking out the disillusioned and fanning their disillusionment into hate and disrespect for the basic institutions of a great nation, is it not time we talked about what is good in America? Is it not time we honestly compared our standards of freedom and morality with the Communist world? . . . I say it is time some of us stop leaving the field, the news columns, and television screens to only those who degrade, deface and besmirch the image of a government and a nation which, though not perfect, is still imperfect man's closest approach to a perfect government. We have waited too long — let us stand up and be counted."

And there is also the inescapable fact that Pete McCloskey is challenging President Nixon for the GOP nomination next year, and the White House and Republican National Committee naturally are urging party loyalists to begin chopping away at McCloskey.

Asked if he is being supplied ammunition by the White House, Gubser complained good-humoredly about what he described as Administration reluctance to slip him some inside facts to clobber McCloskey with.

"I'm trying to help . . ." he said before catching himself.

"Look, I think the worst thing Dick Nixon could do is to glorify this upstart with opposition," he said in an effort to lay to rest the thought that the incumbent, faced with a re-election challenge of yet unknown dimension in his own party, would not lift a finger to try to push the challenger off stride.

As for cotrdinating his attack on McCloskey with the Republican National Committee, Gubser did discuss his Burlingame speech with Lyn Nofziger, the committee's chief tactician, before he delivered it. Some Washington reporters are convinced that the speech, which was widely distributed to the press here, was run off on the committee's mimeograph machines, a suggestion Nofziger quickly denies. Nofziger, in an interview, complained that the speech failed to get any East Coast and national attention.

Gubser said his attack on McCloskey had support among their California colleagues. "I don't know of a single California Republican congressman who doesn't think I did something that needed to be done. And there are four California Democrats who have come up and said the same thing."

McCloskey the Presidential candidate says he expects the attacks to build as the Republican Party gets closer to next March's first primaries. "Gubser's speech (in Burlingame) probably will be distributed all over the country."

And what does Gubser think McCloskey's motive is when he charges the United States with bombing villages in northern Laos, with being guilty of actions for which military leaders were executed at Nuremburg?

"Publicity. He's drunk the heady wine of publicity ever since the day he defeated Shirley," Gubser said, referring to Shirley Temple Black and McCloskey's dramatic defeat of her in 1967.

Gubser has promised more attacks on McCloskey, and McCloskey has challenged Gubser to continue the debate in their California districts. It indicates, at least, that political nerves are being rubbed in GOP circles, and as one McCloskey aide noted wearily, "it's a long time until March."

Tax Break Bill Tied To Rise In Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A bill was introduced in the House today to give taxpayers a cost-of-living increase on personal income tax exemptions beginning in 1974.

In introducing the bill, Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said the cost of living has risen more than 50 per cent since 1948 when the $600 personal exemption was established.

During the same time the exemption increased only 4 per cent, he said, to this year's $625. Taxpayers may deduct $650 for each dependent on next year's income tax return and by 1973 the exemption will be $750.

Man Arrested In Pot Probe

A 20-year-old San Rafael man was arrested last night on suspicion of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, Novato police reported.

David Ray Anderson of 239 D Street, Apt. 13, was held in Marin County Jail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that they stopped Anderson on South Novato Boulevard north of Adele Street at 11:52 p.m. yesterday on a routine traffic violation. They saw a home-made hashish pipe and cigarette papers on the dashboard of the car. They also found a plastic bag of green vegetable matter thought to be marijuana.

2 Plead Innocent To Pot Charges

Christopher Edward Taylor, 20, of San Rafael, and John Wesley Sandahl, 19, of no known address, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia.

A pretrial conference was set for Aug. 11.

The two were arrested July 12 when Marin sheriff's deputies said they found a small amount of marijuana and two pipes containing suspected marijuana residue in the pair's van parked on Miller Creek Road, Marinwood.

Innocent Pleas To Felony Fraud

Jackie Dickerson, 23, and Carol Reida Simpson, 25, both of San Francisco, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to felony charges of grand theft and fraud.

Their cases were continued until Aug. 4 to set a date for a preliminary hearing.

They were arrested July 2 by Sausalito police who said the pair had duped a Sausalito woman into giving them $6,000 on the pretense that they would share with the woman $38,000 they told her they had found.

Bay Area's First Smog Alert Proposed For Fall

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area smog officials yesterday proposed a test this fall of the region's first smog alert system. But they urged that it be called only after the amount of a key pollutant had reached a level twice the maximum level set by the federal government for an alert.

D. J. Callaghan, chief administrative officer of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, objected that following the federal maximum for oxidants would force alerts so often that the public would lose interest in meeting voluntary restrictions.

"You can call 'wolf' just so often,and everyone's going to say 'the hell with it,' " he said.

The federal government's "episode criteria" calls for an alert when the level of oxidants reaches one-tenth of a part per million, but Callaghan recommended the district set the level at two-tenths of a part per million. He did not object to federal levels for other pollutants.

The staff's proposal for the alert system was presented to the advisory council's executive committee, which agreed to meet again next month to act on a detailed system.

Los Angeles has the only working alert system in the nation, but it is worthless because it is called too late in the morning, the staff said. That system, as in the one proposed for the Bay Area, depends largely on a voluntary halt to unnecessary driving, but Los Angelinos don't get word of the alert until they already are driving to work on the freeway.

The Bay Area's system instead will depend on predictions of smog levels by mid-afternoon for the next day. This will give time for news media to inform the public and for the public to make other arrangements for travel.

Car pools would be encouraged and transit agencies urged to add extra vehicles.

Other steps would be to urge manufacturing industries to curtail and postpone production, to limit incinerator use to certain hours, and to ban all open burning.

More stringent restrictions, some mandatory, would be imposed if smog conditions warranted a declaration of a "warning" or "emergency" system, but these levels are not expected ever to be reached in the Bay Area, the staff said. The three-phase system must be in effect by next year to meet federal requirements.

Dr. Milton Feldstein, director of technical services, said carbon monoxide levels were the only likely problem other than oxidants.

Callaghan assured the committee that the federal government would allow some deviation from its criteria for alert systems.

The staff also proposed that an alert be called only if predicted smog levels would exceed maximums at two of the district's ten stations. This would prevent calling an alert on the basis of an isolated instance of high smog levels in just one area.

Edward I. Murphy of San Francisco, vice chairman of the advisory council, suggested that public transportation agencies provide free rides when smog alerts are called. The agencies should be willing to do this "for the health of the community," he said.

Other committee members, however, said the agencies would refuse to take such a step.

The committee set its next meeting to go over a final staff proposal at 10 a.m. on Aug. 11 in district offices, 939 Ellis Street. The committee's recommendation will go before the full advisory council at 10 a.m. on Aug. 18, and then be reported to the district board of directors on Sept. 1.

This timetable would allow a test of the system during the annual smog season from September through November.

Driver Satisfactory From Auto Crash

Gerald Flowers, 28, of Santa Rosa, was reported in satisfactory condition at Community Hospital of Sonoma County with back injuries suffered in an accident at 3:15 a.m. today on Bodega Avenue at Pepper Road, west of Petaluma.

A passenger, Paula Brians, 18, of Santa Rosa, was treated at the hospital for a face cut. The California Highway Patrol said the car failed to stop at the intersection and struck an embankment.

Explosion Ruins Building At Plant

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—An explosion demolished one building and damaged a second today at the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. plant in the heavily industrialized eastern section of the city.

Authorities reported at least 13 workers were injured, four critically. The most seriously injured were taken to the Martland Medical Center here.

Fire Chief Joseph Redden said the explosion occurred shortly before 9 a.m: in the plant's No. 2 building. A fire broke out seconds later but was extinguished in about a half hour, Redden said.

He said the No. 2 building was destroyed and an adjacent structure "badly damaged." The company manufactures special chemicals.

An Indirect Pay Boost For House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members have voted to give themselves an indirect income boost.

A bill that passed on a 233 to 167 roll call vote Wednesday would give the House Administration Committee the authority to increase without prior notice or floor vote the fringe benefits of all members.

"The gut issue here is that we're turning over to a little handful of people (25 members) the ability to do all these things," said Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa.

"These things" include increasing the number of paid trips home —now limited to 13 round trips a year —or the number of paid office clerks — now limited to 15 per member —or the amount of a member's postage, stationary, telephone or home office rental allowance.

"Public information will come after the fact, not before," said House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan. Ford, who led opposition to the bill, said increased benefits would continue "until and unless there is a scandal."

Rep. William L. Dickinson, R-Ala., second ranking Republican on the Administration Committee, said the bill "makes it very comfortable for the members, but very bad for the taxpayers."

Engineers Report Solving Test Problem; Apollo Launch Ready

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)— Project engineers reported today they believe they have solved the one remaining Apollo 15 testing problem, clearing the way for the launch as planned next Monday of America's most ambitious moonflight.

"Things have been proceeding very well," reported space vehicle test supervisor James Harrington.

Astronauts David R. Scott, Alfred M. Worden and James B. Irwin were winding up more than two years of training today for the 12-day mission by brushing up on procedures for walking on the moon and walking in space 48,000 miles above the lunar surface.

The problem that apparently was solved centered around a fluctuation in the command ship's electrical power system during a countdown test last week. Engineers never considered the problem serious but wanted to make certain it wasn't a symptom of a more serious problem.

"Right now, we're in the process of isolating the problem," said Richard C. Proffitt, the spacecraft test controller, during a countdown status report at the launch control center. "We feel that we have isolated it to a 400-cycle inverter.

"We feel that we're well on the track of it and it's not a constraint to launch."

The inverter, a device that converts direct current to alternating current in the command ship, was removed and studied in a testing laboratory. During tests there, engineers were able to duplicate a drop in power that accounted for the fluctuation.

The three lunar surface excursions planned for Scott and Irwin and the unusual walking in space 48,000 miles above the moon planned for Worden are expected to tell man as much about the moon as the first three Apolio landings put together.

Decorated Wave Gets Reprieve

OAK HARBOR, Wash. (UPI) —A decorated navy Wave who was to be discharged because she hasn't been promoted has been given a reprieve by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Lt. Doreen Jean Two, a 14-year veteran, said Wednesday Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has restrained the navy from discharging her until her case can be heard by the federal courts.

She said she will appeal first to the U.S. District Court in Seattle. "But it's almost certain the case will go to the Supreme Court because I'm questioning the constitutionality of a congressional act," Lt. Two said.

LOCKHEED WINS KEY LOAN VOTES

Leading Senate Opponent Threatens To Stage Filibuster To Scuttle Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With its chairman keeping tabs from a Capitol hideaway, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has won impressive House and Senate victories in its bid for the government-guaranteed $250 million loan it needs to forestall bankruptcy.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., Lockheed's foremost foe in Congress, threatened today to stage a filibustar aimed at preventing a final Senate vote before Congress quits Aug. 8 for a month's vacation.

Proxmire was whipped by a 56-36 vote Wednesday in his move to send back for new hearings a bill giving the government authority to guarantee repayment of up to $2 billion worth of loans to ailing corporations such as Lockheed, the nation's 33rd largest firm. Lockheed would probably get the first loan if the bill passes but it says it must have the money in the next week or so to avert bankruptcy.

California Senators Alan Cranston and John V. Tunney joined in voting against sending the bill back for rehearing.

A second crucial victory for the aerospace giant came in the House Banking Committee, which outvoted its chairman, and approved a bill identical to the Senate measure. The House was expected to act on the measure before the congressional recess.

Lockheed Board Chairman Daniel J. Haughton, a plainspoken engineer from Alabama, watched developments from the ceremonial office assigned to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. The office is just off the Senate floor.

"In the 14 years I've been in the Senate, I've never been subjected to this kind of pressure," Proxmire said, complaining about lobbying by the White House and by Lockheed.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., agreed. "I expect Lockheed has as many lobbyists in Washington as there are senators," he grumbled.

Proxmire said he received two threats on his own life—one by telephone and one in a letter postmarked Long Island City, N.Y. Another letter warned of a plan to poison his food.

Proxmire told the Senate that Henry M. Durham of Marietta, Ga., a former Lockheed employe who had written him a letter about Lockheed's "mismanagement," had received "very serious phone calls" threatening violence.

As a result, Proxmire said, federal marshals have been assigned to guard Durham under a law making it illegal to threaten congressional witnesses. Proxmire has invited Durham to testify before the Joint Economic Committee about his allegations against Lockheed.

In the House, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the Banking Committee, said his committee's "ill-conceived decision" to approve the Senate bill could lead to defeat of the measure on the House floor. He called it "poorly perfected legislation which has every earmark of a general slush fund for big business."

Teen Held In Killing Of Mother, Others

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UPI)—A 19-year-old Sheboygan youth was charged today with five counts of first degree murder in connection with the shooting deaths earlier this week of his mother, the mother of a girl friend and the girl's three younger brothers.

District Attorney Lance Jones said the criminal complaint charging Douglas George Dean with the deaths was filed in Sheboygan county court.

Jones said the weapon used in the slayings was a .22-caliber rifle.

Wednesday, attorney Robert Halvorsen refused police requests that they be allowed to talk with Dean, who was hospitalized Monday.

The complaint was served on Dean in his hospital room and the youth was taken immediately to the Sheboygan police station.

Dean was found in an incoherent state on church steps south of the city a few hours before the body of his mother, Mrs. Hildegarde Dean, 50, was found shot to death in her home.

Later that day the bodies of Mrs. Naomi Rammer, 45, and her sons, John, 16; Paul, 11, and Tommy, 10, were found shot to death in their home less than two blocks away. The two families were well acquainted.

Misdemeanor Charges Filed

Only misdemeanor charges have been filed in Marin Municipal Court against Gregory Grant Orr, 21, of San Rafael, who was arrested Monday on suspicion of burglary and possessing stolen property.

Orr is charged with misdemeanor possession of stolen property, credit car forgery and petty theft.

He was arrested when he allegedly attempted to use a stolen credit card at a San Rafael liquor store. He is to plead to the charges next Wednesday.

A $2.5 Million Grant For Training Site

The Coast Guard training school at Petaluma has received a $2.5 million grant to upgrade the facilities at the former Two Rock Ranch Army Station.

Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam said the funds were approved yesterday by the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation. She said the funds had originally been earmarked to upgrade barracks at an installation in Virginia, but that the change to the Petaluma installation was approved.

The money will be used to upgrade present facilities and to construct new buildings. The first training school is set to open on Aug. 2. The Coast Guard officially took command of the former Army post on July 1.

Funds For Equipment Approved

The Kentfield Fire District board last night approved spending $8,258 for fire equipment during fiscal 1971-72, according to Fire Chief Kenneth T. Kamp.

The board approved $4,713 for equipment for the new 1,500 gallon pumper and $3,545 for general replacement equipment, Kamp said.

James Hausle, 104 Estelle Avenue, was appointed by the board to replace former Chairman Jospeh Smith who died July 5.

The board also named Capt. Robert G. Mariani assistant fire chief to comply with the Fire Rating Bureau.

Two lieutenants will be appointed shift officers at a special meeting by the board Aug. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Kamp said the board will meet at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. for its regular meetings on the second Wednesday of every month.

Lost Seaman Is Found Alive In Rubber Raft

WASHINGTON (UPI) —An 18-year-old seaman who disappeared from an Australian ship 300 miles off the California coast three weeks ago has been found alive in a rubber liferaft, the Australian embassy said today.

The embassy said the sailor, John Thomas Clough, was found by a Dutch merchant ship, the Toloa at sea. He had been discovered missing from the HMAS Australia during a roll call July 3.

The liferaft, capable of holding 20 men, had been discovered missing also. There were no other details as to how or why Clough left the ship.

The Australian embassy said the American ship reported Clough "dizzy and underfed" and complaining of a pain in his throat. He told his American rescuers he had been drinking sea water. He was reported recovering aboard the ship.

The Australian ship had launched an air search for Clough as soon as his absence was discovered, but was unable to find a trace of him. The raft in which Clough drifted three weeks normally carried three days' rations for each man, enough to last one man 60 days.

News of the rescue was relayed to the HMAS Sydney in Vancouver, B.C., then to the Australian Embassy.

Serum Rushed To Victim Of Bite By Black Widow

EUREKA, Calif. (UPI)—A man bitten by a black widow spider in his back yard was in good condition today after receiving a special serum flown from San Francisco.

William Owsley, 25, was bitten on the forehead Tuesday and became "violently ill", a few hours later. A Coast Gaurd plane flew the serum 300 miles from the University of California Medical Center Wednesday.

Doctors said the "prognosis was good" for Owsley, but that convalescence from black widow bites usually was a long affair.

Robber Sent To Youth Authority

Edward William Anderson, 20, of Martinez, has been sentenced to the California Youth Authority for an armed robbery in San Rafael.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court sentenced Anderson who had pleaded guilty in June to the May 3 robbery of James Emery Olah of 16 Ross Street, Apt. 3.

Olah was held at gunpoint in his apartment for four hours during the robbery in which $4,000 worth of stereo equipment and a $3,000 car were taken.

Demo Welfare Bill Dies In Senate; New Version Due

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Senate has killed Gov. Ronald Reagan's welfare reform program and barely kept alive a Democratic substitute the governor abhors.

In the year's first welfare showdown for either house, Senate Democrats beat back Republican attempts to amend Reagan's previously-rejected bills into a reform measure sponsored by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills.

Beilenson termed it "a bit of an insult to the legislature" that Reagan would even try to revive his program after it had been rejected by two Senate committees.

Then Republicans Wednesday night blocked passage of Beilenson's bill, which required a two-thirds vote.

To salvage the measure, Democrats amended out key features that necessitated the two-thirds vote. Now, the bill can be passed to the assembly with a simple majority vote. It was expected to be late today.

"This will get us off dead center," said Senate president pro tem James Mills, D-San Diego.

The floor showdown climaxed months of Senate jockeying and a full day of strategy sessions. Reagan had met with Senate Republicans and urged them to support his amendments and reject Beilenson's bill.

The Republican governor let it be known he intended to veto Beilenson's bill if it ever reached his desk, contending it did not represent "true welfare reform."

The Senate generally voted along party lines. Democrats control the house, 20-19.

The Senate rejected six attempts by Sen. Clair W. Burgener, R-San Diego, to amend Reagan's program into Beilenson's bill. Most of the amendments were decided on a straight 19-19 partyline vote.

The key amendment would have established an "equitable apportionment" system so if relief funds ran short available money would be divided, with the "truly needy" receiving more and most recipients less.

The Reagan amendments also would have prevented unwed pregnant teenagers from qualifying for Medi-Cal abortions.

Beilenson said if his colleagues voted against Medi-Cal abortions they would be "making a damn fool mistake" because it cost only $400 for an abortion but $18,000 to bring up a child on welfare.

The Reagan amendments, according to Burgener, would have saved the state $108 million. Burgener warned the state faced a tax increase without them.

"The welfare system," Beilenson countered, "was set up to help the poor, not to help governors balance their budgets."

Beilenson said his program would save the state $23 million.

He pointed out much of the plan was cribbed from Reagan's and insisted it was "a serious effort to develop a consensus, bi-partisan approach to a most complex and controversial issue."

But after a two-hour rollcall, the bill could muster only 22 votes—five short of passage. Seventeen Republicans voted against it. The only two Republicans voting for it were Milton Marks of San Francisco and Peter Behr of Mill Valley.

"The governor wants his program or nothing at all," Marks complained to his colleagues. "The people of California are sick to death with political maneuverings on welfare reform. They want solutions."

Democrats finally removed from Beilenson's bill the features necessitating a two-thirds vote. These included an urgency clause to implement the bill immediately and various appropriation clauses.

Deleted was a section raising aid to families with dependent children by 17 per cent next July.

Retained, however, was a key provision opposed by Reagan requiring the state to establish a job program for 25,000 welfare recipients at $2 an hour.

Mills said he expects the Beilenson bill to be extensively amended in the Assembly and ultimately wind up in a two-house conference committee for final negotiation.

Meanwhile, the Assembly Welfare Committee reportedly was drafting a compromise measure containing elements of several plans, including Reagan's and Beilenson's.

Whiplash Injury From Car Crash

One person was injured in a two-car accident at 5 p.m. yesterday on Fourth and B Streets, San Rafael, police reported.

Elsie Lucretia Foster, 29, of 7397 Boris Court, Rohnert Park, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a whiplash, hospital officials reported. Her westbound car and another westbound car driven by Martin Price McDowell, 25, of 172 Picnic Avenue, collided according to police.

Viet Reds Ignore Peking Plan

PARIS (UPI)—The Vietnamese Communists publicly ignored President Nixon's plans to visit Peking at today's session of the Paris peace talks and privately indicated the visit would not soften their conditions for peace in Vietnam.

They again demanded an unconditional U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam. In private, diplomats of both North Vietnam and the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (the political arm of the Viet Cong) asserted they have Peking's full backing for their conditions.

They indicated there will be no concession on their part to smooth Nixon's path to Peking. They reiterated their two basic demands: total U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam and the removal of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu from office.

Both Hanoi's minister of state, Xuan Thuy, who appeared to be in a more jovial mood than in recent weeks, and the Viet Cong's foreign minister, Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, brushed aside without mention a renewed plea by American chief negotiator David K.E. Bruce and Saigon's Pham Dang Lam to discuss immediately a cease-fire in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

"It is clear that if the American government continues its policy of Vietnamization of the war it will merely sink into an even deeper impasse," Madame Binh said.

In her five-page statement, Madame Binh, carefully refrained from naming anyone else in the South Vietnamese cabinet as undesirable and challenged the American negotiator again and again to state whether Washington will make Thieu's presence at the head of the Saigon administration a major issue.

Bruce last week warned the Communists they would be harboring "Illusions" if they thought Washington would drop Thieu.

Bruce told Madame Binh, "the proposals you made so far do not envisage an early end to all the fighting. On the contrary, they indicate that you apparently intend to continue the war until you achieve all your political objectives."

He urged Madame Binh and Thuy, to "take a fresh look at the advantages of an early and complete ceasefire demanded by the allies would not settle outstanding Indo-chinese issues, "it would put an end to the killing in all the areas where the conflict now rages, and I believe, it could not fail to affect favorably our deliberations here."

Hanoi's Thuy said the Vietnamese conflict will be settled peacefully only if Presdent Nixon sets a deadline for a complete U.S. military withdrawal and stops supporting South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu.

$55 Billion Estimated For Transportation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The state Transportation Board was told Wednesday that it would cost $55 billion by 1990 to keep pace with California's transportation needs.

The Association of Bay Area governments estimated it would cost $4.3 billion to extend rail rapid transit to San Jose, Marin County, Vallejo and Antioch.

ABAG also said $5.6 billion would be needed for new highways, $763 million for more buses, $1.2 billion for airports and $623 million for garages.

The Southern California Association of Governments told the board Los Angeles would need $11.3 billion in new highways and $3 billion for a rapid transzt system.

William Hibbard of the state Business and Transportation Agency said Gov. Ronald Reagan would study the estimates and present them in a package to Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

Negotiators Meet Again; Rail Strike In West Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prospect of possible government intervention faced United Transportation Union (UTU) and railroad negotiators who scheduled another meeting today in an effort to end a week-long strike against the Southern and Union Pacific railroads before it spreads to two other lines Saturday and six others July 30.

The Chicago & North Western Railway announced today it had reached an independent settlement with the UTU covering wages, fringe benefits and work rules. Details were not immediately announced.

UTU announced earlier it would strike the C&NW, but the walkout was blocked by a court injunction, and the line withdrew from national negotiations to seek a separate settlement.

Southern Railway President W. Graham Claytor Jr. said, however, he doubted the C&NW settlement would form a pattern for the industry.

"I would be surprised if it made any difference," Claytor said.

Claytor said the C&NW was a small road with economic problems that led it to feel it could not stand a strike of even a few days. He said he had not seen the C&NW agreement, but the railroad's financial plight was such that it "probably had to surrender to the union."

UTU President Charles Luna, appearing in a television interview with Claytor, said the UTU was determined it would not give up any of the work rules it has won during decades of negotiations unless the railroads offer something else in return.

Luna insisted his union would feel the full brunt of work rules changes in contrast with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and other undions that have accepted the rules. He said the other unions either were affected lightly by the rules or were composed of members of such high seniority that they were not in danger of losing their jobs.

He said a member of the engineers union, for example, could displace a UTU fireman if his job was abolished under new work rules.

The UTU is composed mainly of firemen, conductors, brakemen, flagmen and switchmen. Except for conductors, its members largely are lower in the seniority ranks than the engineers.

The UTU and the rail lines have been meeting daily since the strike was called.

A similar session Wednesday produced reports of no progress. Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe warned that the government might have to take more substantive action if the strikes hurt the movement of commerce. Such action presumably woud be a congressionally ordered settlement, similar to what the legislators have had to do three times in the last 20 months.

The strike against the Union Pacific had a heavy impact at Stapleton in central Nebraska where more than 80,000 bushels of wheat have piled up in front of the county courthouse because no freight cars were moving to take it away.

The UTU has served notice it will strike the Southern Pacific and the Norfolk and Western at 6 a.m. Saturday. The union is fighting work rules the railroads want to establish. The carriers claim the new rules are needed to cut waste and expenses but the union claims the jobs are necessary.

After the strike began last week the remaining railroads instituted the new rules, resulting in widespread layoffs. That situation triggered a walkout against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad in the Peoria, Ill., area Wednesday.

The UTU plans to strike six more lines on July 30 — including the sprawling Chicago-to-California Santa Fe, if the dispute remains unresolved. The other five are The Bessemer & Lake Erie; The Duluth, Messabi & Iron Range; The Houston Belt & Terminal; The Elgin, Joliet & Eastern in northern Illinois and the Alton & Southern in St. Louis.

A strike against all the railroads mentioned would cut off supplies of raw materials to many heavy industries and would shut off rail transportation to most of the far west.

In other labor developments:

—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans warned that the longshoremen's strike on the West Coast "is beginning to have serious consequences for every one concerned. For the sake of the country it should be brought to an end."

—Telephone workers throughout the state of New York remained off the job although the situation was returning to normal in most sections of the country. Some local officials in the New York City area had said their members would remain off the job until the contract was formally ratified, a process that could take two weeks.

(In Marin, a telephone company spokesman said there has been no wildcat strike. "Every single person who was supposed to report to work yesterday and today did," he said. There are about 550 employees in Marin.)

Mystery Witness Links Underworld To Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A mystery witness testified today that organized crime has made "substantial infiltration" into the nation's financial community.

Continuing his testimony before the Senate's Permanent Investigations subcommittee, the witness said he carried off sophisticated schemes, often with the help of public officials and financial insiders who pocketed bribes and payoffs.

Appearing under the assumed name of "George White" and testifying for a second day under court-ordered immunity from prosecution, the witness said he could not have succeeded in multimillion-dollar deals without such help.

"During my 20 years of activity in financial circles, it has become very clear to me that there has been substantial infiltration of the banking, brokerage, insurance and other financial communities by many persons who are directly or indirectly connected with organized crime," White said.

"I have participated in or observed a large number of crimes in these fields which were either instigated or directed by organized crime leaders."

The subcommittee, which is in the second month of hearings on underworld activities, planned to widen its investigation to call in what one called "so-called respectable" bankers, lawyers and brokers who White said make mob operations possible.

White detailed several of his complex schemes and named banks, insurance companies and financial insiders with whom he worked.

White said he is penniless now and is serving two terms for fraud at a prison in the Midwest. He was heavily guarded throughout his appearance by both uniformed and plain-clothes law enforcement agents.

White testified that some insurance companies use "stolen and dubious stock" in their financial transactions, among them the State Fire Insurance Company of Miami and the Community National Life Insurance Company of Tulsa, Okla.

He said other insurance companies, including United Bonding and Maryland National, wrote payment-guaranteed bonds for a financing and loan scheme through which he raised money for the now defunct Banco Suisso Panamanio in Panama. He said the insurance agents were "part and parcel of the whole structure" of the scheme and the bank president had full knowledge of it.

White testified that organized crime was so deeply involved in the financial community that "you could place orders for stolen securities just as you would order a car."

Sources in the subcommittee said today the subcommittee was expected to follow the suggestion of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R(Ill., who said the Senate should subpoena "anyone, whoever they are and wherever they are, who have made possible the operations of organized crime."

Percy made his statement yesterday after White testified he paid large bribes to public offqcials to stay out of jail. The witness said the bribes included several thousands of dollars paid to Mitchell Schweitzer, a New York Supreme Court justice.

Schweitzer denied the charge, saying there was "not a scintilla of truth in the testimony."

El Paso, Tex., was named for the Spanish for The Pass because of the pass through the mountains at the border site.

After Vietnam: Chin Peng Trail?

By RATAN SINGH

IPOH, Malaysia (UPI) — Infiltration of Communist guerrillas over the "Chin Peng Trail" stretching into Malaysia out of Thailand is increasing, according to field reports.

The stepped-up use of the jungle trail, named after the Communist guerrilla leader of the 1948-1960 Malayan war, is believed responsible for increased success of guerrilla raids in this area, far south of the Thai border, where security was thought to be good.

Villagers and soldiers in the Korbu Mountain range say the trail was reactivated about a year ago to serve the same purpose as the Ho Chi Minh trail does in Laos and Vietnam. That is to serve as a route for movement of guerrilla manpower and supplies. Military officials said the reopening of the Chin Peng trail followed a buildup in Communist strength that resulted from Malay Chinese rioting in mid-1969.

During the past month, the use of the jungle trail which at times rises to 7,100 feet in the mountains, has made possible a guerrilla strength that the Malaysian government views as alarming.

Government army patrols that stumbled across a guerrilla recruiting camp nine miles from here lost four men killed and three wounded in a pair of firefights. The first clash was a Communist ambush of a government patrol. When other government troops later tried to "chase" the guerrillas from the region of the foothills, the insurgents closed with them for the second fight.

Like the Ho Chi Minh trail, the route through Malaysia is not only one track. The Chin Peng trai is a maze of byways and footpaths which the Communists blazed a decade ago by slashing tree trunks and stacking stones to indicate the route. The trails move through areas which provide natural hideouts for the guerrillas —dense undergrowth, caves beneath shale cliffs, and obscure villages.

The government showed concern over the two recent clashes because of the proficiency with which the Communist forces fought. Sources said the tactics reminded soldiers of the smooth guerrlla tactics of 10 years ago during the "emergency" which ended as the insurgents faded into Thailand.

But the scene of the battles caused greater concern. The area was 100 miles south of the Thai border and signaled that the guerrillas were on the move and growing in number. Such attacks could be expected in the border areas, but the shock of a strong battle around this central trading city 100 miles north of Kuala Lumpur brought official worry about infiltration.

Officers say the guerrillas are expected to confine their operational movements generall to the Chin Peng trail area. It comes south out of Thailand along the eastern slope of the peninsular mountain range, then branches out in two directions to cover most populated regions of the Malayksian peninsula interior.

Government estimates placed Communist terrorist strength in Malaysia's Thai border regions at 1,500 men. But soldiers stationed in the area say the total is higher and the guerrillas are recruiting in the four of five Malaysian states where they are operating at will.

Hub School Panel Approves Budget

The San Anselmo School District board has approved a publication budget for fiscal 1971-72 totaling $1,945,000.

The publication budget, approved Tuesday by the board, is the final step before a public hearing and adoption of a final budget.

According to Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry, the budget carries the same tax rate — $3.445 per $100 assessed valuation — as last year.

The action was taken before the board adjourned in memory of Donald L. Shaw, principal of Red Hill School, who died Tuesday.

The board will meet again on Tuesday.

Touch, Breathe Marathon Set

A touching and breathing marathon will be held beginning July 30 at 8 p.m. until July 31 at 9 p.m. at the Catholic Social Services at 179 Los Ranchitos Road in San Rafael.

The marathon is an opportunity to focus on the experience of two of the most primary sources of aliveness and fullfilment, touching and breathing, according to David Newcomer, marathon leader. Both nonverbal and encounter experiences will be interwoven to provide the experimental methods of the marathon, he said.

Reservations for the 12 available slots are being accepted at the Catholic Social Service building.

CAMERA FANS

DON'T JUST STAND THERE, DO SOMETHING

The key to good movie making is to film action . . . to show people doing something not just standing there in a static scene, which could be shown just as well in a still snapshot.

That's why plays often disappoint as movies. There's an excess of talk, and too little movement . . . and it is in movement that motion pictures shine. So avoid those scenes where someone is just standing there, smiling or waving at the camera with a silly grin.

Have your son doing something he likes, like playing with his race car set or riding his bike. Your wife can be working in the garden or shopping for souvenirs on your trip. Any action adds interest, and it also opens up story possibilities. Moreover, action lets your "actors" concentrate on what they're doing instead of hamming it up for the camera.

Want "action" on a better camera at the right price for your budget? Come in and talk it over with us. We have the experience to advise you expertly . . . and the complete lines of fine cameras to give you a great selection.

HUSBAND, WIFE

Folk Singing Duo At Weddings

By PAT BALMES

A Tiburon husband and wife sing folk songs "just for fun in a happy place" at new style, informal, personalized weddings. Albert and Marianne Aramburu sing words chosen by young couples which have touchingly tender significance for that particular couple.

"I never used to cry at weddings, but now I do!" says Marianne, adding with characteristic gaiety, "We try to pull ourselves together by the exit."

The folk singer says that "these kids" are designing their weddings for themselves, not for their parents' friends. These informal weddings are a much more personal statement than restrictive traditional ceremonies.

RECALLING THE Mount Tamalpais wedding of a bride in an elegant white peasant dress with a wreath of flowers on her hair, Marianne says she looked like someone from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The weather was beautiful, picnic delicious and music chosen for her day.

"It was a joyous celebration, incorporating everything that is fun and meaningful. The families saw each other in a casual atmosphere instead of a stiff, formal occasion," the folk singer remembers.

To illustrate that popular songs can be appropriate at an informal wedding, Marianne, sitting at her kitchen table, sings words from 1970's top record "Bridge over Troubled Water."

"I will comfort you. I will take your part. Oh, when darkness comes and pain is all around, Like a bridge over troubled water, I will lay me down."

(Words and music by Paul Simon)

The Aramburus enjoy meeting with these young couples in their home to sing them a presentation of folk songs, and then singing in the happy atmosphere of their wedding "instead of a dark, smoke-filled night club." Marianne says she doesn't want to sing anywhere that is "seamy or shady," but likes to do something dignified and moving "that you would be proud to have your children see you do."

THERE'S A vast difference between singing for money and singing for fun, she says. Professional entertainers must sometimes perform before inattentive and discourteous people "who think a performer is just wound up and sings. Perhaps because of television they think an entertainer is someone you turn off," Marianne muses.

The Aramburus have sung and played guitars at the Drinking Gourd in San Francisco, cut a demonstration record for Capitol Records Incorporated, entertained at a Red Cross benefit, churches, young and old people's groups, hospitals and school and sung on KPFA radio from Berkeley. They have been asked to "go on the road" and sing professional engagements, but they shy away because their children are important to them.

"We like to go camping on the weekends. It's so easy to get caught up in show business," she says.

So Marianne and Al sing for fun, practicing six to eight hours during the week before a wedding. Otherwise Al practices three or four times a week regularly but Marianne seldom practices "much to Al's consternation." Friends ask her how she can get up in front or people and perform; "but I love it," says the folk singer who plays auto harp and guitar.

SELF-TAUGHT ON guitar and harmonica, Al studied briefly with the Romero family, classical flamenco guitarists, in Los Angeles. Marianne says Al "passed her up like she was going the other way." She plays chords and he plays the "fancy stuff." Al plays harmonica simultaneously with guitar by means of a harness.

Al, in the computer division of Pacific Telephone Compnay, is chairman of Belvedere-Tiburon Ecology Commission, which is "very demanding at times." He works to protect environment at Tiburon peninsula meetings and believes in Zero Population Growth, recycling and "getting people to realize they cannot abuse our environment." His wife says that he works a couple of Saturdays a month at the recycling center.

As a boy in Los Angeles Al sang under now-famous choir director Roger Wagner, who was "tough on the Mount Carmel High School boys."

In high school in Los Angeles Marianne studied singing and sang classical music in church. Majoring in art in college, because she didn't like to practice, Marianne sang in madrigals and special singing groups. Now, because folk songs are "not challenging," Marianne plans to study classical singing.

"I've not taken lessons for 10 years because I have been a mommy," says the mother of Katie, 6, and Bert, 8. She serves on the board of the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon. Marianne does crafts, sews, draws, collects shells and rocks, and with her family bicycles, swims, plays baseball and volleyball. She learned gardening on her grandfather's chicken ranch and orange grove near Los Angeles.

"MY GRANDFATHER was reared on a Sioux Indian reservation where his father was the Indian agent. When he was a little boy Chief White Horse adopted him into the tribe," she says.

Marianne and Al like to do things together like paint their house, a hilltop home with a view of San Francisco Bay and the city, which "we never take for granted."

Married 13 years ago when she was 19 and Al was 24, Marianne says, "We have had the chance to grow up together and have our fun." They used to enjoy attending sports car road races. Marianne quit college and "had five years at the typewriter," while Al finished school and held a parttime job.

"I was so ready and so glad to rear a family," Marianne says. "Success hasn't anything to do with salary or material things, but with human values and happy children. My husband rushes home in the evening because we have so much fun together."

MARIANNE ARAMBURU of Tiburon sings folk songs with her husband, Albert, in the happy atmosphere of informal, personalized wedding, a preference over entertainment in night clubs. "We practice many hours the touchingly tender words the young couples chose for their wedding, and we sing just for fun," she says.

Coats Recall 19th Century England

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

ROME (UPI)—The landed gentry of 19th century England galloped through Italian fashions today in Clara Centrinaro's collection of hunting coats, coachman hats and romantic cape coats.

Black velvet hunting coats with nipped-in waists were worn with flared red and black plaid skirts for daytime and with multipleated black chiffon gowns for evening. White satin blouses and ties completed the daytime ensemble.

CENTINARO LIKED jackets belted and very full of skirt, reaching to nearly the knees. Her most applauded coats were flared form shoulder to hem, so full they looked like capes and could be swept up over one shoulder.

As always, her skirts covered the knee. Coachman hats with veiling tied over the face and trailing down the back completed the outfit. The Centinaro bride wore a white coachman with its veil to the waist in back over a white satin hunt coat and a white crepe anklelength gown with a skirt of inverted box pleats.

Ample curves had no place in the slim-line collections turned out Tuesday night by Mila Schon and Rocco Barocco.

Coats, dresses, tailored suits and a raft of pantsuits all were cut to nip in noticeably at the waistline and stay tight to the body over that most problemsome portion of the female anatomy, the hips.

Hips will spread but if the do, forget these designers or remember girdles.

MISS SCHON, the darling of Milwanese industrialists' wives who can afford to buy her beaded evening gowns that cost their weight in gold, cut knits and doublefaced wools to wraithlike thinness for her entire collection.

Word that designers were buying more doublefaced wools was an advance tip-off that winter garments would look more slender — the reversible fabrics need no lining, so look less bulky. What they do need is more careful tailoring, so the wallet looks less bulky, too, after purchasing them.

Slender pantsuits were the cornerstone of the Schon line, so much so that she sent out a white wool pantsuit with slim trousers, hip-hugging blazer and flower petal satin bow at the neck as her bridal outfit to close the show.

THE SAVINGS went into solidly beaded sleeveless tunics or jackets worn with crepe and chiffon evening gowns in dark, dull colors. One floor length evening coat was solidly covered in beading in a multicolor snowflake pattern on black. A hip-length redingote over a black slinky evening gown was worked with a pattern of honey bees, some at rest, some with wings outspread.

Barocco dresses were slim as a sheath, with belts and sashes to mark the newly narrowed waist. Like Miss Schon, his skirts hovered at the knee.

Both houses also agreed on hats for evening wear. Those at Schon had tiny turn-down brims and were pulled down tight over the head. At Barocco there was a choice for evening of head-huggers draped all around with veiling to shoulder length, or of the same huge cartwheels as were worn by day, with the brim tilted up at a 45 degree angle.

Dinner To Honor 55th Anniversary

By MOLLY MARIN

The 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mc Donnell of San Rafael will be celebrated at a dinner party tonight at the home of their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Duane A. Love, in San Rafael. Family members and long time friends will attend.

Mrs. McDonnell is the former Wilhelmina Martin, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Martin were pioneer San Rafael residents.

They have two children, Darcy McDonnell of Benicia and Mrs. Phyllis Love of San Rafael, three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Mc Donnell served in the Army in the Coast Artillery and is retired. He is a member of the National Rifle Association and a former instructor at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range, assisting with the police youth program.

The McDonnells were married in San Francisco, and have lived in San Rafael all of their married lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chiswell, former Marin residents, are spending two weeks here, visiting from their present home in Brusseld, Belgium. They will entertain Marin friends at cocktails tonight at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

AT HOME in Walnut Creek are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lee Cole (G. Lynn Pfeifer) who were married July 10 at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Sacramento.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fredrick Cole of San Rafael. A graduate of Terra Linda High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara, he received a master's degree from UCLA.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Pfeifer of Sacramento, Lynn is a UCLA graduate.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Carmel.

New Products Available For Seamstress

A number of new products are available to seamstresses who want to make home sewing more successful according to Fred Fortess, Celanese consumer information director.

Polyester thread, which will help eliminate seam puckering when sewing polyester double knits and permanent press fabrics, and cotton-covered polyester thread are very strong and useful, says Mr. Fortress.

Other new products include a special ball point needle which will make it easier to sew with knit fabrics and lightweight, nonwoven, washable interfacing designed especially for use with polyester knits.

Another innovation is in supplying care and sewing instructions when fabric is purchased. A narrow, continuous tape with the instructions printed on it is inserted along the fold of the fabric as it is wound on the bolt. In this way no matter how small an amount of fabric is purchased in the store at least one complete set of instructions will be cut with the faric.

Hospital Graduates

Marin graduates of St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in San Francisco yesterday were Sue Connell and Cynthia Hibbert of Novato, Lexine Grubstick and Marainne Holcomb of San Anselmo, and Linda McNealy of Petaluma.

Serious Flaws Seen In Children Safety Programs

I-J Special Report

Studies being conducted at the Human Factors Laboratory of the University of South Dakota, the only laboratory of its kind in the nation, have revealed serious inadequacies in our accident prevention programs for children.

While accidents cause more injuries and fatalities than the leading six childhood diseases combined, "many programs and instructions designed for children's safety are either misdirected or insufficient," a laboratory spokesman said.

"The most frequent mistake we make as adults," asserted Dr. Norman Heimstra, behavioral psychologist who heads the laboratory, "is to assume that a child has a miniature version of our reasoning power, and that he will therefore be able to interpret dangerous situations by using 'common sense.'"

The truth, according to Dr. Heimstra, is that concepts we attribute to "common sense" are usually based on systematically learned information.

For example, many children run out against red lights because the red, green and yellow symbols haven't been explained properly. Most children know they should look at the lights — but may not be sure what to look for, he said.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Don't Push Dad Over Brink On Anticigarette Campaign

DEAR HELEN:

We have a problem, or rather our father does. He used to smoke very heavily but he cut down to less than a pack a day.

My sister and I worry, and nag him about smoking, pulling stunts like writing on his cigarettes, making posters against tobacco, just about everything to make him quit.

Mom goes along with this but says "not too much," because she knows Dad is touchy on the subject.

We love him a lot and want to keep him around for a long time. Should we stay with the anticigarette campaign or will it make him so nervous he might start smoking more to calm his nerves? — DON'T WANT TO BE FATHERLESS CHILDREN

DEAR DWTBFC:

Hang in there but as your mother says, not too heavy. You've already accomplished a lot, since your father has cut down to less than a pack a day. Don't undo what you've done with overdoing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm only 14 and known to be so sweet and innocent. I don't know how it happened - I mean how I could have let it happen — but I'm pretty sure I'm pregnant. I've been going with Mike, who's 18, for five months and we love each other. He's standing by me but, Helen, I'll kill myself before I tell my parents. Help! — SCARED

DEAR SCARED: (And there are so many girls like you who would "rather die than tell their parents.")

There's no other way: your parents must be told, and soon. Of course they'll be shocked and hurt, but you may be surprised at how fast they recover and what great comforts they are to a girl who never needed then more! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My sister was dating a college guy about a month ago. He asked her to a banquet and she accepted. She got a beautiful formal, new shoes, and went to the beauty shop. I mean she really went all out for this guy.

And he never showed.

A friend told me he treated another girl the same way.

My sister says she is over him. She acted as if the whole thing was a joke. But, Helen, every time a carstops or a horn honks, or the telephone rings, she's all tense. I think she still likes him.

Should I keep my nose out of her business or try to get her talking so she'd get over him?- — CONCERNED SISTER

DEAR SISTER:

Get her talking, if you can. When a girl holds things inside her, she daydreams too much. She may even be making excuses for this "stand-up collegian" when she should be working up a good healthy mad.

Call him a rat, and see what happens. — H.

To Decorate One Needs To Make Careful Plans

Are you one of those women who decorate often — or would like to? Decorating can radically change the ambience of a room and the way you use it in your daily life, and it doesn't have to be expansive. However, that takes some careful advance planning.

To keep costs low use paint, not wallpaper. Choose furniture that is easy to slipcover or for which you can buy ready-made covers. Learn to make draperies. And install a resilient floor covering rather than wall-to-wall carpet.

The Floors Council suggests vinyl asbestos tile in a neutral or pastel color or a wood pattern because these go with any and all furnishings. You can use area rugs of any color over the tile. And if some day you tire of such a discreet flooring, get adhsive-back vinyl asbestos in color or bold pattern. You can put it down right over the old resilient tile or linoleum.

Using this basic plan you can even change a room seasonally, with little work or expense: in summer use cool colors for drapes, slipcovers, pillows and rugs; then switch to a warm set for winter.

Shatter-Resistant Lenses Are Urged

Eyeglass wearers are warned by the National Safety Council to insist on shatter-resistant lenses and flame-retardant frames when buying prescription eyeglasses or ordinary sun glasses.

A regulation to require new eyeglass lenses to meet a standard impact test has been proposed by the Food and Drug Administration.

The 'Summer' Look In London

Fashion-conscious young women in London are pulling all the basics together for a great summer look, according to Women's Wear Daily.

The look starts with the long, black knit body dress. A belt goes around the middle and atop the head is a floppy matching hat. With it is worn platform sandals and a patterned shoulder bag.

Accessories are kept to a minimum — a little heart pin and a sweater thrown casually around the shoulders.

LIVES CHANGED

Couple Signs Formal Work Pact Dividing House Chores 50-50

I-J Special Report

When you are doing the dinner dishes) and the children still have to be bathed and put to bed, and you really should vacuum the living room and put a load of laundry in the washing machine, and your husband sits with his nose buried in the evening paper, does it ever occur to you that your marriage is balanced in his favor?

Author Alix Shulman and her husband decided two years ago that their household burdens were unfairly divided, so they developed a new arrangement which more closely parallels the kind of "sharing" which existed early in the marriage.

"When my husband and I were first married, a decade ago, keeping house was less of a burden than a game . . . Twice a month we'd spend Saturday cleaning and doing our laundry at the laundromat. We shopped for food together after work and though I usually did the cooking, my husband was happy to help," Mrs. Shulman has written in an article for the August issue of Redbook magazine.

"WHEN OUR son was born, our domestic life suddenly became quite complicated and two years later, when our daughter was born, it became impossible. We automatically accepted the traditional sex roles that society assigns. My husband worked all day in an office; I left my job and stayed at home, taking on almost all the burdens of housekeeping and child rearing. They (my children) seemed to be taking over my life," Mrs. Shulman says.

"Like most couples, we assumed that the wife must accommodate to the husband's schedule, since it is his work that brings in the money," Mrs. Shulman says.

But both she and her husband were dissatisfied with their lives — he because he had little time with his children; she because she spent all her time with them —and eventually decided that "we no longer had to accept the sex roles that had turned us into a lame family."

So the Shulmans sat down and drew up a formal "marriage agreement" which outlines each parent's responsibilities for taking care of their home and children.

"We believe that each partner has an equal right to his/her own time, work, value, choices," the agreement states. "As long as all duties are performed, each of us may use his/her extra time any way he/she chooses. If he/she wants to use it making money, fine. If he/she wants to spend it with spouse, fine. If not fine."

The Shulmans divided most of their jobs and time on a 50-50 basis. For example, "Mornings: Waking children; getting their clothes out; making their lunches; seeing that they have notes, homework, money, bus passes, books; brushing their hair, giving them breakfast (making coffee for us). Every other week each parent does all."

SINCE MR. Shulman works a regular 40-hour week, some duties necessarily fall to Mrs. Shulman exclusively such as transportation between 3 and 6 p.m., but in such cases, she must be compensated by extra work from her husband.

"Any deviation from 50-50 must be for the convenience of both parties," according to the agreement. "If one party works overtime in any domestic job, he/she must be compensated by equal extra work by the other."

For example, Mr. Shulman does all the housecleaning in exchange for Mrs. Shulman's care of the children when they are sick and her extra child care during his office hours. The schedule may be flexible, but changes must be formally agreed upon. The terms of this agreement are rights and duties, not privileges and favors.

Both Shulmans agree that their "marriage agreement" has worked well for them and they highly recommend it to other couples.

"Our agreement changed our lives. Surprisingly, once we had written it down, we had to refer to it only two or three times. But we still had to work to keep the old habits from intruding. If it was my husband's night to take care of the children, I had to be careful not to check up on how he was managing," Mrs. Shulman says. "And if the baby sitter didn't show up for him, I would have to remember it was his problem."

Floppy Hat Fashion

The floppy hat made fashion points at Wimbledon last week, reports Women's Wear Daily. Sometimes the brims were turned up sou-wester style to show the face and lots of long hair. Others flopped naturally, hiding the face to the eyes.

Illnesses From Picnic Lunches

Foodborne illness has become part of an American tradition, the family picnic, according to the U.S. Public Health Service.

It is common for picnic lunches that have been mishandled to cause illness. Cooking right at the picnic site saves time, is fun and may prove safer. Many picnic areas provide stoves, fireplaces or grills.

Leftovers should be saved only if the food is returned immediately to an ice chest where sufficient unmelted ice remains.

Home Aid: Bandages, Aspirins Only

What medical supplies should the typical family have in its medicine chest?

Over 80 per cent of the physicians of the American Academy of General Practice questioned in a recent survey recommended only two items: an analgesic preparation (such as aspirin, buffered aspirin or acetaminophen) and adhesive — strip bandages.

A substantial number of family doctors add a thermometer, an antibacterial preparation, gauze bandages and adhesive tape.

The doctors also suggested that the name and phone number of the family doctor and the neighborhood pharmacist be pasted inside the medicine chest door.

Quilted Skirts

American heritage quilted skirts in the Loomtogs summer line include paisley, geometric, floral and bandanna prints. An awning stripe print completes the heritage skirt offering.

New Ideas On Lingerie Front

Fashion goes beneath the surface to lingerie in fabrics that are soft, flowing and clingy, according to a booklet, "Fashions Called Lingerie."

The fabrics are sheer wool voiles, knits and light jerseys. Body stockings are popular under clingy midi skirts or hot pants, and bras have a softer look — no hard lines or seams.

The at-home look in lingerie has also taken on new dimensions with butterfly prints very popular. A flowing hostess jumpsuit, the booklet says, can turn ordinary evenings at home into special events.

Mrs. Lang, Pupils To Appear On Television

Mrs. Howard Lang of Tiburon will appear on KGO-TV Sunday at 2:30 p.m. with fourth and fifth graders from Tiburon's Bel Aire School singing her original songs with themes like pollution, brotherhood and old age.

Elaine Lang, a concert pianist who was volunteer music teacher at Bel Aire School last year, will be interviewed by Owen Spann.

P-TA Unit Picks New President

MRS. JAMES McCOLGAN
Heads Olive School P-TA

Mrs. James C. McColgan is the newly-elected president of the Olive School Parent-Teacher Association in Novato. She has also served as treasurer and "Newsette" chairman during her four year membership.

Plans for the organization for the year include a dinner, visual screening, a children's Christmas program and a children's talent show.

Gail McColgan was born in Hollister and attended schools in Oakland. She and her husband, a machinist, are the parents of Elizabeth, 9, Julie, 8, and Suzanne, 7 years old.

The new president lists her interests as camping throughout the United States, bicycling and collecting old books. She has been active in the Camp Fire Girls, school volunteer teachers aide program and Poplar Terrace Homeowners Association. The McColgans have lived in Marin County for five years.

Other officers elected are Mmes. Harold Cooney, first vice president; Robert Pollock, secretary; Gary Butler, treasurer, and Kenneth Parker, publicity.

Homemakers Praised For Liberation

A doctor congratulated home economists on being "real revolutionaries" but she added that most women don't push very hard for fear of being called unfeminine.

Dr. Estelle R. Ramey, professor at the Georgetown University Medical School, Washington D.C. said that a bright young agressive man is called a "go-getter" but a woman is called "an agressive bitch."

Dr. Ramey got a standing ovation from the Home Economists in Business in Denver for their annual meeting prior to the meeting of the American Home Economics Association.

She said the home economists were revolutionaries for launching professional careers and demonstrating that they are full-fledged members of the human race.

She compared hormonal differences between men and women and said that men were the "more fragile sex." She added, "No wonder they have wives — they need them."

Dr. Ramey criticized all religions which she said "teach men to thank God every day that they weren't born a woman."

Dr. Ramey said that "society tells men they have to produce, work hard and kill themselves, but the role of the middle class woman is to be a wife and mother."

"In an affluent society, however, with a large number of educated women who are strong, intelligent and bored, alcoholism among suburbar. women is skyrocketing," she said.

"God created woman as well as man in his own image, and that is a revolutionary thought. Our society is like the Mafia — we keep two sets of books. Woman is on a pedestal — beautiful, eternally young and a nitwit. Then there is the other kind who leads poor innocent men to their downfall."

"There is no question about who cares for the young. Even young and old radicals expect the female to care for the kids and clean up. You home economists can make this aspect of her life — running a home — much easier."

Jacques Tiffeau Designs Apres Ski Outfits

A collection of apres ski outfits, just completed by designer Jacques Tiffeau, according to Women's Wear Daily, is a compact package which will be ready for delivery to retail stores in September.

The fashion designer is showing long styles for apres ski. The skirts, princess dresses and jumpers are almost all ankle length, and he mixes them with blouses, sweaters, pea jackets and semi-fitted jackets with fur trims.

Put togethers in the new mood include a black wool crepe overblouse with full, deeply cuffed sleeves draped softly to one shoulder worn with a white wool crepe ankle length skirt. Another look is the brown and black houndstooth check, patch pocketed skirt worn with a short, fitted vest, shawl and camel ribbed turtleneck shirt.

Warning For Phosphate Replacement

Indiscriminate, premature replacement of phosphate detergents has drawn a warning from the U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. Jesse L. Steinfield, who sees serious dangers in many untested substitutes.

The Surgeon General's concern is shared by a number of medical and other scientific experts, speaking out against legislature or regulations that would cause homemakers to switch to highly caustic, non-phosphate detergents that might cause severe harm to themselves or their young children.

Such non-phosphate substitutes, says Dr. Steinfield, could "expose the child to serious risk or irreversible loss of sight, loss of voice, ulceration and blockage of the esophagus, severe skin burns and even death."

It should be recognized that "the home is still an important part of our environment," and to make it safe "ecology principles should apply inside as well as outside the home," states Dr. Robert E. Gosselin, poisons control expert and Chairman of Pharmacology at Dartmouth Medical School.

To illustrate the hazard factor in household detergents, Dr. Gosselin points out that 15 per cent of all poisoning cases reported nationally involved the accidental swallowing of household cleaning and polishing agents by children under five years of age. Not a single serious injury has been caused by a phosphate detergent, he says, while most of the new non-phosphate detergents "are so alkaline as to constitute a toxic hazard in the home."

Exercise In Moderation

"Beware of your neighbor who invites you to indulge in violent exercise," warns Dr. Albert H. Domm, medical director of the Western Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

"The weekend athlete, who approaches you armed with tennis racquet, boxing gloves, water-skis or mountain-climbing ropes can be your worst enemy," Dr. Domm says.

"After middle-age, violent exercise, especially the 'do it all in one day' variety, can lead to all kinds of trouble," he says. "At best you'll wind up with sore muscles. At worst you'll have a heart attack."

SUMMER WORKSHOP

'Macbeth' To Open Tonight At College Of Marin Theater

"Summer Shakespeare '71" will continue at College of Marin tonight at 8 o'clock as summer workshop students, directed by James Dunn, presents the first of nine performances of the tragedy "Macbeth" in the Fine Arts Theater.

Taking the leads in the drama will be Carolyn Reed-Dunn, wife of director Dunn, as Lady Macbeth, and Dakin Matthews, as Macbeth. Both are appearing by special arrangement with Actors' Equity Association.

Other leads in the cast of 33 will be taken by Gregory Norgaard of San Rafael as Banquo and Mark Rasmussen of Lagunitas as Macduff.

Presented on a replica of a Elizabethan stage, it is the second production of a four-week summer workshop in which students have been extensively trained in Shakespearean verse, costume making, scenic construction and prop making.

Extensive lighting will be used to set the mood of horror story. It centers around the prophesy of three witches that General Macbeth will become King of Scotland. Lady Macbeth, after hearing the prophesy, goads Macbeth into murdering Duncan, King of Scotland.

Other members of the cast are Barrett Nicol, Elwood Markham, Gregory Mehrten, Daniel Long and Abby Goldman all of San Rafael; Tod Norris, Tim Shippey, Denise Orr and Matthew Shippey of Ross; Robin Williams, of Tiburon; Joel Blum, J. W. Harper and Carla Alsworth all of Fairfax; Robert Jones, Daniel McClellan, Howard McMaster, Mark LeRoy, Michael Moore and Greg Pedlar all of Corte Madera; Pamela Contos and Kendall Jackson of Belvedere; Thomas Spilsbury and Rick Casorala of San Anselmo; Alice Rorvik and Brian Tourigny of Mill Valley; William Walsh of Greenbrae; Elaine Womack of Novato; Judith Gordon of Larkspur and Kendall Jackson of Berkeley.

The play will be presented at the same hour tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday, Wednesday, next Thursday and July 30,31 and Aug. 1.

Before each performance, Elizabethan-style entertainment will be presented in the lobby and in front of the theater by dancers, musicians, puppeteers and mines.

Fulbright's Panel Gives Nod To Radio Operations

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted Wednesday to keep Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty in operation another year while studies of both operations are being made.

Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said he believes both operations should be abolished. The committee asked the General Accounting Office and the Library of Congress for studies of the broadcast facilities after recent acknowledgements that both had been financed by the Central Intelligence Agency, despite fund raising appeals claiming they were private operations.

Radio Free Europe broadcasts to Eastern Europe while Radio Liberty broadcasts to the Soviet Union.

The committee's action voted up to $35 million for a one-year extension of both programs after rejecting a Nixon administration plan to create a semi-public corporation to take over both facilities.

Long Run Occasions Big Party

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tevye trudged off the stage for the 2,845th time Wednesday night and Broadway had a party.

"Fiddler On The Roof," the story of a Ukranian Jew, his peasant wife and his five unmarried daughters, surpassed the previous record for a long run by a musical on Broadway and the occasion called for a party.

Mayor John Lindsay and his wife went backstage to congratulate the cast. About 2,000 other playgoers and theater personalities were present at the wine and hot dog party. Lindsay said he wished the city of New York could do as much for "Fiddler" as the play has done for the city.

The musical, created from the Yiddish stories of Sholem Aleichem about the problems of a dairyman in a small village in Czarist Russia, surpassed the previous record for a musical, set when "Hello, Dolly!" closed Dec. 27 after 2,844 performances.

Two nonmusicals top "Fiddler," "Life With Father" with 3,224 performances and "Tobacco Road" with 3,182. Harold Prince, Fiddler's producer, said he believes the musical can run at least another year. If so, it would be the longest running show ever on Broadway.

Paul Lipson, who currently plays the role of Tevye, thanked the other cast members at Wednesday night's party.

"To be involved in theatrical history is, for me, tremendous. You can't make history without supporting players and they are the people that made 'Fiddler,'" he said.

Lipson has been with the play since its opening. He was the original understudy to Zero Mostel, who created the role of Tevye. As Tevye and other characters, he has appeared in 3,000 performances of "Fiddler," including some on tours with the show.

The New York production opened Sept. 22, 1964, at the Imperial Theater.

Novelist Recovering In Nevada Hospital

Clark, 61, of Virginia City, has been ill for some time and recently entered the hospital. He is writer in residence and lecturer in English at the University of Nevada at Reno.

FHA Puts Ban On Financing In Tahoe Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Environmental groups trying to control development at Lake Tahoe got an assist Wednesday from the Federal Housing Administration.

The FHA announced it was suspending all financing in the five California and Nevada counties of the Tahoe basin.

The moratorium will remain in effect at least until next fall, when the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency hopes to adopt a comprehensive program to preserve the crystal-clear quality of the lake.

Robert H. Baida, regional administrator for the department of Housing and Urban Development, said the agency wanted to discourage development which might be contrary to the agency's plans. About 10 per cent of the building in the area is FHA financed.

Customs Service Adds To Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The U.S. Customs Service has added 115 new employes in the San Francisco Bay Area as part of a national drive against narcotics.

The service said Wednesday that 33 would be assigned to the office of Oscar Polcuch, in charge of investigations, and the rest to the import section, mail division, incoming inspections and duty collections.

Nationally, the service said 2,000 new employes would be hired.

The Yearly Pill Output: 16 Billion

By M.E. ROLPH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Does your family use 320 "pep" pills each year? Are you addicted to what the kids call "uppers and downers?"

Looking at the statistics in California, major drug manufacturers last year produced 16 billion pills. . . .and they sold them in the open market.

Based on just the statistics alone, it would appear that nearly every man, woman and child is "hooked" on pills.

Sen. James Q. Wedworth, D-Hawthorne, has tried for years to bring some control to the market of such dangerous drugs as amphetamines and barbiturates.

Last year lawmakers approved a "water-down" bill which required drug manufacturers to mark their pills so they could be identified.

Now, with the flow of "pep" pills into the market unchecked, Wedworth plans to amend one of his existing pieces of legislation to require that prescriptions for amphetamines require triplicate copies.

"Doctors are the first to stand in line and urge steps be taken to control production and distribution of these pills," Wedworth said.

"When the time comes to hear the bills in the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, the first opponents of the legislation are the California Medical Association and the pharmaceutical groups," the senator said.

Wire services reported earlier this week that a young man testified before a committee in Washington that he was able to purchase 1,000 "pep" pills from a legitimate pharmaceutical house just by adding "M.D." to his name.

This, according to Wedworth, is a "crime of ommission" on the part of the pharmaceutical house who would let dangerous drugs get loose without control.

Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, has tried for two years to attach a triplicate prescription law to pills, but he has been unsuccessful.

Professional groups representing doctors and dug houses have had too much muscle with the Legislature. They have proved that they can stop this type of lawmaking for consumer protection, he said.

Under a triplicate prescription method of control, both the doctor and pharmacist keep a copy of the prescription while the third copy is sent to the state Bureau of Narcotics.

This way it will be easy to trace the doctors who are overprescribing dangerous pills, and also, the legal red tape involved will keep many young people out of the pill market, he said.

Next goal in the drive to reduce the number of pills being consumed illegally in the United States would be restriction on importation.

Millions of pills produced in the United States are sold out of the country in places like Mexico. They then are repackaged and returned to the United States through illegal sources.

Senators Explain Opposition

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — California's two U.S. Senators, both Democrats, voted this week against continuing the controversial Subversive Activities Control Board.

Cranston called the SACB, which was formed in 1950, "an archaic holdover of the star-chamber mentality that almost destroyed democracy in this country during the early 1950's

Tunney called the board "a waste of money as it never does anything," adding that it "survives only as a vehicle for political payoffs." (The president appoints the board's five members, who receive $36,000 a year. There is also a staff of 10.)

"There is ample machinery in the Justice Department to deal with subversion in our country," Tunney said.

TRIPLE 'S' SAFETY SERVICE SAVINGS

REMEMBER TRIPLE 'S' MEANS - SAFETY - SERVICE - SAVINGS

Can an $18 tire REALLY be as good as a $30 tire?

At TRIPLE 'S' it can!

We buy all our tires in rail car lots directly from the big tire factories. Go out and unload the cars ourselves. Eliminates a bundle of overhead expenses.

If you've ever been in a TRIPLE "S" store, you know it's clean. The people are friendly. BUT . . . it's not fancy and there aren't any big expenses for YOU to pay for.

So, quite honestly, at TRIPLE "S", we CAN sell similar tires for $18 that you'd buy elsewhere for $30 or more.

The tire we're featuring this week for $18 is a double belted premium quality tire made by one of the oldest tire manufacturers in the United States. It's a dual white-wall of the latest design. It's NOT a second. If you bought it with the manufacturer's name on it you'd have to pay $30. But our tire is called a Harvard . . . not a Goodyear or Firestone.

You've probably never heard of a Harvard tire. Quite frankly, neither had we until a couple of months ago. But, you'll know the manufacturer when we tell you who it is.

The Harvard tire is every bit as good as the tire that carries the manufacturer's name. But much less expensive. After all, you can't put costly TV advertising on your car. What you want is safety and, the most miles per dollar. That's exactly what we sell.

When you come and buy this tire for $18, we GUARANTEE it'll go 30,000 miles. We'll give you a written guarantee telling you exactly what we will do. And what we won't do. Give us a try. Why spend $30 for an $18 tire?

Raises At The Top Are Also Inflationary

The California State Assembly last week passed a bill increasing the minimum pay for public school teachers from $6,000 to $6,800 per year.

Certainly, $6,800 is not exorbitant pay for a beginning teacher in California. In fact, it's hardly a living wage. Nevertheless, the effect of such a bill is bound to be inflationary, because as teachers' starting pay goes up, school districts will find it necessary to raise salaries for teachers all up the line.

Also inflationary, however — and with a lot less excuse — is a 10 per cent pay raise the legislators voted themselves last year, and $5 per day which they this year added to their already ample expense allowances.

LAST MONTH, the legislature passed and Gov. Ronald Reagan signed a bill lowering the retirement age for state employes and increasing benefits for those retired. It permits state civil service employees to retire at 63 with full benefits, and drops the mandatory retirement age from 70 to 67.

There is no question that this is inflationary, through adding to the load on the tax rolls for retired state employees.

Also inflationary, however — and with less excuse — is a pay hike which the governor himself took this year, from $46,600 to $49,100 per year.

THE MARIN COUNTY Board of Supervisors this month granted county employees a three-year pay raise package, calling for boosts in pay of 7.5 per cent this year, 5 per cent next year, and another 5 per cent in 1973.

The package also includes increased insurance and overtime pay for the county employees.

Undoubtedly, this is inflationary. As chairman Louis H. Baar pointed out in casting the lone dissenting vote, the 7.5 per cent is more than the cost of living increase this year. Also, writing in raises two years in advance insures increased costs regardless of the state of the economy in 1972 and 1973. And the increased fringe benefits, once granted, never disappear. The total effect on the county payroll will be considerable.

Also inflationary, however — and with less excuse — is the $100 per month which the supervisors added to their own salaries this year. This hikes their pay from $12,000 to $13,200 per year. And none of them even pretends that being supervisor is his fulltime job.

THE COUNTY is in the process of choosing a new county administrator. The pay range has been advertised as $26,000 to $30,000 per year. County Administrator Alan Bruce was receiving $29,410 per year when he left June 30 after a decade on the job.

Odds are that when a new man is hired, his salary will not be $26,000 but $30,000 or very close to it. This means he will start for as much money as was paid Bruce after 10 years' experience on the job. This, too, is inflationary.

The moral of all this is simple: Elected public officials — elected, in part, to guard the public purse — can scarcely close it to employees down the line when they open it generously for themselves and for others at the top.

Charity begins at home. So does economy — a fact which our public officials seem too often to ignore.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown Wants First Class Status For New Voters

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Sec. of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. hit the nail on the head recently when he observed that undue restrictions on the 18-year-old voter tended to create a "second class" voter.

Brown, a young man himself, is a striking example of the responsibilities that are being turned over to the youth of the state and country. And these responsibilities are being met by the so-called "younger generation," which is preparing itself to be the older generation a few short years from now and continue the cycle of reluctance on the part of the elders to load responsibility on the young.

The elders frequently do not realize that the young are far more capable of inaugurating improvements in society than the staid oldster who "has it made" and is reluctant to turn over the keys to the inheritors. One reason for this may be the fact that the oldsters are more or less ashamed of what they have created to leave their children.

BE THAT as it may, Secretary of State Brown's observations are well taken, because the requirement that students must register from the homes of their parents disturbs and nullifies the very reason for lowering the voting age in the first place.

In adopting the new voting law, the people apparently were of the opinion that it was desirable to fix the age of adulthood at 18 rather than 21. Consequently, the question is not whether this was advisable, but rather, how young people will handle their new status as adults, and whether they will meet their responsibilities as citizens.

In other words, the 18-year-old no longer is tied to his parents' apron string, and it ill behooves politicians and officials to impose restrictions which hamper his voting activity.

If the 18-year-old is old enough to take a hand in the administration of the state and nation, he certainly is old enough to say and choose where he lives without the interference of self-seeking politicians.

FORTUNATELY, BROWN is young enough to recognize this fact, and he promises to do what he can to avoid this unnecessary restriction on the younger voter, who is fortunate in having a farsighted politician to look after his interests.

It is predicted in informed political circles that the younger voter, before too many years have passed, will have an opportunity to repay this interest, by casting a vote for Brown junior for a much higher office than secretary of state, for with the multitudinous flock of Democratic candidates for governor, Brown has every prospect of walking off with the nomination should he choose to seek the higher office.

Wide Variations In Grocery Prices

Interesting observations during a grocery shopping tour of a few southern Marin markets:

Apple sauce, 303 can, same brand, market A, two for 39 cents; market B, 9 cents.

Apricots, market A, 35 cents per pound; market B, 20 cents per pound.

Canteloupe, market A, 19 cents per pound; market B, 20 cents each.

Grapes, market A, 59 cents per pound; market B, 39 cents per pound.

Popular brand freeze dried coffee, market B, $1.83 for eight ounces; market C, $2.29.

It really makes a person think, doesn't it?

Supervisors' Pay Raise Questioned

May I add my amen to Miss (Marie) Woelfl's letter pertaining to our supervisors' raise in pay. I am sure she has expressed the thoughts of Marin County's taxpayers.

What I would like to know: How did they get the authority to raise their own salaries? It is so unjust when you think of our monetary situation.

NORA MARIE HOBBS

San Rafael.

(The supervisors got the authority to raise their own salaries when Proposition 18 passed by a vote of 2,626,035 yes to 2,567,287 no last Nov. 3 — a 50.6 per cent yes vote. Previously, supervisors' salaries were set by the legislature, but it rarely declined to go along with requests from the counties, so the result was much the same. — Editor.)

Help On Salary Control Is Sought

The "Initiative Petition Group", P.O. Box 295, Penryn, Calif., 95663, needs help in circulating petitions for an initiative measure to be submitted directly to the voters.

This initiative amends the constitution to require approval by majority vote at a general election before the salary can be increased for any elective state, city or county office. It suspends any salary increase for these offices made after December 1970 until such voter approval is obtained.

I appeal to all the property owners in this county to rally round and get this rolling. As Abraham Lincoln said, "To sin by silence when they should protest makes cowards of men".

Non-Reader Surprised At Fair Report

A friend has just shown me the I-J story on Mill Valley's strike situation as discussed at our July 19 city council meeting. I was pleasantly surprised to find your account a fair and objective report. Well done!

However, I was misquoted, and in a way that gave my remarks an unfortunate slant. What I said was this: "To paraphrase 'the Good Book', City Hall was made for man, not man for City Hall." (See original in the second chapter of St. Mark, verse 27.)

As you know, the term "the man", used in your story, has unhappy, negative racial connotations for many people. I spoke not for "the man" but for Man, each valued, unique human being of whatever race he or she may be born into. I should deeply appreciate your giving space to this correction.

Police Pay Raise Necessity Seen

I was surprised to hear that the San Anselmo City Council failed to provide even a cost of living increase to its police department. The San Anselmo Police Department has always provided my family, which has resided in San Anselmo 20 years, with excellent service. I don't see how the council can expect to keep experienced police officers it has spent taxpayers' money to test, hire and train without providing salaries equivalent to neighboring cities such as San Rafael and Fairfax, which means providing salaries adjusted to meet the rising cost of living.

If the council is interested in its citizens and their tax rate it would see that funds were allegated (sic) more wisely, which in part at least, would mean seeing that next year we don't lose more police officers we'll have to spend money replacing and so be able to use that money on such things as developing parks that we can all enjoy. The council has provided the police department with a $900 indoor-outdoor carpet. Why wasn't this "luxury" cut from a tight budget and used in a way that would provide our officers with some incentive to make San Anselmo a career rather than a stepping stone to some other police department?

President's Trip To China Deplored

The President is planning a trip to Peking which I consider deplorable for the following reasons:

1. Communist China is an immoral country fully opposed to the ideals that once made this a great nation: Capitalism and the sanctity of the individual.

2. To add to the horrendous 1933 mistake of recognizing Russia, this visit to China is not only an insult to the American people, but a greater insult to those millions of people who have fled communism and a sickening insult to those who have died opposing it.

3. While our POWs languish under terrible conditions, our President will be feted by their captors.

4. Our tax money — which is coersively (sic) pulled out of us — is to be used for this insulting trip.

5. Headline! "The filthy imperialistic United States has come crawling to the peace loving people of Red China begging for mercy." This is how we'll look to the rest of the world and make no mistake about it, the communists are going to turn this trip to their advantage in every way they can.

It is beyond me how Richard Nixon can even consider meeting with mass murderers and enslavers. History is repleat (sic) with the failures of dealing with Communists.

I take this trip to Red China as a personal insult and as a victory for those who would see us enslaved and part of the overall Communist takeover of the world.

I am not a Bircher or a wild-eyed American patriot but a concerned citizen of this country who wells that to remain silent is not golden. I can only hope that enough Americans feel the same and will let Richard Nixon know how they feel, and maybe change his mind.

China, U.S. May Be Moving Back Toward Former Friendship

WASHINGTON — Stranger than any fiction are the twists and turns in the love-hate relationship between the United States and China over a century or more. The President's decision to visit Peking is the latest dramatic move in restoring what had once been a warm hands-across-the-Pacific friendship between the two Pacific powers.

The key to what happened lies with enigmatic, western-oriented Premier Chou En-Lai. The hope is that out of the Nixon visit a new Indochina conference can be put together and the war in Vietnam brought to an end within that framework.

AN INCIDENT occurred at the first Indochina conference in Geneva in 1954 that observers present felt contributed a lot to Chou's subsequent hostility. Sec. of State John Foster Dulles, head of the U.S. delegation, had promised the Asiafirsters in the Senate that during his brief stay at the conference he would not in any way recognize the presence of Chou En-lai or any other Chinese. In an anteroom immediately after the first session of the conference Chou, according to an American present, started toward Dulles to greet him. The secretary turned his back and walked away.

A small incident, but, given Chinese sensitivity and the importance of face, an astute observer with long experience in Asia believes that Chou's hostility owed much to the snub.

Every sign makes clear that Chou today is eager for closer ties with the United States. William Atwood, publisher of Newsday, who did some of the most perceptive writing during his recent visit to China, told of the dinner Chou gave for several American correspondents. The dinner was reported in every newspaper in China under the hearing, "Friendly Dinner With Americans."

AFTER THE GENEVA conference Chou signed telegrams to 22 American journalists informing them that visas would be awaiting them in Hong Kong at a specificed date to visit the People's Republic. Dulles killed this when he announced that no Chinese journalist would be allowed to visit the United States, since China had no journalists — they were all intelligence agents.

Reports from Peking indicate that the foreign office and the ministry of information have been swamped by requests for visas. They come from journalists, businessmen, scientists, doctors who want to study the ancient practice of acupuncture, and Chinese specialists of every kind and descrption. In the ministry of information only one or two individuals have expert knowledge of the American media. One of them is said to have asked an American visitor, "But who is Walter Cronkite?"

ANOTHER KEY figure in the unravelling of past hostilities for a new approach is Huang Hua, who is to be ambassador to Canada. Huang's arrival in Ottawa has been inexplicably delayed. It is believed he remained in Peking to take part in the talks between Chou and the President's national security adviser, Henry Kissinger.

As long ago as the Geneva conference Huang was Chou's lieutenant. The Pentagon papers reveal that at a critical point in the conference he was entrusted with initiating an interview with Seymour Topping, then with the Associated Press, to say as an "unidentified high Chinese source" that under the agreement at Geneva the United States would be expected to live up to the neutralization of Indochina. Topping, who later identified his source to undersecretary Bedell Smith (sitting in for Dulles), said that when Huang spoke of the possibility of American bases in Indochina or an anti-Communist pact in Southeast Asia, "he became very agitated, his hands shook, and his usually excellent English broke down, forcing him to work through an interpreter."

As ambassador to Canada, Huang will have an interest in all of North America. That is surely why he was assigned to this post after the Canadians and the Chinese negotiated their mutual recognition. As evidence of his stature, he stayed on at his post as ambassador to Eygpt throughout the people's revolution, although all other ambassadors and most of their staffs were recalled to Peking to be disciplined.

In Chou, President Nixon has found a willing partner. They may travel a long way together.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Nixon's Visit Sets Off Worldwide Reverberations

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
UPI Foreign Editor

President Nixon's invitation to Peking affects not only the United States and China. The changes it heralds are so basic that they affect in some degree the foreign relations of nearly every country in the world.

Every country must examine its alliances, its friends and enemies, in a new light. Ambassadors will be busy in Washingon this week, and doubtless in Peking, seeking clarification of what it all means.

The stunned surprise with which the announcement of Nixon's forthcoming visit was received in Moscow and Taipei illustrate only the two most obvious implications.

EVEN THE BEGINNING of rapprochement between the United States and China, the two major world adversaries of the Soviet Union, is bound to affect Russia's foreign relations in every area of the globe despite Nixon's assurance that his visit "is not directed against any other nation.

One of the principal Soviet objectives in seeking a Strategic Arms Limitation agreement with the Unitd States and a European Security conference to formalize the postwar status quo is to leave the Russians secure in he West in order to deal with China in the East.

The Soviet drive in the Middle East, Soviet penetration into the Indian ocean, increasing Soviet naval power and Soviet policies in India and Southeast Asia all can be related to China as well as to the United States, in some cases more so. All must be reexamined now.

The predicament of the Chinese Nationalist Government in Taiwan is even more obvious, despite Nixon's assurance that a new relationship with Peking "will not be at the expense of our old friends." The United States is the main pillar of Nationalist China's security.

BEYOND TAIWAN is Japan, the major power in the area alongside China, which cannot be ignored in any major Asia settlement. The United States has been urging Japan to assume a greater burden of its own defense commensurate with its economic power. This would enable it to carry greater weight in a new Asia balance of power.

Japan must be wondering whether closer relations with Russia could be part of the balance, just as Russia may seek alliance with Japan.

The two Koreas, one pro-Chinese, one pro-American, must be concerned.

EVEN IF the Nixon trip has no direct effect on the Vietnam peace talks, its influence is bound to be great. China is the closest ally of neighboring North Vietnam while the United States is the major prop of the government in the south.

The North Vietnamese remember that it was China which struck the deal with France which ended the first Vietnamese war with an arrangement the North Vietnamese later felt robbed them of some of their battlefield gains. Already they have shown signs of nervousness at the Nixon visit.

Beyond Vietnam are the "dominoes", the countries the U.S. government once feared would topple in a row should South Vietnam fall. The two other Indochinese countries, Cambodia and Laos, are not included in the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, but China could undoubtedly play a role in promoting settlements in both. The ousted Cambodian leader, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, is in exile in Peking.

Thailand, an American ally in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), has Communist insurgents in its border areas. Already seemingly perturbed by the Nixon doctrine asking Asian nations to contribute more to their own defense, its leaders may increasingly reexamine their position in the light of the Peking visit.

Other Asian SEATO allies — the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand — will be vitally interested in the Nixon visit as indeed will every other country in the area. Singapore and Malaysia are "dominoes" and Malaysia has Communist insurgents. Beyond it, so does Burma.

ON THE INDIAN subcontinent, India and Pakistan could be close to war over the civil strike in East Pakistan which has sent a flood of refugees into India. In that confrontation, China is the ally of Pakistan and Russia that of India. The United States hovers uncomfortably in between.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By JEFF GREER

If Magee's So Dumb, How Is He Able To Snarl Courts?

Naturally, any defense attorney's likely to be loyal to his client's image — at least in public. Ruchell Magee's attorney, Ernest L. Graves, is in a category almost by himself in this regard.

Graves's legal capabilities are widely known among the pros in courtroom circles. He also may be of the same caliber of image molders involved in the making of presidents. It could be because he formerly was a publisher and advertising agency owner in Washington state, before embarking on a law career.

Graves really seems to be proud of Magee's intensive efforts to guide his own defense. The attorney repeatedly stresses that the San Quentin lifer has worked wonders in teaching himself law and in reasoning out unique approaches.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Graves cites Magee's recent encounter with Judge Samuel Conti in federal district court.

The judge, after declaring that Magee's motions to force his trial out of the state courts were "frivolous," signed an order restating (in Conti's own words) "the court's previous order that any such petition for removal be 'lodged' with the clerk of the (federal) court and not be considered 'filed' — which would stay the state court proceedings."

"If Magee's so dumb," Graves asked, "how come his petitions would be effective in stopping state court proceedings and the judge must refuse to file them?

"If Magee had been a tax lawyer and had found such a loophole, he would be hailed as a great legal technician and all of his clients would be able to escape taxation until the Congress acted and closed the tax loophole. But because he's a 'dumb criminal' instead of a tax lawyer for moneyed clients, he can't get the benefit of that. How come?"

TURNING FROM the serious matters in the Marin Hall of Justice to some lighter goins-on in the Twin Cities:

Larkspur almost lost all the benefits of winning that great horseshoe pitching contest with the Corte Madera town fathers during the Fourth of July holiday.

It was discovered that the Larkspur elders (in the sense of wise leaders, of course) had nailed their horseshoe victory trophy on high with the ends pointing downward. They were surprised to learn that they were letting all the shoe's luck spill out.

Ever-efficient City Mgr. Kent Bathurst said he'd remedy the situation right away.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION for the common well-being I hereby offer most humbly (since it probably couldn't be less important). It concerns that cornerstone from the old Marin County Courthouse that eventually will be opened with great ceremony.

One of the talking points made at Tuesday's long and much publicized supervisorial hearing on the fate of the 99-year-old time capsule was that the box might contain fabulously valuable, rare old coins.

It occurs to me that the experts who pry open the old box should be just as concerned about preserving any air it contains. After all, it should be smog-free.

Publication Budget Set By Reed School Trustees

A $2,467,501 publication budget for 1971-72, a $326,975 increase over last year's budget, has been approved by trustees of the Reed School District.

Trustees set a budget hearing for 8 p.m. Aug. 3 at Bel Aire School to consider the record spending program and adopt a final budget.

Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said the board Tuesday did not discuss the effect the budget will have on the property tax rate in the district, which now stands at $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation.

Included in the spending program are $1,163,209 for teacher salaries, $216,660 in reserves, $161,826 for operation and $48,945 for capital outlay.

The proposed budget includes only step increases for teachers and makes no provision for other raises. Giovanniello said negotiations with teachers will resume in September.

In other business Tuesday night, trustees postponed a decision on whether to lease a portable building to the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon to provide a new home for the second-hand goods store.

The shop was asked permission to move a portable building from Bel Aire school to Reed School adjacent to the district office and lease it from the district.

Giovanniello said the board asked him to report at the Aug. 3 meeting on what financial arrangements could be made between the district and the shop.

The building is now used as a communications center and for storage.

The Reed School District board also:

SIGN — Authorized Giovanniello to sign documents on behalf of the board.

ASSOCIATION — Approved membership in California School Boards Association for 1971-72 at a cost of $469.

DEDUCTIONS — Authorized payroll deductions for administrators for dues to the Association of California School Administrators.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of Marilyn Nero, aide at Reed School, for personal reasons.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire to finish items from Tuesday night's meeting.

But Just Suppose Kissinger Really Had A Tummy Ache

WASHINGTON — When the history books of this decade are written, they will be referring to Henry Kissinger's trip to China as "The Tummy Ache Heard Round the World."

Using the excuse of an upset stomach, Mr. Kissinger managed to elude everyone and high-tail it off to Peking to have sweet-and-sour pork with Chou En-lai.

While it was a great ploy, Mr. Kissinger's "diplomatic illness" could backfire on him. Suppose he really gets a stomachache at some future time. Who is going to believe him?

OUR SCENE OPENS in the medical room at the White House. Henry staggers in clutching his stomach and says, "Doctor, I have this pain right here."

The White House doctor laughs. "Good old Henry. Where are you off to this time — the Suez Canal?"

"I'm not joking, Doc. It hurts terribly."

"I know," the doctor says, "the President is sending you to talk to Castro."

Henry is now writhing on the floor. "Believe me, it hurts. Right in the gut. You see, I had dinner with Gloria Steinem and Bella Abzug, and they served me Bon Vivant Vichyssoise. Since I was out of the country at the time, I didn't know you weren't supposed to eat it."

"You really can put on an act, Henry. I wouldn't be surprised if you turned up in Albania next week."

HENRY CRAWLS OUT of the doctor's office on his hands and knees.

Ron Zeigler, the President's press secretary, sees him crawling down the hall.

"Hello, Mr. Kissinger," Ron says. "Can I help you?"

"Get me to a hospital."

Ron takes out his notebook. "That's a good cover story. I'll announce you were taken to a hospital this morning. I won't tell them which hospital."

"No, Ron, I don't want you to announce I was taken to a hospital. I want you to get me to a hospital."

RON WINKS at him. "Is it East Berlin or Yalta?"

"Please, Ron. I'm sick. I'm going to die."

"I doubt if the press corps would buy that, Mr. Kissinger. If we announce that you've died, and then you pop up at San Clemente a week later, the newspaper guys will get awfully mad. Let me announce you're having your tonsils out. I have to go to my press briefing now. I'll see you later."

HENRY IS ROLLING on the floor as Sec. of State William Rogers comes by.

"Hello, Henry. You going to the cabinet meeting?"

"Mr. Secretary, my stomach. I have a pain in my stomach. It's killing me."

Secretary Rogers says angrily, "Well no one has informed me about it. What are you up to this time?"

"I'm not up to anything, Mr. Secretary. Could you call an ambulance?"

"Hanoi," Rogers says. "You're cooking up something in Hanoi. I'll probably be the last one to know about it."

"I'm not going to Hanoi. I'm really sick."

"No kidding? Wel, I'm sorry to hear that, Henry." And Rogers smiles and walks away.

WITH HIS LAST ounce of strength, Henry staggers into the Oval Room and falls down in front of the President.

"Henry," the President says. "You don't have to prostrate yourself in front of me. I know you're loyal."

Henry is in such agony he can't speak.

"What is it, Henry?" the President says. "Would you like to go to Morocco?"

Henry shakes his head.

"The Vatican? You want to see the Pope?"

Henry groans.

The President gets up. "I don't have time to play games, Henry. Write me a memo telling me what you want. By the way, Mrs. Nixon said she would like you for dinner tonight. We're having meat loaf."

Henry screams and passes out, as the curtain falls.

Drug Center Proposed At Abandoned Site

BERKELEY (UPI) —A plan to use part of an abandoned Nike site in Tilden Regional Park for a residential drug rehabilitation center has been proposed.

Jack Goldberg, executive director of a new drug rehabilitation group in Berkeley, said today he was making a bid for the former site to care for about 20 or 30 drug victims.

The site was occupied by Indians last month after they were removed from Alcatraz Island.

Goldberg says his non-profit corporation is "looking to establish a residential therapeutic community for persons who have drug problems." He said it would serve the entire Bay Area.

Teen Voter Registration Bias Denied

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Attorney General Evelle Younger says the controversy over his legal opinion that 18-year-old voters must register at their parents' address arose in some instances "because of a deliberate attempt to misinterpret for political purposes."

In a statement issued Tuesday, Younger also says counties are not bound by his opinion, and that the problem should be clarified either by the legislature or the courts.

"Legislative clarification is by far the best solution and one which I hope will be reached. If this is not obtained, then judicial clarification of this admittedly controversial subject should be sought," Younger said.

His earlier opinion, given at the request of Santa Barbara County, held that new voters aged 18 to 21 must register at their parents' address, despite in many cases having lived elsewhere for several years.

Today's statement reiterates that finding, and says the basis is that there is no law on the question at all. In the absence of law, Younger said, the legal residence must be the same as that specified by statute for other legal purposes.

Said Younger: "It is not disturbing that contrary legal opinions have been expressed. In a new area, where there are no specific statutes or prior cases, opinions of lawyers can and do differ. That is why we have courts.

"However, to suggest, as some people have done, that the Attorney General's opinion was issued to curry political favor is absurd and completely devoid of reason or truth."

Younger also said that he has endorsed legislation "conferring all legal rights and responsibilities on 18 year olds. The state legislature has been repeatedly urged to revise, not only the election laws, but also to reevaluate the entire law with respect to majority and give the 18 to 21 year olds full rights and duties as adults."

Elementary Schools' Antilitter Programs

NEW YORK (UPI) —Elementary school children get more anti-litter education than their older brothers and sisters, according to studies reported by the Litter Letter of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

In a survey of schools across the nation, 74 per cent of the elementary schools reported anti-litter programs offered regularly and extensively. This dropped to 58 per cent in junior high schools and 31 per cent in high schools.

Businessmen Like Phone Alert System

A telephone alert system to warn Sausalito merchants of shoplifters or persons attempting to purchase goods with a bad check or stolen credit card was introduced to the city's business community yesterday and greeted with enthusiasm.

All the approximately 40 persons who attended the informational meeting on the program called by the Sausalito Police Department (which is initiating the system) indicated interest in participating.

According to Police Chief James D. Wright, the alert system is unique in Marin, but has been used with great success in other California communities, including Carmel.

Under the program, a merchant who notices shoplifters (or phony check passers) in his store calls police and provides them with a description of the offenders.

Officers will, in turn, call four businesses to pass along the descriptions. The four merchants so notified will each call two other businesses to provide them with the information and each merchant called will telephone two other businesses to alert them to the danger.

In this way, Wright said, Sausalito's entire business community can be alerted within 10 minutes if every person contacted makes his assigned calls promptly.

"Not only does this system act as a deterrent by discouraging professional gangs of shoplifters or check passers from coming to Sausalito," said the chief, "but it also makes it easier for police to arrest these people."

If all stores are on the alert for would-be thieves or forgers, an owner noticing a person answering the description flashed over the system can notify police as soon as the individual enters his business, the chief said, giving officers a good opportunity to make an arrest.

The proposed system will be known as SOS, Security of Sausalito, and merchants may also be able to purchase stickers warning that their businesses are protected by the program as another deterrent.

The chief demonstrated the need for such a system, noting that U.S. businesses lose between two and three billion dollars to shoplifters annually. "It is the most expensive crime in the nation and costs citizens more than burglary or auto theft," he said.

The department intends to contact all businesses in Sausalito in the next two weeks in hopes of signing them up for the program.

A 1,000-Seat Jetliner Seen

SEATTLE (UPI)—A humpless 747 jumbo jet which could carry up to 1,000 persons may be in the air by the end of the decade, the Boeing Co. said Wednesday.

Rowland E. Brown, in charge of production development of the 747, said design studies which the firm is considering would remove the "hump" from the current model by extending the plane's two decks the entire length of the craft.

The superjet's 231-foot body also would be stretched by a few feet. The alterations would double present passenger capacity, Brown said.

OLD MEETS NEW WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS

A 1932 Model B Ford lies on its side, pretzelized by a 1965 Dodge pickup at Fourth Street and Alexander Avenue in San Rafael. Neal Thomas Johnson, 32, of 15 Rosemont Avenue, San Anselmo, who works for Bent Fender Auto Body Shop at 50 Tiburon Street, San Rafael, had fixed up the old car and added a new motor. Johnson was westbound in the hotrod on Fourth Street at 5:05 p.m. yesterday when the truck, driven by Bruce Gordon Vaughn, 50, of Lagunitas, southbound on Alexander Avenue, attempted to cross Fourth. Johnston was treated at Marin General Hospital for a fractured left shoulder, cut left leg and multiple scrapes and bruises, hospital officials reported. Norma Vaughn, 44, wife of the driver of the truck, was treated at the same hospital for a bruised scalp and muscle strain, according to hospital officials.

Housing Panel Approves Hike In Rent Schedules

The Marin County Housing Authority last night approved a higher rent schedule for public housing, expected to increase housing authority revenue substantially.

The announcement of the new schedule came at a meeting highlighted by disclosure that occupants of public housing in Marin may remain in public housing no matter how high their income reaches.

The new rent schedule, however, will not work any hardship on most of the tenants according to Wallace K. Shepherd, authority executive director, because the hike in their rents will largely be picked up by the county welfare department. Others may have to pay about $5 or $6 more a month.

The former rent schedule was based on a percentage of a tenant's earnings with an average of 19 per cent —ranging from 15 to 25 per cent depending on the level of income.

Shepherd said the new schedule applies a fixed rent to an apartment no matter what the family is earning. The only stipulation is no family will pay more than 25 per cent of its income, Shepherd added.

Shepherd said he could not estimate the amount of revenue to be gained by the housing authority under the change to go into effect in September.

"This will stabilize the whole rent structure," said Shepherd explaining a family will also benefit more from future income gain since none of that gain will go toward rent.

Shepherd was asked if it were true that families would remain in public housing even if their earnings rose above the qualifying poverty level.

He replied that some housing authorities do ask such overincome tenants to move out because they need the housing units. "We think this is a bad policy," he said.

Shepherd, who acknowledged during the meeting that more than 1,000 persons are on a waiting list for subsidized housing, said his agency charges "over income" families the "fair market value of their rental units.

"What is the limit that a family can earn and still remain?" one man asked.

"I can't answer that question right now," responded Shepherd, adding he didn't have those files with him.

Shepherd, asked later what happens to a family with an income of $18,000 or $20,000, said he "hoped" they would move out of the low-rent project into private housing elsewhere.

Following lengthy discussion on the availability of information on the schedule to subsidized tenants, the board approved it for Marin City but delayed action changing rents for senior citizens.

Additional information will be distributed to seniors during the next few weeks, the board said.

The Marin County Husing Authority board also:

GARBAGE — Approved a two-year contract with the Bay Cities Refuse Co., increasing monthly rates for residents from the present $3.25 to $3.50 the first year and $3.70 the second.

PERSONNEL — Approved hiring Harry Yaffee as controller at a salary of $1,100 per month and increased the salary of Ester Parks, clerk-typist $5,688 to $5,976 per year.

EQUIPMENT — Approved the purchase of a cash register for $2,600. The special machine is needed for the rent collection office and will speed up posting of receipts.

ARCHITECTS — Formed a two-man committee to interview three architectural firms for remodeling of the Marin City headquarters. Remodeling is expected to cost $60,000 and is part of centralization.

MEETING — Agreed to meet with employees and union representatives to discuss salaries. No date has been set.

Plea Of Innocent To Burglary

James Floyd Angle, 23, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two charges of burglary and one of possessing stolen proeprty.

Preliminary hearings were set for Angle and a codefendant, Craig Robert Anderson, 18, of Mill Valley, for next Tuesday. A preliminary hearing for a third defendant, James McGovern, 20, of San Francisco, was previously set for Tuesday.

The three are charged in connection with the burglary of the residence of Marin County Grand Jury Foreman Milen C. Dempster of Tamalpais Valley, as well as the residence of a Mill Valley residence, both on July 11.

Charges against Anderson and Angle were dismissed Tuesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith when the district attorney's office reported it was not ready to proceed with a preliminary hearing set for that day.

Following the dismissal, the two were immediately rearrested and charged again in municipal court.

Arrest Made In Pot Probe

A 24-year-old Homestead Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after Marin County sheriff's deputies saw a suspected marijuana plant in the front window of his residence.

Deputies said that Brian Phillip Tourigny, of 599 Ethel Avenue, explained later that the plant needed sun.

He was booked on suspicion of possessing and cultivating pot and held in lieu of $500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Innocent Plea To Burglary

Richard Sheldon Knowles, 20, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglary.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Knowles was arrested Monday along with Carol Marlene Heath, 18, of San Rafael, when police found them allegedly carrying property from the residence of Roy H. Warden of 70 Forrest Avenue, San Rafael.

Miss Heath's case was transferred yesterday to Marin Juvenile Court.

Hopes Dim To Keep Out Flood Ditch

Hopes that the Army Corps of Engineers can provide flood control for Mill Valley without resorting to an unpopular plan for a concrete-lined ditch dimmed last night.

A committee studying flooding caused by Mill Valley's Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio was told preliminary indications are that an enclosed bypass along Miller Avenue is unfeasible.

Committee chairman Jerome C. Hauke said the corps, which is studying the bypass at the request of the citizens group, has determined problems might arise in maintaining such a facility if built.

Findings indicate the elevation along Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School is insufficient to keep an enclosed bypass free of sediment which would be deposited by floodwaters, Hauke said.

Without the proper slope, the bypass would become choked with silt and require frequent maintenance.

The bypass was suggested by the citizens committee to avoid the necessity of lining Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio with concrete — a scheme rejected by Mill Valley officials in 1967.

Hauke said the corps will conduct a more detailed investigation of the plan and report its conclusions at another committee meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16 at the Mill Valley Public Library.

Until this investigation is made, he said, no decision on the feasibility of the bypass channel can be made by the committee.

The bypass would remove floodwaters from the creek near Millwood Street and convey them through an enclosed ditch to Richardson Bay. Under this plan, the creek would remain largely in its natural state.

No Progress In Employee Negotiations

No progress was reported last night in negotiations between Mill Valley's striking city employees and bargainers for the city as employees remained off their jobs for the 22nd day.

Negotiators for both sides met for about an hour but a spokesman for unionized city employees reported the city representative did not respond to the union's offer of a 9.3 per cent benefit and wage increase.

The spokesman, Victor C. Thuesen, an AFL-CIO official, said another meeting was set for tonight and "we have reason to believe the city will make a counter-proposal to our offer." He said he did not know what the counter-offer would be.

Plan To Consolidate Southern Marin Fire Stations Attacked

A proposal to eliminate four of Southern Marin's seven fire stations as part of a move to consolidate firefighting operations in the area came under attack last night.

The proposal, contained in a 173-page report recommending the merger to provide better service at a lower cost, was criticized by members of a committee studying possible consolidation.

The committee met for the first time last night since the report, prepared by the Oakland fire consultant firm of Gage-Babcock and Associates, was released.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jean S. Barnard, a member of the committee, said several committeemen objected strongly to one conclusion of the report, that the seven fire stations now serving Southern Marin be reduced to three.

Under the plan, fire stations would be located in Northern Sausalito, in Mill Valley (the present downtown fire station) and at Tamalpais Junction.

Mrs. Barnard said she especially was concerned that no fire station is proposed for East Mill Valley. A $240,000 bond issue to finance such a station was rejected by the electorate last month and will be presented to voters again next April.

The report lists advantages of consolidation as improved distribution of manpower, better coordination of firefighting efforts, better training and record keeping, uniform fire regulation enforcement and savings from large volume purchasing and standardization of parts and equipment.

Mrs. Barnard said the committee agreed to hold a meeting at a time yet to be determined to pursue recommendations of the report with the exception of the elimination of fire stations.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Charge

Stephen Ray Rauch, 18, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglary.

Preliminary hearing was set for Monday.

He was arrested April 29 in Berkeley with property allegedly stolen April 27 from the residece of Edmond Berger of 3 Teakwood Court, San Rafael.

School Looted

Electric office equipment, valued at $1,323, was stolen in a burglary of Sleepy Hollow School on Tarry Road, sometime last weekend, Marin County sheriff's office reported today.

Citizen Group Launches Golden Gate Park Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A leading member of a citizen group to create a Golden Gate National Park said today the battle to develop the 27,000-acre park will be between the public and the military.

John Jacobs, an active member of People for a Golden Gate National Park Recreation Area, said although there is congressional legislation to create the park, which includes parts of the Presidio, the idea has been rejected by San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto.

"I would imagine that Mayor Alioto is a spokesman for the military in the Presidio," Jacobs said.

Jacobs, executive director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association, said the citizen group has not talked directly with the military about acquiring their land for the open spaces park.

Jacobs said that a strong resolution supporting the recreation area passed the Board of Supervisors recently but was vetoed by Alioto because it included a piece of the Presidio.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn, chairman of the citizen's group and former president of the Sierra Coub, said earlier the proposed park was not an ordinary conservation project.

He said it included "great human needs'' and said it would give urban residents a place to go to see wide open spaces. He said the park would be available by public transportation.

Wayburn announced a kickoff drive to generate public support for the park.

On Wednesday, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., introduced a bill to create the park which would incorporate part of the land of the San Francisco Presidio and potentially take in all of it.

The Cranston bill would have 546 of the Presidio's 1,588 acres in the recreation area. The remaining Presidio land would still be the Sixth Army Headquarters, with the provision that if the Army ever gave it up, it would automatically become part of the federal recreation area.

The area would include all of the Bolinas Lagoon, plus Duxbury Reef in Marin County. Mount Tamalpais State Park would stay under state control.

Rep. Phil Burton, D-Calif., has introduced a similar measure in the House.

Boise Plan Wins Nod In Novato

The Novato Plan Review Committee last night approved plans for four townhouse model homes, an office and the landscaping plans for them for Boise Cascade Building Co.

This is the first development to be used as models and an office for the townhouse development on the Sil Oliva ranch on the north side of Novato Boulevard west of Wilson Avenue.

The committee set a special meeting on Aug. 4 for further consideration of the company's request for architectural approval for 232 townhouses in 58 structures.

The Novato Plan Review Committee also;

BUILDING — Approved architectural and landscaping plans for a 5,500 square foot building at the south end of Ford Way west of Highway 101 south of Lamont Avenue for Eugene McGillicuddy.

CHURCH — Approved architectural and landscaping plans for a 26,640-square-foot addition to the Jehovah's Witness church at 5 Pivato Court.

SIGNS — Approved plans of the Crocker Bank to alter its signs for Crocker Citizens Bank to Crocker Bank. It also approved a 16-square-foot interior illuminated sign for Grant Avenue Florist at 1129 Grant Avenue.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Aug. 4 at the Novato Community House to consider the Sil Oliva Ranch plans.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Doctor Administers Smallpox Vaccinations Near Crazy Bone

Smallpox vaccinations leave an unsightly blemish and the scar is especially unwanted by women. It is for this reason some mothers insist that the doctor vaccinate their daughters on the leg, assuming, of course, that the tot will not become a chorus girl or that minis will be out when she reaches the teens.

AN AUSTRALIAN PHYSICIAN finds the inner aspect of the upper arm a better location. He vaccinates about 2 inches above the crazy bone, an accessible area that is usually clean. Furthermore, it is normally protected from the sun and virtually hidden from view. The skin at this point is thinner than that at the shoulder and the medico finds that vaccinations at this site tend to "take." A piece of gauze protects the area from the naked chest wall but it is not essential, as this doctor has never seen anyone in whom the infection spread from the arm to the thorax.

ALLERGY TO TOOTHPASTE is extremely rare, but it can happen. In Scotland, a 67-year-old woman developed marked swelling of the tissues around the lower jaw, throat, floor of the mouth and neck. She could hardly talk, swallow or breathe. In her case, the toothpaste was suspected because when a small ribbon of the dentifrice was put on her forearm, a painful blister developed within an hour. Additional tests done to find the constituent responsible for the symptoms, showed the culprit to be peppermint oil.

According to Dental Abstracts, a mechanical mouth at the National Biscuit Company research center in New Jersey has been munching everything from cheese spreads to dog biscuits. The device is so sensitive it tells scientists far more than a human tester could about the mouth-feel of different products. A single steel tooth contains the "feeling mechanism" and provides data on hardness, smoothness, crispness, and to what extent a product clings to the teeth and gums.

PEP AND SLEEP PILLS

A. R. writes: I take pep pills to stay awake for the late talk shows and movies on TV and then take a sedative so I can fall asleep. Am I harming my body by this practice?

REPLY

You are setting a pattern that shows you are immature and lacking in good sense. Too much television may be a sign that you prefer to live a life of fantasy as is portrayed by movie heroes and heroines. The sedative completes the job by putting you out of reality more quickly. You have no valid reason for using these drugs and whoever is prescribing or selling them to you is doing you a disservice.

VITAMIN B AND NEURALGIA

Mrs. T. V. writes: Is neuralgia caused by a vitamin deficiency?

REPLY

This depends upon the type of neuralgia. Nutritional neuralgias usually are due to a deficit of vitamin B. The condition may also stem from injury, pressure, poisons, neurological diseases, and an infection, such as shingles. Neuralgia means nerve pain.

ARTHRITIC NECK

T. D. writes: Recently, during a checkup, the doctor found I have arthritis of the neck. Could this be responsible for headaches extending from the scalp to the back of the neck?

REPLY

Yes. Many headaches originate in the spinal column at the base of the skull. Pain is referred upward into the head.

Tourists In Britain Face Exploitation

By DENNIS EISENBERG
Toronto Telegram News Service

LONDON — British hotels and restaurants are exploiting the present tourist boom to the United Kingdom so outrageously that prices for visitors to London now are the highest in Europe.

The "pluck-the-tourists" mentality of the capital's money-grabbing hosts is indeed reaching such epidemic proportions that newspapers and members of Parliament are protesting.

There is a fear that the exploitation will cause tourists to stop coming here in record numbers and spending their money.

"London now is the city of the greediest hotels in Western Europe," the Sunday Express said last week. The newspaper complained bitterly that hotel-keepers who have received Government subsidies of over $100 million to build new ones or modernize old hotels, are taking unfair advantage of the tourist bonanza.

An example of just how fierce are the charges being made in London was given by the Dutch Embassy last weekend after two of its leading diplomats dined with their wives at the Mirabelle, which has a reputation for being London's top reetaurant.

The bill for the four came to over $170 — which the Daily Mirror described as being "so steep as to be considered nearly vertical."

Kenneth Lewis, a member of Parliament, has complained in the House of Commons about the "blackmarket in London hotel prices" and has demanded that these tariffs be reduced.

London hotel-keepers are well aware, however, that there are more visitors to London all the year round than there are rooms — and so they are making guests who are lucky enough to get accommodation pay sky-high prices.

For instance, bed and breakfast for two in one of several leading but by no means outstanding hotels in the British capital now is between $50 and $70 a night.

Even small hotels are allowing the tourist boom to go to their heads and their charges are way above comparable establishments in other major capitals like Rome and Paris.

More and more visitors are grumbling about the grasping free-for-all among restaurants and hotels in London.

The standard of food served in the mass catering cafes and eating houses in the Piccadilly and Leicester Square areas of London has sunk to abysmal depths as ever-swelling crowds of tourists flock into these popular central parts of London to see the sights and have a quick snack or lunch.

Scores of get-rich-quick restaurants are opening in tourist areas and their standards leave much to be desired.

Unlike Spain, France, Italy, Portugal and Greece, where tourism is a carefully controlled industry and where hotels are graded and classified by the Government to prevent exploitation of visitors, there is no official eye kept on their British counterparts.

Hotel owners ask what they think they can get away with and there is a growing fear that the tourist boom — expected to increase to 10 million by 1975 and now Britain's fourth-biggest earner of foreign currency — will turn sour.

In addition, except for the very top level of London hotels in the luxury class, the standard of service is very often appalling.

Staff, difficult to find, are often rude and discourteous. Take-it-or-leave-it is the typical attitude to be found in very many London hotels.

Coming under criticism for this sorry state of affairs is the state-run British Authority which has done nothing to try to curb the rampant profiteering by many hotel-keepers.

Neither does this body do much to help tourists who arrive in London without accommodation, except sell them a not-very-useful list of hotels which visitors must go through themselves to find rooms.

The hotel industry is opposed to the idea of a grading system, although the Automobile Association and other bodies dealing with tourists suggest that this is one sure method of calling a halt to the present growing exploitation.

The current British attitude aimed at fleecing tourists was clearly demonstrated recently in Belfast where an American visited the Northern Ireland city and was charged $5 for a meal of two eggs and some toast.

"Eggs must be pretty scarce around here," said the visitor as he paid the bill.

"Eggs are not rare," he was told bluntly. "But tourists are."

In London, where tourists are far more numerous than Ulster, the same outlook prevails, although a meal of eggs can still be had for less than $5 in some places.

Rightwing Italian Boss No Mussolini

By A. R. McELWAIN
Toronto Telegram News Service

ROME — It is usual to refer to members of Italy's neo-fascist Italian Socialist Movement (MSI) as the "heirs of Mussolini's blackshirts". This, logically, makes the MSI leader, 56-year-old Giorgio Almirante, a direct successor to the late Benito Mussolini.

No two men could have been more different.

Almirante, the man under whose leadership the party's gains in recent regional and municipal elections were the largest scored by any of Italy's nine main political parties in the past 20 years, is no bullish blusterer, no ranter, no rabble-rouser. He's much more subtle than that. Almirante is a good strategist.

He was born in Salsomaggiore, in Parma province, on July 27, 1914. He comes from a good, middle-class family, and is comfortably off — but not rich. He holds a B.A. degree in literature, has taught high school and been a journalist. In 1940, he was a war correspondent in Africa and was awarded Italy's military cross of valor.

When Mussolini tried to stage a last-ditch comeback by establishing the Salo puppet regime in north Italy, Almirante joined him and was made propaganda minister. He was condemned to a year's exile in 1947 on a charge of supporting fascism. An appeals court acquitted him.

Almirante was a founder-member of the MSI in 1946. He became its secretary (leader) in 1969. In the short time since then, he has completely changed its image, making it an aggressive, but not explosive, organization and the "spearhead of right-wing extremism."

Back in days when he was leader merely of the party's "tough" wing, he attacked its leadership's "soft line" and said "Mussolini would never have behaved this way."

On the other hand, Almirante remarked just before the elections that if people thought he wanted to return Italy to the days of Mussolini, they were taking him for a cretin. Fascism today had taken on a very different form.

Unlike Mussolini, he speaks dispassionately in a good firm voice. He is inclined to be long-winded, but is ready with all the answers and handles a press conference adroitly. He dresses well, is dapper, very personable. He is married and has several children. He tells funny stories, smiles a lot, and plays a good game of bridge. He is short, frail-looking and calm.

Many of the MSI's new votes, as Almirante readily admits, were "protest votes" against Italy's present flabby leadership and also against Communism. The party gained control of nothing and, one presumes, Almirante will continue to aim for added power at local elections level.

Rome city council, where he now has a total of 13 of the 80 seats, and where the center-left has a majority of just two, would suit him nicely — for a start.

Jumbo Jetliner Taxies Too Far

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An American Airlines 747 jumbo jetliner taxied too far into the passenger loading area at Los Angeles International Airport Wednesday and nosed through a plate glass window.

There were no injuries but the impact pushed a large supporting beam two feet into the nose of the airliner. The flight was American's No. 11 from Boston with 165 passengers.

Advertising Ban For BART Stations Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors heard arguments against advertising in train stations Wednesday although they already have awarded a contract permitting them.

Mrs. Joan Garbarino of the Orinda Association declared: "We're tired of living in a jungle of vulgarity; we've had it with this kind of huckstering."

James J. Bennis of Pinole and Jack Crawford of the Hayward planning department said that citizens in Hayward are talking about going to court in opposition to posters at stations.

Mrs. Helen B. Reynolds, California Roadside Council president, opposed the posters, saying the "vibrancy of color" they promised could be achieved by other means.

One man spoke out for the posters, Lloyd A. Pflueger, Down Town Association of San Francisco director. He said, "We firmly believe (the commuter's) daily ride on BART will be pleasanter and less tedious if BART contains advertising ... fresh, colorful and exciting ... to make the daily commute routine a livelier and more interesting experience."

Hospital Staff Cut: Smaller Caseloads

UKIAH (UPI) —Because of dwindling patient caseloads, the number of psychiatric technicians at Mendocino State Hospital is being trimmed by 58. There had been 393.

Leland F. Erbaher, personnel man for the State Mental Hygiene Department, told employes Wednesday the caseloads are decreasing because the mentally ill are now being treated more often in their own communities.

Be our guest in the White House

You will know as much as anyone about what goes on in the White House and in the Presidency by the simple act of reading the I-J. (Only the President and intimates will know more).

For the I-J, through its United Press International reporters, is virtually "in residence" as much as the President. Which makes you our welcome guest to the White House.

Our reporters are constantly alert to staff and cabinet meetings, to affairs of international import, to the diplomatic front, to the comings and goings which make the White House a world center of significant news. The job is sensitive. It requires a sixth sense to know when news of major concern is about to break. And concern in how to "break" it accurately and without bias.

Be our guest and stay as long as you like. Our columns lead right to the White House.

This is Eugene V. Risher, another member of the UPI team assigned to cover President Nixon. You'll be hearing from him.

$5 Million State Coastline Bill Advances

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Ways and Means Committee yesterday approved over Reagan administration opposition a $5 million bill to acquire ocean beaches for the public and preserve the California coastline.

The measure by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, would obtain the cash by increasing the tases of oil and gas companies.

The bill would turn over the funds to a proposed six-member "coastal conservation commission," which would decide how and where to spend the money. That commission is created by a separate bill by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles.

But a Reagan administration representative, Roy Bell, assistant director of the Finace Department, objected that the bill gave the independent commission $5 million "carte blanche" rather than requiring proposed acquisitions to be approved by the legislature and administration.

"They should be given review in the ordinary budget process," Bell told the committee. "It is rather unusual that you give a sum of money to some outside outfit to spend in any way they want."

Financing for the commission's acquisitions would come from reducing the 27 1-2 per cent depletion allowance oil companies now receive to their actual cost of drilling a well. A separate Assembly-passed measure proposing this is pending in the Senate.

The Ways and Means Committee passed the bill to the floor without a dissenting vote along with a companion measure by Moretti authorizing a $150 million bond issue for "conservation of the coastline."

No limitation on the proposed program is contained in the bill but Moretti agreed to add provisions later he said would spell out how the money would be spent.

Bell objected that next year's ballot would be jampacked with such bond issues for coastal preservation and related environmental protection issues. Several already have been approved by the Assembly and are pendjng in the Senate.

"If you put all these out, put them on the ballot, you're going to lose them all," Bell warned the lawmakers. "You should put them in a package."

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post noted that the legislature next year could enact legislation consolidating some issues into one package or splitting them between the June and November ballots.

BRISK DEBATE

Radiation Issue Splits Experts

BERKELEY (UPI) — Scientists and mathematicians have fallen into vigorous disagreements on methods of determining just what effect radiation from nuclear reactors has on human life.

The question was debated Tuesday at a University of California Seminar on Mathematical Statistics and Probability.

Dr. John W. Gofman, a University of California physicist, argued for tighter radiation curbs in medicine and against building any new atomic reactors.

Gofman said that if the entire country were exposed to the maximum "safe" limit of radioactivity as set by the Atomic Energy Commission, more than 104,000 extra cancer deaths would occur each year.

Gofman, with Dr. Arthur Tamplin, in an earlier study predicted a figure of 16,000 additional cancer deaths, but the team, Gofman said, later revised their estimate upwards.

Dr. David Levin, representing the National Cancer Institute in Washington, said his agency had found the same "risk" figures as the Gofman-Tamplin team, but disagreed with how the team had gone about reaching its conclusions.

Dr. Edythalena Tompkins reported that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency had found no increase in infant mortality in the vicinity of reactors in Humboldt County near Eureka, the Dresden, Ill., reactor and the one near Big Rock, Mich.

Dr. Tompkins reported that she and her associates had found that in almost every case, the number of infant deaths per 1,000 live births were down in the vicinity of the three reactors.

"There does not appear to be any evidence to suggest an increase in infant mortality associated with (any of these) reactors," she said.

This finding was contrary to that of Dr. Ernest J. Sternglass of the University of Pittsburgh who said that higher radioactivity in air, milk and water have increased the infant mortality as much as 25 per cent during the last two years in three western states.

Deal To Sell Water To Marin Unit

The North Marin County Water District has approved an agreement to sell surplus water to the Marin Municipal Water District.

Under the agreement, Marin Municipal Water District would get the water from a connection at Lamont and Railroad Avenues in Novato through the first phase of its aqueduct, said Mgr. Eugene V. Churchill.

The north district will sell about 5,000 acre feet of water per year to Marin municipal when the aqueduct is completed next summer, Churchill said. This will be off-peak water, Churchill said.

Marin Municipal will pay $57 per acre foot for the water with $13 of this marked for construction of the aqueduct, Churchill said.

Churchill reported Tuesday that water consumption had increased from 210.3 to 229.5 million gallons in June of this year over June of last year or an increase of 9.1 per cent. The increase was due to more watering because of the heat, he said.

Alumni To Sell Tree Seedlings

Alumni of Sonoma State College will sell tree seedlings Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. at the Coddingtown Shopping Center, Santa Rosa.

Proceeds from the sale will benefit the newly established college arboretum. Seedlings will range from Monterey pine to redwood with some suitable for bonsai training.

Alumni association Vice President Virginia Ewing of Santa Rosa is chairman of the event, assisted by President Louis Beary of Rohnert Park.

Sausalito Seminar On Police Set

Supporters and detractors of the Sausalito Police Department will have a chance to express their views at a police-community relations seminar set for 10 a.m. Saturday in Sausalito's Christ Episcopal Church.

Sponsored by the Marin County Police-Community Relations Department, the sessions will include a panel discussion and general "rap session" among those attending.

Panelists will include: Sausalito Mayor Alexander R. Imlay, Sausalito Councilman Robin Sweeny, Police Chief James D. Wright, Police Detective William Palmini and Rev. E.D. Perkins, pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City.

Also on the panel: William Remak, Sausalito Artists and Merchants; Carl W. Spring, Sausalito Citizens Council; Raymond Roy, Sausalito Chamber of Commerce; Leroy Johnson, Sausalito Street Ministry; Father Charles Simpson, community worker for the police relations department; Gary Byers, youth worker for the department and Robbie Robison, Sausalito resident.

Landslide On Coast Highway

MALIBU (UPI)—A landslide crashed down on the Pacific Coast Highway Wednesday night, partially burying one car, but an alert sheriff's deputy prevented further damage.

The deputy, patrolling the highway near Topanga Canyon, observed a slight slippage on the face of the cliff overlooking the highway where it winds along beside the beach north of Santa Monica.

He began diverting traffic around the area and 10 minutes later boulders and earth cascaded onto the highway, covering both westbound traffic lanes.

$100,000 To Probe Viet War Origins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three men armed with a sawed-off shotgun and pistols robbed the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of $8,000 Wednesday.

Police said they escaped in a car which apparently was occupied with two accomplices. The gunmen forced an employe and customer to lie on the floor while they took the cash from a teller.

UNSIGNED — Running back Duane Thomas, currently in a contract dispute with the Dallas Cowboys, yesterday accused the team of being dishonest and of exploiting black players. Thomas said the Cowboys could not have gone to the Super Bowl last year without him. (UPI Telephoto)

Victory For A's, But Not For Vida Blue

OAKLAND (UPI) —Sal Bando was determined, Vida Blue was happy and Dick Williams compassionate.

It added up to a 4-3 win in 12 innings for the Oakland Athletics over the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night but robbed lefthander Blue of his 19th victory.

Bando drilled a two-run homer to tie the game 3-3 in the ninth and then hit a sacrific fly with the bases loaded and one out in the 12th to score pinch runner Tony Larussa with the winning run. The A's third baseman was in a 1-for-28 slump when he hit his homer.

"I made an error in the eighth inning and I was really determined to attack the ball on my next A.B. (at bat)," said Bando. He drilled a 1-1 pitch off hardluck starter Steve Dunning over the leftfield barrier after Mike Epstein had walked and John Odom went in as a pinch runner.

Dunning had opened the eighth with an infield single off Blue and Bando threw the ball wild to first for an error as Dunning took second. Then Graig Nettles hit Blue's pitch into the rightfield stands to give Cleveland a 3-1 lead.

"I was sorry about that error," chided Bando. "But now that I saved Blue from a loss with my homer, maybe he'll let me drive his Cadillac."

Blue gave up eight hits during the 11 innings he worked and struck out 11 to raise his major league-leading strikeout total to 208. Lefty Darold Knowles came on to retire the Indians in order in the 12th to pick up his fifth win against four losses.

"What difference does it make if I don't win every time I pitch," said 18-gahe winner Blue who turns 22 next week. "We won the ballgame and I'm happy."

"But I really didn't do too good out there. We should have won 1-0."

The A's scored an unearned run off Dunning in the second when Bando walked and came around on Dave Duncan's single and a throwing error by catcher Ken Suarez. Then Blue gave up a solo homer to Suarez to tie the score in the third and threw another fat pitch to Nettles in the eighth to boost the Cleveland lead to 3-1.

"Hell, Blue threw 139 pitches in 11 innings and I thought he did enough pitching for one night. He also went 11 innings against the Angels here July 9 and it's tough on a pitcher to throw that much during the same homestand," said manager Williams.

The A's won that game against the Angels in 20 innings and Knowles also was the winner, pitching one inning.

In the 12th inning against Cleveland, Oakland loaded the bases on a walk, a bunt single by Joe Rudi, a sacrifice and another walk to pinchhitter Gene Tenace. Then Bando hit a fly ball to short left and Larussa just beat the throw to the plate in a close decision.

"Rudi's bunt with two strikes on him was the big hit of the inning," said Williams. "That kept the rally going and got rid of (Indians reliever Phil) Hennigan."

A GRAND RETURN

Welcome Back, Willie

PITTSBURGH (UPI)— Grand slam home runs, Willie McCovey can take 'em or leave 'em, but McCovey's presence in the San Francisco lineup does wonders for the adrenalin of Giant Manager Charlie Fox.

McCovey has missed nearly half the season due to chronic knee injuries but Wednesday night about two hours before the Giants played Pittsburgh, the slugging first baseman walked up to Fox and said:

"I'd like to try it tonight."

Fox retreated to his office in the San Francisco clubhouse and tossed his original lineup card into the wastebasket.

"How sweet it is," Fox said, as he penciled in McCovey's name on a fresh card.

Came the ninth inning, and McCovey was facing Dave Giusti with the score tied, two out and the bases loaded. One of Giusti's celebrated palm balls failed to fool McCovey, who belted the pitch over the right field fence —his 13th career grand slam —and the Giants were 8-4 winners.

McCovey, whose knee puffed up last Friday in Atlanta after an adverse reaction to a cortisone shot, had played only once in seven days before Wdnesday night. He tied Hank Aaron among active players in grand slam homers, and the two stars are only one back of Gil Hodges, who holds the National League record.

"I felt better tonight, that's why I said I could play," McCovey said, "But in Atlanta I couldn't even walk for two days. I tried to be careful with those shots, because I've been told my limit is one every other week, but for some reason that one I took last week acted up on me."

Giusti, who had struck out Willie Mays with the bases loaded to help the Pirates to an 11-7 victory over the Giants Tuesday night, walked Mays in Wednesday's ninth, forcing in the tying run and setting the stage for McCovey's blast.

Three of the five batters Giusti faced in the ninth reached base, and although Bob Beale, a left hander was warming in the bullpen, Manager Danny Murtaugh elected to

Thomas Levels Guns At Brass

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Duane Thomas spent most of last season barreling through the line for Dallas. Now he's concentrating his offensive against the Cowboys.

Thomas, whose running heroics as a rookie last season lifted Dallas into its first Super Bowl, Wednesday attacked the entire Cowboys' organization as dishonest and racist.

Thomas, who is asking $80,000 from the Cowboys to sign for the 1971 National Football League season, sent blasts in all directions Wednesday. He called Gil Brandt, the director of player personnel, "a liar", branded General Manager Tex Schramm as "dishonest" and labeled Cowboy Coach Tom Landry as a "plastic man".

"I'm asking for $80,000," said Thomas. "I think, everything considered, $80,000 is cheap. The entire Cowboy organization is totally eliminating the fact that I am an artist. After all, they never would have made it to the Super Bowl without me and they never will make it again unless I play for them.

"Tex Schramm has been dishonest with me all along. Gil Brandt is a liar. It doesn't do any good to talk to Tom Landry, because he's so plastic. He's just not a man at all. They keep telling me to wait. Wait for what? Hell, I've done the job already.

"They have done this to all black players," added Thomas, who gained 803 yards last season with five touchdowns. "They have exploited black players all along. Had I been a white player they would not have done me such an injustice.

Thomas said he would settle for less than $80,000 if the Cowboys would make up the difference and give it to black neighborhood programs.

"They just laughed at that," said Thomas.

"They stereotype black players. But I'm not Jim Brown or Calvin Hill, but Duane Thomas, and I want to be treated as an individual. I wouldn't mind being traded. I'm tired of being treated like a stupid animal and I think these people have been trying to crook me."

Brandt, however, said the Cowboys would not trade Thomas.

The Cowboys did receive some good news when All-Pro linebacker Chuck Howley announced he was heading for camp and would play one or two more seasons. Howley, who was contemplating retirement, is 35.

Elsewhere in the training camps, the New England Patriots asked Commissioner Pete Rozelle to arbitrate with the Los Angeles Rams for a fair exchange for Phil Olsen, the Pats' No. 1 draft choice last season who wriggled out of his contract after finding a loophole and signed with the Rams. The teams have been negotiating but no agreement has been reached.

The Patriots, meanwhile, went through their first intrasquad scrimmage with Mike Taliaferro as No. 1 quarterback. Taliaferro led the No. 1 offense to two touchdowns.

The Chicago Bears traded veteran running back Ronnie Bull to the Philadelphia Eagles for a draft choice. Bull, 31, was the Bears' No. 1 draft pick in 1962 from Baylor. He suffers from a knee injury.

Green Bay Coach Dan Devine said quarterback Bart Starr would need "further arm evaluation." Starr was sent to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota for more tests on his ailing passing arm.

Brad Hubbard was the only veteran missing as the Pittsburgh Steelers reported to camp. Hubbard is a holdout.

TEAM TOURNAMENT

Little Leaguers Turn On Power In Quarter-Finals

Little Leaguers turned on the power last night, both at the plate and on the mound, as the number of surviving teams was reduced to four in the annual Marin County team tournament.

Mill Valley National's Robin Marks struck out 16 batters and was backed by Pete Goldsmith's three-run homer and Greg Bluth's two-run double as he stopped San Rafael National on three hits, 8-1.

Three home runs, two by winning pitcher Tom Cooney, gave Novato American a 4-1 decision over Marinwood. Cooney, who fanned nine batters, cracked a solo homer in the fourth and added a two-run shot in the sixth. The other Novato run came on Bill Parmenter's bases-empty homer in the third.

Mike Westin of Sausalito turned in a nine-strikeout, two-hitter for an 8-0 win over Fairfax. Tim Grayson gave Westin all the support he needed when he homered to lead off the game.

In the other game last night, Hamilton-Loma Verde defeated Mill Valley American, 3-0. Lee Smith went the distance for the win, striking out eight and walking three. Wally Murray had a double and a single for Hamilton, as did Rocky Lopez for Mill Valley.

Action continues tomorrow night with two semi-final games. Mill Valley National meets Hamilton-Loma Verde at Gallinas Valley, and Novato American goes against Sausalito at Novato-Rancho. Both games begin at 6 o'clock.

Marin Ruthers Triumph

Central Marin's awesome Babe Ruth League baseball team swept Novato out of the way by a 10-2 score yesterday in the final game of the Northern California District Nine tournament at Rohnert Park.

Phil Bacigalupi, who starred last year as a Freshman at Redwood High School, climaxed the assault with a two run home run in the bottom of the sixth inning. The drive cleared the 345-foot mark in left centerfield, and was the only ball hit out of the park in the tourney.

In winning all four of their games, Central Marin outscored their opposition, 35-5. Yesterday they turned on the power with six runs in the third inning to give starter Gene Grey his second win of the tourney. Doug Hartman, Jeff Vogel and Rob Long all contributed singles to the rally.

Frey, who threw a no-hitter in the opening game, was named to the all-tourney team. He worked five innings yesterday. Mark Ruggles, who also had a no-hitter in the tourney, finished up.

Novato, which had to win twice on Tuesday to earn a confrontation with Central Marin, placed two players on the all-tourney team — Alan Davidson, who made it for his work in left field, and pitcher-outfielder Jeff Pond, who was named MVP.

Central Marin will represent District Nine in the Northern California tournament beginning Saturday in Sacramento.

49er Home Games At Candlestick

The San Francisco 49ers announced this morning that they will definitely play all their 1971 games, including preseason exhibitions, at Candlestick Park.

The announcement put to rest the possibility that, because of work stoppage and delay on the renovation of Candlestick, the National Football League team might have to use Kezar Stadium for its two preseason home games, Aug. 8 against Cleveland and Aug. 22 against San Diego.

Forty-Niner president Lou Spadia praised all those involved in what he called "a superb effort in getting the stadium ready."

"Everyone, Mayor Joseph Alioto and his staff, the Park and Recreation Commission, general contractor William C. Burrows, his superintendent Tom King, the Giants and all the subcontractors have worked very hard to keep the project moving," Spadia said.

Candlestick will have 40,000 seats for the preseason games, and 45,000 for the regular season home opener Oct. 10 against the Los Angeles Rams. Upon completion, the park will seat 60,000 for football. According to the 49ers, work should be finished by the 1972 football season.

The 49ers also announced this morning that season tickets will be mailed out July 28.

Westchester Golf On Weekend TV

NEW YORK (UPI) —The final two rounds of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic will be televised nationally by Hughes Sports Network on Saturday and Sunday.

A six-man team, headed by anchorman Ray Scott, will handle the live coverage.

Siler Hurls No-Hitter For San Marin Nine

Ken Siler came within one batter of a perfect game but settled for a no-hitter yesterday as he pitched San Marin to a 5-0 victory over Tamalpais in a Marin County Joe DiMaggio-League baseball game in Novato.

In another league game yesterday, Nick Mattos singled home two runs in the bottom of the seventh to give Barsotti's Body and Fender a 15-14 victory over the Italian Club in Terra Linda.

Siler, a righthander who pitched for San Marin High School's varsity as a junior last year, had a perfect game going until two were out in the bottom of the sixth. An error at that point gave Tamalpais its only runner of the game.

Siler struck out five men and walked nobody. His teammates gave him single runs in the fourth and fifth, and put all three of their hits together for three runs in the sixth.

Mattos' game-winning single for Barsotti's came after the Italian Club had taken a three-run lead in the top of the seventh when they scored seven times. Mike Sanderson for Barsotti's and Mike Connor for Italian Club had three hits apiece.

Tatum Inks Raiders' Contract

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ohio State All-American Jack Tatum has signed a "multi-year contract" with the Oakland Raiders but the terms of the pact were not revealed, it was announced today.

Tony Razzano of Dayton, Tatum's agent, said the defensive back who was the Raider's top draft pick, signed the contract here Wendesday night where he is in practice for the College All-Star game.

Razzano, who represents five Ohio State players, said he was not at liberty to divulge the terms of the contract and that information would have to come from either Tatum or the Raiders.

"I promised these kids if they want to release their personal income it's their business, but I am not going to," said Razzano.

Razzano represents OSU stars John Brockington, Tim Anderson, Leo Hayden and Jan White. Anderson, Hayden and White are still unsigned.

SPORTS NOTES

Life Begins At 79 For Bowler

By RALPH CHATOIAN

For Dr. L. J. Kirkhoff, the bowling life begins at 79.

Dr. Kirkhoff, a retired dentist who will be 80 next February, bowled his highest game ever, a huge 286, during the team competition of the California State Men's Bowling Tournament going on in Sacramento.

Bowling for the Old Timers, one of 20 Marin County teams entered in the tourney last weekend, he rolled 10 straight strikes before leaving a 6-7 split. He finished the series with a 614 total.

Two other San Rafael bowlers, Larry Williams, 33-year-old landscape contractor, and James Hart, 34-year-old carpenter foreman, jumped into the second place in the state tourney doubles. Williams, 178 average, rolled games of 211, 225 and 265 for 701, and Hart, 179 average, added a 570 for a 1271 scratch total, 1397 with handicap.

SIXTO RODRIQUEZ of Fairfax, former California light heavyweight champion, has returned to boxing — at least in a movie role. Sixto will play the role of a Mexican light heavyweight boxer (that shouldn't be too difficult) in Columbia Pictures' "Fat City," a movie based on Mill Valley author Leonard Gardner's book.

The movie was shot in Stockton and Sixto's part took three weeks to shoot. The picture is due to be released in December.

GORDON TRUE of 142 Margarita Drive, San Rafael, is the man who recently won the KSFO "Good Luck Bunny" contest with his suggestion of the name Short Hop. It's the bunny who goes along with announcers Lon Simmons and Bill Thompson to all Giant games. But after some of the past few games, I keep wondering, what's the good luck?

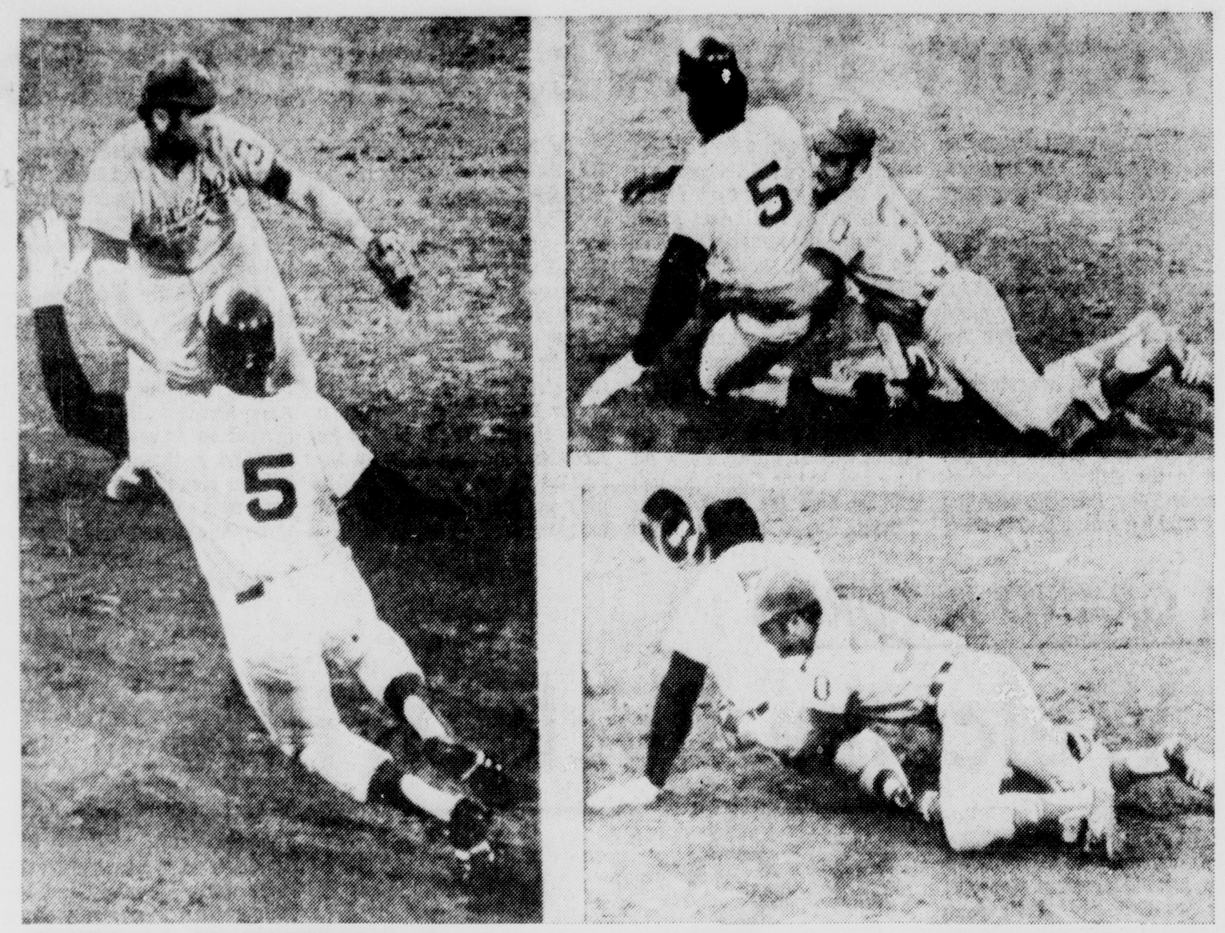
FINE WORDS about Terry Moor of Sausalito come from his tennis coach at San Jose State where Terry is a sophomore. "He's the most improved player in Northern California," said coach Butch Krikorian. Terry has been taking part in the $1,500 Carling Black Label Invitational Tennis Tournament going on at Golden Gateway Tennis Club in San Francisco during the summer months.

NEXT TRIP for the much traveled Giants Booster Club of Northern California is to St. Louis and Chicago, leaving Aug. 4 and returning Aug. 8. In addition to six baseball games, the group will take part in the Sports Hall of Fame and world famous Busch Gardens. Interested persons should contact Boosters president Allan B. Murray, P.O. Box 570, San Rafael.

BAY AREA Trojan Alumni Club will have USC grid coach John McKay as guest speaker at the annual Pre-Season Football Banquet, Aug. 12 in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel. I understand there are quite a few old USC grads in Marin.

VERONICA MC CARTHY of Sausalito will be director of the first Kingswood Village charity table tennis tourney Aug. 28-29 at Kingswood Village on the north shore of Lake Tahoe. It was originally scheduled for July 24-25.

IF YOU MISSED "A Day at Candlestick Park," a behind the scenes of the Giants on KQED, Channal 9, last night at 10 o'clock, you'll get a second chance. The half-hour special will be repeated Saturday at 6 p.m., via the educated Channel 9.



BASEBALL OR FOOTBALL? George Scott of the Boston Red Sox (No. 5) slid into second base and was tackled by Rich Morales of the Chicago White Sox yesterday during the second inning of a game at Boston. Morales was attempting to make the tag after taking a relay from the outfield, but Scott was safe. Boston won, 6-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Pete Brown Named Head Pro At Tilden

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)— Pete Brown, a regular on the tour and the first black player to win a PGA tournament, will be the new head pro at Berkeley's Tilden Park.

Tilden Park is operated by Don the Beachcomber Enterprises. The 36-year-old Brown has been working as an assistant at Westchester, another Don the Beachcomber course.

"When we found Pete was available for full-time work, we couldn't pass him up," a spokesman said Wednesday.

Brown was told in the mid-1950s that he would never walk again after being struck by polio. But he recovered and won the 1964 Waco Turner Open one year after turning professional and he also was the 1970 Andy Williams Open champion.

He will be the first black head pro in the state.

Bando Goes From Goat To Hero

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Vida Blue's road toward 30 victories developed some bumps Wednesday night but Sal Bando did his best to smooth things out.

Blue turned in one of his better performances — 11 strikeouts in 11 innings and eight scattered hits—but wasn't around at the finish to gain credit in the Oakland Athletics' 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

And it was Bando, turning from goat to hero, who kept Blue from losing the game.

With the score tied at 1-1 in the eighth, Bando threw wildly on Steve Dunning's grounder, enabling the Cleveland pitcher to take second. Graig Nettles then followed with a home run to give Cleveland a 3-1 lead.

Bando, 1-for-28 up to that point, then slammed a two-run homer in the ninth to tie the game and drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 12th. Darold Knowles gained credit for the victory.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston downed Chicago 6-1, Kansas City stunned Baltimore 7-2, Washington beat Milwaukee 6-1, Minnesota edged New York 2-1 and Detroit beat California 6-3 in 11 innings before losing the second game 7-6.

George Scott drove in two runs with three singles and a sacrifice fly as Boston beat the White Sox to move within 2 1-2 games of Baltimore in the AL East.

Sonny Siebert pitched a six-hitter for his fifth straight victory and 14th of the season against four losses.

Lou Piniella homered and tripled and Cookie Rojas drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly as the Royals downed Baltimore. The Royals exploded for four runs in the fifth off Jim Palmer to beat the Orioles.

Pete Broberg, Washington's $150,000 bonus baby from Dartmouth, got his first offensive support in three games and took advantage of it in the Senators' triumph over Milwaukee. Broberg, who had given up only three runs in his last 25 innings, gained his second victory against three losses. Del Unser had three hits for the Senators.

Steve Braun's ninth inning single scored pinch-runner Rich Resse with the winning run in Minnesota's victory over the Yankees.

Jim Kaat pitched a threehitter for the Twins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

It Was Mac's 13th Slam

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Willie McCovey, troubled by ailing knees a good part of this season, has gone back to troubling opposing pitchers.

McCovey, starting for the second time in eight days, blasted the 13th grand slam of his career to break a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning Wednesday night, rallying the San Francisco Giants to an 8-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey, voted the National League's All-Star first baseman, sustained damaged ligaments with a possible tear to the cartilage in his left knee in a mishap earlier this season. The 10-year veteran has also been bothered by severe pains in his right knee.

"My right knee has been sore all the time for five years, so there's no use talking about it. Its arthritis," McCovey said.

The Giants' slugger, although persistently bothered by the knee ailments, decided to postpone any operation until the offseason. So despite the pain, McCovey has returned to Manager Charlie Fox' starting lineup posing an added headache to opposing National League pitchers.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago ripped New York 11-7, Atlanta swept San Diego 8-7 and 1-0, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 6-2, Montreal topped Houston 5-3 and St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 6-1.

Darrell Evans hit his 11th homer in the opener and Pat Jarvis pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap and scored from first on a hit by Felix Millan and an error by outfielder Clarence Gaston to help the Braves sweep the doubleheader from the Padres.

Hank Aaron smacked his 619th and 620th homers of his career in the first game.

Ernie Banks hit his 511th career home run as part of a four-run splurge that carried the Cubs to the victory over New York. The homer was only the secnnd this year for the 40-year-old Banks but it moved him into a deadlock with Mel Ott on the All-Time home run list, one behind Eddie Mathews.

Reggie Cleveland pitched a Five-hitter, struck out 10 and singled in two runs as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies.

Matty Alou sparked the Cardinals' attack by driving in three runs with a single and a two-run double and Joe Torre hit a run-scoring triple.

Gary Nolan climaxed a five-run third inning with a two-run single while pitching the Reds over the Dodgers. The victory was the eighth against 10 losses for Nolan, who scattered seven hits, walked one and struck out six.

Joe Morgan's error on a bad hop bouncer with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth gave the Expos two runs and the victory over Houston. Morgan fumbled the grounder off the bat of pinch-hitter Dave McDonald and Bob Bailey and Jim Fairey scored the winning runs. Bailey walked with two out off loser Fred Gladding and went to third on a hit-and-run single by Fairey. John Boccabella walked and McDonald, a .080 hitter, pinch-hit for Bobby Wine.

Rosewall Is Upset In Tennis Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)— John Alexander used an aggressive serve and volley Wednesday to upset sixth-seeded Ken Rosewall 7-5, 7-5 in the $50,000 First National Tennis Classic.

Rosewall, winner of the Washington Star International Tourney last Sunday, was the third top ranking star to be eliminated in the classic. Arthur Ashe, the No. 1 seeded player, and second seeded Rod Laver were knocked out of the tournament Monday.

Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia, the upset conqueror of Ashe on Monday, won his second round match Wednesday with a 6-1, 75 decision over Bob Carmichael of Paris, France.

Bill Bowrey of Australia, who ousted Laver on Monday, kept intact his record of never advancing beyond the second round of the current world champion tennis tour. He lost to fellow Australian Ray Ruffels, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3 Wednesday.

The tourney, which carries a first prize of $10,000, continues today with the remainder of second round matches.

Jesse Freitas Leaves Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) —Junior quarterback Jesse Freitas, lost in the shadow of Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett last year, has left Stanford to try his luck with the San Diego State Aztecs. Freitas, 1968 Northern California Back of the Year while in high school, felt he was still crowded by returning Don Bunce, who was redshirted last year while Plunkett passed his way into the Rose Bowl, and sophomore Mike Boryla.

stay with his righthander against the southpaw McCovey.

"I wasn't surprised that Giusti pitched to me," McCovey said. "After all he is the best relief pitcher in the league, so why take out your ace. With that slip pitch of his, he's capable of getting anyone out."

After McCovey connected, Murtaugh got embroiled in an argument with plate umpire Bob Engel, who tossed both the manager and coach Frank Oceak out of the game.

"I thought the second pitch Giusti made to Mays —the pitch Engel called ball two was in there," Murtaugh said. "The umpire said it was outside. I don't remember what I said, but I do know I was loud."

McCovey was asked if the possibility of breaking the grand slam homer record gives him a thrill. "Not really," the big bachelor said, "but girls do."

JACK HANLEY

It Was Truly Big League Play

PITTSBURGH — During his 14 major league campaigns, seven in the American and Seven in the National, Don McMahon has seen all of the good second basemen.

"But," said the 41-year-old bullpen veteran who is known to his Giant teammates as the "Old Man" and "Old Folks," "I have never seen any second baseman who can go to his left like Tito Fuentes.

I DON'T know the precise number of hits Tito has taken away from batters on authoritatively smashed grounders that were headed into right field. A dozen? Two dozen? Whatever the total, let's acknowledge, because it's the truth, that Tito turns in one spectacular every series.

"Everybody knows Tito has fast hands. But I think he has faster feet. He moves laterally with gliding grace. And his off-balance throws for the putout are amazingly accurate and beautiful to watch."

STRANGELY, however, McMahon didn't single out one of Tito's accurate throws for special commendation.

"The one I never will forget was his throw to Willie McCovey from the right field grass where he had flagged a blistering shot by Tom Haller. We were ahead of the Dodgers 1-0. A capacity Dodger Stadium crowd was screaming for a rally and Wes Parker and Jim LeFebre tried to set one in motion with one-out singles in the seventh.

"DUKE SIMS then launched a liner to left center but Kenny Henderson ran it down on the warning track. Haller next went to bat as a pinch hitter for Don Sutton. Haller blistered the ball toward the right side hole. No other second baseman could have gotten to it. But Tito did. It was one of his many game-saving plays this season."

How could McMahon recall in detail two weeks later the exact setup of that situation? He wasn't the pitcher at the time. Gaylord Perry was.

"Two weeks, two years, it makes no difference," said McMahon. "I'll always remember it for three reasons.

"FIRST, TITO made an unbelievable throw. He got the ball to McCovey even though it was in the dirt.

"Second, McCovey made an unbelievable backhanded scoop of the ball while falling across the bag, looking toward right field. Yes, Big Mac twisted himself out of shape to glove the ball out of the dirt.

"Third Haller could have given McCovey a terrible spiking as he lay defenseless across the bag. But Haller hurdled McCovey so as not to injure him.

"THERE WERE three big league plays on that ball — Tito's, McCovey's and Haller's.

"Haller always was one of the most popular players in Candlestick when he was a Giant. When the Dodgers visit us Aug. 1-2 in Candlestick, the fans won't do wrong by giving Haller the kind of ovation a true sportsman deserves."

Packers Trade Jeter

GREEN BAY (UPI)—Troubled Bob Jeter, a defensive halfback who has been in Green Bay Packers' Coach Dan Devine's doghouse since last spring, was traded today to the Chicago Bears for running back Ross Montgomery.

The trade of Jeter had been expected since April when Devine failed to list Jeter on the Green Bay roster after a run-in during a special prepractice training game in Texas. The 34-year-old Jeter failed to run a qualifying series of runs in the Texas camp and surrendered his place in the three-deep Green Bay lineup to second year man Al Matthews.

Montgomery was the leading runner in the weak Bears' running game a year ago. The 25-year-old former TCU athlete was a third round draft choice in 1969 and has spent two years wth Chicago.

The Packers also gave the Bears an undisclosed draft choice in the deal.

Jeter is an eight-year veteran with the Packers. He started his professional career in Canada after being selected by Green Bay in the second round of the 1960 draft.

Stabler To Get A Chance

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)—If Daryle Lamonica continues to stay away from the Oakland Raider training camp, Ken Stabler will probably get a shot at working out with the veterans, according to Coach John Madden.

Stabler, the No. 3 man behind Lamonica and George Blanda, stands "a good chance to work out with the first group," Madden said Wednesday.

Lamonica, the Raider's starter, has been a holdout on his contract, along with veteran tackle Bob Svihus. The Raiders said Wednesday they had had no word from either of the players.

Blanda, the 44-year-old kicking specialist who filled in at quarterback last year when Lamonica was sidelined, was due in camp on Sunday.

Madden put his charges—70 rookies and vets —through the first of two-a-day workouts Wednesday. Wide receiver Drew Buie suffered a bruised hip during passing practice and there was no immediate word on when he would be available for action again.

Madden said Larry Todd, a running back who had off-season surgery on a bad knee, wouldn't be practicing with the squad until he is fully recovered. Todd has been loosening up on an exercise machine.

Linemen Have To Win Jobs

GOLETA, Calif. (UPI)--San Francisco's offensive line will have to do more than rest on its laurels, according to assistant coach Dick Stanfel.

Last year, tackles Len Rohde and Cas Banaszek, center Forrest Blue, and guards Woody Peoples and Randy Beisler set a NFL record in protecting quarterback John Brodie, who was caught behind the line only eight times.

But Stanfel, the 49ers offensive line coach, hasn't guaranteed anybody a starting post this season.

"I have an open mind," Stanfel said Wednesday at the 49er training camp. "Whoever starts in the offensive line this year will have to prove to me he has earned a right to the position. Past reputations don't count."

Stanfel, 43, succeeded Ernie Zwahlen as line coach early this year after Zwahlen decided to take an offer at Houston.

If the 49er veteran linemen have to fret about making it as starters, two rookie draft choices who were considered dark horses for making the team, have given up any attempt.

Wide receiver Al Bresler, a sixth-round draft pick from Auburn, and offensive tackle Dean Shaternick, fifth round selectee from Kansas State, left the 49er's training camp after the morning workout Wednesday.

Bresler, a 6-1 176-pounder, was considered one of the fastest players on the squad.

Transpacific Yacht Race Officially Over

HONOLULU (UPI) —The 1971 biennial Transpacific Yacht Race is over, with Windward Passage the talk of the fleet.

The race, which started from San Pedro, Calif. July 4, ended early Wednesday when Rowena, a 49-foot cutter from the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco, sailed past the Diamond Head finish line, the last of the 69 vessels to arrive.

Three other yachts, the 40-foot ketch Leprechaun out of the Long Beach Yacht Club, the 40-foot yawl Bold Host out of the Metropolitan Yacht Club and the 36-foot sloop Woodwynd from the Pacific Mariners Yacht Club crossed the line Tuesday night.

The three that arrived Tuesday night were all class D boats while Rowena was the only class B boat that hadn't finished. Her strategy of taking a northerly course in hopes of catching big winds backfired. The rest of the fleet sailed in a southerly direction and found stronger winds stirred up by tropical storm Denise last week.

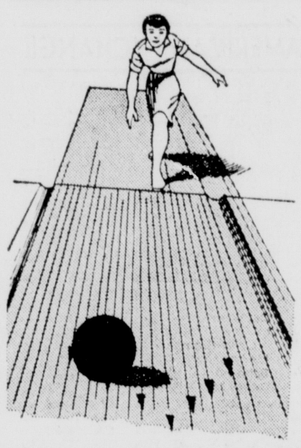
Mark Johnson's Windward Passage, a 73-foot ketch from the Lahaina Yacht Club, stole the show in the 26th biennial race. She became the first class A vessel in the history of the race to capture three first places. Windward Passage was first to finish, the first in her class and the first in corrected handicap times for the entire fleet.

Unofficial class winners were Encore, a 43-foot sloop from Balboa Yacht Club, in class B; Argonaut, a 40-foot sloop from the Santa Barbara Yacht Club in class C and Dakar, a 41-foot sloop from the Del Rey Yacht Club in class D.

Awards were presented at a victory banquet Wednesday night.

BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Most bowlers select a spot over which they want to roll the ball to complement the amount of hook they have developed. most hook bowlers can roll the ball over the second spot from the right (illustrated) and count on a consistent pocket hit. But don't look at the pins until your ball has rolled over the selected spot.

Seals Sign Two Young Defensemen

OAKLAND (UPI) —The California Golden Seals have announced the signing of defensemen Ken Baird and Dick Redmond, bringing the number of players under contract for the 1971-72 National Hockey League season to five.

Redmond, a 21-year-old 170-pounder, played in 11 games for the Seals last season, gaining two goals and four assists. Baird, a lefthanded defenseman who played in the Western Canada Junior League last year, was the Seals No. 1 draft pick.

Pelican Yacht Race Scheduled July 31

Petraglia Hikes His Money Lead

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Johnny Petraglia's third place finish in the El Paso Open added $1,500 to his earnings which lengthened his lead to more than $21,000 in the Professional Bowlers Association (PBS) official 1971 money standings.

Petraglia, of Brooklyn, N.Y., hiked his winnings to $73,838.

Don Johnson of Akron, Ohio, was second this week with $52,759. He picked up $600 for his 16th place finish in the El Paso Open.

Last year's money winner, Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, Calif., jumped to 10th place in the standings when he finished second at the tourney. He picked up $2,200 to up his earnings to $19,330.

Bowlers will be competing for a $4,000 first place prize this weekend in the Houston Sertoma Open.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

HUD Tax-Exempt Bonds Are Sound

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in knowing more about tax-exempt bonds and would appreciate your writing more articles on them. — M.K.

A. I am happy to comply. Of particular interest in the tax-exempt sector are the bonds offered periodically by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, popularly referred to as HUD. Ranked second only to direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury, these issues carry AAA ratings and are among the safest debt instruments available. Payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the federal government and interest is exempt from Federal taxation.

In May HUD auctioned $196.9 million in bonds of nine local authorities and these were sold to the public to yield 2.9 per cent for 1971s up to 5.9 per cent for 2003 --11 maturities. The bonds issued in $5000 minimum amounts were available in both coupon and registered forms. Originally 19 local authorities were scheduled to offer $356.5 million long term bonds but this was scaled down and the balance is expected some time before Fall. Since 1951, HUD has sponsored 67 public auctions at which more than $7.2 billion long term bonds have been sold. Of these $6 billion are still in public hands. Proceeds from the auctions are used to reimburse the government for monies advanced to the local authorities for building low rent housing.

Q. I hold 100 U.S. Banknote shares costing 9⅝. Do you have any information on this stock? — R.A.

A. This company prints and engraves stock certificates, stamps, foreign currency and other commerical and financial communications. With the fate of the stock certificate presently under discussion, these shares are trading under somewhat of a cloud. However, several new products introduced recently are in wholly diverse fields. An electronic temperature taking device for hospital use, a line of shoe care products and three noncombustible wall coatings are now in production. Although downside risk is minimal, shares have limited appeal at this time.

Aeronautical Firms To Propose Landing System

VAN NUYS, CALIF. (BW) — ITT Gilfillan Inc. and Honeywell Inc. will propose to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to develop themicrowave landing system (MLS) under an arrangement announced by both companies yesterday.

ITT Gilfillan, a subsidiary of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., would be prime contractor. It would study and develop the MLS ground system.

Honeywell's government and aeronautical products division would carry out the study and development of airborne and distance measuring equipment as a subcontractor to Gilfillan.

ITT Gilfillan has a strong background in the air traffic control field and is the world's leading manufacturer of precision approach radar systems. It also developed the prototype regal system for the FAA and the automatic ground control approach. Both systems have performed completely automatic instrument landings.

Honeywell successfully demonstrated a C-band portable instrument landing system in Vietnam during the 1969 monsoon season in a military evaluation, featuring a system that could control as many as 50 aircraft simultaneously in a combat area.

Both companies have been significant contributors to the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics SC-117 committee and signal format development team which has studied and made recommendations to the FAA on the MLS.

Development of the MLS will involve the Department of Transportation, NASA and Department of Defense. It is the next generation instrument landing system and will fulfill the functions of the present landing system in use by both commercial and military aviation worldwide, but also considerably improve the capabilities and accuracies.

It is planned to have the MLS accepted as the national standard landing system in the United States by 1975 and adopted as the International Civil Aviation Organization international standard by 1980.

Market Hit By Late Decline

NEW YORK (UPI) — A stock market decline accelerated in the last hour of trading today.

"The administration has said the economy is on an upward curve and that everything is proceeding on schedule, but there is not sufficient evidence of this to convince investors," said Robert B. Johnson, a general partner of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.18 at 99.10, while declines topped advances, 771 to 520, among the 1,642 issues crossing the tape.

Oils showed scattered strength, with Superior Oil among the gainers. In general, however, the group traded in fractions and without definite direction.

Steels, motors, rails, and aircrafts also moved over narrow ranges. Chemicals, airlines and electronics tended easier, although fractional gainers cropped up in both groups.

Prices eased in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Fraud Charge

Harrisburg (UPI)—ThePennsylvania attorney general's office has sued Nu-Mari Enterprises, Inc., of Bethlehem, charging deceptive operation of its "shoppers union" buyers service.

Stone Age Diet: Tadpoles, No Cavities

By EDUARDO RESPOSO

MT. TASADAY, Philippines (UPI)—A tribe living in Stone Age culture, isolated in tropical rain forest from the rest of the world for perhaps 2,000 years, has something the civilized world seems to have lost along the centuries. Sound teeth.

Anthropologists who led a group of foreign and local newsmen to this rugged mountain on the big southernmost Philippines island of Mindanao said the newly discovered Tasaday tribe's stone tools and technology were more primitive than those of the Negritoes.

The post-Stone Age Negritoes of Luzon island, heretofore considered the most primitive in the Philippines, have a bone arrow and immense knowledge of plant life.

The Tasadays are purely food-gathering and animal-trapping forest people, without argiculture or a way of slaying an animal, said Father Frank Lynch, an Irish anthropologist now with Ateneo University in Manila. They have never known sugar, rice, tobacco, or salt.

The anthropologists believe the Tasadays—only six families totaling 24 to 26 individuals have so far been located —fled their lowland homes 1,500 to 2,000 years ago in fear of a plague.

Their food includes tadpoles, insects, crustaceans, and small fish that they catch by hand in the little streams in the mountain gullies. They also dig up wild yams and tubers for food.

Dr. Norman Winters, a Philippine National Museum curator and practicing dentist who is trying to find out "how a people without a civilized diet have survived," said the condition of the Tasadays' teeth was excellent.

"No cavities," Winters, an American said.

Dr. Robert B. Fox, an American who heads the museum's anthropology department and who led the group here during the weekend, said: "It is safe to assume the Tasadays went into isolation before iron was common in the Philippines, and that was 280 B.C."

Fox said the time of their separation could be fixed by studying the evolution of their language. Father Teodoro Llamzon, a linguist at Ateneo University, said after hearing some of their vocabulary that "it is possible they separated about 2,000 years ago."

The Tasadays, who wear scanty strips of plant leaf for clothing, are dark-skinned and under 5 feet tall. The anthropologists showed newsmen a chipped stone hammer, a stone scraper, and a stone ax--all with rattan handles —as examples of their tools.

They build fires by rubbing dried sticks. They have learned to avoid the tedium of this chore by making the fires burn all night. The fires serve as warmth in the mountain heights.

What's in store for the Tasadays? Manuel Elizalde Jr., presidential assistant on national minorities who led an original group to see them last month, said they were thrown into a frenzy of fear when his helicopter landed, calming down later. If they were left alone, it would be the best thing, he said.

"But since the forest where they live is valuable to other people," Elizalde added, "we must try to ease the contact with the outside world so that damage is avoided. Our first step would be to request this area become a national park of some kind where they can live as they see fit."

Pacific Tel Rate High Is Due Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Pacific Telephone Co. boosts its rates Friday.

The state Public Utilities Commission authorized the higher rates on June 22 after conducting public hearings on the company's proposal.

The monthly rate for a single-party home phone in San Francisco and most of the Bay Area will increase from $4.65 to $5.65. Message units will go up from 4.05 cents to 4.7 cents.

Business customer rates will go from $9-14.50 a month to $12.50-$15.65 a month.

However, long-distance rates within the state will be reduced if the calls are dialed direct, and there will be a special low rate for late-night calls.

Plumbers Atop The Wage List

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Plumbers now can make more than top instructurs under new wage scales adopted by the Los Angeles Community College District.

The board has approved raises ranging from 4 per cent an hour for painters to 18 per cent hourly for electricians.

Under the "prevailing community rates" for the district's 95 employes, tradesmen are guaranteed 12 months work annually at salaries up to $21,484. The top teaching wage, spread over the 10-month school year, is $17,220.

Chicago Out As Convention Site

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago has withdrawn its bid to be the site of the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Col. Jack Reilly, director of special events, said Wednesday Sen. Robert Dole, GOP national chairman, had been informed it was necessary for Chicago to withdraw from contention because of "prior commitments."

Chicago, Miami Beach and San Diego, Calif., reportedly won presidential approval Tuesday as potential sites for the convention.

Corpses Pile Up In Diggers Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 800 bodies have accumulated in San Francisco and San Mateo County mortuaries since a gravediggers strike started June 3, it was reported today.

The bodies have been embalmed and stored in coffins, authorities said, so there is no health problem.

Mortuaries in San Francisco in some cases have had to rent storage space in other funeral homes officials said.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, July 22, the 203rd day of 1971.

The moon is new.

The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Leo.

American psychiatrist Karl Menninger was born July 22, 1893.

On this day in history:

In 1864 Confederate troops under Gen. John Hood were defeated by Gen. William Sherman's Union forces in the Battle for Atlanta.

In 1932 Congress passed the first home loan bank act, providing federal funds to private mortgage-lendng institutions.

In 1934 notorious gangster John Dillinger was killed when 27 FBI men trapped him coming out of a Chicago theater.

In 1944 delegates from 44 nations approved an international reconstruction bank with capital of more than $9 billion.

A thought for today: American philosopher William James said: "Do not be afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living and your belief will help create that fact."

Environmental Chief Applauds President

WASHINGTON (UPI) —William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, describes his relations with the White House as very good and "I've never seen anything in what the President has said or done that indicates anything but full support for what we're doing."

Ruckelshaus made the comment Tuesday when asked if the President backed tough antipollution enforcement.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Stress And Strain Of Tournament Play Is Great

Old bridge players never die; they simply wind up in the loony bin. This doesn't happen much to rubber bridge players, but the tension eventually gets to tournament players, like the thousands of aficionados now competing in the national tournament at the Palmer House, Chicago. Today's hand may give you an idea of how hard tournament champions must strain in the effort to beat par.

STRETCH BID East would have made five hearts, but only because the missing four clubs happened to be equally divided. The odds were about 3 to 2 against this, so Italian experts Walter Avarelli and Massimo D'Alelio had stretched the East-West cards to the breaking point by bidding five hearts.

English champions Kenneth Konstam and Maurice Harrison-Gray had to judge whether they could beat five hearts. If not, they then had to guess whether a sacrifice at five spades would cost more than letting East make five hearts.

These are bidding problems that cause no strain on rubber bridge players. You tend to let an opponent play a hand at five of a major on the theory that the contract must be doubtful since otherwise the opponents would have explored slam possibilities.

50 POINTS

The play contributed its share of the stresses. Avarelli started well when he led the jack of hearts from the West hand. This enabled him to hold the lead, and D'Alelio signaled by playing the ten of hearts.

This could not ask for a heart continuation, since East would have overtaken with the queen of hearts to lead another heart himself if that was what he wanted. Instead, the ten of hearts asked for a switch to the higher of the two side suits.

PARTNER RUFFS

Avarelli switched to a diamond, and his partner ruffed. The ace and king of clubs were followed by another diamond ruff, for a penalty of 500 points.

This was more than the 450 points that the Italian stars would have scored at five hearts (honors don't count in tournament play). The difference of 50 points would be insignificant at rubber bridge, but at tournament play it gave the Italians a top score and the English a bottom.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ - 8 6 3
♥ - A K Q 10 6 3 2

♣ - A 9 2.
What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

An opening bid of four hearts might hurt your chance of finding a makable slam.

Credits Long Life To Daily Cigars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sioux Indian Chief Red Fox, 101, credits his long life to 15 push-ups and 18 cigars a day.

He said tobacco has as many vitamins as such vegetables as cabbage and cauliflower. The chief recalled that women who smoked pipes and sniffed snuff "would give birth to a baby today and be up washing diapers in the morning."

Priest For UFWOC Is Reinstated

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Roman Catholic Father Victor Salandini, the "Farm Workers' priest," had his suspension lifted today after agreeing to abide by liturgical rules, Bishop Leo T. Maher said.

The bishop suspended Father Salandini Thursday for disobeying church rules over vestments at mass and use of corn tortillas for communion.

The priest defied the suspension and continued saying masses largely for farm workers involved in a dispute between Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee and the Egger-Ghio farm in the South Bay area.

"Father Salandini met with Bishop Maher today and agreed to abide by liturgical rules," a statement from diocesan headquarters said. "He will in the future wear the vestments of Our Lady of Guadalupe design and will use wheat hosts for communion."

After his suspension, Father Salandini said he was "not at all bitter." He said, "Censure is a small price to pay to help right the injustice to farm workers who are wounded every day by being denied representation of the union of their choice."

The priest had been warned by the bishop about wearing the UFWOC black eagle insignia on a serape while saying mass and about conducting services in front of the home of Robert Egger, partner in the Egger-Ghio farm operation.

Salandini "is immediately going away for a four-day spiritual retreat," the diocesan statement said.

It noted the lifting of the suspension meant the priest "may again hear confessions and preach as well as fulfill his other priestly functions."

Weekend Jail In Heroin Case

Carla June Lanum, 30, of Santa Venetia, has been fined $250 and sentenced to five weekends in Marin County Jail for possessing heroin in April 1970.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed her on probation for two years.

She was arrested April 23 in a raid on a San Rafael apartment in which drug agents found 10 packets of heroin.

Expert Doubts Violin Spider Caused Death

OAKLAND (UPI)—A spider specialist doubts that Thomas Conger, 55, really died from the bite of a violin spider.

Conger, who died Sunday, told doctors at Kaiser Hospital before his death he had been bitten by a spider while building a home in the Butte County town of Paradise. The doctors concluded it was a violin spider from his description.

Frank Ennick, who is with the state Department of Health, said it was unlikely a violin spider could be in northern California. Ennick just completed a professional thesis on the South American insect.

The only other recorded death in California from the spider occurred in Los Angeles in 1969.

Petition Filed To Halt Hi-Rises In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A court petition has been filed asking for a halt to construction of high-rise buildings in San Francisco until after the November election.

The petition, filed by Alvin Duskin in Superior Court, asks the City Planning Commission and the Board of Permit Appeals not to issue any building permits until after the election.

The petition says all city agencies are legally required to impose a moratorium on buildings higher than 72 feet, because the presnet building code provides for it.

A question on high-rises will be placed on the November ballot.

Tentative Nod To Air Pact

MONTREAL (UPI)—Air Canada and its maintenance crews reached tentative agreement on a new contract today, ending the threat of periodic strikes which have hampered Canada's government-owned airline for the past 10 days.

"They are now in the process of signing an agreement," chief federal labor mediatior Bernard Wilson said.

The agreement was reached after the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers (IAM) called its third 24-hour strik since July 12. The union walked off the job at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Montreal International Airport.

Air Force: Marin Free To Build Facility It Needs At Hamilton

By BENJAMIN SHORE
(I-J correspondent)

WASHINGTON — Marin County is free to erect a civilian air terminal of any type or design at Hamilton Air Force Base provided the structure meets the base's standards for safety, Air Force officials say.

"Whatever will satisfy community purposes and not interfere with Air Force operations will be acceptable," said Bernard Dove, chief of Bases and Units.

Marin County last week received permission to use the base for civilian commercial flights. County and Air Force officials now must work out a joint-use agreement formalizing the arrangement, and commuter flights could begin as soon as four months from now.

Dove said the exact type of the required passenger terminal structure would be determined in negotiations between county and Hamilton officials as part of the process of working out all details for limited civilian use.

Another Air Force official pointed out that the terminal initially would be used exclusively by Golden Pacific Airlines, which has a joint-use application pending with Marin County. Therefore, the county is not likely to build a structure larger than Golden Pacific needs and is willing to pay for, the official said.

Once an agreement is worked out, the Air Force will permit civilian flight operations on a temporary basis until a terminal and parking area on the base is completed. Under terms of the temporary arrangement, passengers will have to park off the base.

Golden Pacific earlier this month began similar operations at Travis Air Force Base in Fairfield. Until a terminnal is built on the field, passengers park outside the main gate, buy their tickets at an airline booth and are bussed to the planes.

The Air Force has agreed to permit eight flights daily at Hamilton. These flights will take passengers to and from San Francisco International Airport.

Counter-Coup In Sudan Reported

Libya Kidnapping; Crash In Arabia

BEIRUT (UPI) —Forces loyal to ousted Sudanese President Maj. Gen. Jaafar Numeiry occupied Omdurman Radio station today in an apparent counter-coup against the pro-Communist group who deposed him on Monday.

The Egyptian Middle East News Agency in Cairo quoted the radio station which is the Sudan national radio, as saying Numeiry "is well and will still lead the nation."

The radio announcement came a few hours after neighboring Libya forced down a British airliner in Benghazi and kidnaped the president of the new Sudanese Revolutionary Council and another council member who were aboard it.

Sudanese troops earlier were reported to have surrounded the Libyan, Egyptian and Syrian embassies in the Sudanese capital of Khartoum in retaliation.

Then the Middle East News Agency reported the broadcast from the radio station in Omdurman, the twin city of Khartoum, as saying:

"Sudanese forces led by Lt. Mohammed Ali Krbasi have occupied the radio station.

"Maj. Gen. Numeiry will broadcast to the nation soon."

The agency quoted a spokesman identified as Col. Salah Abdel Aal as saying on the radio:

"The catastrophe through which the nation has passed in the last few days is now over."

(Qualified British sources said in London that fresh fighting had broken out in Khartoum, beginning at about 4 p.m. local time.

(The London Sources said tanks had surrounded the presidential palace and that shooting was reported around Army headquarters.

(The sources said the fighting appeared to be the beginning of an attempt by Numeiry or his supporters to regain the control they lost on Monday.)

Numeiry was toppled by a group of army officers—several of whom had helped him in power in a coup a year ago. Their leader, Lt. Col Babakr El Nur Osman, told UPI in London Wednesday he hoped to steer Sudan on "the path to scientific socialism."

He was one of the two members of the new revolutionary council aboard the British plane forced down today in Libya. Libyan jets buzzed the plane to force it to land. Libya's government supported Numeiry's anti-Communist policies.

The Middle East News Agency quoted another announcement over Omdurman radio by Maj. Abou Khassem Mohammed Ibrahim as declaring a state of emergency throughout the Sudan with a curfew starting at 6 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT).

Ibrahim was a member of the Revolutionary Command Council loyal to Numeiry which the pro-Communist group replaced.

The radio station asked its employees to report immediately for duty.

"Your revolution is steadfast and the armed forces will continue the march at your wish," Ibrahim was quoted as saying, and he ended by quoting Numeiry.

In London, the British government announced it had protested to Libya in "the strongest possible terms" about the "outrageous" forcing down of the airliner and had demanded the release of the two Libyan politicians.

Libyan jet fighters forced a British Overseas Airways VC10 with 107 passengers aboard to land at the Libyan city of Benghazi at dawn today and disembark Lt. Col. Babakr al Nour Osman, the pro-Communist president of the new Council, and another council member.

The second council member was tentatively identified as Maj. Farouk Hamadallah. The airliner, enroute to Khartoum, turned around and returned to London.

Nour, 37, had been enroute to Khartoum to assume power as president of the new Revolutionary Command Council. Both he and Hamadallah were in London when the previous Sudanese military regime was overthrown Monday in the fourth coup in 15 years.

The previous regime had been negotiating for membership in a new federation of Arab states with Egypt, Libya and Syria. The new government is hostile to the federation project.

Before leaving London Wednesday, Nour told UPI: "We are going ahead on the path of scientific socialism."

Nour and his new vice president, Maj. Mohammed el Atta, 36, (Atta actually led the 45-minute coup on Monday), were fired from the previous government nine months ago for their pro-Communist sympathies.

The premier of Libya, Col. Moammar Khadafy, is outspokenly anti-Communist. That, and the new regime's hostility to Arab federation, plus their arrest and detention of the old regime's president, Maj. Gen. Jaafar Numeiry, were seen as the reasons the airliner carrying Nour was forced down.

In Baghdad, Iraq, the official Iraqi News Agency said that a special Iraqi aircraft carrying high-ranking Iraqi officials to Khartoum crashed in the Saudi Arabian desert today, killing three high-ranking Iraqi officials who were enroute to the Sudan to confer with leaders of the new military government there.

The Iraqi agency gave no cause for the crash. Egypt's Voice of the Arabs radio said the plane exploded in the air.

The plane went down three miles north of Jeddah, Saudi Arabia's commercal capital on the Red Sea, when it was on its landing run for a refueling in Jeddah.

The Iraqi News Agency said there were several dead and injured. It said the dead included Mohammed Suleiman, a member of the ruling Baath (Renaissance) Party's "Pan-Arab Command" which handles political contacts with friendly Arab regimes elsewhere; Salah Saleh, a member of the command's military bureau, and Hammoudi el Izzawi, a foreign ministry official.

ACTIVITY CENTERS — The situation worsened today in Sudan with the report of a counter-coup by Loyalists in Khartoum (center) and the kidnapping of the nation's new revolutionary leader and his top aide at Benghazi, Libya (maltese cross) after Libyan jets forced a British jetliner carrying the pair to land. Meanwhile, a special Iraqi airliner carrying high-ranking Iraqi officials crashed near end of a flight from Baghdad to the Saudi Arabian city of Jiddah.

Quentin Guard Is Slain While Protecting Inmate

A correctional officer at San Quentin was killed yesterday in the prison hospital as he attempted to protect a previously wounded inmate from attackers.

Leo G. Davis, 38, was stabbed to death in the hospital wing, where he had been assigned to guard Herman Earl Johnson, 25, who had been knifed Monday in the prison yard.

Johnson had testified earlier this year in the case of seven Soledad prisoners, and the attack Monday by other inmates was believed to be in retaliation for that testimony.

This was the first killing of a guard at the Marin County prison in 19 years, officials said.

According to prison officers, Davis was outside Johnson's locked hospital cell when four inmates tried to seize his keys. He was unarmed, as are all guards in the immediate charge of prisoners to prevent seizure of their weapons by inmates.

Prison officials said Davis was stabbed nine times but that the murderers, apparently frightened away, did not get to Johnson.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said a collection of weapons was found and that five inmates were being questioned. The warden's office would not release their names.

Embittered correctional officers told the Independent-Journal last night they regarded Davis was doomed to death the moment he was assigned to Johnson, because any killer would have to get Davis first in order to reach Johnson.

LEO G. DAVIS
Killed on duty

Johnson's cell, the guards said, was easily accessible to all inmates in the hospital as well as to any assassin who might fake an illness to get at the prisoner.

According to the guards, who asked that they not be identified, Davis, after being stabbed, retreated from the area of Johnson's cell, drawing the killers with him. Guards said the killers probably used prison made shanks as weapons.

The correctional officers said they were angry that Johnson was not "tucked away somewhere" because of Monday's attempt on his life.

The local chapter of California Correctional Officers Association (CCOA) has prepared a suit against the state and the administration of San Quentin for its "negligence in providing adequate protection for correctional officer L. G. Davis," the I-J was told by Arnold Thompson, state vice president of CCOA and an officer at the prison. He said the failure of the administration to provide proper officer protection "killed officer Davis."

The Marin County Coroner's Office listed the cause of death as "shock incurred from a pierced lung." Three of Davis's nine wounds were in the chest, the coroner said.

Guards told the I-J that a prisoner named Justice and two other inmates have been arrested for the killing, but San Quentin officials declined to confirm the report or give any arrest information.

Johnson, the intended quarry, was serving a 10-year sentence for auto theft and assault with a deadly weapon. He was a witness for the prosecution in the murder trial of the Soledad seven accused of killing officer William G. Shull last July 23.

Davis was the fifth person to be killed at San Quentin this year. The four others were inmates. All were stabbed.

Davis was the father of four children. He, his wife Caryol and their family lived in Richmond.

Ross Valley Building Ban Imposed

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — A ban on all new construction in most of the Ross Valley, with limited exceptions, was imposed today by the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

Only Corte Madera and Larkspur were exempted from the ban ordered against the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Thee two communities pump their sewage to the district's treatment plant, and were not blamed for floating matter discharged by the plant into Corte Madera Creek.

The board ordered the district to end pollution from the plant "forthwith."

The ban, however, was aimed primarily at the district's bypassing the plant in wet weather to dump raw sewage into the creek.

The district told the regional board's hearing panel Tuesday it needed five years to stop bypassing. Today's order, however gave the district only until April 1, 1974.

The district could be fined $6,000 a day if it failed to meet the deadline.

The ban applied to Greenbrae, Kentfield, Kent Woodlands, Ross, San Anselmo, Fairfax and Sleepy Hollow.

The ban, similar to one imposed last month in Southern Marin, would allow new construction only to the extent that improvements offset flows from additional sewer connections.

The ban did not apply to buildings under construction or permits issued before today.

The ban was ordered by the full board upon the recommendation of the three-member hearing panel.

Angela Attorney Says Prejudicial Publicity Hurts Any Fair Trial

By JEFF GREER

Angela Y. Davis cannot get a fair trial anywhere in the United States because of prejudicial publicity, one of her defense attorneys declared today.

Attorney Sheldon Otis argued that the court has no choice but to dismiss outright the indictment against Miss Davis. Otherwise, he said, the court should at least grant a full-scale hearing to receive evidence of the public bias which would make it impossible to find impartial jurors.

Miss Davis was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury on charges of murder, kidnap and conspiracy in the Aug. 7, 1970, shoot-out in which Judge Harold J. Haley and three other persons were killed.

Otis claimed today there had been so much nationwide publicity about the crime itself, Miss Davis's communist party and militant connections and — particularly affecting Marin County and California taxpayers — the expense of the trial that any court would be "playing a game" to try to empanel an impartial jury. He read scores of newspaper clippings from all over the U.S. to back his argument.

"America is steeped with this sickness, bias, racism, insanity with respect to communism" since even before Miss Davis was indicted, Otis said. "Every reference to her associations produces a vigorous reaction of bias against Miss Davis," the defense attorney claimed.

Prosecution argument against the dismissal request was to be heard this afternoon.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris, chief prosecutor in the Davis case, partly switched stands yesterday on Miss Davis's request to be cocounsel in her own defense. He declared he had no objections if Miss Davis participated as cocounsel, but only during pretrial hearings in her case.

This came after Miss Davis eloquently argued for more than two hours that her cocounsel status was "a key element of defense strategy . . . inseparably linked to fairness and justice . . ." to help offset "the enormous resources of the prosecutor."

Following the daylong arguments by the black militant former professor and Harris, Judge Richard E. Arnason said he would issue his ruling later.

Originally, Harris vehemently objected to allowing Miss Davis to speak at all, on grounds that she would deliver a political speech. After Miss Davis spoke, Harris termed her presentation "very lawyer-like . . . in vivid contrast . . . to her

Nixon To Attend Dam Dedication

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon will make appearances July 31 at a dam dedication in Iowa and professional football's Hall of Fame in Ohio, the White House announced today.

The President will speak first that day at dedication of the $26 million Rathbun Dam and flood control project on the Chariton River near Centerville, Iowa.

He will then fly to Canton, Ohio, to attend induction ceremonies for seven new members of the hall of fame and a special ceremony honoring the late Green Bay and Washington coach, Vince Lombardi.

A Critical Look At The Economy

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. economy is hurting. The pain may not be as severe as it was a year ago but it still is there.

With the year more than half over, 1971 is far short of the "good year" President Nixon promised. Next year probably will be better but if would take a near miracle to restore robust prosperity in time to help Nixon in his expected bid for a second term.

Democrats, temporarily silenced about foreign policy in light of Nixon's China initiative, are concentrating on the economy as their most potent issue for the 1972 elections.

The administration's reply to doubt and criticism is repeated assurances that the economy is sound and getting sounder.

"You can't come to any conclusion but what we are engaged in is an expansion and an expansion of considerable proportions," said Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, Nixon's newly designated chief economic spokesman. "It's broad in its sweep and deep in its track."

Unvarnished statistics show the economy indeed is expanding. But expansion is the natural state of the U.S. economy. The key question is whether the economy is expanding enough to make up for the stagnation last year. So far it is not.

Nixon has been counting on a combination of a deficit federal budget and easy money to perk up the economy. He recently ruled out a tax cut or a sharp increase in spending to spur business.

The independent Federal Reserve Board last week handed Nixon a setback by tightening its money policy. The board boosted its discount rate —the interest it charges on loans to

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Firm Warned

NEW YORK (UPI)—A federal health official said Wednesday if Bon Vivant, Inc., does not speed the recall of more than one million cans of food products, it will face an "imminent" nationwide seizure of them.

Weems L. Clevenger, head of the FDA regional office here, said Bon Vivant had not fulfilled a voluntary pledge to name a central location for the recall of all its products.

Clevenger said the seizure, which may come within a week, would be one of the largest in history and there was a chance all the confiscated cans would be destroyed.

Bon Vivant made the promise after the FDA determined a can of Bon Vivant vichyssoise contaminated with deadly botulin toxin killed a New York banker and paralyzed his wife.

Rose Kennedy Celebrates 81st

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Mrs. Rose Kennedy celebrated her 81st birthday today.

Friends said the mother of a President and two senators planned to spend it quietly with Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, wife of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and her daughter, Mrs. Sargent Shriver.

Mrs. Kennedy

She is the daughter of John F. (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald, a powerful Boston mayor and Congressman, and married Joseph P. Kennedy, an Irish immigrant's son who became a multimillionaire and founded a political dynasty.

Mrs. Kennedy is very active at 81. She attends Mass every morning and every chance she gets, she swims in the family pool or plays golf. She scores in the 80s. She still supervises much of the family affairs, personally signing paychecks for employees at Merchandise Mart in Chicago, a building owned by the family.

Newton Trial

OAKLAND Calif. (UPI) — Black Panther leader Huey Newton had traces of marijuana in his clothes the day he is alleged to have shot and killed an Oakland policeman, a lab technician testified Wednesday.

Mrs. Jan Bashinski was called as a prosecution witness at Newton's manslaughter trial to show a possible motive for the slaying of officer John Frey on Oct. 28, 1967.

She said the marijuana traces were found in Newton's pants pockets and two penny match boxes containing marijuana were found under the driver's seat of the car Newton was driving

Prosecutor Donald Whyte said the testimony showed a possible motive for the shootout in which Frey was killed and another policeman wounded. He said Newton was on probation at the time and anxious not to be stopped by police.

Youths Riot

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — About 100 youths threw firebombs, rocks and bottles at passing motorists and stores early today, forcing police to close off several areas of the city.

Two policemen said shots were fired at them but missed.

Police said the disturbance lasted for several hours. Four persons were arrested and no serious injuries were reported.

Police said the disturbance started when they began ticketing cars in the area.

Disease Push

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Health officials say they are trying to build a solid barrier of vaccinated horses to enclose and seal off a spreading sleeping sickness killing horses by the hundreds in south Texas.

But so far nothing has slowed the mosquito-carried disease, and Agriculture Department officials in Houston report a spiraling death toll.

U.S. Department of Agriculture officials said Wednesday 1,136 horses in Texas have been killed by the outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) with another 1,469 horses sick with it.

In addition, 76humans have been stricken by symptoms of the disease, and health officials said 17 of them were laboratory-confirmed cases of VEE. It is seldom fatal to man.

Wider Buses

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Despite cries that bigger trucks will be on roads soon, the House has approved a bill to increase the width of buses on interstate highways.

Voice vote passage came Wednesday after Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, tried unsuccessfully on a 178-213 roll call vote to kill the measure by sending it back to committee.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would free 22,000 buses of the 102-inch variety now operating in cities to travel interstate highways with 12-foot-wide lanes, if the Transportation Secretary concludes they are not a hazard.

The measure increases the maximum width allowable six inches from the current 96-inch standard.

Private Probe

NEW YORK (UPI)—Anthony Colombo said Wednesday the Italian-American Civil Rights League has started its own investigation of the shooting of his father, Joseph Colombo Sr., the founder of the league.

"The Italian-American Civil Rights League will continue its work on behalf of Italian Americans everywhere in spite of my father's absence," the younger Colombo said. "We have obtained 5,000 new members since the shooting."

The younger Colombo told a news conference the league would turn over any evidence it found to the authorities.

His father, a reputed Brooklyn underworld leader, was shot three times by Jerome Johnson at an Italian-American rally June 28. Johnson was killed immediately by an unknown assailant.

Agnew Golfing

SOTOGRANDE, Spain (UPI) —Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today continued his golfing vacation on Spain's Costa Del Sol and began preparations for an abbreviated visit to Rabat, Morocco.

Under a revised schedule, apparently dictated by security precautions, Agnew will arrive in Rabat around mid-day Saturday and leave about midday Sunday.

Priest Restored To Post; Gives Up Corn Wafers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The Rev. Victor Salandini was restored to duty as a Roman Catholic priest Wednesday after he agreed to stop using corn tortillas as communion wafers in the Mass.

Bishop Leo T. Maher of San Diego Diocese, who lifted his suspension of the priest, said Salandino also agreed not to wear a serape with the Farm Workers' Union insignia on it as a part of the Mass vestments.

The priest, active in Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, was suspended last week but continued to say Mass for farm workers involved in a strike at the Egger-Ghio farm.

U.S. War Deaths Last Week Lowest In Nearly Six Years

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today 11 Americans were killed in the Vietnam war last week. It was the lowest battle death toll in nearly six years. Another 81 GIs were wounded.

Military spokesmen said 16 more GIs died from nonhostile causes such as accidents and illness.

The allied commands said that in a week in which fighting was at its lowest ebb in six years South Vietnamese dead dropped to the lowest point in 10 months and Viet Cong and North Vietnamese deaths were the fewest in nearly six months.

U.S. spokesmen said that of the 11 GIs listed as killed last week, four soldiers previously were shown as missing in action and a fifth died of wounds inflicted in earlier fighting.

The death toll was the lowest since Aug. 28, 1965, they said. when six Americans were killed, and was 18 below the number killed in the week ended July 10.

The 11 deaths and 81 wounded was the lowest combined casualty toll since Oct. 23, 1965, when a total of 84 men 343 casualties of the war.

Last week's wounded figure was also the lowest since that time when 70 Americans were injured in battle, spokesmen said.

21 Viet Rangers Killed In Copter

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command today reported the crash of an American troop-carrying helicopter in an accident that killed 21 South Vietnamese Rangers, and injured 31 Saigon government troops and five U.S. crewmen.

The Saigon command at the same time said new rules for coverage of the war would be set out shortly because of what they said was premature disclose of a new operation in neighboring Cambodia.

Military spokesmen reported 11 Americans killed in the war last week for the lowest weekly battlefield toll in six years. Another 81 GIs were wounded.

The U.S. command said a U.S. CH47 Chinook helicopter crashed en route to Fire Base Maryann in Quang Tin province while carrying elements of a South Vietnamese Ranger battalion. The crash killed 21 Rangers and injured 21 others along with the five American crew of the big copter.

The helicopter lost power while making an approach to the landing pad at Maryann and fell 100 yards south of the fire base perimeter. It was the worst helicopter crash in terms of the death toll since another Chinook was shot down Aug. 27, 1970 near Chu Lai, 35 miles to the west and 31 GIs died.

As to the South Vietnamese campaign in Cambodia, military spokesmen were reluctant to give details but they did admit the existence of the drive and said it consisted of several battalions of infantry, armor, Rangers and artillery.

They said the South Vietnamese had encountered no significant contact with the Communists as the drive moved into its third day.

Marine Corps Honor To Wayne

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—The Marine Corps League has named John Wayne the next recipient of the "Iron Mike" award—given annually to the man "who best exemplifies the word 'American.'"

The award, named after a nine-foot statue of a fighting Marine on Parris Island, S.C., will be presented Aug. 13.

Wayne was chosen "since in his screen portrayals and in his everyday life he has played those traits of character that make him an outstanding American," the league said Wednesday.

School Budgets Up For Adoption

School district budgets aggregating just over six million dollars more than those of last year will be up for adoption in Marin County the first week of August.

Publication budgets of the county's 21 school districts, as submitted yesterday to the county superintendent's office, total $64,986,410. Last year they totaled $58,930,401.

Barring further legislation, the bulk of the increase will come from property taxes, since the state has so far this year provided no additional funding for the public schools.

This will not mean an increase in tax rates in all cases, however. The county's assessed valuation this year is up overall by 13.6 per cent. Valuation increases in the various school districts range from 7.1 per cent in the Marin portion of Shoreline Unified District, which straddles the Sonoma County line, to 23.3 per cent in Lagunitas Elementary District.

All but three of the districts will hold public hearings at sessions the first week in August for adoption of the budgets. Hearings are not required in Laguna, Lincoln and Union elementary school districts.

Here are the budget figures, with the budget adopted last year shown in parentheses in each case, and the date, time and place of hearing for each:

Hughes Standby Pilot To Post With Tool Firm

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Lockheed California Co. vice president who reportedly was on standby for more than a year to fly Howard Hughes from Las Vegas to the Bahamas will join Hughes Tool Co. Aug. 2.

The tool company announced Wednesday that Jack Garrett Real will join the firm as an aviation executive, retiring early, at the age of 55, after 32 years with Lockheed.

According to a story in Look magazine in May, Real was on standby for a year to fly the mystery billionaire to the Bahamas.

Trials Set In Forgery, Burglary

Clara Ann Moran, 20, of Corte Madera, has pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court to charges of forgery and burglary.

Trial on the burglary charge was set for the week of Oct. 4 and on the check charges for the week of Sept. 20.

Mrs. Moran was arrested June 19, along with Donald Lawrence Hall, 38, of San Francisco, when Corte Madera police said they saw the pair carrying stereo equipment from the residence of Allen Smith of 30 Golden Hind Passage.

Hall, who was bound over to Superior Court with Mrs. Moran on the burglary charge, was not charged in Superior Court. The district attorney's office said evidence developed during a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court indicated there was not sufficient evidence to convict Hall of the burglary.

Five counts of forgery against Mrs. Moran stem from a series of bad checks she allegedly passed at various Purity Markets earlier this year.

Innocent Plea To Sex Perversion

Lawrence K. Visher, 42, of no known address, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of sex perversion.

Trial was set for the week of Aug. 23.

Visher was indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury July 13 in connection with a June 25 incident in which Visher allegedly offered 17-year-old Tamalpais Valley girl a ride home, but instead pulled his car off of Shoreline Highway and forced her at gunpoint to commit an unnatural act.

Harbor Plan Is Sent Back For Revision

After grappling for more than three hours last night with details of a complex master plan for development of the Sausalito Yacht Harbor, Planning Commissioners sent the proposal back to the drawing board.

By unanimous vote the Sausalito planners asked architect Roland May to prepare a revised plan — incorporating many suggested changes — for presentation at the commission's August 4 meeting.

Commissioner Thomas E. Brown seemed to reflect the feelings of his colleagues when he asked the architect to come up with a development plan which was "more interesting, more colorful, with a greater variety of physical form."

The current proposal (Phase I of the master plan) would increase the harbor berthing capacity from 425 to 950 and includes a variety of harbor support facilities, among them boat sales storage and repair facilities, commercial and office buildings, storage areas and a fuel dock. Also included are a series of boardwalks, plazas and parks to increase public access to the bay.

The 37-acre harbor development would encompass more than 50 per cent of the city's central waterfront area and, if adopted, would cost $3 million and take three to five years to complete.

Mays, who represents harbor owner Herbert Madden Sr., seemed amenable to most of the changes recommended by the commission, the city planning director and the Sausalito Community Appearances Advisory Board.

But he said the developers ability to make the desired alterations will depend on the "economic flexibility" granted him by the city which hinges on two main issues: use of city-owned underwater streets and transfer of development credits. (When a developer agrees to leave some of his property in open space or to build fewer dinance allows in the interest of open space or good planning, he in turn can receive certain credits. These credits can be transfered to another area of the land to allow him, for example, to build a structure larger than the ordinance allows).

The architect said Madden hopes to use the underwater streets for development and to obtain enough transfer credits to make the project economically feasible.

City Mgr. Albert St. Cyr has suggested the city allow the developer to lease the streets for berthing of boats and boat turn around on a 50-year basis. St. Cyr believes the annual lease payment should be equal to 10 per cent of the market value of the land comprising the streets.

The final decision on the leasing and transfer of credits will rest with the city council and Mays said he could not make many changes in his plan, particularly costly ones, until the council sets policies in these matters. But the planners argued they did not want to recommend a policy to the council until they had seen the revised plan.

City Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt presented to the commission a list of 24 proposed changes in the harbor plan. He recommended the city limit the number of berths to 900, eliminate 71 of the 312 proposed parking spaces for harbor users and eliminate certain berthing areas to provide more open water.

Borgwardt also suggested that specific designs for all buildings, bulkheads, landscaping and boardwalks in the project be submitted to the city for approval.

Mays gave tentative approval to most of the changes, but balked at suggestions that planned restrooms and showers be opened to the public and that all berthing piers be perpendicular to the shoreline.

He also noted Madden intends to spend approximately $500,000 for public amenities, piers, parks and the like. "Our only request is that the developer be able to recapture some of this money in uses beneficial to his harbor, Mays told the commission.

"We are asking you to come back with a plan you feel is feasible for you," Commissioner Brown replied.

Alcohol, Drug Plans Get Health Unit Nod

The Marin Comprehensive Health Planning Council board yesterday approved plans of two local hospitals to develop treatment facilities for alcoholism and drug use.

Ross General Hospital proposes to use 18 beds for alcoholism and drug addiction and Novato Manor Convalescent Hospital plans to convert the 18 beds for treatment of alcoholism, said Ray K. Bolinger, board president.

The plans must now go to the Bay Area Comprehensive Health Planning Council for final decision, expected to take about 30 days, he said.

Comprehensive Health Planning Board Also:

LOCAL PLAN — Voted to prepare a Marin County plan for health care to be incorporated in the Bay Area regional plan.

VOLUNTEERS — Called for volunteers to serve on committees such as environmental health, health facilities, health man power, social issues related to health and personal health services.

CONFERENCE — Voted to hold a short conference at some future date with public transportation officials and health officials to see what recommendations can be made to get indigent persons to doctors and hospitals.

PLANNING — Voted to ask the Board of Supervisors to name a committee to coordinate all future water and sewerage planning in the county.

COMMITTEE — Approved Bolinger naming four persons to an environmental health committee.

APPOINTMENT — Appointed Edward T. Ryken to take the place of Dr. Howard Levenson who resigned from the nominating committee.

Critical Look At Nation's Economy

commercial banks and the keystone of all interest rates — from 4-3-4 to 5 per cent.

The seven-member board said it acted because of its continuing concern about inflation.

In contrast with the administration's bright predictions of improvement, many Democrats are issuing dark warnings. It appears that they, too, are overstating the case.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, a darkhorse contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, recently accused Nixon of misleading the public with "phony White House press releases on the nation's economy."

He told the International Longshoremen's Association that the current rate of unemployment was "at least 8 per cent, not around 6, as the administration claims."

The key to that charge is the definition of unemployment. By the conventional definition — people actively seeking but unable to find employment — the rate has been close to 6 per cent most of this year. You could boost the rate to 8 per cent by counting persons who have given up looking for work because they have no hope of finding it. You might be able to push it even higher by adding aerospace engineers who are employed as taxi drivers. But no administration, Democratic or Republican, has ever used such a yardstick.

Unemployment is bad enough, without trying to add a couple of points by juggling the figures. The jobless rate for the first half of the year is the highest for any six-month period in 10 years.

The jobless rate did decline from 6.2 per cent in May to 5.6 per cent in June. But the nonpartisan Bureau of Labor Statistics conceded that much of the dip was caused by a statistical quirk.

After administration officials had claimed for two weeks that the decline represented genuine progress, Connally conceded much of the drop was caused by a "statistical aberration."

The unemployment rate is probably the most politically sensitive of all economic figures. Nixon once hoped to reduce it to the "full employment" rate of 4 per cent by mid-1972. The election year goal was revised in January to 4.5 per cent.

At his recent news conference, Connally said 4.5 per cent remains the goal for mid-1972 but he conceded the chances of achieving it have become slim.

White House political strategists believe the level of unemployment is not so important as the trend. They think if unemployment is declining steadily next year, regardless of the rate, the economic issue will do little damage to Nixon's reelection bid.

Democrats, on the other hand, think if the jobless rate remains high much longer it will severely damage Nixon's chances and enhance their own.

The figures for the Gross National Product (GNP) in the second quarter of this year — issued last week —delivered another jolt to Nixon's hopes, although administration spokesmen insisted the report was good news.

The figures indicated the total output of goods and services, expressed in terms of the buying power of the dollar in 1958 to eliminate the effect of inflation, increased by 3.6 per cent in the April-through-June quarter. Except for the first quarter of this year when the figure was swollen by the rebound from the General Motors strike, that was the best rate of economic growth since the third quarter of 1968.

However, many economists believe a growth rate of 4 per cent is needed just to keep unemployment from rising.

Harold C. Passer, assistant commerce secretary for economic affairs, agreed there was "no question" that growth of more than 4 per cent was needed to reduce joblessness. He argued that the growth rate would climb in the months ahead.

There are some strong points in the economy, notably retail sales which have been climbing steadily, and housing production which is at the fastest pace in 20 years. The building spurt, however, is threatened by recent increases in mortgage interest rates.

Inflation continues to plague the nation despite last year's recession. The rate of increase in the cost of living has slowed in recent months but prices continue to go up. The rate of increase is still high by all but the standards of the last two or three years.

The GNP price index, the most broadly based of all the government's gauges of inflation, rose in the second quarter at an annual rate of 4.2 per cent, well below the 5.3 per cent rate in the first quarter.

The inflation rate was the lowest recorded so far during the Nixon Administration and was the slowest since the second quarter of 1968; but it was higher than all but three of the 32 quarters of the eight year Kennedy-Johnson administration.

Heath's Outside Interest: Sailing

By DENNIS EISENBERG
Toronto Telegran News Service

LONDON — Although he has been their prime minister now for over a year, the British public remains as baffled as ever by the man at No. 10 Downing Street who controls their destiny.

There has never been a premier like him, for Edward Heath is without a wife, he adores classical music, and to add even further to the suspicions and doubts of his fellow-countrymen, he appears uninterested in the popular national pastimes of football and cricket.

Instead, he seems to spend every spare moment sailing his Morning Cloud yacht and has won a place as captain in the three-boat British team which is to try and wrest back the Admiral's Cup from the United States.

Heath has poured $75,000 of his own money into his passionate aim of winning this trophy in competition against teams from 17 countries. The sneers of opponents that they are governed by a "part-time premier" grow louder each day.

Criticism of the time and energy Heath spends aboard Morning Cloud grew even louder recently when he asked the Queen's permission to skip attending the official celebration of her birthday at the Trooping the Color ceremony.

Now that is something Harold Wilson never would have missed. The British public, which likes to think their Prime Minister spends every waking hour at his desk solving national problems, find the sight of Heath going off every weekend to sail Morning Cloud an unnerving one.

The prime minister, as a member of the British team, will be at sea for a about a week racing against the sailing cream of the world.

Heath's friends defend his obsession for racing yachts by saying that he returns all the fresher to his desk on Monday morning. And after all, the race for the Admiral's Cup does take place during the summer recess.

The austere facade of Lloyd's, in the City of London, hardly looks a promising setting for great drama. But once inside, the quiet scratching of a traditional quill pen writing down the names of ships which have vanished without a trace is a chilling reminder of the power of the world's oceans to protect their most jealous secrets.

For despite modern ship construction and improved navigation and communications systems, people still disappear most mysteriously at sea. In the past decade, 71 ships, some quite large, have just vanished, and with them over 1,000 men, women, and children. These ships left no radioed SOS, no survivors, no wreckage, and no clue as to their fate.

Ships have been lost at sea for all sorts of reasons: they have foundered on rocks or torn open their bottoms on reefs. They have been the victims of storms, fires, collisions and acts of piracy.

But the 71 ships now carefully entered into the Lloyd's casualty book just have no story to tell at all. Nobody knows whatever happened to them.

For these ghosts of the sea Lloyd's does not even ring the famous Lutine Bell whose sound is heard when bad news is received to toll an epitaph for men and vessels lost at sea.

The fascination which modern man has for investigating his his ancestors' centuries-old search for spiritual truth has never been greater than it is today.

Next month, scholars from the U.S. AND Canada and a score of other countries will gather in Manchester for a special congress to study the history and influence of the ancient god Mirthra.

Recent discoveries reveal the widespread importance of Mithra worship, which can be traced back 3,000 years in India and Persia. So important is the coming gathering that the Iranian authorities, who are this autumn celebrating the founding of Persia 2,500 years ago by Cyrus the Great, have decided to give the congress official recognition.

Mithra, who was venerated by many Eastern people, was also acclaimed as a god by Roman legions. According to a number of experts, important Christian beliefs and practices have their origins in early Mithraic worship.

ANGELA

lawyers. She did not call me a mad dog, as did her counsel."

Miss Davis flared back that she objected to such remarks as "racist."

Miss Davis opened her arguments by striding to the bench and to the prosecutor's table to deliver copies of legal references. While the courtroom audience watched intently, Judge Arnason accepted the document. Harris hesitated, then slowly reached for the copy she proffered him. His face was stonily expressionless.

Her arguments for cocounsel status were wide-ranging.

"I have been charged with three capital offenses," she said. I stand to lose my life — a life not of a lone individual but a life that has been given over to the black struggle.

"It is this life which I have to defend — a life which cannot be separated from Ruchell Magee or other black defendants now in courts or prisons across the nation."

She said Harris's warnings against her political speeches "give my arguments to act as cocounsel all the more validity and force.

"I'm a black woman; I'm a member of the Communist Party; I used to be active in . . . the struggle to overthrow capitalist oppression. These are facts which cannot be ignored."

She said the prosecution had injected politics into her case by linking her with the Soledad Brothers and bringing a Los Angeles police officer to testify before the Marin County Grand Jury on her militant activities in Southern California.

She said she sought cocounsel status to permit her to cross-examine witnesses and "correct errors" in debate on her politics.

"I can guarantee the court that I have absolutely no intention of disrupting" proceedings, she pledged. "I am very anxious to be out on the street again in the struggle for my people. Because spectators react in a certain way, defendants or citizens do notforfeit any rights."

When courtroom "decorum is placed above justice, then inevitably disaster will prevail," she said.

In rebuttal, prosecutor Harris declared, "The truth has to be determined in a place where the participants are free from intimidation — with a minimum of invective, a minimum of shouting."

As for Miss Davis's "wishes to explain the circumstances" of her case "she can do this on that witness stand, under oath," Harris argued.

Harris claimed that any politics in the case was "because we put on a proof of what appeared to be a motive. . . the whole purpose of 'the insurrection of Aug.7' as it has been called, was to free the Soledad Brothers," Harris said. "This is not a politicial trial, but a criminal trial," he declared.

Harris argued that Miss Davis could accomplish nothing as cocounsel "that she can't do if treated as thousands of other defendants in California."

Harris also denied "implying that I seek the life of Miss Davis. The grand jury indicted her."

Howard Moore Jr., Miss Davis's chief counsel, then interjected a demand that Judge Arnason tell "the prosecutor not to play cat and mouse with the defendant's life and freedom. If the prosecution's not going to take Angela's life, let him say so."

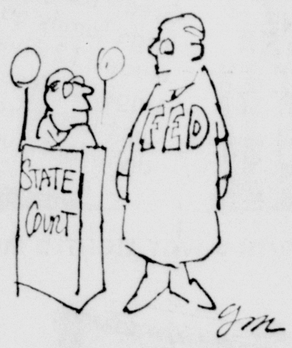
Judge Arnason cut off Moore's objection, and turned to discussion of hearings scheduled for today.

Outside the courtroom, Moore confirmed yesterday that a change of venue will be sought before the actual trial. He said no county had been selected, only that 18 counties had been rejected as being too small to handle the trial.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

State Level Prosecutions



It is costly and hard for a person to defend himself when faced with a criminal charge. Especially a close case with a law that may be of doubtful validity. Long appeals may extend the agony for years.

To get a faster verdict on the validity of the law, some defendants went to the federal courts for an early decision. It was a way to hold up state prosecutions until some of the legal issues were cleared up.

Recently the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that use of the federal court to halt prosecutions was improper. Unless the state prosecution causes "irreparable harm," the federal courts should not interfere.

In one case John Davis was charged with advocating force to bring about economic change. Violation of the California law is a felony and Davis faced one to fourteen years in jail were he convicted.

Davis claimed the law violated his right to free speech and to advocate change. He argued that the law was vague and that he was only passing out literature from well known social commentators. He went to a federal court to have the California law declared invalid. The lower federal court ruled in Davis's favor, but the Supreme Court reversed the decision. Their opinion stated that federal courts should not interfere with state criminal proceedings. A state court could examine any constitutional issue first. Appeals could be reviewed in a federal court.

In another case, state agents seized some books claiming they violated the local obscenity laws. The owner sought their return, saying they had been illegally seized. Again the Supreme Court said that federal courts should not interfere with state prosecutions.

California allows quick tests of many laws in the state courts. If criminal prosecutions are instigated by private parties acting in bad faith, they may be sued for malicious prosecution. But elected district attorneys and prosecutors have wide discretion in enforcement of laws. Ordinarily courts will not stop their actions taken within their powers. Note: (California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.)

No Complaint Filed Against Youth In Forgery

No complaint was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Henry Iver Seiler, 19, of Nicasio, who was arrested Friday on suspicion of forgery.

The district attorney's office said a complaint would not be filed until Seiler's parents sign a complaint against their son.

He was arrested by Corte Madera police after he attempted to cash a $31 check at a Corte Madera bank. The check was made out in Seiler's mother's name, police said.

Seiler was to appear in Marin Superior Court today in connection with a felony forgery charge stemming from a stolen check he allegedly cashed at a San Rafael bank June 15.

Innocent Plea To Murder Count

Edwin Evan Shipe II, 49, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of murder.

His case was continued until Monday for a probation department report on his eligibility for bail. The district attorney's office has requested he be held without bail.

Shipe was arrested Monday in a Petaluma tavern in connection with the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Barbara P. Shipe, 47, at her Fairfax residence July 14.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM

SOLDAVINI, DINA M. — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who entered into eternal life six years ago today.

Gone, dear mother, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face;
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still.
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.

Basque Culture In Nevada To Be Study Subject

RENO (UPI)—The Desert Research Institute of the University of Nevada will study the validity of theories of how Basques in Nevada have maintained their distinct ethnic identity.

DRI President John Ward said the National Institute of Mental Health has awarded $24,158 to Dr. William Douglass of the DRI's Western Studies Center.

Ward said some social scientists theorize an ethnic setting—a community in which one ethnic grouping predominates—is necessary for maintaining cultural identity. In addition, he said, it is thought that identity is also contingent upon factors like discrimination against ethnic members and a conflict of values with the value system of the wider society.

"However, Basques appear to belie these notions," Douglass said. "Since entering the West in the late 19th century, Basques have encountered little discrimination and are not distinguishable from America's dominant white society on racial grounds, nor do their professed values differ much from the characteristic American value system."

'UNCLE SAM' DENIED PENSION

Walter Botts, 71, a retired musician living in San Juan Capistrano, has been turned down for an Army pension because he didn't have enough World War I military service — by 10 days. Botts's main claim to fame is that he posed in 1938 for the second "Uncle Sam" recruiting poster. He said James Montgomery Flagg, who used himself in the original poster in 1918, decided to use a model. He said he was paid $25 for his efforts. The same poster is still in use after 30 years. Rabin Is Wary Of Canal Talks

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli ambassador to Washington Yitzhak Rabin said today he did not have "high hopes" the forthcoming visit to Israel of Assistant Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco would lead to reopening the Suez Canal.

"If there are any new proposals they would be brought by Sisco," Rabin told newsmen at Lod International Airport on his arrival from the United States. "His visit is part of a sustained and intimate dialogue between Israel and the United States."

In the Arab world, the Beirut newspaper Al Moharrer said Iraqi authorities have arrested 45 army officers, including air force commander Air Marshal Hussan Hayari, in an internal power struggle.

The pro-Egyptian, anti-Iraq newspaper quoted Iraqi sources as saying the arrests were ordered by strongman Sidam Hussein Takriti, deputy chairman of the Revolutionary Command Council, "under the pretext of discovering a plot against the regime."

It said the real purpose of the arrests was to eliminate opponents of the ruling Baathist party. Iraq recently expelled three British Embassy staff members on charges of plotting to overthrow the government.

In Cairo, the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram said former War Minister Lt. Gen. Mahmoud Fawzi will be tried by a special three-man military court on charges he participated in a plot to overthrow Egyptian President Anwar Sadat last May.

Fawzi was one of five government ministers who resigned following Sadat's sacking of former Vice President Ali Sabry. Sadat issued a decree Wednesday forming a three-man revolutionary court to try persons allegedly involved in the coup attempt, but Al Ahram said Fawzi will be tried by a military tribunal.

Another Story Of Massacre Revealed

TEL AVIV (UPI)—An Israeli citizen says it was the Russians and not the Nazis —as the Russians claim —who massacred 12,000 Polish army officers during World War II in the Katyn Forest near the Soviet city of Smolensk.

German soldiers uncovered a mass grave in 1943 containing the bodies and said Soviet troops killed the Poles by shooting each one in the back of the head.

The Russians accused the Nazis of this war crime.

The U.S. Congress investigated the incident and in 1952 issued a report which said Russian troops had killed the officers, probably as part of a move to eliminate leaders of a potential anti-Communist leadership in postwar Poland.

Wednesday, Israeli citizen Avraham Wydra, 64, said the Russians were responsible for the massacre. A Polish Jew by birth, he said he spent several years in Soviet labor camps during the war.

Wydra told the Israeli newspaper Maiariv that three Soviet Jewish officers who either participated in or witnessed the killings told him of the massacre. He said he was sworn to secrecy at the time but wanted to tell the story now before he died.

Wydra said at the start of the war he was interned in the Starobyelsky labor camp near where the killings occurred and was told of the incident by a Major Sorokin who saw the Poles slain.

Wydra said, "The major got me alone and poured out his heart. He said 'The world will never believe what my eyes beheld. The Poles have all been shot.'"

"It seemed as if he was going through a fit of convulsions as he talked," Wydra said. "He could not retain his words."

At a second labor camp two years later two other officers said they had taken part in the killings, Wydra said.

He said the officers were sent to the camp because the authorities said they were made but "it turned out the two suffered from frayed nerves. One used to cry a lot," Wydra said.

Buckley Admits Secret Vietnam Report A Hoax

NEW YORK (UPI)—William F. Buckley Jr. said Wednesday documents on the Vietnam War in the National Review were a hoax printed to show the public would accept as classified information anything that seemed reasonable.

Buckley, editor of the weekly magazine, said the articles were written last week in the National Review offices and were composed "ex nihilo" — out of nothing.

The articleswere published in the magazine's current edition as "highly classified government documents" which were said leaked by an informant who wanted to show the other side of the Pentagon papers published in the press.

The New York Times, which first published the Pentagon papers, said in today's edition that the National Review articles were not totally composed out of nothing.

The Times said there were quoted phrases and paraphrases of the Pentagon report scattered through the National Review articles and two of the memoranda in the magazine were excerpted from the report.

Buckley, meeting with newsmen on his return from Seattle, Wash., said the articles were printed in the National Review to prove "that forged documents would be widely accepted as genuine provided their content was inherently plausible."

He said although the documents were fake their nature was such they could easily have been written from 1962 to 1967 and most likely similar documents were written by government officials at that time.

He said the hoax also was meant to show that "the Pentagon and the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) are not composed of incompetents." This incompetency was "the unwarranted conclusion to which many Americans and non-Americans were led by the fragmentary revelations of The New York Times and the Washington Post."

The National Review articles presented a general picture of a U.S. government trying not to get involved in a long-term war in Vietnam. The Pentagon papers showed a deeper and deeper involvement of the United States in Indochina over three decades.

Buckley said it took the news media 48 hours to seriously question the authenticity of the magazine's documents and this "contributes a general understanding of the limited reflexes of the press.

"Indeed, it is possible that there will be those who believe that this statement is a hoax."

The National Review articles were reported by two television networks, news services and a number of newspapers across the country, but not to the extent the Pentagon papers were reported.

One of the 13 fake documents cited by the National Review was a 1965 coded obscure military message which the magazine said "indicates that the proposal to make one or another use of nuclear weapons remained alive within the military as well as at least one section of the intelligence communities."

Buckley was asked if the possible use of nuclear weapons fit the basis of the hoax that such ideas were probably being discussed in the mid-1960s.

No Inductions Into The Armed Forces

In Marin County, as in the rest of the nation, no one was inducted into the armed forces this month and no quota has been set for next month because Congress failed to renew the draft.

The local office will stay open and employees will remain on the payroll until other orders are received, according to Joy M. Kinzer, executive secretary.

Explosion Caused By Vaporous Gas

LAS VEGAS (UPI)—The explosion which ripped through a shopping center near the Las Vegas "Strip" earlier this month was caused by vaporous gas, according to the fire department.

The department said Wednesday investigating teams found no evidence that an explosive device was used to touch off the blast and fire which destroyed or damaged eight stores and claimed one life.

SACRAMENTO ROUNDUP

Bill Rejected As 'Fascist Seed'

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Warned by its chairman that the bill would sow the "seeds of a fascist state," the Assembly Ways and Means Committee has refused to hear a measure to allow private colleges to establish their own official police forces.

The measure by Assemblyman Frank Murphy Jr., R-Santa Cruz, was returned Wednesday by the committee to the Criminal Justice Committee for consideration of proposed "policy" amendments.

Even before the bill was up for discussion, committee chairman Willie Brown Jr., D-San Francisco, told Murphy that "there is no bill in the legislature that I oppose more than this one."

Brown asserted it would constitute "the seeds of a fascist state" and would wreck the concept that in a democracy police departments and the military fall under the jurisdiction of an elected public official.

Currently security officers at private colleges and universities do not have the legal powers of peace officers such as highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies or local policemen.

The Murphy bill would grant them such powers but limit their authority.

MERCURY BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Senate Health and Welfare Committee has approved revised legislation requiring mercury users to register with the state.

The committee substantially amended the bill by Sen. John A. Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, before sending it to the Senate Finance Committee.

Nejedly, moving to keep the legislation alive, amended it to provide merely for registration of mercury users with the state Resources Control Board.

Originally, the measure would have barred release of mercury into the environment without permission of the state Water Resources Control Board and Public Health Department. It also would have prohibited use of mercury in fungicide preparations.

PAY HIKE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill to give state employes a 5 per cent pay hike which Gov. Ronald Reagan cut from the state's new budget has been approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

The $76.9 million measure by Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco, was sent to the full Senate Wednesday on a 7-3 roll call vote.

Reagan vetoed a similar sum in the new state budget that was earmarked for state employe pay raises. He said a salary boost would mean an increase in taxes, which he would not approve.

LONGER TERMS

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — California assemblymen have voted to double their terms to four years and extend the terms of state senators from four to six years.

If the Senate agrees, the final decision would be up to the voters next year. Similar legislation has failed at past sessions.

The Assembly with virtually no debate Wednesday approved 54-17 a proposed constitutional amendment by Assemblyman Harvey Johnson, D-El Monte, to stretch the terms of office for state legislators.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, voted for the amendment.

In presenting the proposal, Johnson told the Assembly, "I'm not going into the details. Everyone knows the pros and cons of this. We could do a far better job of taking care of our people with longer terms."

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, the only lawmaker to argue against it, said he didn't "believe that the people I represent would want to be deprived of going to the polls every two years to express their sentiment."

CAL EXPO BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Ways and Means Committee has killed legislation by a Democratic legislator to prohibit sale of the $30 million California Exposition and Fair without legislative approval.

The measure by Assemblyman Ken Cory, D-Garden Grove, was killed Wednesday by the committee, which agreed to appoint a subcommittee to make a between-sessions investigation of Cal Expo.

Cory's measure would have created a committee to investigate and recommend the best disposition of the property and to find a buyer for it on a nopublic-bidding basis.

WELFARE BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Welfare Committee has approved legislation asking the Reagan administration to abolish "marginal" reports on welfare such as those dealing with hippies.

The resolution by Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, R-Hanford, was passed Wednesday.

It calls on the state director of welfare to review the massive number of reports required to be submitted by county welfare departments and do away with "nonessential" ones.

Duffy filed with the committee a tabulation of reports required by the Department of Yolo County. During 1970, the county compiled 1,635 reports ranging from caseloads to surveying hippie communes and counting the number of workers with master's degrees in social work to "assess the degree of professionalism" among social workers.

ANTISMOG BILL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —An antismog bill empowering the state Air Resources Board to set standards for the regulation of additives in gasoline has been rejected by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

The proposal by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Beverly Hills, was rejected Wednesday on a split voice vote after opponents called it a back door approach to removing lead from gas.

Sieroty's $250,000 bill would establish standards for any additives sold in California.

But Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, noting previous legislative attempts to regulate additives had failed, said the bill in effect "abdicates our responsibilities to some appointive board. This is a roundabout way of doing it."

TENURE CHANGE

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed legislation which he says will "weed out" incompetent teachers by revising the procedure for firing a teacher with a tenured position.

In signing the measure Wednesday, Reagan said the bill would make it possible "to weed out incompetents (teachars) from our educational system and, at the same time, protect and encourage dedicated educators. Those with the most to gain are our schoolchildren."

Currently, a tenured teacher who challenges his firing on grounds of incompetency or unprofessional conduct does so in a Superior Court hearing.

The bill by Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, provides that such a hearing would be held before a three-member panel—one member chosen by the teacher, another selected by the school board and the third from the state Office of Administrative Procedure.

Stanford Appoints New Police Head

STANFORD (UPI) —Stanford University appointed a new director for its police services Wednesday —Marvin L. Herrington, 35, who has been coordinator for security in the California State College system.

Herrington on Aug. 1 will succeed Thomas, Bell, who resigned June 1 saying he couldn't get clear cut directions on what was wanted of the university department.

McCloskey, Gubser In A Feud

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — It was 7 o'clock in the evening, and the somber chamber of the House of Representatives was almost deserted. Only a few tourists remained in the galleries, which earlier in the day had been packed as the House debated the contempt citation against the president of CBS.

Down on the floor, two California congressmen wrapped up their long, inconclusive debate on whether the United States, as one had charged, had engaged in a conscious policy of bombing hundreds of villages in northern Laos. Only two other congressmen, also Californians, were on the floor.

As the Speaker's gavel echoed through the chamber to bring the long day to a close, Charles Gubser, a 55-year-old Republican from Gilroy and a 19-year veteran of the house, snatched up his notes and walked quickly off the floor without a glance at his opponent.

Twenty feet away, the challenger, Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey, 43, a Republican from Portola Valley who has been in the House four years, stared at his notes and shuffled them around until Gubser had left, and then he, too, walked out.

That brief closing tableau was an unusually sour note, for Congressional custom dictated that the two men should have walked over to each other, shaken hands and assured each other that it had been a good and fair debate, no hard feelings.

"I was a little bit tired of the exercise," Gubser explained later that evening. "I will admit that 'Pete's insistence upon sticking to his unproven charges and his 'have-you-stopped-beating-your-wife' type of argumentation have reached the point where I temporarily have lost my respect for him.

"I hope I get it back. I want to. I don't want to feud with the guy, but every time he pops off with something this irresponsible, I'm going to nail him. It's time that phony was tripped up."

McCloskey, also still working in his office as the balmy July darkness fell over the Capitol, was asked about the obviously unfriendly ending to the debate.

"It was a rare thing," he said of Gubser's abrupt exit from the House chamber. "But you noticed that I didn't exactly rush over to him, either."

"All he did was try to personally attack me and the basis for my conclusions. Not once during the debate did he get down to discussing the evidence. I kept asking him today time after time after time, well, what's your response to these villagers' testimony? Were they bombed or weren't they? No answer. On to some other subject. 'You concluded too much from too little fact.' 'You're damaging the country's image.' I mean, all of this is an attack on me."

Gubser counters: "He acted irresponsibly and made a damaging accusation without sufficient proof. This is my only contention."

Yet Gubser conceded that his attempt to rebut McCloskey's charges was equally inconclusive, that the dispassionate reader of the debate transcript would be unable to discover the truth. "It's just too complicated to firmly resolve this."

Why, then, did Gubser toss down the gauntlet to McCloskey in a tough speech June 26 in McCloskey's home district? It was this speech, attacking McCloskey for his bitterly critical and widely reported statements on U.S. bombing in Laos, that led to McCloskey's challenge for a debate on the House floor. There are two probable reasons which, if taken together, could explain Gubser's unusual personal attack on a member of his own party from a neighboring congressional district.

One reason is Gubser's view of America and his role as a Congressman, which he expressed at the end of the first day of debate:

"Instead of seeking out the disillusioned and fanning their disillusionment into hate and disrespect for the basic institutions of a great nation, is it not time we talked about what is good in America? Is it not time we honestly compared our standards of freedom and morality with the Communist world? . . . I say it is time some of us stop leaving the field, the news columns, and television screens to only those who degrade, deface and besmirch the image of a government and a nation which, though not perfect, is still imperfect man's closest approach to a perfect government. We have waited too long — let us stand up and be counted."

And there is also the inescapable fact that Pete McCloskey is challenging President Nixon for the GOP nomination next year, and the White House and Republican National Committee naturally are urging party loyalists to begin chopping away at McCloskey.

Asked if he is being supplied ammunition by the White House, Gubser complained good-humoredly about what he described as Administration reluctance to slip him some inside facts to clobber McCloskey with.

"I'm trying to help . . ." he said before catching himself.

"Look, I think the worst thing Dick Nixon could do is to glorify this upstart with opposition," he said in an effort to lay to rest the thought that the incumbent, faced with a re-election challenge of yet unknown dimension in his own party, would not lift a finger to try to push the challenger off stride.

As for cotrdinating his attack on McCloskey with the Republican National Committee, Gubser did discuss his Burlingame speech with Lyn Nofziger, the committee's chief tactician, before he delivered it. Some Washington reporters are convinced that the speech, which was widely distributed to the press here, was run off on the committee's mimeograph machines, a suggestion Nofziger quickly denies. Nofziger, in an interview, complained that the speech failed to get any East Coast and national attention.

Gubser said his attack on McCloskey had support among their California colleagues. "I don't know of a single California Republican congressman who doesn't think I did something that needed to be done. And there are four California Democrats who have come up and said the same thing."

McCloskey the Presidential candidate says he expects the attacks to build as the Republican Party gets closer to next March's first primaries. "Gubser's speech (in Burlingame) probably will be distributed all over the country."

And what does Gubser think McCloskey's motive is when he charges the United States with bombing villages in northern Laos, with being guilty of actions for which military leaders were executed at Nuremburg?

"Publicity. He's drunk the heady wine of publicity ever since the day he defeated Shirley," Gubser said, referring to Shirley Temple Black and McCloskey's dramatic defeat of her in 1967.

Gubser has promised more attacks on McCloskey, and McCloskey has challenged Gubser to continue the debate in their California districts. It indicates, at least, that political nerves are being rubbed in GOP circles, and as one McCloskey aide noted wearily, "it's a long time until March."

Tax Break Bill Tied To Rise In Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A bill was introduced in the House today to give taxpayers a cost-of-living increase on personal income tax exemptions beginning in 1974.

In introducing the bill, Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., said the cost of living has risen more than 50 per cent since 1948 when the $600 personal exemption was established.

During the same time the exemption increased only 4 per cent, he said, to this year's $625. Taxpayers may deduct $650 for each dependent on next year's income tax return and by 1973 the exemption will be $750.

Man Arrested In Pot Probe

A 20-year-old San Rafael man was arrested last night on suspicion of possession of marijuana and narcotics paraphernalia, Novato police reported.

David Ray Anderson of 239 D Street, Apt. 13, was held in Marin County Jail to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Police reported that they stopped Anderson on South Novato Boulevard north of Adele Street at 11:52 p.m. yesterday on a routine traffic violation. They saw a home-made hashish pipe and cigarette papers on the dashboard of the car. They also found a plastic bag of green vegetable matter thought to be marijuana.

2 Plead Innocent To Pot Charges

Christopher Edward Taylor, 20, of San Rafael, and John Wesley Sandahl, 19, of no known address, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to misdemeanor charges of possessing marijuana and marijuana paraphernalia.

A pretrial conference was set for Aug. 11.

The two were arrested July 12 when Marin sheriff's deputies said they found a small amount of marijuana and two pipes containing suspected marijuana residue in the pair's van parked on Miller Creek Road, Marinwood.

Innocent Pleas To Felony Fraud

Jackie Dickerson, 23, and Carol Reida Simpson, 25, both of San Francisco, have pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to felony charges of grand theft and fraud.

Their cases were continued until Aug. 4 to set a date for a preliminary hearing.

They were arrested July 2 by Sausalito police who said the pair had duped a Sausalito woman into giving them $6,000 on the pretense that they would share with the woman $38,000 they told her they had found.

Bay Area's First Smog Alert Proposed For Fall

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SAN FRANCISCO — Bay Area smog officials yesterday proposed a test this fall of the region's first smog alert system. But they urged that it be called only after the amount of a key pollutant had reached a level twice the maximum level set by the federal government for an alert.

D. J. Callaghan, chief administrative officer of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, objected that following the federal maximum for oxidants would force alerts so often that the public would lose interest in meeting voluntary restrictions.

"You can call 'wolf' just so often,and everyone's going to say 'the hell with it,' " he said.

The federal government's "episode criteria" calls for an alert when the level of oxidants reaches one-tenth of a part per million, but Callaghan recommended the district set the level at two-tenths of a part per million. He did not object to federal levels for other pollutants.

The staff's proposal for the alert system was presented to the advisory council's executive committee, which agreed to meet again next month to act on a detailed system.

Los Angeles has the only working alert system in the nation, but it is worthless because it is called too late in the morning, the staff said. That system, as in the one proposed for the Bay Area, depends largely on a voluntary halt to unnecessary driving, but Los Angelinos don't get word of the alert until they already are driving to work on the freeway.

The Bay Area's system instead will depend on predictions of smog levels by mid-afternoon for the next day. This will give time for news media to inform the public and for the public to make other arrangements for travel.

Car pools would be encouraged and transit agencies urged to add extra vehicles.

Other steps would be to urge manufacturing industries to curtail and postpone production, to limit incinerator use to certain hours, and to ban all open burning.

More stringent restrictions, some mandatory, would be imposed if smog conditions warranted a declaration of a "warning" or "emergency" system, but these levels are not expected ever to be reached in the Bay Area, the staff said. The three-phase system must be in effect by next year to meet federal requirements.

Dr. Milton Feldstein, director of technical services, said carbon monoxide levels were the only likely problem other than oxidants.

Callaghan assured the committee that the federal government would allow some deviation from its criteria for alert systems.

The staff also proposed that an alert be called only if predicted smog levels would exceed maximums at two of the district's ten stations. This would prevent calling an alert on the basis of an isolated instance of high smog levels in just one area.

Edward I. Murphy of San Francisco, vice chairman of the advisory council, suggested that public transportation agencies provide free rides when smog alerts are called. The agencies should be willing to do this "for the health of the community," he said.

Other committee members, however, said the agencies would refuse to take such a step.

The committee set its next meeting to go over a final staff proposal at 10 a.m. on Aug. 11 in district offices, 939 Ellis Street. The committee's recommendation will go before the full advisory council at 10 a.m. on Aug. 18, and then be reported to the district board of directors on Sept. 1.

This timetable would allow a test of the system during the annual smog season from September through November.

Driver Satisfactory From Auto Crash

Gerald Flowers, 28, of Santa Rosa, was reported in satisfactory condition at Community Hospital of Sonoma County with back injuries suffered in an accident at 3:15 a.m. today on Bodega Avenue at Pepper Road, west of Petaluma.

A passenger, Paula Brians, 18, of Santa Rosa, was treated at the hospital for a face cut. The California Highway Patrol said the car failed to stop at the intersection and struck an embankment.

Explosion Ruins Building At Plant

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—An explosion demolished one building and damaged a second today at the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. plant in the heavily industrialized eastern section of the city.

Authorities reported at least 13 workers were injured, four critically. The most seriously injured were taken to the Martland Medical Center here.

Fire Chief Joseph Redden said the explosion occurred shortly before 9 a.m: in the plant's No. 2 building. A fire broke out seconds later but was extinguished in about a half hour, Redden said.

He said the No. 2 building was destroyed and an adjacent structure "badly damaged." The company manufactures special chemicals.

An Indirect Pay Boost For House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House members have voted to give themselves an indirect income boost.

A bill that passed on a 233 to 167 roll call vote Wednesday would give the House Administration Committee the authority to increase without prior notice or floor vote the fringe benefits of all members.

"The gut issue here is that we're turning over to a little handful of people (25 members) the ability to do all these things," said Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa.

"These things" include increasing the number of paid trips home —now limited to 13 round trips a year —or the number of paid office clerks — now limited to 15 per member —or the amount of a member's postage, stationary, telephone or home office rental allowance.

"Public information will come after the fact, not before," said House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan. Ford, who led opposition to the bill, said increased benefits would continue "until and unless there is a scandal."

Rep. William L. Dickinson, R-Ala., second ranking Republican on the Administration Committee, said the bill "makes it very comfortable for the members, but very bad for the taxpayers."

Engineers Report Solving Test Problem; Apollo Launch Ready

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Project engineers reported today they believe they have solved the one remaining Apollo 15 testing problem, clearing the way for the launch as planned next Monday of America's most ambitious moonflight.

"Things have been proceeding very well," reported space vehicle test supervisor James Harrington.

Astronauts David R. Scott, Alfred M. Worden and James B. Irwin were winding up more than two years of training today for the 12-day mission by brushing up on procedures for walking on the moon and walking in space 48,000 miles above the lunar surface.

The problem that apparently was solved centered around a fluctuation in the command ship's electrical power system during a countdown test last week. Engineers never considered the problem serious but wanted to make certain it wasn't a symptom of a more serious problem.

"Right now, we're in the process of isolating the problem," said Richard C. Proffitt, the spacecraft test controller, during a countdown status report at the launch control center. "We feel that we have isolated it to a 400-cycle inverter.

"We feel that we're well on the track of it and it's not a constraint to launch."

The inverter, a device that converts direct current to alternating current in the command ship, was removed and studied in a testing laboratory. During tests there, engineers were able to duplicate a drop in power that accounted for the fluctuation.

The three lunar surface excursions planned for Scott and Irwin and the unusual walking in space 48,000 miles above the moon planned for Worden are expected to tell man as much about the moon as the first three Apollo landings put together.

Decorated Wave Gets Reprieve

OAK HARBOR, Wash. (UPI) —A decorated navy Wave who was to be discharged because she hasn't been promoted has been given a reprieve by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Lt. Doreen Jean Two, a 14-year veteran, said Wednesday Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has restrained the navy from discharging her until her case can be heard by the federal courts.

She said she will appeal first to the U.S. District Court in Seattle. "But it's almost certain the case will go to the Supreme Court because I'm questioning the constitutionality of a congressional act," Lt. Two said.

LOCKHEED WINS KEY LOAN VOTES

Leading Senate Opponent Threatens To Stage Filibuster To Scuttle Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —With its chairman keeping tabs from a Capitol hideaway, Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has won impressive House and Senate victories in its bid for the government-guaranteed $250 million loan it needs to forestall bankruptcy.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., Lockheed's foremost foe in Congress, threatened today to stage a filibustar aimed at preventing a final Senate vote before Congress quits Aug. 8 for a month's vacation.

Proxmire was whipped by a 56-36 vote Wednesday in his move to send back for new hearings a bill giving the government authority to guarantee repayment of up to $2 billion worth of loans to ailing corporations such as Lockheed, the nation's 33rd largest firm. Lockheed would probably get the first loan if the bill passes but it says it must have the money in the next week or so to avert bankruptcy.

California Senators Alan Cranston and John V. Tunney joined in voting against sending the bill back for rehearing.

A second crucial victory for the aerospace giant came in the House Banking Committee, which outvoted its chairman, and approved a bill identical to the Senate measure. The House was expected to act on the measure before the congressional recess.

Lockheed Board Chairman Daniel J. Haughton, a plainspoken engineer from Alabama, watched developments from the ceremonial office assigned to Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. The office is just off the Senate floor.

"In the 14 years I've been in the Senate, I've never been subjected to this kind of pressure," Proxmire said, complaining about lobbying by the White House and by Lockheed.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., agreed. "I expect Lockheed has as many lobbyists in Washington as there are senators," he grumbled.

Proxmire said he received two threats on his own life—one by telephone and one in a letter postmarked Long Island City, N.Y. Another letter warned of a plan to poison his food.

Proxmire told the Senate that Henry M. Durham of Marietta, Ga., a former Lockheed employe who had written him a letter about Lockheed's "mismanagement," had received "very serious phone calls" threatening violence.

As a result, Proxmire said, federal marshals have been assigned to guard Durham under a law making it illegal to threaten congressional witnesses. Proxmire has invited Durham to testify before the Joint Economic Committee about his allegations against Lockheed.

In the House, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the Banking Committee, said his committee's "ill-conceived decision" to approve the Senate bill could lead to defeat of the measure on the House floor. He called it "poorly perfected legislation which has every earmark of a general slush fund for big business."

Teen Held In Killing Of Mother, Others

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (UPI)—A 19-year-old Sheboygan youth was charged today with five counts of first degree murder in connection with the shooting deaths earlier this week of his mother, the mother of a girl friend and the girl's three younger brothers.

District Attorney Lance Jones said the criminal complaint charging Douglas George Dean with the deaths was filed in Sheboygan county court.

Jones said the weapon used in the slayings was a .22-caliber rifle.

Wednesday, attorney Robert Halvorsen refused police requests that they be allowed to talk with Dean, who was hospitalized Monday.

The complaint was served on Dean in his hospital room and the youth was taken immediately to the Sheboygan police station.

Dean was found in an incoherent state on church steps south of the city a few hours before the body of his mother, Mrs. Hildegarde Dean, 50, was found shot to death in her home.

Later that day the bodies of Mrs. Naomi Rammer, 45, and her sons, John, 16; Paul, 11, and Tommy, 10, were found shot to death in their home less than two blocks away. The two families were well acquainted.

Misdemeanor Charges Filed

Only misdemeanor charges have been filed in Marin Municipal Court against Gregory Grant Orr, 21, of San Rafael, who was arrested Monday on suspicion of burglary and possessing stolen property.

Orr is charged with misdemeanor possession of stolen property, credit car forgery and petty theft.

He was arrested when he allegedly attempted to use a stolen credit card at a San Rafael liquor store. He is to plead to the charges next Wednesday.

A $2.5 Million Grant For Training Site

The Coast Guard training school at Petaluma has received a $2.5 million grant to upgrade the facilities at the former Two Rock Ranch Army Station.

Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam said the funds were approved yesterday by the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation. She said the funds had originally been earmarked to upgrade barracks at an installation in Virginia, but that the change to the Petaluma installation was approved.

The money will be used to upgrade present facilities and to construct new buildings. The first training school is set to open on Aug. 2. The Coast Guard officially took command of the former Army post on July 1.

Funds For Equipment Approved

The Kentfield Fire District board last night approved spending $8,258 for fire equipment during fiscal 1971-72, according to Fire Chief Kenneth T. Kamp.

The board approved $4,713 for equipment for the new 1,500 gallon pumper and $3,545 for general replacement equipment, Kamp said.

James Hausle, 104 Estelle Avenue, was appointed by the board to replace former Chairman Jospeh Smith who died July 5.

The board also named Capt. Robert G. Mariani assistant fire chief to comply with the Fire Rating Bureau.

Two lieutenants will be appointed shift officers at a special meeting by the board Aug. 2 at 7:30 p.m.

Kamp said the board will meet at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. for its regular meetings on the second Wednesday of every month.

Lost Seaman Is Found Alive In Rubber Raft

WASHINGTON (UPI) —An 18-year-old seaman who disappeared from an Australian ship 300 miles off the California coast three weeks ago has been found alive in a rubber liferaft, the Australian embassy said today.

The embassy said the sailor, John Thomas Clough, was found by a Dutch merchant ship, the Toloa at sea. He had been discovered missing from the HMAS Australia during a roll call July 3.

The liferaft, capable of holding 20 men, had been discovered missing also. There were no other details as to how or why Clough left the ship.

The Australian embassy said the American ship reported Clough "dizzy and underfed" and complaining of a pain in his throat. He told his American rescuers he had been drinking sea water. He was reported recovering aboard the ship.

The Australian ship had launched an air search for Clough as soon as his absence was discovered, but was unable to find a trace of him. The raft in which Clough drifted three weeks normally carried three days' rations for each man, enough to last one man 60 days.

News of the rescue was relayed to the HMAS Sydney in Vancouver, B.C., then to the Australian Embassy.

Serum Rushed To Victim Of Bite By Black Widow

EUREKA, Calif. (UPI)—A man bitten by a black widow spider in his back yard was in good condition today after receiving a special serum flown from San Francisco.

William Owsley, 25, was bitten on the forehead Tuesday and became "violently ill", a few hours later. A Coast Gaurd plane flew the serum 300 miles from the University of California Medical Center Wednesday.

Doctors said the "prognosis was good" for Owsley, but that convalescence from black widow bites usually was a long affair.

Robber Sent To Youth Authority

Edward William Anderson, 20, of Martinez, has been sentenced to the California Youth Authority for an armed robbery in San Rafael.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court sentenced Anderson who had pleaded guilty in June to the May 3 robbery of James Emery Olah of 16 Ross Street, Apt. 3.

Olah was held at gunpoint in his apartment for four hours during the robbery in which $4,000 worth of stereo equipment and a $3,000 car were taken.

Demo Welfare Bill Dies In Senate; New Version Due

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Senate has killed Gov. Ronald Reagan's welfare reform program and barely kept alive a Democratic substitute the governor abhors.

In the year's first welfare showdown for either house, Senate Democrats beat back Republican attempts to amend Reagan's previously-rejected bills into a reform measure sponsored by Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills.

Beilenson termed it "a bit of an insult to the legislature" that Reagan would even try to revive his program after it had been rejected by two Senate committees.

Then Republicans Wednesday night blocked passage of Beilenson's bill, which required a two-thirds vote.

To salvage the measure, Democrats amended out key features that necessitated the two-thirds vote. Now, the bill can be passed to the assembly with a simple majority vote. It was expected to be late today.

"This will get us off dead center," said Senate president pro tem James Mills, D-San Diego.

The floor showdown climaxed months of Senate jockeying and a full day of strategy sessions. Reagan had met with Senate Republicans and urged them to support his amendments and reject Beilenson's bill.

The Republican governor let it be known he intended to veto Beilenson's bill if it ever reached his desk, contending it did not represent "true welfare reform."

The Senate generally voted along party lines. Democrats control the house, 20-19.

The Senate rejected six attempts by Sen. Clair W. Burgener, R-San Diego, to amend Reagan's program into Beilenson's bill. Most of the amendments were decided on a straight 19-19 partyline vote.

The key amendment would have established an "equitable apportionment" system so if relief funds ran short available money would be divided, with the "truly needy" receiving more and most recipients less.

The Reagan amendments also would have prevented unwed pregnant teenagers from qualifying for Medi-Cal abortions.

Beilenson said if his colleagues voted against Medi-Cal abortions they would be "making a damn fool mistake" because it cost only $400 for an abortion but $18,000 to bring up a child on welfare.

The Reagan amendments, according to Burgener, would have saved the state $108 million. Burgener warned the state faced a tax increase without them.

"The welfare system," Beilenson countered, "was set up to help the poor, not to help governors balance their budgets."

Beilenson said his program would save the state $23 million.

He pointed out much of the plan was cribbed from Reagan's and insisted it was "a serious effort to develop a consensus, bi-partisan approach to a most complex and controversial issue."

But after a two-hour rollcall, the bill could muster only 22 votes—five short of passage. Seventeen Republicans voted against it. The only two Republicans voting for it were Milton Marks of San Francisco and Peter Behr of Mill Valley.

"The governor wants his program or nothing at all," Marks complained to his colleagues. "The people of California are sick to death with political maneuverings on welfare reform. They want solutions."

Democrats finally removed from Beilenson's bill the features necessitating a two-thirds vote. These included an urgency clause to implement the bill immediately and various appropriation clauses.

Deleted was a section raising aid to families with dependent children by 17 per cent next July.

Retained, however, was a key provision opposed by Reagan requiring the state to establish a job program for 25,000 welfare recipients at $2 an hour.

Mills said he expects the Beilenson bill to be extensively amended in the Assembly and ultimately wind up in a two-house conference committee for final negotiation.

Meanwhile, the Assembly Welfare Committee reportedly was drafting a compromise measure containing elements of several plans, including Reagan's and Beilenson's.

Whiplash Injury From Car Crash

One person was injured in a two-car accident at 5 p.m. yesterday on Fourth and B Streets, San Rafael, police reported.

Elsie Lucretia Foster, 29, of 7397 Boris Court, Rohnert Park, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a whiplash, hospital officials reported. Her westbound car and another westbound car driven by Martin Price McDowell, 25, of 172 Picnic Avenue, collided according to police.

Viet Reds Ignore Peking Plan

PARIS (UPI)—The Vietnamese Communists publicly ignored President Nixon's plans to visit Peking at today's session of the Paris peace talks and privately indicated the visit would not soften their conditions for peace in Vietnam.

They again demanded an unconditional U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam. In private, diplomats of both North Vietnam and the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (the political arm of the Viet Cong) asserted they have Peking's full backing for their conditions.

They indicated there will be no concession on their part to smooth Nixon's path to Peking. They reiterated their two basic demands: total U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam and the removal of South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu from office.

Both Hanoi's minister of state, Xuan Thuy, who appeared to be in a more jovial mood than in recent weeks, and the Viet Cong's foreign minister, Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, brushed aside without mention a renewed plea by American chief negotiator David K.E. Bruce and Saigon's Pham Dang Lam to discuss immediately a cease-fire in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

"It is clear that if the American government continues its policy of Vietnamization of the war it will merely sink into an even deeper impasse," Madame Binh said.

In her five-page statement, Madame Binh, carefully refrained from naming anyone else in the South Vietnamese cabinet as undesirable and challenged the American negotiator again and again to state whether Washington will make Thieu's presence at the head of the Saigon administration a major issue.

Bruce last week warned the Communists they would be harboring "Illusions" if they thought Washington would drop Thieu.

Bruce told Madame Binh, "the proposals you made so far do not envisage an early end to all the fighting. On the contrary, they indicate that you apparently intend to continue the war until you achieve all your political objectives."

He urged Madame Binh and Thuy, to "take a fresh look at the advantages of an early and complete ceasefire demanded by the allies would not settle outstanding Indo-chinese issues, "it would put an end to the killing in all the areas where the conflict now rages, and I believe, it could not fail to affect favorably our deliberations here."

Hanoi's Thuy said the Vietnamese conflict will be settled peacefully only if Presdent Nixon sets a deadline for a complete U.S. military withdrawal and stops supporting South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu.

$55 Billion Estimated For Transportation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The state Transportation Board was told Wednesday that it would cost $55 billion by 1990 to keep pace with California's transportation needs.

The Association of Bay Area governments estimated it would cost $4.3 billion to extend rail rapid transit to San Jose, Marin County, Vallejo and Antioch.

ABAG also said $5.6 billion would be needed for new highways, $763 million for more buses, $1.2 billion for airports and $623 million for garages.

The Southern California Association of Governments told the board Los Angeles would need $11.3 billion in new highways and $3 billion for a rapid transzt system.

William Hibbard of the state Business and Transportation Agency said Gov. Ronald Reagan would study the estimates and present them in a package to Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

Negotiators Meet Again; Rail Strike In West Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prospect of possible government intervention faced United Transportation Union (UTU) and railroad negotiators who scheduled another meeting today in an effort to end a week-long strike against the Southern and Union Pacific railroads before it spreads to two other lines, Saturday and six others July 30.

The Chicago & North Western Railway announced today it had reached an independent settlement with the UTU covering wages, fringe benefits and work rules. Details were not immediately announced.

UTU announced earlier it would strike the C&NW, but the walkout was blocked by a court injunction, and the line withdrew from national negotiations to seek a separate settlement.

Southern Railway President W. Graham Claytor Jr. said, however, he doubted the C&NW settlement would form a pattern for the industry.

"I would be surprised if it made any difference," Claytor said.

Claytor said the C&NW was a small road with economic problems that led it to feel it could not stand a strike of even a few days. He said he had not seen the C&NW agreement, but the railroad's financial plight was such that it "probably had to surrender to the union."

UTU President Charles Luna, appearing in a television interview with Claytor, said the UTU was determined it would not give up any of the work rules it has won during decades of negotiations unless the railroads offer something else in return.

Luna insisted his union would feel the full brunt of work rules changes in contrast with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and other undions that have accepted the rules. He said the other unions either were affected lightly by the rules or were composed of members of such high seniority that they were not in danger of losing their jobs.

He said a member of the engineers union, for example, could displace a UTU fireman if his job was abolished under new work rules.

The UTU is composed mainly of firemen, conductors, brakemen, flagmen and switchmen. Except for conductors, its members largely are lower in the seniority ranks than the engineers.

The UTU and the rail lines have been meeting daily since the strike was called.

A similar session Wednesday produced reports of no progress. Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe warned that the government might have to take more substantive action if the strikes hurt the movement of commerce. Such action presumably woud be a congressionally ordered settlement, similar to what the legislators have had to do three times in the last 20 months.

The strike against the Union Pacific had a heavy impact at Stapleton in central Nebraska where more than 80,000 bushels of wheat have piled up in front of the county courthouse because no freight cars were moving to take it away.

The UTU has served notice it will strike the Southern Pacific and the Norfolk and Western at 6 a.m. Saturday. The union is fighting work rules the railroads want to establish. The carriers claim the new rules are needed to cut waste and expenses but the union claims the jobs are necessary.

After the strike began last week the remaining railroads instituted the new rules, resulting in widespread layoffs. That situation triggered a walkout against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad in the Peoria, Ill., area Wednesday.

The UTU plans to strike six more lines on July 30 — including the sprawling Chicago-to-California Santa Fe, if the dispute remains unresolved. The other five are The Bessemer & Lake Erie; The Duluth, Messabi & Iron Range; The Houston Belt & Terminal; The Elgin, Joliet & Eastern in northern Illinois and the Alton & Southern in St. Louis.

A strike against all the railroads mentioned would cut off supplies of raw materials to many heavy industries and would shut off rail transportation to most of the far west.

In other labor developments:

—Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans warned that the longshoremen's strike on the West Coast "is beginning to have serious consequences for every one concerned. For the sake of the country it should be brought to an end."

—Telephone workers throughout the state of New York remained off the job although the situation was returning to normal in most sections of the country. Some local officials in the New York City area had said their members would remain off the job until the contract was formally ratified, a process that could take two weeks.

(In Marin, a telephone company spokesman said there has been no wildcat strike. "Every single person who was supposed to report to work yesterday and today did," he said. There are about 550 employees in Marin.)

Mystery Witness Links Underworld To Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A mystery witness testified today that organized crime has made "substantial infiltration" into the nation's financial community.

Continuing his testimony before the Senate's Permanent Investigations subcommittee, the witness said he carried off sophisticated schemes, often with the help of public officials and financial insiders who pocketed bribes and payoffs.

Appearing under the assumed name of "George White" and testifying for a second day under court-ordered immunity from prosecution, the witness said he could not have succeeded in multimillion-dollar deals without such help.

"During my 20 years of activity in financial circles, it has become very clear to me that there has been substantial infiltration of the banking, brokerage, insurance and other financial communities by many persons who are directly or indirectly connected with organized crime," White said.

"I have participated in or observed a large number of crimes in these fields which were either instigated or directed by organized crime leaders."

The subcommittee, which is in the second month of hearings on underworld activities, planned to widen its investigation to call in what one called "so-called respectable" bankers, lawyers and brokers who White said make mob operations possible.

White detailed several of his complex schemes and named banks, insurance companies and financial insiders with whom he worked.

White said he is penniless now and is serving two terms for fraud at a prison in the Midwest. He was heavily guarded throughout his appearance by both uniformed and plain-clothes law enforcement agents.

White testified that some insurance companies use "stolen and dubious stock" in their financial transactions, among them the State Fire Insurance Company of Miami and the Community National Life Insurance Company of Tulsa, Okla.

He said other insurance companies, including United Bonding and Maryland National, wrote payment-guaranteed bonds for a financing and loan scheme through which he raised money for the now defunct Banco Suisso Panamanio in Panama. He said the insurance agents were "part and parcel of the whole structure" of the scheme and the bank president had full knowledge of it.

White testified that organized crime was so deeply involved in the financial community that "you could place orders for stolen securities just as you would order a car."

Sources in the subcommittee said today the subcommittee was expected to follow the suggestion of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R(Ill., who said the Senate should subpoena "anyone, whoever they are and wherever they are, who have made possible the operations of organized crime."

Percy made his statement yesterday after White testified he paid large bribes to public offqcials to stay out of jail. The witness said the bribes included several thousands of dollars paid to Mitchell Schweitzer, a New York Supreme Court justice.

Schweitzer denied the charge, saying there was "not a scintilla of truth in the testimony."

El Paso, Tex., was named for the Spanish for The Pass because of the pass through the mountains at the border site.

After Vietnam: Chin Peng Trail?

By RATAN SINGH

IPOH, Malaysia (UPI) — Infiltration of Communist guerrillas over the "Chin Peng Trail" stretching into Malaysia out of Thailand is increasing, according to field reports.

The stepped-up use of the jungle trail, named after the Communist guerrilla leader of the 1948-1960 Malayan war, is believed responsible for increased success of guerrilla raids in this area, far south of the Thai border, where security was thought to be good.

Villagers and soldiers in the Korbu Mountain range say the trail was reactivated about a year ago to serve the same purpose as the Ho Chi Minh trail does in Laos and Vietnam. That is to serve as a route for movement of guerrilla manpower and supplies. Military officials said the reopening of the Chin Peng trail followed a buildup in Communist strength that resulted from Malay Chinese rioting in mid-1969.

During the past month, the use of the jungle trail which at times rises to 7,100 feet in the mountains, has made possible a guerrilla strength that the Malaysian government views as alarming.

Government army patrols that stumbled across a guerrilla recruiting camp nine miles from here lost four men killed and three wounded in a pair of firefights. The first clash was a Communist ambush of a government patrol. When other government troops later tried to "chase" the guerrillas from the region of the foothills, the insurgents closed with them for the second fight.

Like the Ho Chi Minh trail, the route through Malaysia is not only one track. The Chin Peng trai is a maze of byways and footpaths which the Communists blazed a decade ago by slashing tree trunks and stacking stones to indicate the route. The trails move through areas which provide natural hideouts for the guerrillas —dense undergrowth, caves beneath shale cliffs, and obscure villages.

The government showed concern over the two recent clashes because of the proficiency with which the Communist forces fought. Sources said the tactics reminded soldiers of the smooth guerrlla tactics of 10 years ago during the "emergency" which ended as the insurgents faded into Thailand.

But the scene of the battles caused greater concern. The area was 100 miles south of the Thai border and signaled that the guerrillas were on the move and growing in number. Such attacks could be expected in the border areas, but the shock of a strong battle around this central trading city 100 miles north of Kuala Lumpur brought official worry about infiltration.

Officers say the guerrillas are expected to confine their operational movements generall to the Chin Peng trail area. It comes south out of Thailand along the eastern slope of the peninsular mountain range, then branches out in two directions to cover most populated regions of the Malayksian peninsula interior.

Government estimates placed Communist terrorist strength in Malaysia's Thai border regions at 1,500 men. But soldiers stationed in the area say the total is higher and the guerrillas are recruiting in the four of five Malaysian states where they are operating at will.

Hub School Panel Approves Budget

The San Anselmo School District board has approved a publication budget for fiscal 1971-72 totaling $1,945,000.

The publication budget, approved Tuesday by the board, is the final step before a public hearing and adoption of a final budget.

According to Supt. W. Kenneth Lowry, the budget carries the same tax rate — $3.445 per $100 assessed valuation — as last year.

The action was taken before the board adjourned in memory of Donald L. Shaw, principal of Red Hill School, who died Tuesday.

The board will meet again on Tuesday.

Touch, Breathe Marathon Set

A touching and breathing marathon will be held beginning July 30 at 8 p.m. until July 31 at 9 p.m. at the Catholic Social Services at 179 Los Ranchitos Road in San Rafael.

The marathon is an opportunity to focus on the experience of two of the most primary sources of aliveness and fullfilment, touching and breathing, according to David Newcomer, marathon leader. Both nonverbal and encounter experiences will be interwoven to provide the experimental methods of the marathon, he said.

Reservations for the 12 available slots are being accepted at the Catholic Social Service building.

CALLING ALL CAMERA FANS
By Ken Reichard

DON'T JUST STAND THERE, DO SOMETHING

The key to good movie making is to film action ... to show people doing something not just standing there in a static scene, which could be shown just as well in a still snapshot.

That's why plays often disappoint as movies. There's an excess of talk, and too little movement ... and it is in movement that motion pictures shine. So avoid those scenes where someone is just standing there, smiling or waving at the camera with a silly grin.

Have your son doing something he likes, like playing with his race car set or riding his bike. Your wife can be working in the garden or shopping for souvenirs on your trip. Any action adds interest, and it also opens up story possibilities. Moreover, action lets your "actors" concentrate on what they're doing instead of hamming it up for the camera.

Want "action" on a better camera at the right price for your budget? Come in and talk it over with us. We have the experience to advise you expertly ... and the complete lines of fine cameras to give you a great selection.

HUSBAND, WIFE

Folk Singing Duo At Weddings

By PAT BALMES

A Tiburon husband and wife sing folk songs "just for fun in a happy place" at new style, informal, personalized weddings. Albert and Marianne Aramburu sing words chosen by young couples which have touchingly tender significance for that particular couple.

"I never used to cry at weddings, but now I do!" says Marianne, adding with characteristic gaiety, "We try to pull ourselves together by the exit."

The folk singer says that "these kids" are designing their weddings for themselves, not for their parents' friends. These informal weddings are a much more personal statement than restrictive traditional ceremonies.

RECALLING THE Mount Tamalpais wedding of a bride in an elegant white peasant dress with a wreath of flowers on her hair, Marianne says she looked like someone from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The weather was beautiful, picnic delicious and music chosen for her day.

"It was a joyous celebration, incorporating everything that is fun and meaningful. The families saw each other in a casual atmosphere instead of a stiff, formal occasion," the folk singer remembers.

To illustrate that popular songs can be appropriate at an informal wedding, Marianne, sitting at her kitchen table, sings words from 1970's top record "Bridge over Troubled Water."

"I will comfort you. I will take your part. Oh, when darkness comes and pain is all around, Like a bridge over troubled water, I will lay me down."

(Words and music by Paul Simon)

The Aramburus enjoy meeting with these young couples in their home to sing them a presentation of folk songs, and then singing in the happy atmosphere of their wedding "instead of a dark, smoke-filled night club." Marianne says she doesn't want to sing anywhere that is "seamy or shady," but likes to do something dignified and moving "that you would be proud to have your children see you do."

THERE'S A vast difference between singing for money and singing for fun, she says. Professional entertainers must sometimes perform before inattentive and discourteous people "who think a performer is just wound up and sings. Perhaps because of television they think an entertainer is someone you turn off," Marianne muses.

The Aramburus have sung and played guitars at the Drinking Gourd in San Francisco, cut a demonstration record for Capitol Records Incorporated, entertained at a Red Cross benefit, churches, young and old people's groups, hospitals and school and sung on KPFA radio from Berkeley. They have been asked to "go on the road" and sing professional engagements, but they shy away because their children are important to them.

"We like to go camping on the weekends. It's so easy to get caught up in show business," she says.

So Marianne and Al sing for fun, practicing six to eight hours during the week before a wedding. Otherwise Al practices three or four times a week regularly but Marianne seldom practices "much to Al's consternation." Friends ask her how she can get up in front or people and perform; "but I love it," says the folk singer who plays auto harp and guitar.

SELF-TAUGHT ON guitar and harmonica, Al studied briefly with the Romero family, classical flamenco guitarists, in Los Angeles. Marianne says Al "passed her up like she was going the other way." She plays chords and he plays the "fancy stuff." Al plays harmonica simultaneously with guitar by means of a harness.

Al, in the computer division of Pacific Telephone Compnay, is chairman of Belvedere-Tiburon Ecology Commission, which is "very demanding at times." He works to protect environment at Tiburon peninsula meetings and believes in Zero Population Growth, recycling and "getting people to realize they cannot abuse our environment." His wife says that he works a couple of Saturdays a month at the recycling center.

As a boy in Los Angeles Al sang under now-famous choir director Roger Wagner, who was "tough on the Mount Carmel High School boys."

In high school in Los Angeles Marianne studied singing and sang classical music in church. Majoring in art in college, because she didn't like to practice, Marianne sang in madrigals and special singing groups. Now, because folk songs are "not challenging," Marianne plans to study classical singing.

"I've not taken lessons for 10 years because I have been a mommy," says the mother of Katie, 6, and Bert, 8. She serves on the board of the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon. Marianne does crafts, sews, draws, collects shells and rocks, and with her family bicycles, swims, plays baseball and volleyball. She learned gardening on her grandfather's chicken ranch and orange grove near Los Angeles.

"MY GRANDFATHER was reared on a Sioux Indian reservation where his father was the Indian agent. When he was a little boy Chief White Horse adopted him into the tribe," she says.

Marianne and Al like to do things together like paint their house, a hilltop home with a view of San Francisco Bay and the city, which "we never take for granted."

Married 13 years ago when she was 19 and Al was 24, Marianne says, "We have had the chance to grow up together and have our fun." They used to enjoy attending sports car road races. Marianne quit college and "had five years at the typewriter," while Al finished school and held a parttime job.

"I was so ready and so glad to rear a family," Marianne says. "Success hasn't anything to do with salary or material things, but with human values and happy children. My husband rushes home in the evening because we have so much fun together."

MARIANNE ARAMBURU of Tiburon sings folk songs with her husband, Albert, in the happy atmosphere of informal, personalized wedding, a preference over entertainment in night clubs. "We practice many hours the touchingly tender words the young couples chose for their wedding, and we sing just for fun," she says.

Serious Flaws Seen In Children Safety Programs

I-J Special Report

Studies being conducted at the Human Factors Laboratory of the University of South Dakota, the only laboratory of its kind in the nation, have revealed serious inadequacies in our accident prevention programs for children.

While accidents cause more injuries and fatalities than the leading six childhood diseases combined, "many programs and instructions designed for children's safety are either misdirected or insufficient," a laboratory spokesman said.

"The most frequent mistake we make as adults," asserted Dr. Norman Heimstra, behavioral psychologist who heads the laboratory, "is to assume that a child has a miniature version of our reasoning power, and that he will therefore be able to interpret dangerous situations by using 'common sense.'"

The truth, according to Dr. Heimstra, is that concepts we attribute to "common sense" are usually based on systematically learned information.

For example, many children run out against red lights because the red, green and yellow symbols haven't been explained properly. Most children know they should look at the lights — but may not be sure what to look for, he said.

Status For Eyes

In the summer makeup picture, eye lashes take on wardrobe status. You ought to have a collecton of lengths and styles —shorter lashes for daytime and longer for evening.

ITALIAN FASHIONS

Coats Recall 19th Century England

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL

ROME (UPI)—The landed gentry of 19th century England galloped through Italian fashions today in Clara Centrinaro's collection of hunting coats, coachman hats and romantic cape coats.

Black velvet hunting coats with nipped-in waists were worn with flared red and black plaid skirts for daytime and with multipleated black chiffon gowns for evening. White satin blouses and ties completed the daytime ensemble.

CENTINARO LIKED jackets belted and very full of skirt, reaching to nearly the knees. Her most applauded coats were flared form shoulder to hem, so full they looked like capes and could be swept up over one shoulder.

As always, her skirts covered the knee. Coachman hats with veiling tied over the face and trailing down the back completed the outfit. The Centinaro bride wore a white coachman with its veil to the waist in back over a white satin hunt coat and a white crepe anklelength gown with a skirt of inverted box pleats.

Ample curves had no place in the slim-line collections turned out Tuesday night by Mila Schon and Rocco Barocco.

Coats, dresses, tailored suits and a raft of pantsuits all were cut to nip in noticeably at the waistline and stay tight to the body over that most problemsome portion of the female anatomy, the hips.

Hips will spread but if the do, forget these designers or remember girdles.

MISS SCHON, the darling of Milwanese industrialists' wives who can afford to buy her beaded evening gowns that cost their weight in gold, cut knits and doublefaced wools to wraithlike thinness for her entire collection.

Word that designers were buying more doublefaced wools was an advance tip-off that winter garments would look more slender — the reversible fabrics need no lining, so look less bulky. What they do need is more careful tailoring, so the wallet looks less bulky, too, after purchasing them.

Slender pantsuits were the cornerstone of the Schon line, so much so that she sent out a white wool pantsuit with slim trousers, hip-hugging blazer and flower petal satin bow at the neck as her bridal outfit to close the show.

THE SAVINGS went into solidly beaded sleeveless tunics or jackets worn with crepe and chiffon evening gowns in dark, dull colors. One floor length evening coat was solidly covered in beading in a multicolor snowflake pattern on black. A hip-length redingote over a black slinky evening gown was worked with a pattern of honey bees, some at rest, some with wings outspread.

Barocco dresses were slim as a sheath, with belts and sashes to mark the newly narrowed waist. Like Miss Schon, his skirts hovered at the knee.

Both houses also agreed on hats for evening wear. Those at Schon had tiny turn-down brims and were pulled down tight over the head. At Barocco there was a choice for evening of head-huggers draped all around with veiling to shoulder length, or of the same huge cartwheels as were worn by day, with the brim tilted up at a 45 degree angle.

SUBURBAN SCENE

Dinner To Honor 55th Anniversary

By MOLLY MARIN

The 55th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mc Donnell of San Rafael will be celebrated at a dinner party tonight at the home of their grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Duane A. Love, in San Rafael. Family members and long time friends will attend.

Mrs. McDonnell is the former Wilhelmina Martin, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Martin were pioneer San Rafael residents.

They have two children, Darcy McDonnell of Benicia and Mrs. Phyllis Love of San Rafael, three grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Mc Donnell served in the Army in the Coast Artillery and is retired. He is a member of the National Rifle Association and a former instructor at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range, assisting with the police youth program.

The McDonnells were married in San Francisco, and have lived in San Rafael all of their married lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Chiswell, former Marin residents, are spending two weeks here, visiting from their present home in Brusseld, Belgium. They will entertain Marin friends at cocktails tonight at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

AT HOME in Walnut Creek are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lee Cole (G. Lynn Pfeifer) who were married July 10 at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Sacramento.

Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fredrick Cole of San Rafael. A graduate of Terra Linda High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara, he received a master's degree from UCLA.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Pfeifer of Sacramento, Lynn is a UCLA graduate.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Carmel.

New Products Available For Seamstress

A number of new products are available to seamstresses who want to make home sewing more successful according to Fred Fortess, Celanese consumer information director.

Polyester thread, which will help eliminate seam puckering when sewing polyester double knits and permanent press fabrics, and cotton-covered polyester thread are very strong and useful, says Mr. Fortress.

Other new products include a special ball point needle which will make it easier to sew with knit fabrics and lightweight, nonwoven, washable interfacing designed especially for use with polyester knits.

Another innovation is in supplying care and sewing instructions when fabric is purchased. A narrow, continuous tape with the instructions printed on it is inserted along the fold of the fabric as it is wound on the bolt. In this way no matter how small an amount of fabric is purchased in the store at least one complete set of instructions will be cut with the faric.

Hospital Graduates

Marin graduates of St. Luke's Hospital School of Nursing in San Francisco yesterday were Sue Connell and Cynthia Hibbert of Novato, Lexine Grubstick and Marainne Holcomb of San Anselmo, and Linda McNealy of Petaluma.

HELEN HELP US!

Don't Push Dad Over Brink On Anticigarette Campaign

DEAR HELEN:

We have a problem, or rather our father does. He used to smoke very heavily but he cut down to less than a pack a day.

My sister and I worry, and nag him about smoking, pulling stunts like writing on his cigarettes, making posters against tobacco, just about everything to make him quit.

Mom goes along with this but says "not too much," because she knows Dad is touchy on the subject.

We love him a lot and want to keep him around for a long time. Should we stay with the anticigarette campaign or will it make him so nervous he might start smoking more to calm his nerves? — DON'T WANT TO BE FATHERLESS CHILDREN

DEAR DWTBFC:

Hang in there but as your mother says, not too heavy. You've already accomplished a lot, since your father has cut down to less than a pack a day. Don't undo what you've done with overdoing. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm only 14 and known to be so sweet and innocent. I don't know how it happened - I mean how I could have let it happen — but I'm pretty sure I'm pregnant. I've been going with Mike, who's 18, for five months and we love each other. He's standing by me but, Helen, I'll kill myself before I tell my parents. Help! — SCARED

DEAR SCARED: (And there are so many girls like you who would "rather die than tell their parents.")

There's no other way: your parents must be told, and soon. Of course they'll be shocked and hurt, but you may be surprised at how fast they recover and what great comforts they are to a girl who never needed then more! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My sister was dating a college guy about a month ago. He asked her to a banquet and she accepted. She got a beautiful formal, new shoes, and went to the beauty shop. I mean she really went all out for this guy.

And he never showed.

A friend told me he treated another girl the same way.

My sister says she is over him. She acted as if the whole thing was a joke. But, Helen, every time a carstops or a horn honks, or the telephone rings, she's all tense. I think she still likes him.

Should I keep my nose out of her business or try to get her talking so she'd get over him?- — CONCERNED SISTER

DEAR SISTER:

Get her talking, if you can. When a girl holds things inside her, she daydreams too much. She may even be making excuses for this "stand-up collegian" when she should be working up a good healthy mad.

Call him a rat, and see what happens. — H.

To Decorate One Needs To Make Careful Plans

Are you one of those women who decorate often — or would like to? Decorating can radically change the ambience of a room and the way you use it in your daily life, and it doesn't have to be expansive. However, that takes some careful advance planning.

To keep costs low use paint, not wallpaper. Choose furniture that is easy to slipcover or for which you can buy ready-made covers. Learn to make draperies. And install a resilient floor covering rather than wall-to-wall carpet.

The Floors Council suggests vinyl asbestos tile in a neutral or pastel color or a wood pattern because these go with any and all furnishings. You can use area rugs of any color over the tile. And if some day you tire of such a discreet flooring, get adhsive-back vinyl asbestos in color or bold pattern. You can put it down right over the old resilient tile or linoleum.

Using this basic plan you can even change a room seasonally, with little work or expense: in summer use cool colors for drapes, slipcovers, pillows and rugs; then switch to a warm set for winter.

Shatter-Resistant Lenses Are Urged

Eyeglass wearers are warned by the National Safety Council to insist on shatter-resistant lenses and flame-retardant frames when buying prescription eyeglasses or ordinary sun glasses.

A regulation to require new eyeglass lenses to meet a standard impact test has been proposed by the Food and Drug Administration.

The 'Summer' Look In London

Fashion-conscious young women in London are pulling all the basics together for a great summer look, according to Women's Wear Daily.

The look starts with the long, black knit body dress. A belt goes around the middle and atop the head is a floppy matching hat. With it is worn platform sandals and a patterned shoulder bag.

Accessories are kept to a minimum — a little heart pin and a sweater thrown casually around the shoulders.

LIVES CHANGED

Couple Signs Formal Work Pact Dividing House Chores 50-50

I-J Special Report

When you are doing the dinner dishes) and the children still have to be bathed and put to bed, and you really should vacuum the living room and put a load of laundry in the washing machine, and your husband sits with his nose buried in the evening paper, does it ever occur to you that your marriage is balanced in his favor?

Author Alix Shulman and her husband decided two years ago that their household burdens were unfairly divided, so they developed a new arrangement which more closely parallels the kind of "sharing" which existed early in the marriage.

"When my husband and I were first married, a decade ago, keeping house was less of a burden than a game . . . Twice a month we'd spend Saturday cleaning and doing our laundry at the laundromat. We shopped for food together after work and though I usually did the cooking, my husband was happy to help," Mrs. Shulman has written in an article for the August issue of Redbook magazine.

"WHEN OUR son was born, our domestic life suddenly became quite complicated and two years later, when our daughter was born, it became impossible. We automatically accepted the traditional sex roles that society assigns. My husband worked all day in an office; I left my job and stayed at home, taking on almost all the burdens of housekeeping and child rearing. They (my children) seemed to be taking over my life," Mrs. Shulman says.

"Like most couples, we assumed that the wife must accommodate to the husband's schedule, since it is his work that brings in the money," Mrs. Shulman says.

But both she and her husband were dissatisfied with their lives — he because he had little time with his children; she because she spent all her time with them —and eventually decided that "we no longer had to accept the sex roles that had turned us into a lame family."

So the Shulmans sat down and drew up a formal "marriage agreement" which outlines each parent's responsibilities for taking care of their home and children.

"We believe that each partner has an equal right to his/her own time, work, value, choices," the agreement states. "As long as all duties are performed, each of us may use his/her extra time any way he/she chooses. If he/she wants to use it making money, fine. If he/she wants to spend it with spouse, fine. If not fine."

The Shulmans divided most of their jobs and time on a 50-50 basis. For example, "Mornings: Waking children; getting their clothes out; making their lunches; seeing that they have notes, homework, money, bus passes, books; brushing their hair, giving them breakfast (making coffee for us). Every other week each parent does all."

SINCE MR. Shulman works a regular 40-hour week, some duties necessarily fall to Mrs. Shulman exclusively such as transportation between 3 and 6 p.m., but in such cases, she must be compensated by extra work from her husband.

"Any deviation from 50-50 must be for the convenience of both parties," according to the agreement. "If one party works overtime in any domestic job, he/she must be compensated by equal extra work by the other."

For example, Mr. Shulman does all the housecleaning in exchange for Mrs. Shulman's care of the children when they are sick and her extra child care during his office hours. The schedule may be flexible, but changes must be formally agreed upon. The terms of this agreement are rights and duties, not privileges and favors.

Both Shulmans agree that their "marriage agreement" has worked well for them and they highly recommend it to other couples.

"Our agreement changed our lives. Surprisingly, once we had written it down, we had to refer to it only two or three times. But we still had to work to keep the old habits from intruding. If it was my husband's night to take care of the children, I had to be careful not to check up on how he was managing," Mrs. Shulman says. "And if the baby sitter didn't show up for him, I would have to remember it was his problem."

Floppy Hat Fashion

The floppy hat made fashion points at Wimbledon last week, reports Women's Wear Daily. Sometimes the brims were turned up sou-wester style to show the face and lots of long hair. Others flopped naturally, hiding the face to the eyes.

Illnesses From Picnic Lunches

Foodborne illness has become part of an American tradition, the family picnic, according to the U.S. Public Health Service.

It is common for picnic lunches that have been mishandled to cause illness. Cooking right at the picnic site saves time, is fun and may prove safer. Many picnic areas provide stoves, fireplaces or grills.

Leftovers should be saved only if the food is returned immediately to an ice chest where sufficient unmelted ice remains.

Home Aid: Bandages, Aspirins Only

What medical supplies should the typical family have in its medicine chest?

Over 80 per cent of the physicians of the American Academy of General Practice questioned in a recent survey recommended only two items: an analgesic preparation (such as aspirin, buffered aspirin or acetaminophen) and adhesive — strip bandages.

A substantial number of family doctors add a thermometer, an antibacterial preparation, gauze bandages and adhesive tape.

The doctors also suggested that the name and phone number of the family doctor and the neighborhood pharmacist be pasted inside the medicine chest door.

Quilted Skirts

American heritage quilted skirts in the Loomtogs summer line include paisley, geometric, floral and bandanna prints. An awning stripe print completes the heritage skirt offering.

New Ideas On Lingerie Front

Fashion goes beneath the surface to lingerie in fabrics that are soft, flowing and clingy, according to a booklet, "Fashions Called Lingerie."

The fabrics are sheer wool voiles, knits and light jerseys. Body stockings are popular under clingy midi skirts or hot pants, and bras have a softer look — no hard lines or seams.

The at-home look in lingerie has also taken on new dimensions with butterfly prints very popular. A flowing hostess jumpsuit, the booklet says, can turn ordinary evenings at home into special events.

Homemakers Praised For Liberation

A doctor congratulated home economists on being "real revolutionaries" but she added that most women don't push very hard for fear of being called unfeminine.

Dr. Estelle R. Ramey, professor at the Georgetown University Medical School, Washington D.C. said that a bright young agressive man is called a "go-getter" but a woman is called "an agressive bitch."

Dr. Ramey got a standing ovation from the Home Economists in Business in Denver for their annual meeting prior to the meeting of the American Home Economics Association.

She said the home economists were revolutionaries for launching professional careers and demonstrating that they are full-fledged members of the human race.

She compared hormonal differences between men and women and said that men were the "more fragile sex." She added, "No wonder they have wives — they need them."

Dr. Ramey criticized all religions which she said "teach men to thank God every day that they weren't born a woman."

Dr. Ramey said that "society tells men they have to produce, work hard and kill themselves, but the role of the middle class woman is to be a wife and mother."

"In an affluent society, however, with a large number of educated women who are strong, intelligent and bored, alcoholism among suburban women is skyrocketing," she said.

"God created woman as well as man in his own image, and that is a revolutionary thought. Our society is like the Mafia — we keep two sets of books. Woman is on a pedestal — beautiful, eternally young and a nitwit. Then there is the other kind who leads poor innocent men to their downfall."

"There is no question about who cares for the young. Even young and old radicals expect the female to care for the kids and clean up. You home economists can make this aspect of her life — running a home — much easier."

Jacques Tiffeau Designs Apres Ski Outfits

A collection of apres ski outfits, just completed by designer Jacques Tiffeau, according to Women's Wear Daily, is a compact package which will be ready for delivery to retail stores in September.

The fashion designer is showing long styles for apres ski. The skirts, princess dresses and jumpers are almost all ankle length, and he mixes them with blouses, sweaters, pea jackets and semi-fitted jackets with fur trims.

Put togethers in the new mood include a black wool crepe overblouse with full, deeply cuffed sleeves draped softly to one shoulder worn with a white wool crepe ankle length skirt. Another look is the brown and black houndstooth check, patch pocketed skirt worn with a short, fitted vest, shawl and camel ribbed turtleneck shirt.

Warning For Phosphate Replacement

Indiscriminate, premature replacement of phosphate detergents has drawn a warning from the U.S. Surgeon General, Dr. Jesse L. Steinfield, who sees serious dangers in many untested substitutes.

The Surgeon General's concern is shared by a number of medical and other scientific experts, speaking out against legislature or regulations that would cause homemakers to switch to highly caustic, non-phosphate detergents that might cause severe harm to themselves or their young children.

Such non-phosphate substitutes, says Dr. Steinfield, could "expose the child to serious risk or irreversible loss of sight, loss of voice, ulceration and blockage of the esophagus, severe skin burns and even death."

It should be recognized that "the home is still an important part of our environment," and to make it safe "ecology principles should apply inside as well as outside the home," states Dr. Robert E. Gosselin, poisons control expert and Chairman of Pharmacology at Dartmouth Medical School.

To illustrate the hazard factor in household detergents, Dr. Gosselin points out that 15 per cent of all poisoning cases reported nationally involved the accidental swallowing of household cleaning and polishing agents by children under five years of age. Not a single serious injury has been caused by a phosphate detergent, he says, while most of the new non-phosphate detergents "are so alkaline as to constitute a toxic hazard in the home."

Exercise In Moderation

"Beware of your neighbor who invites you to indulge in violent exercise," warns Dr. Albert H. Domm, medical director of the Western Home Office of the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

"The weekend athlete, who approaches you armed with tennis racquet, boxing gloves, water-skis or mountain-climbing ropes can be your worst enemy," Dr. Domm says.

"After middle-age, violent exercise, especially the 'do it all in one day' variety, can lead to all kinds of trouble," he says. "At best you'll wind up with sore muscles. At worst you'll have a heart attack."

Long Run Occasions Big Party

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tevye trudged off the stage for the 2,845th time Wednesday night and Broadway had a party.

"Fiddler On The Roof," the story of a Ukranian Jew, his peasant wife and his five unmarried daughters, surpassed the previous record for a long run by a musical on Broadway and the occasion called for a party.

Mayor John Lindsay and his wife went backstage to congratulate the cast. About 2,000 other playgoers and theater personalities were present at the wine and hot dog party. Lindsay said he wished the city of New York could do as much for "Fiddler" as the play has done for the city.

The musical, created from the Yiddish stories of Sholem Aleichem about the problems of a dairyman in a small village in Czarist Russia, surpassed the previous record for a musical, set when "Hello, Dolly!" closed Dec. 27 after 2,844 performances.

Two nonmusicals top "Fiddler." "Life With Father" with 3,224 performances and "Tobacco Road" with 3,182. Harold Prince, Fiddler's producer, said he believes the musical can run at least another year. If so, it would be the longest running show ever on Broadway.

Paul Lipson, who currently plays the role of Tevye, thanked the other cast members at Wednesday night's party.

"To be involved in theatrical history is, for me, tremendous. You can't make history without supporting players and they are the people that made 'Fiddler,'" he said.

Lipson has been with the play since its opening. He was the original understudy to Zero Mostel, who created the role of Tevye. As Tevye and other characters, he has appeared in 3,000 performances of "Fiddler," including some on tours with the show.

The New York production opened Sept. 22, 1964, at the Imperial Theater.

Novelist Recovering In Nevada Hospital

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—Novelist Walter Van Tilburg Clark, author of "The Oxbow Incident" and "Track of the Cat," was reported in fair condition today at Washoe Medical Center.

Clark, 61, of Virginia City, has been ill for some time and recently entered the hospital. He is writer in residence and lecturer in English at the University of Nevada at Reno.

ACT To Present Robards In One-Man Show on Mencken

By JAMES E. WILLIAMS

The American Conservatory Theater of San Francisco announced today it will present the world premiere of "An Unpleasant Evening with H. L. Mencken," starring Jason Robards at the Marines' Memorial Theater on Aug. 9.

The Frank Connelly and Gerald Roberts production of the new work, adapted and directed by Paul Shyre, will play a limited San Francisco engagement through Aug. 29, prior to a national tour.

Mencken, one of the most famous American journalists in the first half of the 20th Century, had a long career as a newspaper reporter, editor, literary critic and author.

Robards, who portrays the literary giant in the one-man show, rose to theatrical prominence in Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh" and "Long Day's Journey Into Night." Prior to opening the show will have six preview performances.

MUSIC

Kurt Herbert Adler, general director of the San Francisco Opera, will switch to the role of conductor Sunday at Stern Grove Festival in San Francisco, presenting soloists from the annual Merola summer program.

In the East Bay, the Lenox Quartet, composed of Peter Marsh, violin; Delmar Pettys, violin and viola; Paul Hersh, viola and piano, and Donald McCall, cello, will give a return concert Friday night at Hertz Hall on the University of California campus at Berkeley.

FHA Puts Ban On Financing In Tahoe Area

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Environmental groups trying to control development at Lake Tahoe got an assist Wednesday from the Federal Housing Administration.

The FHA announced it was suspending all financing in the five California and Nevada counties of the Tahoe basin.

The moratorium will remain in effect at least until next fall, when the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency hopes to adopt a comprehensive program to preserve the crystal-clear quality of the lake.

Robert H. Baida, regional administrator for the department of Housing and Urban Development, said the agency wanted to discourage development which might be contrary to the agency's plans. About 10 per cent of the building in the area is FHA financed.

Customs Service Adds To Staff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The U.S. Customs Service has added 115 new employes in the San Francisco Bay Area as part of a national drive against narcotics.

The service said Wednesday that 33 would be assigned to the office of Oscar Polcuch, in charge of investigations, and the rest to the import section, mail division, incoming inspections and duty collections.

Nationally, the service said 2,000 new employes would be hired.

Another Waterfall Death At Yosemite

Witnesses said the youth, whose identity has not yet been disclosed, was playing in the water of the Merced River Tuesday when he slipped and plunged over the rim of the falls.

SUMMER WORKSHOP

'Macbeth' To Open Tonight At College Of Marin Theater

"Summer Shakespeare '71" will continue at College of Marin tonight at 8 o'clock as summer workshop students, directed by James Dunn, presents the first of nine performances of the tragedy "Macbeth" in the Fine Arts Theater.

Taking the leads in the drama will be Carolyn Reed-Dunn, wife of director Dunn, as Lady Macbeth, and Dakin Matthews, as Macbeth. Both are appearing by special arrangement with Actors' Equity Association.

Other leads in the cast of 33 will be taken by Gregory Norgaard of San Rafael as Banquo and Mark Rasmussen of Lagunitas as Macduff.

Presented on a replica of a Elizabethan stage, it is the second production of a four-week summer workshop in which students have been extensively trained in Shakespearean verse, costume making, scenic construction and prop making.

Extensive lighting will be used to set the mood of horror story. It centers around the prophesy of three witches that General Macbeth will become King of Scotland. Lady Macbeth, after hearing the prophesy, goads Macbeth into murdering Duncan, King of Scotland.

Other members of the cast are Barrett Nicol, Elwood Markham, Gregory Mehrten, Daniel Long and Abby Goldman all of San Rafael; Tod Norris, Tim Shippey, Denise Orr and Matthew Shippey of Ross; Robin Williams, of Tiburon; Joel Blum, J. W. Harper and Carla Alsworth all of Fairfax; Robert Jones, Daniel McClellan, Howard McMaster, Mark LeRoy, Michael Moore and Greg Pedlar all of Corte Madera; Pamela Contos and Kendall Jackson of Belvedere; Thomas Spilsbury and Rick Casorala of San Anselmo; Alice Rorvik and Brian Tourigny of Mill Valley; William Walsh of Greenbrae; Elaine Womack of Novato; Judith Gordon of Larkspur and Kendall Jackson of Berkeley.

The play will be presented at the same hour tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday, Wednesday, next Thursday and July 30,31 and Aug. 1.

Before each performance, Elizabethan-style entertainment will be presented in the lobby and in front of the theater by dancers, musicians, puppeteers and mimes.

Fulbright's Panel Gives Nod To Radio Operations

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted Wednesday to keep Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty in operation another year while studies of both operations are being made.

Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said he believes both operations should be abolished. The committee asked the General Accounting Office and the Library of Congress for studies of the broadcast facilities after recent acknowledgements that both had been financed by the Central Intelligence Agency, despite fund raising appeals claiming they were private operations.

Radio Free Europe broadcasts to Eastern Europe while Radio Liberty broadcasts to the Soviet Union.

The committee's action voted up to $35 million for a one-year extension of both programs after rejecting a Nixon administration plan to create a semi-public corporation to take over both facilities.

The Yearly Pill Output: 16 Billion

By M.E. ROLPH

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Does your family use 320 "pep" pills each year? Are you addicted to what the kids call "uppers and downers?"

Looking at the statistics in California, major drug manufacturers last year produced 16 billion pills....and they sold them in the open market.

Based on just the statistics alone, it would appear that nearly every man, woman and child is "hooked" on pills.

Sen. James Q. Wedworth, D-Hawthorne, has tried for years to bring some control to the market of such dangerous drugs as amphetamines and barbiturates.

Last year lawmakers approved a "water-down" bill which required drug manufacturers to mark their pills so they could be identified.

Now, with the flow of "pep" pills into the market unchecked, Wedworth plans to amend one of his existing pieces of legislation to require that prescriptions for amphetamines require triplicate copies.

"Doctors are the first to stand in line and urge steps be taken to control production and distribution of these pills," Wedworth said.

"When the time comes to hear the bills in the Senate Health and Welfare Committee, the first opponents of the legislation are the California Medical Association and the pharmaceutical groups," the senator said.

Wire services reported earlier this week that a young man testified before a committee in Washington that he was able to purchase 1,000 "pep" pills from a legitimate pharmaceutical house just by adding "M.D." to his name.

This, according to Wedworth, is a "crime of ommission" on the part of the pharmaceutical house who would let dangerous drugs get loose without control.

Assemblyman William Campbell, R-Hacienda Heights, has tried for two years to attach a triplicate prescription law to pills, but he has been unsuccessful.

Professional groups representing doctors and dug houses have had too much muscle with the Legislature. They have proved that they can stop this type of lawmaking for consumer protection, he said.

Under a triplicate prescription method of control, both the doctor and pharmacist keep a copy of the prescription while the third copy is sent to the state Bureau of Narcotics.

This way it will be easy to trace the doctors who are overprescribing dangerous pills, and also, the legal red tape involved will keep many young people out of the pill market, he said.

Next goal in the drive to reduce the number of pills being consumed illegally in the United States would be restriction on importation.

Millions of pills produced in the United States are sold out of the country in places like Mexico. They then are repackaged and returned to the United States through illegal sources.

Senators Explain Opposition

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — California's two U.S. Senators, both Democrats, voted this week against continuing the controversial Subversive Activities Control Board.

Cranston called the SACB, which was formed in 1950, "an archaic holdover of the star-chamber mentality that almost destroyed democracy in this country during the early 1950's

Tunney called the board "a waste of money as it never does anything," adding that it "survives only as a vehicle for political payoffs." (The president appoints the board's five members, who receive $36,000 a year. There is also a staff of 10.)

"There is ample machinery in the Justice Department to deal with subversion in our country," Tunney said.

Swim Classes To Begin In August

A Red Cross senior lifesaving course will be offered from Aug. 2 through Aug. 27 at Benecia Pool daily from 10 a.m. to noon. Persons over 15 years and those who have completed the ninth grade are eligible to register.

TRIPLE 'S' SAFETY SERVICE SAVINGS

REMEMBER TRIPLE 'S' MEANS - SAFETY - SERVICE - SAVINGS

Can an $18 tire REALLY be as good as a $30 tire?

At TRIPLE 'S' it can!

We buy all our tires in rail car lots directly from the big tire factories. Go out and unload the cars ourselves. Eliminates a bundle of overhead expenses.

If you've ever been in a TRIPLE "S" store, you know it's clean. The people are friendly. BUT . . . it's not fancy and there aren't any big expenses for YOU to pay for.

So, quite honestly, at TRIPLE "S", we CAN sell similar tires for $18 that you'd buy elsewhere for $30 or more.

The tire we're featuring this week for $18 is a double belted premium quality tire made by one of the oldest tire manufacturers in the United States. It's a dual white-wall of the latest design. It's NOT a second. If you bought it with the manufacturer's name on it you'd have to pay $30. But our tire is called a Harvard . . . not a Goodyear or Firestone.

You've probably never heard of a Harvard tire. Quite frankly, neither had we until a couple of months ago. But, you'll know the manufacturer when we tell you who it is.

The Harvard tire is every bit as good as the tire that carries the manufacturer's name. But much less expensive. After all, you can't put costly TV advertising on your car. What you want is safety and, the most miles per dollar. That's exactly what we sell.

When you come and buy this tire for $18, we GUARANTEE it'll go 30,000 miles. We'll give you a written guarantee telling you exactly what we will do. And what we won't do. Give us a try. Why spend $30 for an $18 tire?

Raises At The Top Are Also Inflationary

The California State Assembly last week passed a bill increasing the minimum pay for public school teachers from $6,000 to $6,800 per year.

Certainly, $6,800 is not exorbitant pay for a beginning teacher in California. In fact, it's hardly a living wage. Nevertheless, the effect of such a bill is bound to be inflationary, because as teachers' starting pay goes up, school districts will find it necessary to raise salaries for teachers all up the line.

Also inflationary, however — and with a lot less excuse — is a 10 per cent pay raise the legislators voted themselves last year, and $5 per day which they this year added to their already ample expense allowances.

LAST MONTH, the legislature passed and Gov. Ronald Reagan signed a bill lowering the retirement age for state employes and increasing benefits for those retired. It permits state civil service employees to retire at 63 with full benefits, and drops the mandatory retirement age from 70 to 67.

There is no question that this is inflationary, through adding to the load on the tax rolls for retired state employees.

Also inflationary, however — and with less excuse — is a pay hike which the governor himself took this year, from $46,600 to $49,100 per year.

THE MARIN COUNTY Board of Supervisors this month granted county employees a three-year pay raise package, calling for boosts in pay of 7.5 per cent this year, 5 per cent next year, and another 5 per cent in 1973.

The package also includes increased insurance and overtime pay for the county employees.

Undoubtedly, this is inflationary. As chairman Louis H. Baar pointed out in casting the lone dissenting vote, the 7.5 per cent is more than the cost of living increase this year. Also, writing in raises two years in advance insures increased costs regardless of the state of the economy in 1972 and 1973. And the increased fringe benefits, once granted, never disappear. The total effect on the county payroll will be considerable.

Also inflationary, however — and with less excuse — is the $100 per month which the supervisors added to their own salaries this year. This hikes their pay from $12,000 to $13,200 per year. And none of them even pretends that being supervisor is his fulltime job.

THE COUNTY is in the process of choosing a new county administrator. The pay range has been advertised as $26,000 to $30,000 per year. County Administrator Alan Bruce was receiving $29,410 per year when he left June 30 after a decade on the job.

Odds are that when a new man is hired, his salary will not be $26,000 but $30,000 or very close to it. This means he will start for as much money as was paid Bruce after 10 years' experience on the job. This, too, is inflationary.

The moral of all this is simple: Elected public officials — elected, in part, to guard the public purse — can scarcely close it to employees down the line when they open it generously for themselves and for others at the top.

Charity begins at home. So does economy — a fact which our public officials seem too often to ignore.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown Wants First Class Status For New Voters

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Sec. of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. hit the nail on the head recently when he observed that undue restrictions on the 18-year-old voter tended to create a "second class" voter.

Brown, a young man himself, is a striking example of the responsibilities that are being turned over to the youth of the state and country. And these responsibilities are being met by the so-called "younger generation," which is preparing itself to be the older generation a few short years from now and continue the cycle of reluctance on the part of the elders to load responsibility on the young.

The elders frequently do not realize that the young are far more capable of inaugurating improvements in society than the staid oldster who "has it made" and is reluctant to turn over the keys to the inheritors. One reason for this may be the fact that the oldsters are more or less ashamed of what they have created to leave their children.

BE THAT as it may, Secretary of State Brown's observations are well taken, because the requirement that students must register from the homes of their parents disturbs and nullifies the very reason for lowering the voting age in the first place.

In adopting the new voting law, the people apparently were of the opinion that it was desirable to fix the age of adulthood at 18 rather than 21. Consequently, the question is not whether this was advisable, but rather, how young people will handle their new status as adults, and whether they will meet their responsibilities as citizens.

In other words, the 18-year-old no longer is tied to his parents' apron string, and it ill behooves politicians and officials to impose restrictions which hamper his voting activity.

If the 18-year-old is old enough to take a hand in the administration of the state and nation, he certainly is old enough to say and choose where he lives without the interference of self-seeking politicians.

FORTUNATELY, BROWN is young enough to recognize this fact, and he promises to do what he can to avoid this unnecessary restriction on the younger voter, who is fortunate in having a farsighted politician to look after his interests.

It is predicted in informed political circles that the younger voter, before too many years have passed, will have an opportunity to repay this interest, by casting a vote for Brown junior for a much higher office than secretary of state, for with the multitudinous flock of Democratic candidates for governor, Brown has every prospect of walking off with the nomination should he choose to seek the higher office.

Wide Variations In Grocery Prices

Interesting observations during a grocery shopping tour of a few southern Marin markets:

Apple sauce, 303 can, same brand, market A, two for 39 cents; market B, 9 cents.

Apricots, market A, 35 cents per pound; market B, 20 cents per pound.

Canteloupe, market A, 19 cents per pound; market B, 20 cents each.

Grapes, market A, 59 cents per pound; market B, 39 cents per pound.

Popular brand freeze dried coffee, market B, $1.83 for eight ounces; market C, $2.29.

It really makes a person think, doesn't it?

Supervisors' Pay Raise Questioned

May I add my amen to Miss (Marie) Woelfl's letter pertaining to our supervisors' raise in pay. I am sure she has expressed the thoughts of Marin County's taxpayers.

What I would like to know: How did they get the authority to raise their own salaries? It is so unjust when you think of our monetary situation.

NORA MARIE HOBBS

San Rafael.

(The supervisors got the authority to raise their own salaries when Proposition 18 passed by a vote of 2,626,035 yes to 2,567,287 no last Nov. 3 — a 50.6 per cent yes vote. Previously, supervisors' salaries were set by the legislature, but it rarely declined to go along with requests from the counties, so the result was much the same. — Editor.)

Help On Salary Control Is Sought

The "Initiative Petition Group", P.O. Box 295, Penryn, Calif., 95663, needs help in circulating petitions for an initiative measure to be submitted directly to the voters.

This initiative amends the constitution to require approval by majority vote at a general election before the salary can be increased for any elective state, city or county office. It suspends any salary increase for these offices made after December 1970 until such voter approval is obtained.

I appeal to all the property owners in this county to rally round and get this rolling. As Abraham Lincoln said, "To sin by silence when they should protest makes cowards of men".

Non-Reader Surprised At Fair Report

A friend has just shown me the I-J story on Mill Valley's strike situation as discussed at our July 19 city council meeting. I was pleasantly surprised to find your account a fair and objective report. Well done!

However, I was misquoted, and in a way that gave my remarks an unfortunate slant. What I said was this: "To paraphrase 'the Good Book', City Hall was made for man, not man for City Hall." (See original in the second chapter of St. Mark, verse 27.)

As you know, the term "the man", used in your story, has unhappy, negative racial connotations for many people. I spoke not for "the man" but for Man, each valued, unique human being of whatever race he or she may be born into. I should deeply appreciate your giving space to this correction.

Police Pay Raise Necessity Seen

I was surprised to hear that the San Anselmo City Council failed to provide even a cost of living increase to its police department. The San Anselmo Police Department has always provided my family, which has resided in San Anselmo 20 years, with excellent service. I don't see how the council can expect to keep experienced police officers it has spent taxpayers' money to test, hire and train without providing salaries equivalent to neighboring cities such as San Rafael and Fairfax, which means providing salaries adjusted to meet the rising cost of living.

If the council is interested in its citizens and their tax rate it would see that funds were allegated (sic) more wisely, which in part at least, would mean seeing that next year we don't lose more police officers we'll have to spend money replacing and so be able to use that money on such things as developing parks that we can all enjoy. The council has provided the police department with a $900 indoor-outdoor carpet. Why wasn't this "luxury" cut from a tight budget and used in a way that would provide our officers with some incentive to make San Anselmo a career rather than a stepping stone to some other police department?

President's Trip To China Deplored

The President is planning a trip to Peking which I consider deplorable for the following reasons:

1. Communist China is an immoral country fully opposed to the ideals that once made this a great nation: Capitalism and the sanctity of the individual.

2. To add to the horrendous 1933 mistake of recognizing Russia, this visit to China is not only an insult to the American people, but a greater insult to those millions of people who have fled communism and a sickening insult to those who have died opposing it.

3. While our POWs languish under terrible conditions, our President will be feted by their captors.

4. Our tax money — which is coersively (sic) pulled out of us — is to be used for this insulting trip.

5. Headline! "The filthy imperialistic United States has come crawling to the peace loving people of Red China begging for mercy." This is how we'll look to the rest of the world and make no mistake about it, the communists are going to turn this trip to their advantage in every way they can.

It is beyond me how Richard Nixon can even consider meeting with mass murderers and enslavers. History is repleat (sic) with the failures of dealing with Communists.

I take this trip to Red China as a personal insult and as a victory for those who would see us enslaved and part of the overall Communist takeover of the world.

I am not a Bircher or a wild-eyed American patriot but a concerned citizen of this country who wells that to remain silent is not golden. I can only hope that enough Americans feel the same and will let Richard Nixon know how they feel, and maybe change his mind.

China, U.S. May Be Moving Back Toward Former Friendship

WASHINGTON — Stranger than any fiction are the twists and turns in the love-hate relationship between the United States and China over a century or more. The President's decision to visit Peking is the latest dramatic move in restoring what had once been a warm hands-across-the-Pacific friendship between the two Pacific powers.

The key to what happened lies with enigmatic, western-oriented Premier Chou En-Lai. The hope is that out of the Nixon visit a new Indochina conference can be put together and the war in Vietnam brought to an end within that framework.

AN INCIDENT occurred at the first Indochina conference in Geneva in 1954 that observers present felt contributed a lot to Chou's subsequent hostility. Sec. of State John Foster Dulles, head of the U.S. delegation, had promised the Asiafirsters in the Senate that during his brief stay at the conference he would not in any way recognize the presence of Chou En-lai or any other Chinese. In an anteroom immediately after the first session of the conference Chou, according to an American present, started toward Dulles to greet him. The secretary turned his back and walked away.

A small incident, but, given Chinese sensitivity and the importance of face, an astute observer with long experience in Asia believes that Chou's hostility owed much to the snub.

Every sign makes clear that Chou today is eager for closer ties with the United States. William Atwood, publisher of Newsday, who did some of the most perceptive writing during his recent visit to China, told of the dinner Chou gave for several American correspondents. The dinner was reported in every newspaper in China under the hearing, "Friendly Dinner With Americans."

AFTER THE GENEVA conference Chou signed telegrams to 22 American journalists informing them that visas would be awaiting them in Hong Kong at a specificed date to visit the People's Republic. Dulles killed this when he announced that no Chinese journalist would be allowed to visit the United States, since China had no journalists — they were all intelligence agents.

Reports from Peking indicate that the foreign office and the ministry of information have been swamped by requests for visas. They come from journalists, businessmen, scientists, doctors who want to study the ancient practice of acupuncture, and Chinese specialists of every kind and descrption. In the ministry of information only one or two individuals have expert knowledge of the American media. One of them is said to have asked an American visitor, "But who is Walter Cronkite?"

ANOTHER KEY figure in the unravelling of past hostilities for a new approach is Huang Hua, who is to be ambassador to Canada. Huang's arrival in Ottawa has been inexplicably delayed. It is believed he remained in Peking to take part in the talks between Chou and the President's national security adviser, Henry Kissinger.

As long ago as the Geneva conference Huang was Chou's lieutenant. The Pentagon papers reveal that at a critical point in the conference he was entrusted with initiating an interview with Seymour Topping, then with the Associated Press, to say as an "unidentified high Chinese source" that under the agreement at Geneva the United States would be expected to live up to the neutralization of Indochina. Topping, who later identified his source to undersecretary Bedell Smith (sitting in for Dulles), said that when Huang spoke of the possibility of American bases in Indochina or an anti-Communist pact in Southeast Asia, "he became very agitated, his hands shook, and his usually excellent English broke down, forcing him to work through an interpreter."

As ambassador to Canada, Huang will have an interest in all of North America. That is surely why he was assigned to this post after the Canadians and the Chinese negotiated their mutual recognition. As evidence of his stature, he stayed on at his post as ambassador to Eygpt throughout the people's revolution, although all other ambassadors and most of their staffs were recalled to Peking to be disciplined.

In Chou, President Nixon has found a willing partner. They may travel a long way together.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Nixon's Visit Sets Off Worldwide Reverberations

By WILBUR G. LANDREY
UPI Foreign Editor

President Nixon's invitation to Peking affects not only the United States and China. The changes it heralds are so basic that they affect in some degree the foreign relations of nearly every country in the world.

Every country must examine its alliances, its friends and enemies, in a new light. Ambassadors will be busy in Washingon this week, and doubtless in Peking, seeking clarification of what it all means.

The stunned surprise with which the announcement of Nixon's forthcoming visit was received in Moscow and Taipei illustrate only the two most obvious implications.

EVEN THE BEGINNING of rapprochement between the United States and China, the two major world adversaries of the Soviet Union, is bound to affect Russia's foreign relations in every area of the globe despite Nixon's assurance that his visit "is not directed against any other nation.

One of the principal Soviet objectives in seeking a Strategic Arms Limitation agreement with the Unitd States and a European Security conference to formalize the postwar status quo is to leave the Russians secure in he West in order to deal with China in the East.

The Soviet drive in the Middle East, Soviet penetration into the Indian ocean, increasing Soviet naval power and Soviet policies in India and Southeast Asia all can be related to China as well as to the United States, in some cases more so. All must be reexamined now.

The predicament of the Chinese Nationalist Government in Taiwan is even more obvious, despite Nixon's assurance that a new relationship with Peking "will not be at the expense of our old friends." The United States is the main pillar of Nationalist China's security.

BEYOND TAIWAN is Japan, the major power in the area alongside China, which cannot be ignored in any major Asia settlement. The United States has been urging Japan to assume a greater burden of its own defense commensurate with its economic power. This would enable it to carry greater weight in a new Asia balance of power.

Japan must be wondering whether closer relations with Russia could be part of the balance, just as Russia may seek alliance with Japan.

The two Koreas, one pro-Chinese, one pro-American, must be concerned.

EVEN IF the Nixon trip has no direct effect on the Vietnam peace talks, its influence is bound to be great. China is the closest ally of neighboring North Vietnam while the United States is the major prop of the government in the south.

The North Vietnamese remember that it was China which struck the deal with France which ended the first Vietnamese war with an arrangement the North Vietnamese later felt robbed them of some of their battlefield gains. Already they have shown signs of nervousness at the Nixon visit.

Beyond Vietnam are the "dominoes", the countries the U.S. government once feared would topple in a row should South Vietnam fall. The two other Indochinese countries, Cambodia and Laos, are not included in the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, but China could undoubtedly play a role in promoting settlements in both. The ousted Cambodian leader, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, is in exile in Peking.

Thailand, an American ally in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), has Communist insurgents in its border areas. Already seemingly perturbed by the Nixon doctrine asking Asian nations to contribute more to their own defense, its leaders may increasingly reexamine their position in the light of the Peking visit.

Other Asian SEATO allies — the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand — will be vitally interested in the Nixon visit as indeed will every other country in the area. Singapore and Malaysia are "dominoes" and Malaysia has Communist insurgents. Beyond it, so does Burma.

ON THE INDIAN subcontinent, India and Pakistan could be close to war over the civil strike in East Pakistan which has sent a flood of refugees into India. In that confrontation, China is the ally of Pakistan and Russia that of India. The United States hovers uncomfortably in between.

If Magee's So Dumb, How Is He Able To Snarl Courts?

Naturally, any defense attorney's likely to be loyal to his client's image — at least in public. Ruchell Magee's attorney, Ernest L. Graves, is in a category almost by himself in this regard.

Graves's legal capabilities are widely known among the pros in courtroom circles. He also may be of the same caliber of image molders involved in the making of presidents. It could be because he formerly was a publisher and advertising agency owner in Washington state, before embarking on a law career.

Graves really seems to be proud of Magee's intensive efforts to guide his own defense. The attorney repeatedly stresses that the San Quentin lifer has worked wonders in teaching himself law and in reasoning out unique approaches.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Graves cites Magee's recent encounter with Judge Samuel Conti in federal district court.

The judge, after declaring that Magee's motions to force his trial out of the state courts were "frivolous," signed an order restating (in Conti's own words) "the court's previous order that any such petition for removal be 'lodged' with the clerk of the (federal) court and not be considered 'filed' — which would stay the state court proceedings."

"If Magee's so dumb," Graves asked, "how come his petitions would be effective in stopping state court proceedings and the judge must refuse to file them?

"If Magee had been a tax lawyer and had found such a loophole, he would be hailed as a great legal technician and all of his clients would be able to escape taxation until the Congress acted and closed the tax loophole. But because he's a 'dumb criminal' instead of a tax lawyer for moneyed clients, he can't get the benefit of that. How come?"

TURNING FROM the serious matters in the Marin Hall of Justice to some lighter goins-on in the Twin Cities:

Larkspur almost lost all the benefits of winning that great horseshoe pitching contest with the Corte Madera town fathers during the Fourth of July holiday.

It was discovered that the Larkspur elders (in the sense of wise leaders, of course) had nailed their horseshoe victory trophy on high with the ends pointing downward. They were surprised to learn that they were letting all the shoe's luck spill out.

Ever-efficient City Mgr. Kent Bathurst said he'd remedy the situation right away.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION for the common well-being I hereby offer most humbly (since it probably couldn't be less important). It concerns that cornerstone from the old Marin County Courthouse that eventually will be opened with great ceremony.

One of the talking points made at Tuesday's long and much publicized supervisorial hearing on the fate of the 99-year-old time capsule was that the box might contain fabulously valuable, rare old coins.

It occurs to me that the experts who pry open the old box should be just as concerned about preserving any air it contains. After all, it should be smog-free.

Publication Budget Set By Reed School Trustees

A $2,467,501 publication budget for 1971-72, a $326,975 increase over last year's budget, has been approved by trustees of the Reed School District.

Trustees set a budget hearing for 8 p.m. Aug. 3 at Bel Aire School to consider the record spending program and adopt a final budget.

Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said the board Tuesday did not discuss the effect the budget will have on the property tax rate in the district, which now stands at $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation.

Included in the spending program are $1,163,209 for teacher salaries, $216,660 in reserves, $161,826 for operation and $48,945 for capital outlay.

The proposed budget includes only step increases for teachers and makes no provision for other raises. Giovanniello said negotiations with teachers will resume in September.

In other business Tuesday night, trustees postponed a decision on whether to lease a portable building to the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon to provide a new home for the second-hand goods store.

The shop was asked permission to move a portable building from Bel Aire school to Reed School adjacent to the district office and lease it from the district.

Giovanniello said the board asked him to report at the Aug. 3 meeting on what financial arrangements could be made between the district and the shop.

The building is now used as a communications center and for storage.

Construction To Close Road Section

A section of Petaluma Hill Road northwest of the Sonoma State College campus will be closed next week while county road construction crews spend six weeks replacing two culverts.

Northbound traffic will be routed west onto the Rohnert Park Expressway and North on Snyder Lane. Southbound traffic will be sent south on Snyder Lane to the expressway for a return to Petaluma Hill Road.

The Reed School District board also:

SIGN — Authorized Giovanniello to sign documents on behalf of the board.

ASSOCIATION — Approved membership in California School Boards Association for 1971-72 at a cost of $469.

DEDUCTIONS — Authorized payroll deductions for administrators for dues to the Association of California School Administrators.

RESIGNATION — Accepted resignation of Marilyn Nero, aide at Reed School, for personal reasons.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to 8 p.m. Tuesday at Bel Aire to finish items from Tuesday night's meeting.

But Just Suppose Kissinger Really Had A Tummy Ache

WASHINGTON — When the history books of this decade are written, they will be referring to Henry Kissinger's trip to China as "The Tummy Ache Heard Round the World."

Using the excuse of an upset stomach, Mr. Kissinger managed to elude everyone and high-tail it off to Peking to have sweet-and-sour pork with Chou En-lai.

While it was a great ploy, Mr. Kissinger's "diplomatic illness" could backfire on him. Suppose he really gets a stomachache at some future time. Who is going to believe him?

OUR SCENE OPENS in the medical room at the White House. Henry staggers in clutching his stomach and says, "Doctor, I have this pain right here."

The White House doctor laughs. "Good old Henry. Where are you off to this time — the Suez Canal?"

"I'm not joking, Doc. It hurts terribly."

"I know," the doctor says, "the President is sending you to talk to Castro."

Henry is now writhing on the floor. "Believe me, it hurts. Right in the gut. You see, I had dinner with Gloria Steinem and Bella Abzug, and they served me Bon Vivant Vichyssoise. Since I was out of the country at the time, I didn't know you weren't supposed to eat it."

"You really can put on an act, Henry. I wouldn't be surprised if you turned up in Albania next week."

HENRY CRAWLS OUT of the doctor's office on his hands and knees.

Ron Zeigler, the President's press secretary, sees him crawling down the hall.

"Hello, Mr. Kissinger," Ron says. "Can I help you?"

"Get me to a hospital."

Ron takes out his notebook. "That's a good cover story. I'll announce you were taken to a hospital this morning. I won't tell them which hospital."

"No, Ron, I don't want you to announce I was taken to a hospital. I want you to get me to a hospital."

RON WINKS at him. "Is it East Berlin or Yalta?"

"Please, Ron. I'm sick. I'm going to die."

"I doubt if the press corps would buy that, Mr. Kissinger. If we announce that you've died, and then you pop up at San Clemente a week later, the newspaper guys will get awfully mad. Let me announce you're having your tonsils out. I have to go to my press briefing now. I'll see you later."

HENRY IS ROLLING on the floor as Sec. of State William Rogers comes by.

"Hello, Henry. You going to the cabinet meeting?"

"Mr. Secretary, my stomach. I have a pain in my stomach. It's killing me."

Secretary Rogers says angrily, "Well no one has informed me about it. What are you up to this time?"

"I'm not up to anything, Mr. Secretary. Could you call an ambulance?"

"Hanoi," Rogers says. "You're cooking up something in Hanoi. I'll probably be the last one to know about it."

"I'm not going to Hanoi. I'm really sick."

"No kidding? Wel, I'm sorry to hear that, Henry." And Rogers smiles and walks away.

WITH HIS LAST ounce of strength, Henry staggers into the Oval Room and falls down in front of the President.

"Henry," the President says. "You don't have to prostrate yourself in front of me. I know you're loyal."

Henry is in such agony he can't speak.

"What is it, Henry?" the President says. "Would you like to go to Morocco?"

Henry shakes his head.

"The Vatican? You want to see the Pope?"

Henry groans.

The President gets up. "I don't have time to play games, Henry. Write me a memo telling me what you want. By the way, Mrs. Nixon said she would like you for dinner tonight. We're having meat loaf."

Henry screams and passes out, as the curtain falls.

Drug Center Proposed At Abandoned Site

BERKELEY (UPI) —A plan to use part of an abandoned Nike site in Tilden Regional Park for a residential drug rehabilitation center has been proposed.

Jack Goldberg, executive director of a new drug rehabilitation group in Berkeley, said today he was making a bid for the former site to care for about 20 or 30 drug victims.

The site was occupied by Indians last month after they were removed from Alcatraz Island.

Goldberg says his non-profit corporation is "looking to establish a residential therapeutic community for persons who have drug problems." He said it would serve the entire Bay Area.

Teen Voter Registration Bias Denied

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Attorney General Evelle Younger says the controversy over his legal opinion that 18-year-old voters must register at their parents' address arose in some instances "because of a deliberate attempt to misinterpret for political purposes."

In a statement issued Tuesday, Younger also says counties are not bound by his opinion, and that the problem should be clarified either by the legislature or the courts.

"Legislative clarification is by far the best solution and one which I hope will be reached. If this is not obtained, then judicial clarification of this admittedly controversial subject should be sought," Younger said.

His earlier opinion, given at the request of Santa Barbara County, held that new voters aged 18 to 21 must register at their parents' address, despite in many cases having lived elsewhere for several years.

Today's statement reiterates that finding, and says the basis is that there is no law on the question at all. In the absence of law, Younger said, the legal residence must be the same as that specified by statute for other legal purposes.

Said Younger: "It is not disturbing that contrary legal opinions have been expressed. In a new area, where there are no specific statutes or prior cases, opinions of lawyers can and do differ. That is why we have courts.

"However, to suggest, as some people have done, that the Attorney General's opinion was issued to curry political favor is absurd and completely devoid of reason or truth."

Younger also said that he has endorsed legislation "conferring all legal rights and responsibilities on 18 year olds. The state legislature has been repeatedly urged to revise, not only the election laws, but also to reevaluate the entire law with respect to majority and give the 18 to 21 year olds full rights and duties as adults."

Elementary Schools' Antilitter Programs

NEW YORK (UPI) —Elementary school children get more anti-litter education than their older brothers and sisters, according to studies reported by the Litter Letter of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

In a survey of schools across the nation, 74 per cent of the elementary schools reported anti-litter programs offered regularly and extensively. This dropped to 58 per cent in junior high schools and 31 per cent in high schools.

Businessmen Like Phone Alert System

A telephone alert system to warn Sausalito merchants of shoplifters or persons attempting to purchase goods with a bad check or stolen credit card was introduced to the city's business community yesterday and greeted with enthusiasm.

All the approximately 40 persons who attended the informational meeting on the program called by the Sausalito Police Department (which is initiating the system) indicated interest in participating.

According to Police Chief James D. Wright, the alert system is unique in Marin, but has been used with great success in other California communities, including Carmel.

Under the program, a merchant who notices shoplifters (or phony check passers) in his store calls police and provides them with a description of the offenders.

Officers will, in turn, call four businesses to pass along the descriptions. The four merchants so notified will each call two other businesses to provide them with the information and each merchant called will telephone two other businesses to alert them to the danger.

In this way, Wright said, Sausalito's entire business community can be alerted within 10 minutes if every person contacted makes his assigned calls promptly.

"Not only does this system act as a deterrent by discouraging professional gangs of shoplifters or check passers from coming to Sausalito," said the chief, "but it also makes it easier for police to arrest these people."

If all stores are on the alert for would-be thieves or forgers, an owner noticing a person answering the description flashed over the system can notify police as soon as the individual enters his business, the chief said, giving officers a good opportunity to make an arrest.

The proposed system will be known as SOS, Security of Sausalito, and merchants may also be able to purchase stickers warning that their businesses are protected by the program as another deterrent.

The chief demonstrated the need for such a system, noting that U.S. businesses lose between two and three billion dollars to shoplifters annually. "It is the most expensive crime in the nation and costs citizens more than burglary or auto theft," he said.

The department intends to contact all businesses in Sausalito in the next two weeks in hopes of signing them up for the program.

A 1,000-Seat Jetliner Seen

SEATTLE (UPI)—A humpless 747 jumbo jet which could carry up to 1,000 persons may be in the air by the end of the decade, the Boeing Co. said Wednesday.

Rowland E. Brown, in charge of production development of the 747, said design studies which the firm is considering would remove the "hump" from the current model by extending the plane's two decks the entire length of the craft.

The superjet's 231-foot body also would be stretched by at few feet. The alterations would double present passenger capacity, Brown said.

OLD MEETS NEW WITH DISASTROUS RESULTS

A 1932 Model B Ford lies on its side, pretzelized by a 1965 Dodge pickup at Fourth Street and Alexander Avenue in San Rafael. Neal Thomas Johnson, 32, of 15 Rosemont Avenue, San Anselmo, who works for Bent Fender Auto Body Shop at 50 Tiburon Street, San Rafael, had fixed up the old car and added a new motor. Johnson was westbound in the hotrod on Fourth Street at 5:05 p.m. yesterday when the truck, driven by Bruce Gordon Vaughn, 50, of Lagunitas, southbound on Alexander Avenue, attempted to cross Fourth. Johnston was treated at Marin General Hospital for a fractured left shoulder, cut left leg and multiple scrapes and bruises, hospital officials reported. Norma Vaughn, 44, wife of the driver of the truck, was treated at the same hospital for a bruised scalp and muscle strain, according to hospital officials.

Housing Panel Approves Hike In Rent Schedules

The Marin County Housing Authority last night approved a higher rent schedule for public housing, expected to increase housing authority revenue substantially.

The announcement of the new schedule came at a meeting highlighted by disclosure that occupants of public housing in Marin may remain in public housing no matter how high their income reaches.

The new rent schedule, however, will not work any hardship on most of the tenants according to Wallace K. Shepherd, authority executive director, because the hike in their rents will largely be picked up by the county welfare department. Others may have to pay about $5 or $6 more a month.

The former rent schedule was based on a percentage of a tenant's earnings with an average of 19 per cent —ranging from 15 to 25 per cent depending on the level of income.

Shepherd said the new schedule applies a fixed rent to an apartment no matter what the family is earning. The only stipulation is no family will pay more than 25 per cent of its income, Shepherd added.

Shepherd said he could not estimate the amount of revenue to be gained by the housing authority under the change to go into effect in September.

"This will stabilize the whole rent structure," said Shepherd explaining a family will also benefit more from future income gain since none of that gain will go toward rent.

Shepherd was asked if it were true that families would remain in public housing even if their earnings rose above the qualifying poverty level.

He replied that some housing authorities do ask such overincome tenants to move out because they need the housing units. "We think this is a bad policy," he said.

Shepherd, who acknowledged during the meeting that more than 1,000 persons are on a waiting list for subsidized housing, said his agency charges "over income" families the "fair market value of their rental units.

"What is the limit that a family can earn and still remain?" one man asked.

"I can't answer that question right now," responded Shepherd, adding he didn't have those files with him.

Shepherd, asked later what happens to a family with an income of $18,000 or $20,000, said he "hoped" they would move out of the low-rent project into private housing elsewhere.

Following lengthy discussion on the availability of information on the schedule to subsidized tenants, the board approved it for Marin City but delayed action changing rents for senior citizens.

Additional information will be distributed to seniors during the next few weeks, the board said.

The Marin County Husing Authority board also:

GARBAGE — Approved a two-year contract with the Bay Cities Refuse Co., increasing monthly rates for residents from the present $3.25 to $3.50 the first year and $3.70 the second.

PERSONNEL — Approved hiring Harry Yaffee as controller at a salary of $1,100 per month and increased the salary of Ester Parks, clerk-typist $5,688 to $5,976 per year.

EQUIPMENT — Approved the purchase of a cash register for $2,600. The special machine is needed for the rent collection office and will speed up posting of receipts.

ARCHITECTS — Formed a two-man committee to interview three architectural firms for remodeling of the Marin City headquarters. Remodeling is expected to cost $60,000 and is part of centralization.

MEETING — Agreed to meet with employees and union representatives to discuss salaries. No date has been set.

Plea Of Innocent To Burglary

James Floyd Angle, 23, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to two charges of burglary and one of possessing stolen proeprty.

Preliminary hearings were set for Angle and a codefendant, Craig Robert Anderson, 18, of Mill Valley, for next Tuesday. A preliminary hearing for a third defendant, James McGovern, 20, of San Francisco, was previously set for Tuesday.

The three are charged in connection with the burglary of the residence of Marin County Grand Jury Foreman Milen C. Dempster of Tamalpais Valley, as well as the residence of a Mill Valley residence, both on July 11.

Charges against Anderson and Angle were dismissed Tuesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith when the district attorney's office reported it was not ready to proceed with a preliminary hearing set for that day.

Following the dismissal, the two were immediately rearrested and charged again in municipal court.

Arrest Made In Pot Probe

A 24-year-old Homestead Valley man was booked into Marin County Jail yesterday after Marin County sheriff's deputies saw a suspected marijuana plant in the front window of his residence.

Deputies said that Brian Phillip Tourigny, of 599 Ethel Avenue, explained later that the plant needed sun.

He was booked on suspicion of possessing and cultivating pot and held in lieu of $500 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Innocent Plea To Burglary

Richard Sheldon Knowles, 20, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglary.

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Knowles was arrested Monday along with Carol Marlene Heath, 18, of San Rafael, when police found them allegedly carrying property from the residence of Roy H. Warden of 70 Forrest Avenue, San Rafael.

Miss Heath's case was transferred yesterday to Marin Juvenile Court.

Hopes Dim To Keep Out Flood Ditch

Hopes that the Army Corps of Engineers can provide flood control for Mill Valley without resorting to an unpopular plan for a concrete-lined ditch dimmed last night.

A committee studying flooding caused by Mill Valley's Arroyo Corte Madera del Presidio was told preliminary indications are that an enclosed bypass along Miller Avenue is unfeasible.

Committee chairman Jerome C. Hauke said the corps, which is studying the bypass at the request of the citizens group, has determined problems might arise in maintaining such a facility if built.

Findings indicate the elevation along Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School is insufficient to keep an enclosed bypass free of sediment which would be deposited by floodwaters, Hauke said.

Without the proper slope, the bypass would become choked with silt and require frequent maintenance.

The bypass was suggested by the citizens committee to avoid the necessity of lining Arroyo Corte Madera Del Presidio with concrete — a scheme rejected by Mill Valley officials in 1967.

Hauke said the corps will conduct a more detailed investigation of the plan and report its conclusions at another committee meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 16 at the Mill Valley Public Library.

Until this investigation is made, he said, no decision on the feasibility of the bypass channel can be made by the committee.

The bypass would remove floodwaters from the creek near Millwood Street and convey them through an enclosed ditch to Richardson Bay. Under this plan, the creek would remain largely in its natural state.

Plan To Consolidate Southern Marin Fire Stations Attacked

A proposal to eliminate four of Southern Marin's seven fire stations as part of a move to consolidate firefighting operations in the area came under attack last night.

The proposal, contained in a 173-page report recommending the merger to provide better service at a lower cost, was criticized by members of a committee studying possible consolidation.

The committee met for the first time last night since the report, prepared by the Oakland fire consultant firm of Gage-Babcock and Associates, was released.

Mill Valley City Councilman Jean S. Barnard, a member of the committee, said several committeemen objected strongly to one conclusion of the report, that the seven fire stations now serving Southern Marin be reduced to three.

Under the plan, fire stations would be located in Northern Sausalito, in Mill Valley (the present downtown fire station) and at Tamalpais Junction.

Mrs. Barnard said she especially was concerned that no fire station is proposed for East Mill Valley. A $240,000 bond issue to finance such a station was rejected by the electorate last month and will be presented to voters again next April.

The report lists advantages of consolidation as improved distribution of manpower, better coordination of firefighting efforts, better training and record keeping, uniform fire regulation enforcement and savings from large volume purchasing and standardization of parts and equipment.

Mrs. Barnard said the committee agreed to hold a meeting at a time yet to be determined to pursue recommendations of the report with the exception of the elimination of fire stations.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Charge

Stephen Ray Rauch, 18, of San Francisco, has pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of burglary.

Preliminary hearing was set for Monday.

He was arrested April 29 in Berkeley with property allegedly stolen April 27 from the resideee of Edmond Berger of 3 Teakwood Court, San Rafael.

School Looted

Electric office equipment, valued at $1,323, was stolen in a burglary of Sleepy Hollow School on Tarry Road, sometime last weekend, Marin County sheriff's office reported today.

Citizen Group Launches Golden Gate Park Drive

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A leading member of a citizen group to create a Golden Gate National Park said today the battle to develop the 27,000-acre park will be between the public and the military.

John Jacobs, an active member of People for a Golden Gate National Park Recreation Area, said although there is congressional legislation to create the park, which includes parts of the Presidio, the idea has been rejected by San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto.

"I would imagine that Mayor Alioto is a spokesman for the military in the Presidio," Jacobs said.

Jacobs, executive director of the San Francisco Planning and Urban Renewal Association, said the citizen group has not talked directly with the military about acquiring their land for the open spaces park.

Jacobs said that a strong resolution supporting the recreation area passed the Board of Supervisors recently but was vetoed by Alioto because it included a piece of the Presidio.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn, chairman of the citizen's group and former president of the Sierra Coub, said earlier the proposed park was not an ordinary conservation project.

He said it included "great human needs" and said it would give urban residents a place to go to see wide open spaces. He said the park would be available by public transportation.

Wayburn announced a kickoff drive to generate public support for the park.

On Wednesday, Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., introduced a bill to create the park which would incorporate part of the land of the San Francisco Presidio and potentially take in all of it.

The Cranston bill would have 546 of the Presidio's 1,588 acres in the recreation area. The remaining Presidio land would still be the Sixth Army Headquarters, with the provision that if the Army ever gave it up, it would automatically become part of the federal recreation area.

The area would include all of the Bolinas Lagoon, plus Duxbury Reef in Marin County. Mount Tamalpais State Park would stay under state control.

Rep. Phil Burton, D-Calif., has introduced a similar measure in the House.

Boise Plan Wins Nod In Novato

The Novato Plan Review Committee last night approved plans for four townhouse model homes, an office and the landscaping plans for them for Boise Cascade Building Co.

This is the first development to be used as models and an office for the townhouse development on the Sil Oliva ranch on the north side of Novato Boulevard west of Wilson Avenue.

The committee set a special meeting on Aug. 4 for further consideration of the company's request for architectural approval for 232 townhouses in 58 structures.

The Novato Plan Review Committee also:

BUILDING — Approved architectural and landscaping plans for a 5,500 square foot building at the south end of Ford Way west of Highway 101 south of Lamont Avenue for Eugene McGillicuddy.

CHURCH — Approved architectural and landscaping plans for a 26,640-square-foot addition to the Jehovah's Witness church at 5 Pivato Court.

SIGNS — Approved plans of the Crocker Bank to alter its signs for Crocker Citizens Bank to Crocker Bank. It also approved a 16-square-foot interior illuminated sign for Grant Avenue Florist at 1129 Grant Avenue.

ADJOURNED — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Aug. 4 at the Novato Community House to consider the Sil Oliva Ranch plans.

No Progress In Employee Negotiations

No progress was reported last night in negotiations between Mill Valley's striking city employees and bargainers for the city as employees remained off their jobs for the 22nd day.

Negotiators for both sides met for about an hour but a spokesman for unionized city employees reported the city representative did not respond to the union's offer of a 9.3 per cent benefit and wage increase.

The spokesman, Victor C. Thuesen, an AFL-CIO official, said another meeting was set for tonight and "we have reason to believe the city will make a counter-proposal to our offer." He said he did not know what the counter-offer would be.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctor Administers Smallpox Vaccinations Near Crazy Bone

Smallpox vaccinations leave an unsightly blemish and the scar is especially unwanted by women. It is for this reason some mothers insist that the doctor vaccinate their daughters on the leg, assuming, of course, that the tot will not become a chorus girl or that minis will be out when she reaches the teens.

AN AUSTRALIAN PHYSICIAN finds the inner aspect of the upper arm a better location. He vaccinates about 2 inches above the crazy bone, an accessible area that is usually clean. Furthermore, it is normally protected from the sun and virtually hidden from view. The skin at this point is thinner than that at the shoulder and the medico finds that vaccinations at this site tend to "take." A piece of gauze protects the area from the naked chest wall but it is not essential, as this doctor has never seen anyone in whom the infection spread from the arm to the thorax.

ALLERGY TO TOOTHPASTE is extremely rare, but it can happen. In Scotland, a 67-year-old woman developed marked swelling of the tissues around the lower jaw, throat, floor of the mouth and neck. She could hardly talk, swallow or breathe. In her case, the toothpaste was suspected because when a small ribbon of the dentifrice was put on her forearm, a painful blister developed within an hour. Additional tests done to find the constituent responsible for the symptoms, showed the culprit to be peppermint oil.

According to Dental Abstracts, a mechanical mouth at the National Biscuit Company research center in New Jersey has been munching everything from cheese spreads to dog biscuits. The device is so sensitive it tells scientists far more than a human tester could about the mouth-feel of different products. A single steel tooth contains the "feeling mechanism" and provides data on hardness, smoothness, crispness, and to what extent a product clings to the teeth and gums.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

PEP AND SLEEP PILLS

A. R. writes: I take pep pills to stay awake for the late talk shows and movies on TV and then take a sedative so I can fall asleep. Am I harming my body by this practice?

REPLY

You are setting a pattern that shows you are immature and lacking in good sense. Too much television may be a sign that you prefer to live a life of fantasy as is portrayed by movie heroes and heroines. The sedative completes the job by putting you out of reality more quickly. You have no valid reason for using these drugs and whoever is prescribing or selling them to you is doing you a disservice.

VITAMIN B AND NEURALGIA

Mrs. T. V. writes: Is neuralgia caused by a vitamin deficiency?

REPLY

This depends upon the type of neuralgia. Nutritional neuralgias usually are due to a deficit of vitamin B. The condition may also stem from injury, pressure, poisons, neurological diseases, and an infection, such as shingles. Neuralgia means nerve pain.

ARTHRITIC NECK

T. D. writes: Recently, during a checkup, the doctor found I have arthritis of the neck. Could this be responsible for headaches extending from the scalp to the back of the neck?

REPLY

Yes. Many headaches originate in the spinal column at the base of the skull. Pain is referred upward into the head.

Tourists In Britain Face Exploitation

By DENNIS EISENBERG
Toronto Telegram News Service

LONDON — British hotels and restaurants are exploiting the present tourist boom to the United Kingdom so outrageously that prices for visitors to London now are the highest in Europe.

The "pluck-the-tourists" mentality of the capital's money-grabbing hosts is indeed reaching such epidemic proportions that newspapers and members of Parliament are protesting.

There is a fear that the exploitation will cause tourists to stop coming here in record numbers and spending their money.

"London now is the city of the greediest hotels in Western Europe," the Sunday Express said last week. The newspaper complained bitterly that hotel-keepers who have received Government subsidies of over $100 million to build new ones or modernize old hotels, are taking unfair advantage of the tourist bonanza.

An example of just how fierce are the charges being made in London was given by the Dutch Embassy last weekend after two of its leading diplomats dined with their wives at the Mirabelle, which has a reputation for being London's top reetaurant.

The bill for the four came to over $170 — which the Daily Mirror described as being "so steep as to be considered nearly vertical."

Kenneth Lewis, a member of Parliament, has complained in the House of Commons about the "blackmarket in London hotel prices" and has demanded that these tariffs be reduced.

London hotel-keepers are well aware, however, that there are more visitors to London all the year round than there are rooms — and so they are making guests who are lucky enough to get accommodation pay sky-high prices.

For instance, bed and breakfast for two in one of several leading but by no means outstanding hotels in the British capital now is between $50 and $70 a night.

Even small hotels are allowing the tourist boom to go to their heads and their charges are way above comparable establishments in other major capitals like Rome and Paris.

More and more visitors are grumbling about the grasping free-for-all among restaurants and hotels in London.

The standard of food served in the mass catering cafes and eating houses in the Piccadilly and Leicester Square areas of London has sunk to abysmal depths as ever-swelling crowds of tourists flock into these popular central parts of London to see the sights and have a quick snack or lunch.

Scores of get-rich-quick restaurants are opening in tourist areas and their standards leave much to be desired.

Unlike Spain, France, Italy, Portugal and Greece, where tourism is a carefully controlled industry and where hotels are graded and classified by the Government to prevent exploitation of visitors, there is no official eye kept on their British counterparts.

Hotel owners ask what they think they can get away with and there is a growing fear that the tourist boom — expected to increase to 10 million by 1975 and now Britain's fourth-biggest earner of foreign currency — will turn sour.

In addition, except for the very top level of London hotels in the luxury class, the standard of service is very often appalling.

Staff, difficult to find, are often rude and discourteous. Take-it-or-leave-it is the typical attitude to be found in very many London hotels.

Coming under criticism for this sorry state of affairs is the state-run British Authority which has done nothing to try to curb the rampant profiteering by many hotel-keepers.

Neither does this body do much to help tourists who arrive in London without accommodation, except sell them a not-very-useful list of hotels which visitors must go through themselves to find rooms.

The hotel industry is opposed to the idea of a grading system, although the Automobile Association and other bodies dealing with tourists suggest that this is one sure method of calling a halt to the present growing exploitation.

The current British attitude aimed at fleecing tourists was clearly demonstrated recently in Belfast where an American visited the Northern Ireland city and was charged $5 for a meal of two eggs and some toast.

"Eggs must be pretty scarce around here," said the visitor as he paid the bill.

"Eggs are not rare," he was told bluntly. "But tourists are."

In London, where tourists are far more numerous than Ulster, the same outlook prevails, although a meal of eggs can still be had for less than $5 in some places.

Rightwing Italian Boss No Mussolini

By A. R. McELWAIN
Toronto Telegram News Service

ROME — It is usual to refer to members of Italy's neo-fascist Italian Socialist Movement (MSI) as the "heirs of Mussolini's blackshirts". This, logically, makes the MSI leader, 56-year-old Giorgio Almirante, a direct successor to the late Benito Mussolini.

No two men could have been more different.

Almirante, the man under whose leadership the party's gains in recent regional and municipal elections were the largest scored by any of Italy's nine main political parties in the past 20 years, is no bullish blusterer, no ranter, no rabble-rouser. He's much more subtle than that. Almirante is a good strategist.

He was born in Salsomaggiore, in Parma province, on July 27, 1914. He comes from a good, middle-class family, and is comfortably off — but not rich. He holds a B.A. degree in literature, has taught high school and been a journalist. In 1940, he was a war correspondent in Africa and was awarded Italy's military cross of valor.

When Mussolini tried to stage a last-ditch comeback by establishing the Salo puppet regime in north Italy, Almirante joined him and was made propaganda minister. He was condemned to a year's exile in 1947 on a charge of supporting fascism. An appeals court acquitted him.

Almirante was a founder-member of the MSI in 1946. He became its secretary (leader) in 1969. In the short time since then, he has completely changed its image, making it an aggressive, but not explosive, organization and the "spearhead of right-wing extremism."

Back in days when he was leader merely of the party's "tough" wing, he attacked its leadership's "soft line" and said "Mussolini would never have behaved this way."

On the other hand, Almirante remarked just before the elections that if people thought he wanted to return Italy to the days of Mussolini, they were taking him for a cretin. Fascism today had taken on a very different form.

Unlike Mussolini, he speaks dispassionately in a good firm voice. He is inclined to be long-winded, but is ready with all the answers and handles a press conference adroitly. He dresses well, is dapper, very personable. He is married and has several children. He tells funny stories, smiles a lot, and plays a good game of bridge. He is short, frail-looking and calm.

Many of the MSI's new votes, as Almirante readily admits, were "protest votes" against Italy's present flabby leadership and also against Communism. The party gained control of nothing and, one presumes, Almirante will continue to aim for added power at local elections level.

Rome city council, where he now has a total of 13 of the 80 seats, and where the center-left has a majority of just two, would suit him nicely — for a start.

Jumbo Jetliner Taxies Too Far

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An American Airlines 747 jumbo jetliner taxied too far into the passenger loading area at Los Angeles International Airport Wednesday and nosed through a plate glass window.

There were no injuries but the impact pushed a large supporting beam two feet into the nose of the airliner. The flight was American's No. 11 from Boston with 165 passengers.

Advertising Ban For BART Stations Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors heard arguments against advertising in train stations Wednesday although they already have awarded a contract permitting them.

Mrs. Joan Garbarino of the Orinda Association declared: "We're tired of living in a jungle of vulgarity; we've had it with this kind of huckstering."

James J. Bennis of Pinole and Jack Crawford of the Hayward planning department said that citizens in Hayward are talking about going to court in opposition to posters at stations.

Mrs. Helen B. Reynolds, California Roadside Council president, opposed the posters, saying the "vibrancy of color" they promised could be achieved by other means.

One man spoke out for the posters, Lloyd A. Pflueger, Down Town Association of San Francisco director. He said, "We firmly believe (the commuter's) daily ride on BART will be pleasanter and less tedious if BART contains advertising ... fresh, colorful and exciting ... to make the daily commute routine a livelier and more interesting experience."

Hospital Staff Cut: Smaller Caseloads

UKIAH (UPI) —Because of dwindling patient caseloads, the number of psychiatric technicians at Mendocino State Hospital is being trimmed by 58. There had been 393.

Leland F. Erbaher, personnel man for the State Mental Hygiene Department, told employes Wednesday the caseloads are decreasing because the mentally ill are now being treated more often in their own communities.

Be our guest in the White House

You will know as much as anyone about what goes on in the White House and in the Presidency by the simple act of reading the I-J. (Only the President and intimates will know more).

For the I-J, through its United Press International reporters, is virtually "in residence" as much as the President. Which makes you our welcome guest to the White House.

Our reporters are constantly alert to staff and cabinet meetings, to affairs of international import, to the diplomatic front, to the comings and goings which make the White House a world center of significant news. The job is sensitive. It requires a sixth sense to know when news of major concern is about to break. And concern in how to "break" it accurately and without bias.

Be our guest and stay as long as you like. Our columns lead right to the White House.

$5 Million State Coastline Bill Advances

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The Assembly Ways and Means Committee yesterday approved over Reagan administration opposition a $5 million bill to acquire ocean beaches for the public and preserve the California coastline.

The measure by Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, D-Van Nuys, would obtain the cash by increasing the tases of oil and gas companies.

The bill would turn over the funds to a proposed six-member "coastal conservation commission," which would decide how and where to spend the money. That commission is created by a separate bill by Assemblyman Alan Sieroty, D-Los Angeles.

But a Reagan administration representative, Roy Bell, assistant director of the Finace Department, objected that the bill gave the independent commission $5 million "carte blanche" rather than requiring proposed acquisitions to be approved by the legislature and administration.

"They should be given review in the ordinary budget process," Bell told the committee. "It is rather unusual that you give a sum of money to some outside outfit to spend in any way they want."

Financing for the commission's acquisitions would come from reducing the 27 1-2 per cent depletion allowance oil companies now receive to their actual cost of drilling a well. A separate Assembly-passed measure proposing this is pending in the Senate.

The Ways and Means Committee passed the bill to the floor without a dissenting vote along with a companion measure by Moretti authorizing a $150 million bond issue for "conservation of the coastline."

No limitation on the proposed program is contained in the bill but Moretti agreed to add provisions later he said would spell out how the money would be spent.

Bell objected that next year's ballot would be jampacked with such bond issues for coastal preservation and related environmental protection issues. Several already have been approved by the Assembly and are pendjng in the Senate.

"If you put all these out, put them on the ballot, you're going to lose them all," Bell warned the lawmakers. "You should put them in a package."

Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post noted that the legislature next year could enact legislation consolidating some issues into one package or splitting them between the June and November ballots.

BRISK DEBATE

Radiation Issue Splits Experts

BERKELEY (UPI) — Scientists and mathematicians have fallen into vigorous disagreements on methods of determining just what effect radiation from nuclear reactors has on human life.

The question was debated Tuesday at a University of California Seminar on Mathematical Statistics and Probability.

Dr. John W. Gofman, a University of California physicist, argued for tighter radiation curbs in medicine and against building any new atomic reactors.

Gofman said that if the entire country were exposed to the maximum "safe" limit of radioactivity as set by the Atomic Energy Commission, more than 104,000 extra cancer deaths would occur each year.

Gofman, with Dr. Arthur Tamplin, in an earlier study predicted a figure of 16,000 additional cancer deaths, but the team, Gofman said, later revised their estimate upwards.

Dr. David Levin, representing the National Cancer Institute in Washington, said his agency had found the same "risk" figures as the Gofman-Tamplin team, but disagreed with how the team had gone about reaching its conclusions.

Dr. Edythalena Tompkins reported that the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency had found no increase in infant mortality in the vicinity of reactors in Humboldt County near Eureka, the Dresden, Ill., reactor and the one near Big Rock, Mich.

Dr. Tompkins reported that she and her associates had found that in almost every case, the number of infant deaths per 1,000 live births were down in the vicinity of the three reactors.

"There does not appear to be any evidence to suggest an increase in infant mortality associated with (any of these) reactors," she said.

This finding was contrary to that of Dr. Ernest J. Sternglass of the University of Pittsburgh who said that higher radioactivity in air, milk and water have increased the infant mortality as much as 25 per cent during the last two years in three western states.

Deal To Sell Water To Marin Unit

The North Marin County Water District has approved an agreement to sell surplus water to the Marin Municipal Water District.

Under the agreement, Marin Municipal Water District would get the water from a connection at Lamont and Railroad Avenues in Novato through the first phase of its aqueduct, said Mgr. Eugene V. Churchill.

The north district will sell about 5,000 acre feet of water per year to Marin municipal when the aqueduct is completed next summer, Churchill said. This will be off-peak water, Churchill said.

Marin Municipal will pay $57 per acre foot for the water with $13 of this marked for construction of the aqueduct, Churchill said.

Churchill reported Tuesday that water consumption had increased from 210.3 to 229.5 million gallons in June of this year over June of last year or an increase of 9.1 per cent. The increase was due to more watering because of the heat, he said.

Alumni To Sell Tree Seedlings

Alumni of Sonoma State College will sell tree seedlings Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. at the Coddingtown Shopping Center, Santa Rosa.

Proceeds from the sale will benefit the newly established college arboretum. Seedlings will range from Monterey pine to redwood with some suitable for bonsai training.

Alumni association Vice President Virginia Ewing of Santa Rosa is chairman of the event, assisted by President Louis Beary of Rohnert Park.

Sponsored by the Marin County Police-Community Relations Department, the sessions will include a panel discussion and general "rap session" among those attending.

Panelists will include: Sausalito Mayor Alexander R. Imlay, Sausalito Councilman Robin Sweeny, Police Chief James D. Wright, Police Detective William Palmini and Rev. E.D. Perkins, pastor of the First Missionary Baptist Church in Marin City.

Also on the panel: William Remak, Sausalito Artists and Merchants; Carl W. Landslide On Coast Highway

MALIBU (UPI)—A landslide crashed down on the Pacific Coast Highway Wednesday night, partially burying one car, but an alert sheriff's deputy prevented further damage.

The deputy, patrolling the highway near Topanga Canyon, observed a slight slippage on the face of the cliff overlooking the highway where it winds along beside the beach north of Santa Monica.

He began diverting traffic around the area and 10 minutes later boulders and earth cascaded onto the highway, covering both westbound traffic lanes.

$100,000 To Probe Viet War Origins

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three men armed with a sawed-off shotgun and pistols robbed the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association of $8,000 Wednesday.

Police said they escaped in a car which apparently was occupied with two accomplices. The gunmen forced an employe and customer to lie on the floor while they took the cash from a teller.

Victory For A's, But Not For Vida Blue

OAKLAND (UPI) —Sal Bando was determined, Vida Blue was happy and Dick Williams compassionate.

It added up to a 4-3 win in 12 innings for the Oakland Athletics over the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night but robbed lefthander Blue of his 19th victory.

Bando drilled a two-run homer to tie the game 3-3 in the ninth and then hit a sacrific fly with the bases loaded and one out in the 12th to score pinch runner Tony Larussa with the winning run. The A's third baseman was in a 1-for-28 slump when he hit his homer.

"I made an error in the eighth inning and I was really determined to attack the ball on my next A.B. (at bat)," said Bando. He drilled a 1-1 pitch off hardluck starter Steve Dunning over the leftfield barrier after Mike Epstein had walked and John Odom went in as a pinch runner.

Dunning had opened the eighth with an infield single off Blue and Bando threw the ball wild to first for an error as Dunning took second. Then Graig Nettles hit Blue's pitch into the rightfield stands to give Cleveland a 3-1 lead.

"I was sorry about that error," chided Bando. "But now that I saved Blue from a loss with my homer, maybe he'll let me drive his Cadillac."

Blue gave up eight hits during the 11 innings he worked and struck out 11 to raise his major league-leading strikeout total to 208. Lefty Darold Knowles came on to retire the Indians in order in the 12th to pick up his fifth win against four losses.

"What difference does it make if I don't win every time I pitch," said 18-gahe winner Blue who turns 22 next week. "We won the ballgame and I'm happy."

"But I really didn't do too good out there. We should have won 1-0."

The A's scored an unearned run off Dunning in the second when Bando walked and came around on Dave Duncan's single and a throwing error by catcher Ken Suarez. Then Blue gave up a solo homer to Suarez to tie the score in the third and threw another fat pitch to Nettles in the eighth to boost the Cleveland lead to 3-1.

"Hell, Blue threw 139 pitches in 11 innings and I thought he did enough pitching for one night. He also went 11 innings against the Angels here July 9 and it's tough on a pitcher to throw that much during the same homestand," said manager Williams.

The A's won that game against the Angels in 20 innings and Knowles also was the winner, pitching one inning.

In the 12th inning against Cleveland, Oakland loaded the bases on a walk, a bunt single by Joe Rudi, a sacrifice and another walk to pinchhitter Gene Tenace. Then Bando hit a fly ball to short left and Larussa just beat the throw to the plate in a close decision.

"Rudi's bunt with two strikes on him was the big hit of the inning," said Williams. "That kept the rally going and got rid of (Indians reliever Phil) Hennigan."

A GRAND RETURN

Welcome Back, Willie

PITTSBURGH (UPI)— Grand slam home runs, Willie McCovey can take 'em or leave 'em, but McCovey's presence in the San Francisco lineup does wonders for the adrenalin of Giant Manager Charlie Fox.

McCovey has missed nearly half the season due to chronic knee injuries but Wednesday night about two hours before the Giants played Pittsburgh, the slugging first baseman walked up to Fox and said:

"I'd like to try it tonight."

Fox retreated to his office in the San Francisco clubhouse and tossed his original lineup card into the wastebasket.

"How sweet it is," Fox said, as he penciled in McCovey's name on a fresh card.

Came the ninth inning, and McCovey was facing Dave Giusti with the score tied, two out and the bases loaded. One of Giusti's celebrated palm balls failed to fool McCovey, who belted the pitch over the right field fence —his 13th career grand slam —and the Giants were 8-4 winners.

McCovey, whose knee puffed up last Friday in Atlanta after an adverse reaction to a cortisone shot, had played only once in seven days before Wdnesday night. He tied Hank Aaron among active players in grand slam homers, and the two stars are only one back of Gil Hodges, who holds the National League record.

"I felt better tonight, that's why I said I could play," McCovey said, "But in Atlanta I couldn't even walk for two days. I tried to be careful with those shots, because I've been told my limit is one every other week, but for some reason that one I took last week acted up on me."

Giusti, who had struck out Willie Mays with the bases loaded to help the Pirates to an 11-7 victory over the Giants Tuesday night, walked Mays in Wednesday's ninth, forcing in the tying run and setting the stage for McCovey's blast.

Three of the five batters Giusti faced in the ninth reached base, and although Bob Beale, a left hander was warming in the bullpen, Manager Danny Murtaugh elected to

Thomas Levels Guns At Brass

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Duane Thomas spent most of last season barreling through the line for Dallas. Now he's concentrating his offensive against the Cowboys.

Thomas, whose running heroics as a rookie last season lifted Dallas into its first Super Bowl, Wednesday attacked the entire Cowboys' organization as dishonest and racist.

Thomas, who is asking $80,000 from the Cowboys to sign for the 1971 National Football League season, sent blasts in all directions Wednesday. He called Gil Brandt, the director of player personnel, "a liar", branded General Manager Tex Schramm as "dishonest" and labeled Cowboy Coach Tom Landry as a "plastic man".

"I'm asking for $80,000," said Thomas. "I think, everything considered, $80,000 is cheap. The entire Cowboy organization is totally eliminating the fact that I am an artist. After all, they never would have made it to the Super Bowl without me and they never will make it again unless I play for them.

"Tex Schramm has been dishonest with me all along. Gil Brandt is a liar. It doesn't do any good to talk to Tom Landry, because he's so plastic. He's just not a man at all. They keep telling me to wait. Wait for what? Hell, I've done the job already.

"They have done this to all black players," added Thomas, who gained 803 yards last season with five touchdowns. "They have exploited black players all along. Had I been a white player they would not have done me such an injustice.

Thomas said he would settle for less than $80,000 if the Cowboys would make up the difference and give it to black neighborhood programs.

"They just laughed at that," said Thomas.

"They stereotype black players. But I'm not Jim Brown or Calvin Hill, but Duane Thomas, and I want to be treated as an individual. I wouldn't mind being traded. I'm tired of being treated like a stupid animal and I think these people have been trying to crook me."

Brandt, however, said the Cowboys would not trade Thomas.

The Cowboys did receive some good news when All-Pro linebacker Chuck Howley announced he was heading for camp and would play one or two more seasons. Howley, who was contemplating retirement, is 35.

Elsewhere in the training camps, the New England Patriots asked Commissioner Pete Rozelle to arbitrate with the Los Angeles Rams for a fair exchange for Phil Olsen, the Pats' No. 1 draft choice last season who wriggled out of his contract after finding a loophole and signed with the Rams. The teams have been negotiating but no agreement has been reached.

The Patriots, meanwhile, went through their first intrasquad scrimmage with Mike Taliaferro as No. 1 quarterback. Taliaferro led the No. 1 offense to two touchdowns.

The Chicago Bears traded veteran running back Ronnie Bull to the Philadelphia Eagles for a draft choice. Bull, 31, was the Bears' No. 1 draft pick in 1962 from Baylor. He suffers from a knee injury.

Green Bay Coach Dan Devine said quarterback Bart Starr would need "further arm evaluation." Starr was sent to the Mayo Clinic in Minnesota for more tests on his ailing passing arm.

Brad Hubbard was the only veteran missing as the Pittsburgh Steelers reported to camp. Hubbard is a holdout.

TEAM TOURNAMENT

Little Leaguers Turn On Power In Quarter-Finals

Little Leaguers turned on the power last night, both at the plate and on the mound, as the number of surviving teams was reduced to four in the annual Marin County team tournament.

Mill Valley National's Robin Marks struck out 16 batters and was backed by Pete Goldsmith's three-run homer and Greg Bluth's two-run double as he stopped San Rafael National on three hits, 8-1.

Three home runs, two by winning pitcher Tom Cooney, gave Novato American a 4-1 decision over Marinwood. Cooney, who fanned nine batters, cracked a solo homer in the fourth and added a two-run shot in the sixth. The other Novato run came on Bill Parmenter's bases-empty homer in the third.

Mike Westin of Sausalito turned in a nine-strikeout, two-hitter for an 8-0 win over Fairfax. Tim Grayson gave Westin all the support he needed when he homered to lead off the game.

In the other game last night, Hamilton-Loma Verde defeated Mill Valley American, 3-0. Lee Smith went the distance for the win, striking out eight and walking three. Wally Murray had a double and a single for Hamilton, as did Rocky Lopez for Mill Valley.

Action continues tomorrow night with two semi-final games. Mill Valley National meets Hamilton-Loma Verde at Gallinas Valley, and Novato American goes against Sausalito at Novato-Rancho. Both games begin at 6 o'clock.

Marin Ruthers Triumph

Central Marin's awesome Babe Ruth League baseball team swept Novato out of the way by a 10-2 score yesterday in the final game of the Northern California District Nine tournament at Rohnert Park.

Phil Bacigalupi, who starred last year as a Freshman at Redwood High School, climaxed the assault with a two run home run in the bottom of the sixth inning. The drive cleared the 345-foot mark in left centerfield, and was the only ball hit out of the park in the tourney.

In winning all four of their games, Central Marin outscored their opposition, 35-5. Yesterday they turned on the power with six runs in the third inning to give starter Gene Grey his second win of the tourney. Doug Hartman, Jeff Vogel and Rob Long all contributed singles to the rally.

Frey, who threw a no-hitter in the opening game, was named to the all-tourney team. He worked five innings yesterday. Mark Ruggles, who also had a no-hitter in the tourney, finished up.

Novato, which had to win twice on Tuesday to earn a confrontation with Central Marin, placed two players on the all-tourney team — Alan Davidson, who made it for his work in left field, and pitcher-outfielder Jeff Pond, who was named MVP.

Central Marin will represent District Nine in the Northern California tournament beginning Saturday in Sacramento.

49er Home Games At Candlestick

The San Francisco 49ers announced this morning that they will definitely play all their 1971 games, including preseason exhibitions, at Candlestick Park.

The announcement put to rest the possibility that, because of work stoppage and delay on the renovation of Candlestick, the National Football League team might have to use Kezar Stadium for its two preseason home games, Aug. 8 against Cleveland and Aug. 22 against San Diego.

Forty-Niner president Lou Spadia praised all those involved in what he called "a superb effort in getting the stadium ready."

"Everyone, Mayor Joseph Alioto and his staff, the Park and Recreation Commission, general contractor William C. Burrows, his superintendent Tom King, the Giants and all the subcontractors have worked very hard to keep the project moving," Spadia said.

Candlestick will have 40,000 seats for the preseason games, and 45,000 for the regular season home opener Oct. 10 against the Los Angeles Rams. Upon completion, the park will seat 60,000 for football. According to the 49ers, work should be finished by the 1972 football season.

The 49ers also announced this morning that season tickets will be mailed out July 28.

Westchester Golf On Weekend TV

NEW YORK (UPI) —The final two rounds of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic will be televised nationally by Hughes Sports Network on Saturday and Sunday.

A six-man team, headed by anchorman Ray Scott, will handle the live coverage.

Leslie Airola of Tiburon and Diane DeMartini of Greenbrae head a list of seven Marin County players who have been seeded for the 13th annual Marin County Junior Hardcourt tennis tournament, which begins next Monday at the Mill Valley Tennis Club.

Miss Airola, the 16th ranked girls 16 player in Northern California, has been seeded second in that class, and third in girls 18s for the this USLTA-sanctioned tourney. Miss DeMartini, the fifth-ranked girls 12 player, has been given the top spot in the seeding for the girls 14 singles.

Other seeded players from Marin include Dan Tierney of Tiburon, No. 3 in Boys 16; Henry Jacobson of Belvedere and Cary Stansbury of Tiburon, Nos. 3 and 6 in boys 14; Charles Bolcom of Belvedere, No. 4 in boys 12, and Sue Beatty of Tiburon, No. 2 girls 14.

Siler Hurls No-Hitter For San Marin Nine

Ken Siler came within one batter of a perfect game but settled for a no-hitter yesterday as he pitched San Marin to a 5-0 victory over Tamalpais in a Marin County Joe DiMaggio-League baseball game in Novato.

In another league game yesterday, Nick Mattos singled home two runs in the bottom of the seventh to give Barsotti's Body and Fender a 15-14 victory over the Italian Club in Terra Linda.

Siler, a righthander who pitched for San Marin High School's varsity as a junior last year, had a perfect game going until two were out in the bottom of the sixth. An error at that point gave Tamalpais its only runner of the game.

Siler struck out five men and walked nobody. His teammates gave him single runs in the fourth and fifth, and put all three of their hits together for three runs in the sixth.

Mattos' game-winning single for Barsotti's came after the Italian Club had taken a three-run lead in the top of the seventh when they scored seven times. Mike Sanderson for Barsotti's and Mike Connor for Italian Club had three hits apiece.

Tatum Inks Raiders' Contract

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ohio State All-American Jack Tatum has signed a "multi-year contract" with the Oakland Raiders but the terms of the pact were not revealed, it was announced today.

Tony Razzano of Dayton, Tatum's agent, said the defensive back who was the Raider's top draft pick, signed the contract here Wendesday night where he is in practice for the College All-Star game.

Razzano, who represents five Ohio State players, said he was not at liberty to divulge the terms of the contract and that information would have to come from either Tatum or the Raiders.

"I promised these kids if they want to release their personal income it's their business, but I am not going to," said Razzano.

Razzano represents OSU stars John Brockington, Tim Anderson, Leo Hayden and Jan White. Anderson, Hayden and White are still unsigned.

SPORTS NOTES

Life Begins At 79 For Bowler

By RALPH CHATOIAN

For Dr. L. J. Kirkhoff, the bowling life begins at 79.

Dr. Kirkhoff, a retired dentist who will be 80 next February, bowled his highest game ever, a huge 286, during the team competition of the California State Men's Bowling Tournament going on in Sacramento.

Bowling for the Old Timers, one of 20 Marin County teams entered in the tourney last weekend, he rolled 10 straight strikes before leaving a 6-7 split. He finished the series with a 614 total.

Two other San Rafael bowlers, Larry Williams, 33-year-old landscape contractor, and James Hart, 34-year-old carpenter foreman, jumped into the second place in the state tourney doubles. Williams, 178 average, rolled games of 211, 225 and 265 for 701, and Hart, 179 average, added a 570 for a 1271 scratch total, 1397 with handicap.

SIXTO RODRIQUEZ of Fairfax, former California light heavyweight champion, has returned to boxing — at least in a movie role. Sixto will play the role of a Mexican light heavyweight boxer (that shouldn't be too difficult) in Columbia Pictures' "Fat City," a movie based on Mill Valley author Leonard Gardner's book.

The movie was shot in Stockton and Sixto's part took three weeks to shoot. The picture is due to be released in December.

GORDON TRUE of 142 Margarita Drive, San Rafael, is the man who recently won the KSFO "Good Luck Bunny" contest with his suggestion of the name Short Hop. It's the bunny who goes along with announcers Lon Simmons and Bill Thompson to all Giant games. But after some of the past few games, I keep wondering, what's the good luck?

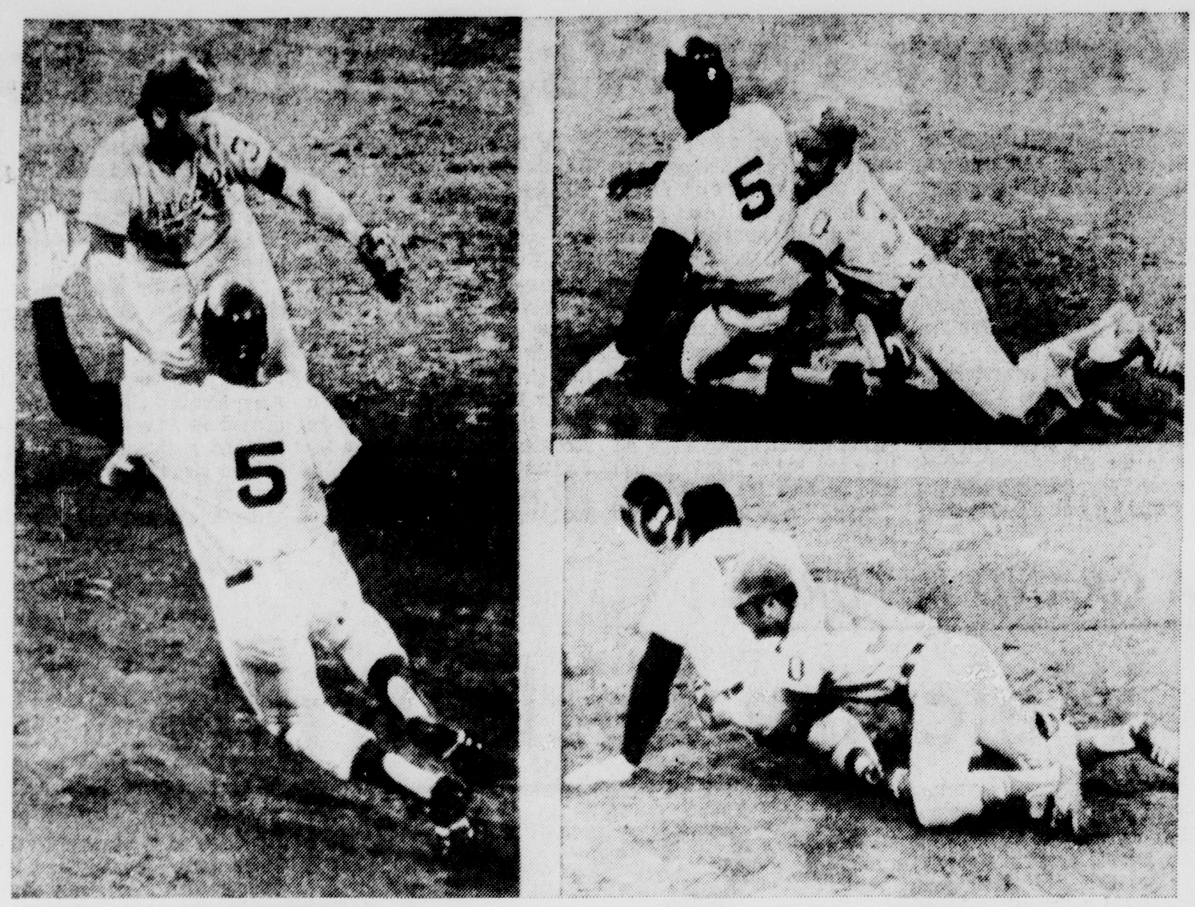
FINE WORDS about Terry Moor of Sausalito come from his tennis coach at San Jose State where Terry is a sophomore. "He's the most improved player in Northern California," said coach Butch Krikorian. Terry has been taking part in the $1,500 Carling Black Label Invitational Tennis Tournament going on at Golden Gateway Tennis Club in San Francisco during the summer months.

NEXT TRIP for the much traveled Giants Booster Club of Northern California is to St. Louis and Chicago, leaving Aug. 4 and returning Aug. 8. In addition to six baseball games, the group will take part in the Sports Hall of Fame and world famous Busch Gardens. Interested persons should contact Boosters president Allan B. Murray, P.O. Box 570, San Rafael.

BAY AREA Trojan Alumni Club will have USC grid coach John McKay as guest speaker at the annual Pre-Season Football Banquet, Aug. 12 in the Colonial Room of the St. Francis Hotel. I understand there are quite a few old USC grads in Marin.

VERONICA MC CARTHY of Sausalito will be director of the first Kingswood Village charity table tennis tourney Aug. 28-29 at Kingswood Village on the north shore of Lake Tahoe. It was originally scheduled for July 24-25.

IF YOU MISSED "A Day at Candlestick Park," a behind the scenes of the Giants on KQED, Channal 9, last night at 10 o'clock, you'll get a second chance. The half-hour special will be repeated Saturday at 6 p.m., via the educated Channel 9.



BASEBALL OR FOOTBALL? George Scott of the Boston Red Sox (No. 5) slid into second base and was tackled by Rich Morales of the Chicago White Sox yesterday during the second inning of a game at Boston. Morales was attempting to make the tag after taking a relay from the outfield, but Scott was safe. Boston won, 6-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Pete Brown Named Head Pro At Tilden

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)— Pete Brown, a regular on the tour and the first black player to win a PGA tournament, will be the new head pro at Berkeley's Tilden Park.

Tilden Park is operated by Don the Beachcomber Enterprises. The 36-year-old Brown has been working as an assistant at Westchester, another Don the Beachcomber course.

"When we found Pete was available for full-time work, we couldn't pass him up," a spokesman said Wednesday.

Brown was told in the mid-1950s that he would never walk again after being struck by polio. But he recovered and won the 1964 Waco Turner Open one year after turning professional and he also was the 1970 Andy Williams Open champion.

He will be the first black head pro in the state.

Bando Goes From Goat To Hero

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Vida Blue's road toward 30 victories developed some bumps Wednesday night but Sal Bando did his best to smooth things out.

Blue turned in one of his better performances — 11 strikeouts in 11 innings and eight scattered hits—but wasn't around at the finish to gain credit in the Oakland Athletics' 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

And it was Bando, turning from goat to hero, who kept Blue from losing the game.

With the score tied at 1-1 in the eighth, Bando threw wildly on Steve Dunning's grounder, enabling the Cleveland pitcher to take second. Graig Nettles then followed with a home run to give Cleveland a 3-1 lead.

Bando, 1-for-28 up to that point, then slammed a two-run homer in the ninth to tie the game and drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the 12th. Darold Knowles gained credit for the victory.

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston downed Chicago 6-1, Kansas City stunned Baltimore 7-2, Washington beat Milwaukee 6-1, Minnesota edged New York 2-1 and Detroit beat California 6-3 in 11 innings before losing the second game 7-6.

George Scott drove in two runs with three singles and a sacrifice fly as Boston beat the White Sox to move within 2 1-2 games of Baltimore in the AL East.

Sonny Siebert pitched a six-hitter for his fifth straight victory and 14th of the season against four losses.

Lou Piniella homered and tripled and Cookie Rojas drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly as the Royals downed Baltimore. The Royals exploded for four runs in the fifth off Jim Palmer to beat the Orioles.

Pete Broberg, Washington's $150,000 bonus baby from Dartmouth, got his first offensive support in three games and took advantage of it in the Senators' triumph over Milwaukee. Broberg, who had given up only three runs in his last 25 innings, gained his second victory against three losses. Del Unser had three hits for the Senators.

Steve Braun's ninth inning single scored pinch-runner Rich Resse with the winning run in Minnesota's victory over the Yankees.

Jim Kaat pitched a threehitter for the Twins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

It Was Mac's 13th Slam

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Willie McCovey, troubled by ailing knees a good part of this season, has gone back to troubling opposing pitchers.

McCovey, starting for the second time in eight days, blasted the 13th grand slam of his career to break a 4-4 tie in the ninth inning Wednesday night, rallying the San Francisco Giants to an 8-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

McCovey, voted the National League's All-Star first baseman, sustained damaged ligaments with a possible tear to the cartilage in his left knee in a mishap earlier this season. The 10-year veteran has also been bothered by severe pains in his right knee.

"My right knee has been sore all the time for five years, so there's no use talking about it. Its arthritis," McCovey said.

The Giants' slugger, although persistently bothered by the knee ailments, decided to postpone any operation until the offseason. So despite the pain, McCovey has returned to Manager Charlie Fox' starting lineup posing an added headache to opposing National League pitchers.

Elsewhere in the National League, Chicago ripped New York 11-7, Atlanta swept San Diego 8-7 and 1-0, Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 6-2, Montreal topped Houston 5-3 and St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 6-1.

Darrell Evans hit his 11th homer in the opener and Pat Jarvis pitched a three-hitter in the nightcap and scored from first on a hit by Felix Millan and an error by outfielder Clarence Gaston to help the Braves sweep the doubleheader from the Padres.

Hank Aaron smacked his 619th and 620th homers of his career in the first game.

Ernie Banks hit his 511th career home run as part of a four-run splurge that carried the Cubs to the victory over New York. The homer was only the secnnd this year for the 40-year-old Banks but it moved him into a deadlock with Mel Ott on the All-Time home run list, one behind Eddie Mathews.

Reggie Cleveland pitched a Five-hitter, struck out 10 and singled in two runs as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies.

Matty Alou sparked the Cardinals' attack by driving in three runs with a single and a two-run double and Joe Torre hit a run-scoring triple.

Gary Nolan climaxed a five-run third inning with a two-run single while pitching the Reds over the Dodgers. The victory was the eighth against 10 losses for Nolan, who scattered seven hits, walked one and struck out six.

Joe Morgan's error on a bad hop bouncer with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth gave the Expos two runs and the victory over Houston. Morgan fumbled the grounder off the bat of pinch-hitter Dave McDonald and Bob Bailey and Jim Fairey scored the winning runs. Bailey walked with two out off loser Fred Gladding and went to third on a hit-and-run single by Fairey. John Boccabella walked and McDonald, a .080 hitter, pinch-hit for Bobby Wine.

Rosewall Is Upset In Tennis Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)— John Alexander used an aggressive serve and volley Wednesday to upset sixth-seeded Ken Rosewall 7-5, 7-5 in the $50,000 First National Tennis Classic.

Rosewall, winner of the Washington Star International Tourney last Sunday, was the third top ranking star to be eliminated in the classic. Arthur Ashe, the No. 1 seeded player, and second seeded Rod Laver were knocked out of the tournament Monday.

Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia, the upset conqueror of Ashe on Monday, won his second round match Wednesday with a 6-1, 75 decision over Bob Carmichael of Paris, France.

Bill Bowrey of Australia, who ousted Laver on Monday, kept intact his record of never advancing beyond the second round of the current world champion tennis tour. He lost to fellow Australian Ray Ruffels, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3 Wednesday.

The tourney, which carries a first prize of $10,000, continues today with the remainder of second round matches.

Jesse Freitas Leaves Stanford

STANFORD (UPI) —Junior quarterback Jesse Freitas, lost in the shadow of Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett last year, has left Stanford to try his luck with the San Diego State Aztecs. Freitas, 1968 Northern California Back of the Year while in high school, felt he was still crowded by returning Don Bunce, who was redshirted last year while Plunkett passed his way into the Rose Bowl, and sophomore Mike Boryla.

stay with his righthander against the southpaw McCovey.

"I wasn't surprised that Giusti pitched to me," McCovey said. "After all he is the best relief pitcher in the league, so why take out your ace. With that slip pitch of his, he's capable of getting anyone out."

After McCovey connected, Murtaugh got embroiled in an argument with plate umpire Bob Engel, who tossed both the manager and coach Frank Oceak out of the game.

"I thought the second pitch Giusti made to Mays —the pitch Engel called ball two was in there," Murtaugh said. "The umpire said it was outside. I don't remember what I said, but I do know I was loud."

McCovey was asked if the possibility of breaking the grand slam homer record gives him a thrill. "Not really," the big bachelor said, "but girls do."

It Was Truly Big League Play

PITTSBURGH — During his 14 major league campaigns, seven in the American and Seven in the National, Don McMahon has seen all of the good second basemen.

"But," said the 41-year-old bullpen veteran who is known to his Giant teammates as the "Old Man" and "Old Folks," "I have never seen any second baseman who can go to his left like Tito Fuentes.

I DON'T know the precise number of hits Tito has taken away from batters on authoritatively smashed grounders that were headed into right field. A dozen? Two dozen? Whatever the total, let's acknowledge, because it's the truth, that Tito turns in one spectacular every series.

"Everybody knows Tito has fast hands. But I think he has faster feet. He moves laterally with gliding grace. And his offbalance throws for the putout are amazingly accurate and beautiful to watch."

STRANGELY, however, McMahon didn't single out one of Tito's accurate throws for special commendation.

"The one I never will forget was his throw to Willie McCovey from the right field grass where he had flagged a blistering shot by Tom Haller. We were ahead of the Dodgers 1-0. A capacity Dodger Stadium crowd was screaming for a rally and Wes Parker and Jim LeFebre tried to set one in motion with one-out singles in the seventh.

"DUKE SIMS then launched a liner to left center but Kenny Henderson ran it down on the warning track. Haller next went to bat as a pinch hitter for Don Sutton. Haller blistered the ball toward the right side hole. No other second baseman could have gotten to it. But Tito did. It was one of his many game-saving plays this season."

How could McMahon recall in detail two weeks later the exact setup of that situation? He wasn't the pitcher at the time. Gaylord Perry was.

"Two weeks, two years, it makes no difference," said McMahon. "I'll always remember it for three reasons.

"FIRST, TITO made an unbelievable throw. He got the ball to McCovey even though it was in the dirt.

"Second, McCovey made an unbelievable backhanded scoop of the ball while falling across the bag, looking toward right field. Yes, Big Mac twisted himself out of shape to glove the ball out of the dirt.

"Third Haller could have given McCovey a terrible spiking as he lay defenseless across the bag. But Haller hurdled McCovey so as not to injure him.

"THERE WERE three big league plays on that ball — Tito's, McCovey's and Haller's.

"Haller always was one of the most popular players in Candlestick when he was a Giant. When the Dodgers visit us Aug. 1-2 in Candlestick, the fans won't do wrong by giving Haller the kind of ovation a true sportsman deserves."

Transpacific Yacht Race Officially Over

HONOLULU (UPI) —The 1971 biennial Transpacific Yacht Race is over, with Windward Passage the talk of the fleet.

The race, which started from San Pedro, Calif. July 4, ended early Wednesday when Rowena, a 49-foot cutter from the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco, sailed past the Diamond Head finish line, the last of the 69 vessels to arrive.

Three other yachts, the 40-foot ketch Leprechaun out of the Long Beach Yacht Club, the 40-foot yawl Bold Host out of the Metropolitan Yacht Club and the 36-foot sloop Woodwynd from the Pacific Mariners Yacht Club crossed the line Tuesday night.

The three that arrived Tuesday night were all class D boats while Rowena was the only class B boat that hadn't finished. Her strategy of taking a northerly course in hopes of catching big winds backfired. The rest of the fleet sailed in a southerly direction and found stronger winds stirred up by tropical storm Denise last week.

Mark Johnson's Windward Passage, a 73-foot ketch from the Lahaina Yacht Club, stole the show in the 26th biennial race. She became the first class A vessel in the history of the race to capture three first places. Windward Passage was first to finish, the first in her class and the first in corrected handicap times for the entire fleet.

Unofficial class winners were Encore, a 43-foot sloop from Balboa Yacht Club, in class B; Argonaut, a 40-foot sloop from the Santa Barbara Yacht Club in class C and Dakar, a 41-foot sloop from the Del Rey Yacht Club in class D.

Awards were presented at a victory banquet Wednesday night.

Petraglia Hikes His Money Lead

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Johnny Petraglia's third place finish in the El Paso Open added $1,500 to his earnings which lengthened his lead to more than $21,000 in the Professional Bowlers Association (PBS) official 1971 money standings.

Petraglia, of Brooklyn, N.Y., hiked his winnings to $73,838.

Don Johnson of Akron, Ohio, was second this week with $52,759. He picked up $600 for his 16th place finish in the El Paso Open.

Last year's money winner, Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, Calif., jumped to 10th place in the standings when he finished second at the tourney. He picked up $2,200 to up his earnings to $19,330.

Bowlers will be competing for a $4,000 first place prize this weekend in the Houston Sertoma Open.

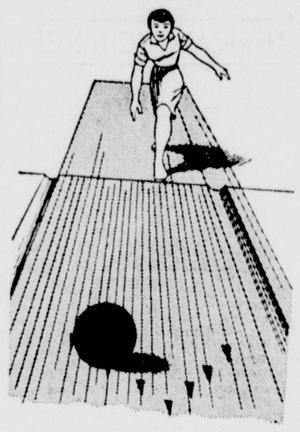
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



Most bowlers select a spot over which they want to roll the ball to complement the amount of hook they have developed. most hook bowlers can roll the ball over the second spot from the right (illustrated) and count on a consistent pocket hit. But don't look at the pins until your ball has rolled over the selected spot.

Seals Sign Two Young Defensemen

OAKLAND (UPI) —The California Golden Seals have announced the signing of defensemen Ken Baird and Dick Redmond, bringing the number of players under contract for the 1971-72 National Hockey League season to five.

Redmond, a 21-year-old 170-pounder, played in 11 games for the Seals last season, gaining two goals and four assists. Baird, a lefthanded defenseman who played in the Western Canada Junior League last year, was the Seals No. 1 draft pick.

Stabler To Get A Chance

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UPI)— If Daryle Lamonica continues to stay away from the Oakland Raider training camp, Ken Stabler will probably get a shot at working out with the veterans, according to Coach John Madden.

Stabler, the No. 3 man behind Lamonica and George Blanda, stands "a good chance to work out with the first group," Madden said Wednesday.

Lamonica, the Raider's starter, has been a holdout on his contract, along with veteran tackle Bob Svihus. The Raiders said Wednesday they had had no word from either of the players.

Blanda, the 44-year-old kicking specialist who filled in at quarterback last year when Lamonica was sidelined, was due in camp on Sunday.

Madden put his charges—70 rookies and vets —through the first of two-a-day workouts Wednesday. Wide receiver Drew Buie suffered a bruised hip during passing practice and there was no immediate word on when he would be available for action again.

Madden said Larry Todd, a running back who had off-season surgery on a bad knee, wouldn't be practicing with the squad until he is fully recovered. Todd has been loosening up on an exercise machine.

U.S. Skiers To Leave For Aussie Training

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An eight-man American ski team will leave San Francisco Friday for three weeks of intensive training in Australia.

The team will compete in the Ross Milne Memorial Slalom, the Thredbo Cup Giant Slalom and Wills International Cup Slalom-Giant Slalom while down under. The tour wil be the last majtr training session for the Americans prior to the Olympic Games next year in Sapporo, Japan.

Packers Trade Jeter

GREEN BAY (UPI)—Troubled Bob Jeter, a defensive halfback who has been in Green Bay Packers' Coach Dan Devine's doghouse since last spring, was traded today to the Chicago Bears for running back Ross Montgomery.

The trade of Jeter had been expected since April when Devine failed to list Jeter on the Green Bay roster after a run-in during a special prepractice training game in Texas. The 34-year-old Jeter failed to run a qualifying series of runs in the Texas camp and surrendered his place in the three-deep Green Bay lineup to second year man Al Matthews.

Montgomery was the leading runner in the weak Bears' running game a year ago. The 25-year-old former TCU athlete was a third round draft choice in 1969 and has spent two years wth Chicago.

The Packers also gave the Bears an undisclosed draft choice in the deal.

Jeter is an eight-year veteran with the Packers. He started his professional career in Canada after being selected by Green Bay in the second round of the 1960 draft.

Linemen Have To Win Jobs

GOLETA, Calif. (UPI)--San Francisco's offensive line will have to do more than rest on its laurels, according to assistant coach Dick Stanfel.

Last year, tackles Len Rohde and Cas Banaszek, center Forrest Blue, and guards Woody Peoples and Randy Beisler set a NFL record in protecting quarterback John Brodie, who was caught behind the line only eight times.

But Stanfel, the 49ers offensive line coach, hasn't guaranteed anybody a starting post this season.

"I have an open mind," Stanfel said Wednesday at the 49er training camp. "Whoever starts in the offensive line this year will have to prove to me he has earned a right to the position. Past reputations don't count."

Stanfel, 43, succeeded Ernie Zwahlen as line coach early this year after Zwahlen decided to take an offer at Houston.

If the 49er veteran linemen have to fret about making it as starters, two rookie draft choices who were considered dark horses for making the team, have given up any attempt.

Wide receiver Al Bresler, a sixth-round draft pick from Auburn, and offensive tackle Dean Shaternick, fifth round selectee from Kansas State, left the 49er's training camp after the morning workout Wednesday.

Bresler, a 6-1 176-pounder, was considered one of the fastest players on the squad.

WAREHOUSE WALLS GO UP — Work moves fast with pre-cast concrete sections as shown in this photograph of a new 20,000-square foot warehouse building being constructed at 517 Irwin Street by Ghilotti Bros. The building will be available for lease when finished. The building, designed by Hageman-Thomas-Eklund, is expected to be completed in another month or six weeks.

Construction of Warehouse By Ghilotti Bros. Under Way

After almost a year's delay, construction is now under way on a 20,000-square foot warehouse building by Ghilotti Bros., adjoining their own building and yard facility on Irwin Street, San Rafael.

This will not be for their own use, but will be put up for lease. Completion is expected in another month or six weeks. The building was designed by Hageman-Thomas-Eklund. Al Villa is the contractor.

CALIFORNIA CANADIAN BANK of San Francisco has had its application accepted to purchase Union Bank's offices in San Rafael, along with other offices in Santa Rosa, Pleasant Hill and at Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco. And stockholders have given their approval. But there are two more hurdles to clear — the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Department of Justice — before the transaction can be closed.

DOUGLAS C. ROUTH of Terra Linda has been appointed district sales manager for the Pacific Northwest by C.I.T. Service Leasing Corp. and will be headquartered in San Francisco. He has been in various sales and public relations capacities with San Francisco financial and insurance firms before joining C.I.T.

DAVID B. HUDSON of Peacock Gap is new vice president and chief underwriter for Western Mortgage Corp. He has been an appraiser for the company since 1960 and in this period of time has appraised more than $100 million in properties. He recently was designated Senior Realty Appraiser by the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.

REAL ESTATE: New on the staff of Vail and Associates, Mill Valley, are John Reed King of Larkspur, formerly in national radio and television, and Miriam Cohen of Mill Valley, former Boston and New York businesswoman . . .

It will be easier for a few months for some real estate salesmen and women and those with equivalent backgrounds to become broker licensees, according to a State Department of Real Estate notice received by Anthony Schools. Candidates who are almost fully qualified for the examination may go ahead with the test and complete the remaining requirements afterward. It will benefit those admitted now — since stiffer requirements are expected to apply next year.

MOTORCRAFT: The annual Golden Gate Concours d'Elegance in San Francisco will be held on the Presidio grounds again this year. Date is Sunday, Aug. 29. More than 125 automobiles are expected to be on view on the athletic field and about 75 antique and experimental aircraft will be exhibited at Crissy Field.

HUD Tax-Exempt Bonds Are Sound

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I am interested in knowing more about tax-exempt bonds and would appreciate your writing more articles on them. — M.K.

A. I am happy to comply. Of particular interest in the tax-exempt sector are the bonds offered periodically by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, popularly referred to as HUD. Ranked second only to direct obligations of the U.S. Treasury, these issues carry AAA ratings and are among the safest debt instruments available. Payment of principal and interest is guaranteed by the federal government and interest is exempt from Federal taxation.

In May HUD auctioned $196.9 million in bonds of nine local authorities and these were sold to the public to yield 2.9 per cent for 1971s up to 5.9 per cent for 2003 --11 maturities. The bonds issued in $5000 minimum amounts were available in both coupon and registered forms. Originally 19 local authorities were scheduled to offer $356.5 million long term bonds but this was scaled down and the balance is expected some time before Fall. Since 1951, HUD has sponsored 67 public auctions at which more than $7.2 billion long term bonds have been sold. Of these $6 billion are still in public hands. Proceeds from the auctions are used to reimburse the government for monies advanced to the local authorities for building low rent housing.

Q. I hold 100 U.S. Banknote shares costing 9⅝. Do you have any information on this stock? — R.A.

A. This company prints and engraves stock certificates, stamps, foreign currency and other commerical and financial communications. With the fate of the stock certificate presently under discussion, these shares are trading under somewhat of a cloud. However, several new products introduced recently are in wholly diverse fields. An electronic temperature taking device for hospital use, a line of shoe care products and three noncombustible wall coatings are now in production. Although downside risk is minimal, shares have limited appeal at this time.

Bank Firm Reports First Half Earnings

LOS ANGELES (BW) — Western Bancorporation has reported consolidated income after securities transactions for the first six months of 1971 of $35,538,591, or $1.56 a share, on 22,831,606 average shares outstanding.

Aeronautical Firms To Propose Landing System

VAN NUYS, CALIF. (BW) — ITT Gilfillan Inc. and Honeywell Inc. will propose to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to develop themicrowave landing system (MLS) under an arrangement announced by both companies yesterday.

ITT Gilfillan, a subsidiary of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., would be prime contractor. It would study and develop the MLS ground system.

Honeywell's government and aeronautical products division would carry out the study and development of airborne and distance measuring equipment as a subcontractor to Gilfillan.

ITT Gilfillan has a strong background in the air traffic control field and is the world's leading manufacturer of precision approach radar systems. It also developed the prototype regal system for the FAA and the automatic ground control approach. Both systems have performed completely automatic instrument landings.

Honeywell successfully demonstrated a C-band portable instrument landing system in Vietnam during the 1969 monsoon season in a military evaluation, featuring a system that could control as many as 50 aircraft simultaneously in a combat area.

Both companies have been significant contributors to the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics SC-117 committee and signal format development team which has studied and made recommendations to the FAA on the MLS.

Development of the MLS will involve the Department of Transportation, NASA and Department of Defense. It is the next generation instrument landing system and will fulfill the functions of the present landing system in use by both commercial and military aviation worldwide, but also considerably improve the capabilities and accuracies.

It is planned to have the MLS accepted as the national standard landing system in the United States by 1975 and adopted as the International Civil Aviation Organization international standard by 1980.

Market Hit By Late Decline

NEW YORK (UPI) — A stock market decline accelerated in the last hour of trading today.

"The administration has said the economy is on an upward curve and that everything is proceeding on schedule, but there is not sufficient evidence of this to convince investors," said Robert B. Johnson, a general partner of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a loss of 0.18 at 99.10, while declines topped advances, 771 to 520, among the 1,642 issues crossing the tape.

Oils showed scattered strength, with Superior Oil among the gainers. In general, however, the group traded in fractions and without definite direction.

Steels, motors, rails, and aircrafts also moved over narrow ranges. Chemicals, airlines and electronics tended easier, although fractional gainers cropped up in both groups.

Prices eased in moderate turnover on the American Stock Exchange.

Fraud Charge

Harrisburg (UPI)—ThePennsylvania attorney general's office has sued Nu-Mari Enterprises, Inc., of Bethlehem, charging deceptive operation of its "shoppers union" buyers service.

Stone Age Diet: Tadpoles, No Cavities

By EDUARDO RESPOSO

MT. TASADAY, Philippines (UPI)—A tribe living in Stone Age culture, isolated in tropical rain forest from the rest of the world for perhaps 2,000 years, has something the civilized world seems to have lost along the centuries. Sound teeth.

Anthropologists who led a group of foreign and local newsmen to this rugged mountain on the big southernmost Philippines island of Mindanao said the newly discovered Tasaday tribe's stone tools and technology were more primitive than those of the Negritoes.

The post-Stone Age Negritoes of Luzon island, heretofore considered the most primitive in the Philippines, have a bone arrow and immense knowledge of plant life.

The Tasadays are purely food-gathering and animal-trapping forest people, without argiculture or a way of slaying an animal, said Father Frank Lynch, an Irish anthropologist now with Ateneo University in Manila. They have never known sugar, rice, tobacco, or salt.

The anthropologists believe the Tasadays—only six families totaling 24 to 26 individuals have so far been located —fled their lowland homes 1,500 to 2,000 years ago in fear of a plague.

Their food includes tadpoles, insects, crustaceans, and small fish that they catch by hand in the little streams in the mountain gullies. They also dig up wild yams and tubers for food.

Dr. Norman Winters, a Philippine National Museum curator and practicing dentist who is trying to find out "how a people without a civilized diet have survived," said the condition of the Tasadays' teeth was excellent.

"No cavities," Winters, an American said.

Dr. Robert B. Fox, an American who heads the museum's anthropology department and who led the group here during the weekend, said: "It is safe to assume the Tasadays went into isolation before iron was common in the Philippines, and that was 280 B.C."

Fox said the time of their separation could be fixed by studying the evolution of their language. Father Teodoro Llamzon, a linguist at Ateneo University, said after hearing some of their vocabulary that "it is possible they separated about 2,000 years ago."

The Tasadays, who wear scanty strips of plant leaf for clothing, are dark-skinned and under 5 feet tall. The anthropologists showed newsmen a chipped stone hammer, a stone scraper, and a stone ax--all with rattan handles —as examples of their tools.

They build fires by rubbing dried sticks. They have learned to avoid the tedium of this chore by making the fires burn all night. The fires serve as warmth in the mountain heights.

What's in store for the Tasadays? Manuel Elizalde Jr., presidential assistant on national minorities who led an original group to see them last month, said they were thrown into a frenzy of fear when his helicopter landed, calming down later. If they were left alone, it would be the best thing, he said.

"But since the forest where they live is valuable to other people," Elizalde added, "we must try to ease the contact with the outside world so that damage is avoided. Our first step would be to request this area become a national park of some kind where they can live as they see fit."

Pacific Tel Rate High Is Due Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Pacific Telephone Co. boosts its rates Friday.

The state Public Utilities Commission authorized the higher rates on June 22 after conducting public hearings on the company's proposal.

The monthly rate for a single-party home phone in San Francisco and most of the Bay Area will increase from $4.65 to $5.65. Message units will go up from 4.05 cents to 4.7 cents.

Business customer rates will go from $9-14.50 a month to $12.50-$15.65 a month.

However, long-distance rates within the state will be reduced if the calls are dialed direct, and there will be a special low rate for late-night calls.

Plumbers Atop The Wage List

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Plumbers now can make more than top instructurs under new wage scales adopted by the Los Angeles Community College District.

The board has approved raises ranging from 4 per cent an hour for painters to 18 per cent hourly for electricians.

Under the "prevailing community rates" for the district's 95 employes, tradesmen are guaranteed 12 months work annually at salaries up to $21,484. The top teaching wage, spread over the 10-month school year, is $17,220.

Chicago Out As Convention Site

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago has withdrawn its bid to be the site of the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Col. Jack Reilly, director of special events, said Wednesday Sen. Robert Dole, GOP national chairman, had been informed it was necessary for Chicago to withdraw from contention because of "prior commitments."

Chicago, Miami Beach and San Diego, Calif., reportedly won presidential approval Tuesday as potential sites for the convention.

Corpses Pile Up In Diggers Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—More than 800 bodies have accumulated in San Francisco and San Mateo County mortuaries since a gravediggers strike started June 3, it was reported today.

The bodies have been embalmed and stored in coffins, authorities said, so there is no health problem.

Mortuaries in San Francisco in some cases have had to rent storage space in other funeral homes officials said.

Today is Thursday, July 22, the 203rd day of 1971.

The moon is new.

The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Leo.

American psychiatrist Karl Menninger was born July 22, 1893.

On this day in history:

In 1864 Confederate troops under Gen. John Hood were defeated by Gen. William Sherman's Union forces in the Battle for Atlanta.

In 1932 Congress passed the first home loan bank act, providing federal funds to private mortgage-lendng institutions.

In 1934 notorious gangster John Dillinger was killed when 27 FBI men trapped him coming out of a Chicago theater.

In 1944 delegates from 44 nations approved an international reconstruction bank with capital of more than $9 billion.

A thought for today: American philosopher William James said: "Do not be afraid of life. Believe that life is worth living and your belief will help create that fact."

Environmental Chief Applauds President

WASHINGTON (UPI) —William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency, describes his relations with the White House as very good and "I've never seen anything in what the President has said or done that indicates anything but full support for what we're doing."

Ruckelshaus made the comment Tuesday when asked if the President backed tough antipollution enforcement.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

The Stress And Strain Of Tournament Play Is Great

Old bridge players never die; they simply wind up in the loony bin. This doesn't happen much to rubber bridge players, but the tension eventually gets to tournament players, like the thousands of aficionados now competing in the national tournament at the Palmer House, Chicago. Today's hand may give you an idea of how hard tournament champions must strain in the effort to beat par.

STRETCH BID East would have made five hearts, but only because the missing four clubs happened to be equally divided. The odds were about 3 to 2 against this, so Italian experts Walter Avarelli and Massimo D'Alelio had stretched the East-West cards to the breaking point by bidding five hearts.

English champions Kenneth Konstam and Maurice Harrison-Gray had to judge whether they could beat five hearts. If not, they then had to guess whether a sacrifice at five spades would cost more than letting East make five hearts.

These are bidding problems that cause no strain on rubber bridge players. You tend to let an opponent play a hand at five of a major on the theory that the contract must be doubtful since otherwise the opponents would have explored slam possibilities.

50 POINTS

The play contributed its share of the stresses. Avarelli started well when he led the jack of hearts from the West hand. This enabled him to hold the lead, and D'Alelio signaled by playing the ten of hearts.

This could not ask for a heart continuation, since East would have overtaken with the queen of hearts to lead another heart himself if that was what he wanted. Instead, the ten of hearts asked for a switch to the higher of the two side suits.

PARTNER RUFFS

Avarelli switched to a diamond, and his partner ruffed. The ace and king of clubs were followed by another diamond ruff, for a penalty of 500 points.

This was more than the 450 points that the Italian stars would have scored at five hearts (honors don't count in tournament play). The difference of 50 points would be insignificant at rubber bridge, but at tournament play it gave the Italians a top score and the English a bottom.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ - 8 6 3
♥ - A K Q 10 6 3 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

An opening bid of four hearts might hurt your chance of finding a makable slam.

Credits Long Life To Daily Cigars

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sioux Indian Chief Red Fox, 101, credits his long life to 15 push-ups and 18 cigars a day.

He said tobacco has as many vitamins as such vegetables as cabbage and cauliflower. The chief recalled that women who smoked pipes and sniffed snuff "would give birth to a baby today and be up washing diapers in the morning."

Priest For UFWOC Is Reinstated

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Roman Catholic Father Victor Salandini, the "Farm Workers' priest," had his suspension lifted today after agreeing to abide by liturgical rules, Bishop Leo T. Maher said.

The bishop suspended Father Salandini Thursday for disobeying church rules over vestments at mass and use of corn tortillas for communion.

The priest defied the suspension and continued saying masses largely for farm workers involved in a dispute between Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee and the Egger-Ghio farm in the South Bay area.

"Father Salandini met with Bishop Maher today and agreed to abide by liturgical rules," a statement from diocesan headquarters said. "He will in the future wear the vestments of Our Lady of Guadalupe design and will use wheat hosts for communion."

After his suspension, Father Salandini said he was "not at all bitter." He said, "Censure is a small price to pay to help right the injustice to farm workers who are wounded every day by being denied representation of the union of their choice."

The priest had been warned by the bishop about wearing the UFWOC black eagle insignia on a serape while saying mass and about conducting services in front of the home of Robert Egger, partner in the Egger-Ghio farm operation.

Salandini "is immediately going away for a four-day spiritual retreat," the diocesan statement said.

It noted the lifting of the suspension meant the priest "may again hear confessions and preach as well as fulfill his other priestly functions."

Weekend Jail In Heroin Case

Carla June Lanum, 30, of Santa Venetia, has been fined $250 and sentenced to five weekends in Marin County Jail for possessing heroin in April 1970.

Judge E. Warren McGuire of Marin Superior Court also placed her on probation for two years.

She was arrested April 23 in a raid on a San Rafael apartment in which drug agents found 10 packets of heroin.

Expert Doubts Violin Spider Caused Death

OAKLAND (UPI)—A spider specialist doubts that Thomas Conger, 55, really died from the bite of a violin spider.

Conger, who died Sunday, told doctors at Kaiser Hospital before his death he had been bitten by a spider while building a home in the Butte County town of Paradise. The doctors concluded it was a violin spider from his description.

Frank Ennick, who is with the state Department of Health, said it was unlikely a violin spider could be in northern California. Ennick just completed a professional thesis on the South American insect.

The only other recorded death in California from the spider occurred in Los Angeles in 1969.

Petition Filed To Halt Hi-Rises In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A court petition has been filed asking for a halt to construction of high-rise buildings in San Francisco until after the November election.

The petition, filed by Alvin Duskin in Superior Court, asks the City Planning Commission and the Board of Permit Appeals not to issue any building permits until after the election.

The petition says all city agencies are legally required to impose a moratorium on buildings higher than 72 feet, because the presnet building code provides for it.

A question on high-rises will be placed on the November ballot.

Tentative Nod To Air Pact

MONTREAL (UPI)—Air Canada and its maintenance crews reached tentative agreement on a new contract today, ending the threat of periodic strikes which have hampered Canada's government-owned airline for the past 10 days.

"They are now in the process of signing an agreement," chief federal labor mediatior Bernard Wilson said.

The agreement was reached after the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers (IAM) called its third 24-hour strik since July 12. The union walked off the job at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Montreal International Airport.

Air Force: Marin Free To Build Facility It Needs At Hamilton

By BENJAMIN SHORE
(I-J correspondent)

WASHINGTON — Marin County is free to erect a civilian air terminal of any type or design at Hamilton Air Force Base provided the structure meets the base's standards for safety, Air Force officials say.

"Whatever will satisfy community purposes and not interfere with Air Force operations will be acceptable," said Bernard Dove, chief of Bases and Units.

Marin County last week received permission to use the base for civilian commercial flights. County and Air Force officials now must work out a joint-use agreement formalizing the arrangement, and commuter flights could begin as soon as four months from now.

Dove said the exact type of the required passenger terminal structure would be determined in negotiations between county and Hamilton officials as part of the process of working out all details for limited civilian use.

Another Air Force official pointed out that the terminal initially would be used exclusively by Golden Pacific Airlines, which has a joint-use application pending with Marin County. Therefore, the county is not likely to build a structure larger than Golden Pacific needs and is willing to pay for, the official said.

Once an agreement is worked out, the Air Force will permit civilian flight operations on a temporary basis until a terminal and parking area on the base is completed. Under terms of the temporary arrangement, passengers will have to park off the base.

Golden Pacific earlier this month began similar operations at Travis Air Force Base in Fairfield. Until a terminnal is built on the field, passengers park outside the main gate, buy their tickets at an airline booth and are bussed to the planes.

The Air Force has agreed to permit eight flights daily at Hamilton. These flights will take passengers to and from San Francisco International Airport.
